

TRYOUTS RAISE PROSPECTS FOR ILLINOIS RELAYS

Early Performances Lower Previous Marks for Shuttle Event

MAY ENTER FOUR RACES

Definite Announcement Held Up Pending Return of Coach Schulte

Prospects of Nebraska's being represented at the annual Illinois Indoor Relays, which will be held at the University of Illinois field house, Saturday, March 16, took on a brighter hue, last week end, following the performances of several of the varsity track men, and Cornhusker colors will no doubt be flying at the annual games.

No definite announcement has been made as yet, but with the return of Coach Henry F. Schulte to the Memorial stadium, where Scarlet and Cream tracksters strut their stuff, after a week's confinement due to illness, announcement will be made.

A shuttle relay team and possibly a broad jumper and 500 yard sprint man, loom as the strongest possibilities of making the journey east. The shuttle hurdle relay, which is a new event included in the roster of races, is composed of four hurdlers on each team, running back and forth over the barriers and exchanging the baton. The Nebraska mentor has been working on the event during the present season, and with the performance of last Friday, when varsity track men donned their tog for the high school basketball players, the Cornhusker quartette look like strong possibilities for

PATTERSON TALKS ON PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Instructor Explains Need of Science and Religion for Finding Essentials

Dr. C. H. Patterson of the department of philosophy appeared at the Sunday afternoon young men's forum, giving an address on "The Philosophy of Life" from the psychologist's point of view.

He declared that psychology and religion must be taken into account in an attempt to ascertain the essential things in life. In relation to a philosophy of life the psychologist takes into consideration two things, one is innate endowment, the other experience.

Having a direct bearing upon formulating a philosophy of life are five factors, Dr. Patterson said. The facts that people are born with different capacities, that purposeful behavior is developed by experience, that undesirable characteristics which appear may be made to disappear, that there are possibilities in the human being beyond the range of actual attainment, and that individuals have within themselves the power to formulate an ideal and strive to attain it, are psychological elements in the determination of a life philosophy.

Proceeding the address, a forty-five-minute program was presented by the post office band. The topic for next Sunday is "The Philosophy of Life" viewed by the sociologist. Dr. Hertzler will be the speaker. The Y. M. C. A. glee club will offer several numbers during the afternoon.

HARPER DEFINES NEW RULES FOR STUDENT HONORS

Student Affairs Official Explains Particulars of Changes Made

FROSH ARE AFFECTED

Enforcement Begins With Present Term; Applies To Awgwan Staff

"University students cannot participate in activities unless they have made twenty-seven hours in the two semesters preceding this one," declared W. C. Harper, assistant to the dean of student affairs, when interviewed yesterday about the new eligibility rules.

According to the new rules, the freshmen will be entirely eliminated from extra-curricular activities. This is the first semester these rules have actually been enforced. They were supposed to have been enforced last semester but several exceptions were made to them, as when freshmen accompanied the R. O. T. C. band to Kansas and to New York.

Mr. Harper stated, however, that in each case, the freshman's standing was satisfactory in every hour he was carrying and that he was also told that his participation in that activity would in no way affect his participation in activities for the coming semester.

"These rules are the same as applying to athletes," stated Mr. Harper, "and not only freshmen but upper-classes are included in their scope." Mr. Harper explained

COUNTRYMAN PLANS FARMERS FAIR ISSUE

April Publication Replaces Former Guide Book Used For Celebration

April edition of the Cornhusker Countryman is to be a special Farmers Fair number, according to a statement issued yesterday by Nelson Jodon, editor. Because of the necessity for special planning on this account, the meeting of the Countryman staff to be held this afternoon in 213 Home Economics at 5:30 o'clock, will be devoted to Farmers Fair.

An elaborate number of the Countryman is made possible in April by the addition of funds from the Farmers Fair budget. The guide book was discontinued by the Fair Board, and the funds used for that purpose diverted to the publication of the special edition of the Countryman.

The Farmers Fair number, the most difficult to prepare because of the fact that it must appear nearly a month before the Fair takes place, offers a considerable opportunity for originality in writing. R. T. Prescott, English instructor at the College of Agriculture, is to make some comments before the staff on the current issue of the Countryman, which is expected to appear today.

'Wear a Hat With a Silver Lining' Has Brought Many a Multi-Colored Bonnet

Strawberry, cherry, orange, Alice blue—Cleopatra green. Not a fruit peddler fondly touting his wares. Not a woman's style advertisement give the girls credit for the first time). Not the daily refrain of the corner soda fountain. Look angry, then pity and pass on. Those hats—

The men have taken to color, and the color has one to their heads. After several centuries of somber apparel, during which time the erstwhile haughty male weakly submitted to the preeminence of the women, the yoke of submission has been thrown off. The victory was complete, because it came without warning. Came the fatal day when a subtle raspberry top piece drifted gaily along the campus lanes.

No Circus: Yet Everybody looked for the circus, or tried to figure out what hair tonic the hat advertised. There wasn't any catch to that hat, but the hat caught a lot of glances, and the men, meek lambs, fell over themselves to purchase the rainbow disc-dancers. The raspberry trail blazer and head protector found eager devotees. Blondes discovered the aesthetic value of a certain rich shade of blue to their complexion; brunets woke up to the advantages of old scarlet and bright
