

SCHULTE ENTERS MEN FOR EVENT IN ILLINI RACES

Track Coach Selects Squad Of Four Representatives For Relay Carnival

MEET LEADS COUNTRY

Fleming, Arganbright and Thompson Are Veterans; Lamson Fills Team

Definite assurance that Nebraska's Scarlet and Cream would be represented at the annual University of Illinois Indoor Relay Carnival, scheduled for this week end at Urbana, was made Thursday when Coach Henry F. Schulte announced that a shuttle hurdle relay team, composed of Fleming, Arganbright, Thompson and Lamson, would make the trip east to compete in the Big Ten indoor classic.

The four Nebraska hurdlers will carry the Cornhusker colors in the shuttle hurdle relay a new event on the meet's roster and according to performances of the past season, should make a good account of themselves. The veteran Husker track mentor has had them appear in several exhibition races and they have been clipping the barriers in a pleasing fashion, cutting seconds from their time in each race.

Affair Leads Relays

The annual Illinois meet is regarded as one of the leading indoor affairs of the winter season and bring athletes from all over the country to enter into the competition. All the Big Ten schools as well as several Big Six schools along with numerous colleges, will be represented Saturday and the best middle west has to offer team has been entered in the meet will vie for honors.

Iowa State's relay distance relay along with several individual performers who will compete in the open events. Iowa university is carrying their renowned mile bronze competition in the shuttle relay, will no doubt come from Illinois, Ohio and Ohio State. Early season performances of hurdlers of these three schools indicate that the new addition to the events will

AWGWAN EDITOR ASKS FOR MORE MATERIAL

Timmerman Requests Copy For Kosmet Number of Comic Monthly

An urgent call for copy for the "Don't Be Silly" number of the Awgwan has been sent out by Douglas Timmerman, editor of the publication. The deadline for all material has been set for Saturday noon, March 16.

Short puns and jokes are especially desirable, according to the editorial staff, as a large number will be needed for the Kosmet Klub number. So far, only a few contributors have turned in copy. Virginia Faulkner, Wendell Mellor, Ray Murray and Roger Robinson are the members of the staff who have turned in material, while Gene Allen is the sole art contributor.

Pertains to Klub Show

"The April issue must be out by the first of next month," stated the editor. "It will contain material and illustrations pertaining to the spring show, 'Don't Be Silly' and should prove especially interesting."

Material carrying out the show theme and spring ideas is in great demand at the Awgwan office. All persons desiring to work on the publication, either editorial or business staff, are also requested to report at once to the University hall basement office of the publication.

A file for the May number has been selected by the staff and the issue following the "Don't Be Silly" number will be called the "Bye, Bye" number. Parting shots at campus celebrities will be featured in the final issue of the comic magazine under the present staff.

COUNTRYMAN COMES OUT FROM PRINTSHOP

Agricultural Monthly Has Number of Features And Articles

"Cornstalks Invade Industry" is the subject of an article by Merlin Mataka, in the March issue of the Cornhusker Countryman which has just been released. The author discusses the possibilities of a cornstalk paper making industry in the middlewest.

A cover showing an attractive view of the Agricultural Engineering building and numerous special articles are other features of the March issue. The cut for the cover was made available through the courtesy of the Cornhusker offices.

Contains Quilt Feature

One special feature article "Quilt Making, an American Handicraft," with illustrations of relief design used in making a special type of quilt is printed in the March issue. The author of this article is Myrtle Eastley Morgan.

Marge Brinton has contributed an interesting article on the trend in modern furniture. The title of her article is "Modernism Has Demonstrated Its Livability." Also Claude Roe, assistant editor of the Countryman, tells of irrigation movement in Nebraska in an article "Quenching Crop Thirst." He points out that Nebraska has over a half million acres under irrigation. Progress of the dairy herd test associations is described by Jay Pierson in "No Star Boarder Bossies."

Address High Schools

Both students and faculty members tell high school seniors about the Ag College under the heading "It's your Decision, High School Seniors." Miss Fedde, home economics chairman, Ruth Davis, home economics senior, Don Facka, Agricultural senior, and Dean Burr contribute to this feature.

The "Campus Breeze," edited by Frank Sampson, has covered the current happenings on the College of Agriculture campus. The 4-H page, edited by Otto Dillon and Margaret Trobough, and "From the Field," devoted to alumni news, are continued in the March issue.

COLBERT SETS LIMIT ON TRIP ENROLLMENT

Registration for Engineers' Inspection Trip Must Be In by Saturday

Fifty-six engineers have registered for the inspection trip to be made to Omaha during the week of spring vacation, according to J. P. Colbert, chairman of the engineering trip committee. Saturday noon, March 23 is the deadline set for registration. As it is required that engineering students go on either this trip to Omaha or a longer one to Chicago next year, it is very important that all arrangements be completed by Saturday.

Plans are not yet completed but the itinerary of the trip will consume four days during which time many plants and factories in Omaha and vicinity will be visited. Tentative plans call for a visit to the new Missouri river bridge at Blair, which is just being completed by Woods Brothers of Lincoln at an approximate cost of $5,000,000.

Reports of the trip in narrative form will be submitted by all those who enroll for the excursion. These, which should be at least two thousand words in length are due May 13 or before.

Senate Advances Bill To Provide For Bodies

State senate advanced to third reading house roll 572, a bill giving the Nebraska medical college power to acquire bodies for the medical and dental college students to use. The University formerly had this power but it was unintentionally taken away when the bill in which it was included was repealed.

HONOR SOCIETIES MAKE READY FOR ANNUAL LECTURE

Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi Begin Preparations for Public Program

DATE IS SET FOR MARCH

Committee Gives Names of Men Being Considered To Make Address

Local chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, scholastic fraternities, are going forward with plans for observation of the tradition of sponsoring an annual lecture, open to the public, at which a nationally prominent person appears.

The members of the Phi Beta Kappa committee choosing the speaker for this year are Prof. C. C. Camp, chairman; Prof. Orin Stepanek, Prof. Adeline Reynolds, Prof. W. M. Perry, Prof. Clifford Hicks, secretary of the chapter, and Dean J. E. LeRossignol, president of the chapter.

Professor Hicks announced that this committee will probably set the date for the lecture in the latter part of March. Men being considered as possible speakers include Dr. Craigie, T. N. Carver, and Sir Bernard Pares of the University of London. The last named gentleman is internationally known as a scholar, and an opportunity to hear him would be a great privilege, according to Professor Hicks.

It is planned that the meeting will be held in the evening. An

PHILIP FINK IS NAMED HEAD OF ELECTRICIANS

Engineers Select Chairman Of Department for Annual Affair

OTHER PLANS ARE MADE

Philip Fink, '29, Omaha, was elected electrical chairman of the seventeenth annual Engineer's Week at a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held last night. Ted Blaschke, '29, Hickman, is general chairman of the event by virtue of his election by the Engineering Executive board last week. Individual chairmen for the various other departments of engineering will be elected some time in the future.

Committees for the arrangement of the program will not be appointed until the next meeting of the A. I. E. E., which will probably be held in about a month. Engineer's Week and Pharmacy Week are scheduled to occur on identical dates this year, the first week in May.

Week Is Annual

Engineer's Week is an annual affair sponsored by the whole College of Engineering. The feature of the week is Engineer's night, during which the public is invited to view special exhibits in the separate departments of the college. Unusual contrivances and spectacular displays are constructed by the students in an effort to attract attention to their separate departments.

Field day will be another major event of the week, during which all engineering students will assemble at one of the parks and spend the day in picnicking and competitive sports. A banquet in the last evening will climax the week. Several noted speakers are usually obtained for this occasion, including the mayor, the dean of the college, and others.

At the meeting of the A. I. E. E. held last night a number of students discussed their summer experiences. Professor Norris, of the department, reported the events of the district convention of the A. I. E. E. held at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion. During his talk he discussed the possibilities of employment for graduates.

Daily Nebraskan Reward Fund for Prowler Draws Many Contributions

Anxiety over the "campus prowler" increased yesterday and at the same time contributions to The Daily Nebraskan reward fund continued to grow.

Four more contributions came in bringing the total to $36. Added to this is the reward approximately $50 to $100 offered by the University of Nebraska through Chief of Police Johnston.

The rewards are being offered for the arrest which will lead to the conviction of the prowler who has been causing the disturbance.

More Men Detailed

The police department promised yesterday to put additional men on campus patrol but it could not be ascertained just how many. It was reported that the prowler was seen on the campus Tuesday night which made many believe that the prowler would probably come back. The prowler, described by those who have seen him as a short dark complexioned man, has been causing a disturbance for some time. Complaints had been made at the

MESSENGER GETS BOOKS AS AWARD

Business Administration Junior Wins Reward From Magazine

Three-volume set of "Office Management, Principles and Practice," by William H. Leffingwell, has been awarded William D. Messenger, junior in the College of Business Administration, as a second prize made for a solution of "An Office Layout Problem," by the System magazine.

One first prize and four second awards were offered in the contest as presented by the December number of the magazine. The problem involved the making of a report including a sketch of the office showing the arrangement of each department.

The College of Business Administration offers courses which allow specialization in secretarial work. Prof. G. M. Darrington giving a course in "Office Management," in which Mr. Messenger was enrolled last year.

AG FUN PRESENTATION GOES ON THIS EVENING

'Coll-Agri-Fun' Frolic Will Be Staged in Activities Building at 8:15

SELL OUT BEST SEATS

With practically all the preferred seats sold and last minute program arrangements complete, every indication points to a successful presentation of "Coll-Agri-Fun," the first College of Agricultural stage frolic, according to George Powell, business manager for executive committee in charge. The final rehearsal was held last night and only a few changes were necessary to make the twelve acts of vaudeville ready for the production tonight in the student activities building on the Ag campus at 8:15 o'clock.

The final rehearsal met with the approval of those in charge of the show. It was indicated that the program was considered varied enough to furnish two hours of hilarious entertainment. Nothing is lacking in the way of talent to make the fun show one of the biggest attractions on the entertainment calendar tonight, according

Track Squads Fall Victim to Style's Dictums

Spring style displays with all the new colors and designs have found their way to the University of Nebraska track team and the wearers of the Scarlet and Cream on the cinder track are to be clothed in entirely new garments during the coming season.

The purchase of new sweat suits, track jerseys and running trunks by the athletic department, assures the followers of the Cornhusker track and field artists, an added sight worth seeing and campus coeds may view with eyes of delight.

Sweat Suits Arrive

Sweat suits, the last word in the campus apparel, were received last week and every pleasing shade of oxford grey, so popular among the Joe's of Universitas Nebraska, will be worn by every Husker spiked-shoe artist.

A neat fitting collar, which can be closed tight around the neck during cold weather, besides that predominate zipper opener and closer is to be found in these new additions to the equipment. An ear of corn, embellished with a scarlet N on the front and a pocket on the side completes the sweat shirts.

Jerseys are New

New bright scarlet jerseys will be worn while the active ear of corn and white N will be worn on the front of the jersey while running trunks of white finish the outfit, the last word, to be sure.

Members of the tri-color teams have not been denied and each man has been issued a bright colored sweater, emblematic of his respective team, the orange, green and red.

HIGH NUMBER OF VOTES FEATURES A. W. S. ELECTION

Gretchen Standeven, Omaha, Becomes President-Elect of Organization

PICK MANY OFFICERS

Julia Rider Wins Second Place; Sarah Pickard Is Secretary

Marked by the largest number of ballots ever cast in the history of the organization, the Associated Women Student's Board election came to a close at 9 o'clock last night. It required until midnight to count the votes cast to determine the winners.

Gretchen Standeven, Omaha, was chosen president. Miss Standeven is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is at present chairman of the personnel work in A. W. S. and is also a member of the student council. She is connected with Phi Mu sorority.

Elect Vice President

Julia Rider, Lincoln, was elected vice-president. She has been chairman of the World Forum staff in the Y. W. C. A. during the past year, and will serve as treasurer of that organization next year. Miss Rider was chairman of the Junior-Senior Prom committee, and is associate editor both of the N handbook and the N director. She is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Senior members of the board selected at the election are Vivian

PASTOR GIVES DETAILS RELATIVE TO SPEAKER

Rev. W. C. Fawell Issues Statement to Correct Any False Ideas

VISIT LASTS FIVE DAYS

In order to correct any false impressions of the character and the work of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, the Rev. W. C. Fawell, Methodist student pastor, who knew Doctor Jones in India, has issued the following statement:

"There might easily be some misunderstanding as to the nature of Doctor Jones' addresses, arising from the fact that he is spoken of as an evangelist, since this term has come to be associated largely in the public minds with speakers of the sensational, extreme type.

Gives Thoughtful Speeches

"Nothing could be farther removed from the sensational than Doctor Jones' thoughtful, direct presentation of religious truths, from the background of an unusually rich and profound personal experience. His ability to lead the philosophical, high-caste men of India to higher spiritual levels is sufficient indication of his acceptability to men of education."

Meetings will be held during the week of March 17 to 23 by Doctor Jones, who is a world famous leader in Christian affairs. The combined religious and educational institutions of the community are sponsoring the series of talks.

A university convocation, for which all classes will be dismissed, will be held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in Grant Memorial hall, and a special faculty luncheon is scheduled for Monday noon, at the Chamber of Commerce. Friday evening a special service for young people will be given at Trinity Methodist church, on the subject: "He Took It Upon Himself."

GEORGE SNOW SPEAKS TO THETA SIGMA PHI

Chadron Publisher Believes Women's Opportunity Is In Country Field

That women make lively reporters and succeed in country journalism because they love to talk was the belief of George C. Snow, secretary of the senate and publisher of the Chadron Journal, expressed in his talk "Women in Country Journalism" to about thirty women Journalism students yesterday noon at the Nebraska hotel. The luncheon was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi.

"Women mean more to the success of a country paper than men," he said. "The personal touch which creates a good country paper is more easily accomplished by women." Locals and society are best suited to women in Mr. Snow's opinion but they can also write stories of murders, county affairs, business deals, and editorials. "The sky's your limit!" he told the women journalism students.

Newspaper opportunities for women are limited almost entirely to the country field he thinks. "There are so few city papers," he explained, "and fewer positions open on them." "But," he added, "there are some 425 country papers in Nebraska and room for at least one woman on each of them."

HEALTH SERVICE WILL SPONSOR ADDRESSES

Seven Talks Are Included in Two Day Schedule of Lecture Series.

MEETINGS OPEN MONDAY

Dr. R. A. Lyman, dean of the College of Pharmacy; Dr. F. W. Webster, professor of operative dentistry; Dr. H. Winnett Orr, instructor in clinical surgery, and Drs. C. Harms and E. N. Deppen, resident physicians, will take part in a series of health lectures arranged by the University Health Service and the Lancaster County Medical Association, for all university girls Monday and Tuesday, March 18 and 19.

The program offers an unusual opportunity to all university women to hear valuable and interesting health lectures, given by members of the University Health Service and the Lancaster County Medical Association. Seven addresses will be delivered Monday and four Tuesday in three different rooms, Morrill hall auditorium, Bessie hall auditorium and Social Sciences auditorium.

Doctor Emerson Talks

Beginning at 9 o'clock Monday morning Dr. Clarence Emerson will talk on "Goitre and Diseases of the Thyroid Glands—Its Effects On Efficiency of the People," in the Morrill hall auditorium. This will be followed at 10 o'clock by a lecture on "Modern Standards of Infant Care," by Dr. E. W. Hancock, also in the Morrill hall auditorium. Dr. Charles Harms will conclude the morning's program with a lecture on "Obstetrics" at 11 o'clock in Morrill hall auditorium.

Dr. F. F. Teal will open the afternoon series of lectures at 1 o'clock on the subject "Eyes, Ears and Nose" in the Social Sciences auditorium. At 2 o'clock Dr. H. Winnett Orr will speak on "Prevention of Crippling Causes by Sickness in Children" in the Bessie hall auditorium, which will be followed at 3 o'clock in the same room by a lecture on "Points in Sex Hygiene for College Women," by Dr. Ruth Warner. KOSMET ANNOUNCES MORE SHOW PLANS

Bids for Scenery for 'Don't Be Silly' May Be Made Within Week

BIDS for the scenery for the 1929 Kosmet Klub production, "Don't Be Silly" will be received sometime next week, Kosmet Klub announced last night. Sketches for the various scenes of the show are being made by Dwight Kirsch, professor in the School of Fine Arts, and honorary member of Kosmet Klub.

The scenes of the production have not yet been tabulated but will include a living room scene, and an Egyptian temple scene, besides the numerous tormentors and drops that will be needed. Work on the scenery will begin within a few days so that the sets may be completed in time for dress rehearsals.

Repair Men Work on Old University Hall Constructed in '89

Workmen were busy yesterday repairing the east wall of the south wing of University hall. The wall had begun to bulge some time ago with the clear indication that it would fall through and leave another entrance to Nebraska's oldest relic to say nothing of the damage it might do to any unwary student who might be studying the beauties of old Gothic architecture in room 105.

However the powers-that-be did not see fit to permit such a disturbance of class room activities to take place so a bricklayer was dispatched to give the old building one more patch. Yesterday they were putting some modern brick and modern cement right along side of the old fashioned brick put there in 1889.

POLICE ARREST MAN PROWLING ABOUT CAMPUS

John Rocha, Mexican, Being Held by Officials for Investigation.

COEDS FAIL TO IDENTIFY

Witnesses Monday Evening Attack Are Unable to Recognize Man

John Rocha, 529 South First street, is being held at the city police station for investigation as being the suspected prowler who has been active the last few evenings on the campus, following his arrest last night when he was thought to be following two university girls on the campus.

Rocha, who is a Mexican, maintained that he was innocent of any connection with the attacks. He told police he was returning from the coliseum, where the Greater Lincoln exposition is being held this week. No positive identification of the man could be made last night, although he is of the same build as the man who fired on Officer Regier Monday evening.

Takes Pass at Officer.

Katherine Williams and Leone Jensen, who were the witnesses of the would be attacker on Monday night, were unable to identify Rocha positively but stated that he was of the same stature and appearance as the man who followed two university girls who were walking south on the sidewalk leading from University hall. Officers Myer and Robbins who were sitting on a bench nearby immediately started for Rocha who struck Robbins in the face when they attempted to capture him. He was taken at once to the police station for questioning and was placed in a cell for further investigation.

Similar disturbances have been taking place throughout the school year. On Monday night the prowler made an attack north of the Administration building, and when Officer Regier attempted to arrest the man he fired several shots at

ADVISORS PASS ON MORTAR BOARD LIST

Number of Aspirants Grows Smaller When Submitted For Approval

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, submitted the list of recently elected candidates for Mortar Board, to the faculty advisory committee for their approval. The list of thirty names was returned considerably reduced.

The faculty advisory committee is composed of Amanda Heppner, dean of women; Florence McGahey, registrar, and Dr. T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs. A number had to be rejected because of scholastic inability. Delinquencies automatically drop a girl from the list. Miss McGahey checks over the records to see that all scholastic requirements are met. Some have not made enough hours for a senior standing. A national ruling of Mortar Board requires that the candidate have an average of 80 percent.

Conduct Is Considered

Miss Heppner, dean of women, and Dean Thompson bar anyone from the approved list who has anything derogatory to her conduct. Their respective positions as dean of women and dean of student affairs gives them a personal knowledge of the students. Some of the candidates could not receive consideration because of their small participation in campus activities.

Women are selected on the basis of scholarship, personality and leadership. From five to twenty Mortar Boards will be elected from the approved faculty list by the present chapter of Mortar Board. These girls will be masked at the Ivy Day exercises the latter part of May.

Cornhuskers Will Hear Local Botanist Speak

At a meeting of Cornhuskers, dental society, this evening at 8 o'clock at the Grand hotel, Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, will give an illustrated lecture on "The National Parks." A program consisting of readings and musical numbers will also be given.

Simple Study Slogans

The Daily Nebraskan continues its campaign for study slogans with this issue. All students are eligible to submit matter for this feature, and those whose slogans are accepted will be named under the line. The Nebraskan office in the basement of University hall will receive material for the "Simple Study Slogans" box.

Today's Slogan
"As you study, so shall you rate at the registrar's office."
