PLAYERS OPEN WEEK'S RUN IN FRENCH DRAMA

Ramay, Bricka Lead in 'The Learned Ladies,' Lively Satirical Comedy

MOLIERE WRITES PLAY

Story Depicts Foolishness Of Pretended Wisdom; Abounds in Humor

"The Learned Ladies," satirical French comedy by Moliere, was pleasingly presented to a good opening night crowd at the Temple theater last night. It is the first of this type of play that has been attempted this season but was exceedingly well received.

Kilwood Ramay playing the part of Trissotin, the scholar, Zolley Lerner, his successful rival for the hand of Henriette and March Murchison, as Belise, the vain aunt, played exceptionally well.

The School of Fine Arts orchestra entertained during the intermission.

In the play, "The Learned Ladies," Moliere heaps his ridicule on the foolish attempts of part of society and especially women's academics to be scholarly and learned.

Crede Bricka playing the part of Henriette, the one lady who was

Lincoln Doctor and Graduate Of University Enters Primary Race

Dr. W. C. Becker, graduate of the University of Nebraska, is a candidate for the city of Lincoln school board. He filed his petition with the city clerk Saturday.

Doctor Becker was prominent in activities in the University where he won letters in football and track.

He received his A. B. from Nebraska in 1914 and his M. D. from the University of Chicago in 1916.

He has also studied in the University of Vienna, Austria. College organizations to which Dr. Becker belongs are Sigma Xi, Delta Tau Delta and Nu Sigma Nu.

'Out With the Crashers,' Cry Many Of Greek Organizations on Campus

(By Florence Seward) Ancient festivals used to be conducted in generous fashion, since the citizenry of the surrounding countryside was cordially invited to eat, drink, dance, and be merry.

No questions were asked, as to who could attend. These affairs were the first free-for-alls.

May Queen Arguments Will Be Heard Today

Probe committee on May Queen elections will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the dramatic club room in the Temple. Advocates and opponents of the proposed changes will be given an opportunity to appear before the committee and state their arguments.

KOSMET COMPLETES ROAD TRIP ITINERARY

Five Towns Are on Schedule For 'Don't Be Silly' Presentations

PLAY AT LINCOLN LATER

Kosmet Klub's spring show, "Don't Be Silly," with an all-male cast of fifty, is scheduled for presentation in five Nebraska cities, Fremont, Columbus, Holdrege, McCook, and Hastings, in addition to the two performances to be given in Lincoln after the road trip.

The appearance in Fremont is under the auspices of the Women's Business and Professional association, a club made up of young women engaged in various business or professional occupations. This group successfully handled in Fremont the presentation of the "Love Hater," last year's Kosmet Klub offering.

Alumnus At Holdrege

In Holdrege the Chamber of Commerce is backing the Klub. Richard Brown, a former president of the Klub, is lending his assistance in that city. In McCook "Don't Be Silly" will be given under the auspices of the McCook Amusement company, the Chamber of Commerce, and a committee of students from McCook Junior College. The committee is under the direction of a faculty man, John Cameron, who is a former student at the University.

In Hastings, the Cosmopolitan club is promoting the show. This organization, composed of business men, has successfully backed the appearance in Hastings of the "Dream Pirate" and the "Love Hater" in the past two years.

At Columbus, the show will be

CHEMISTS ARRANGE TO ATTEND OHIO MEETING

Avery, Upson, and Adolph Expect To Make Trip To Columbus

Nebraska will be represented at the general meeting of the American Chemical Society at Columbus, Ohio, April 25-May 3, by Dr. Samuel Avery, Dr. F. W. Upson, and Dr. W. H. Adolph. About 2,000 chemists will attend this convention of the largest scientific body in the world devoted to a single subject.

Dr. Avery will read a paper, "The Isomeric A B Diphenylglutaric," prepared by him and W. D. Marzary, a chemistry student. Prof. F. C. Whitmore of Northwestern University, chairman of the organic section of the American Chemical Society, wrote Doctor Avery the acceptance for its reading. This paper will be used by MacLay for his master's thesis upon his graduation this spring.

Irving Langmuir, chief chemist of General Electric, is president of the society. Two meetings are held each year. Next fall Minneapolis is the meeting place and it is expected that more representatives from Nebraska will be present there.

ENGINEERS SECURE DHILLON FOR TALK

Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, at an open meeting of the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, to be held in the Agricultural Engineering building.

Proceeding the talk, a plate lunch will be served at 6 o'clock. Twenty-five cents will be charged for this part of the program. Several short numbers of entertainment have also been arranged by the committee in charge.

KOCH WILL TALK ON SCHOOL WORK

Everett Teachers Secure Professor to Speak On Education

Dr. Harlan C. Koch, professor of secondary education, will speak to the teachers of Everett Junior high school today at 3:30 o'clock on the subject of "Modern Tendencies in Secondary Education."

Since 1899 the enrollment of high schools has increased about 1,000 per cent here in America while the population has increased only about 10 per cent. The junior high school and college is a unique development in this country and the philosophy and practices of instruction have greatly changed.

These changes will form the matter of Doctor Koch's address.

REGULATIONS ARE LAX

Regulations on attendance at university affairs have always been notoriously lax. Incidents of the past football season have shown numerous occasions marked by jammed floors, disorganized check-in arrangements, and inadequate refreshments for the huge army of invited and uninvited guests who have attended.

Two fraternities have already

BIBLE TAKES UP NEW DUTIES AS GRID DIRECTOR

Nebraska Football Mentor Assumes Guidance on Monday Evening

COACH CONFINES WORK

Drill Is Limited to General Principles; Cameras Are Prominent

Cornhusker football men were sent through their first workout Monday night under Dana X. Bible, Nebraska's new football coach. Bible arrived with the track team late Sunday afternoon, accompanying them home from the Texas trip.

In preparation for Bible's arrival, Line Coach Bunny Oakes and assistants have been sending the varsity candidates through a stiff program of preliminary drill, featuring fundamentals. Last week the backs were given an opportunity to exercise their toes, with Marquis and Packer from the frosh squad and Peaker, veteran quarterback, getting the best yardage.

The search for a battery of center candidates continues. Hobbs, Morrison, Bauer and Maasdam are the leading candidates for the position left by graduation of Ted James and Merle Zuber.

Monday night the new Cornhusker coach spent most of his

FEDERAL ECONOMICS AGENT PLANS VISIT

Prospective Teachers May Hear Miss Fallgatter Of Washington

SUPERVISES 23 STATES

Coming from Washington D. C., Miss Florence Fallgatter, federal agent in home economics education, will visit the home economics teacher training department of the University Wednesday and Thursday.

Friday she and several University of Nebraska teachers will go to Omaha to attend and speak at fifteenth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Home Economics association.

On the program at the state convention from the University are Miss Evelyn Metzger, Dr. D. A. Worcester and Miss Grace Norton. Miss Metzger will give a demonstration Friday afternoon on interior decoration problems of teachers and homemakers. Dr. Worcester will discuss "Improvements of Home Economics Texts" at the Saturday morning session and will be followed by Miss Norton who will talk about achievement tests for college freshmen in home economics.

Plan Honor Dinner While in Lincoln Miss Fallgatter will be in conference with instructors in home economics and Wednesday evening will be honored by a dinner which will be attended by the home economics faculty. Later Wednesday Miss Fallgatter will speak on "Home Economics in Other States" before the home economics club.

Miss Fallgatter supervises and inspects teaching of vocational education in twenty-three states. She is especially interested in the types of schools in which home economics courses are offered.

Today Miss Fallgatter and Miss Birdie Vorhies, state supervisor of home economics education, are visiting schools at Kearney and Stormburg. At the Omaha meeting, Miss Fallgatter will discuss "The Scope of Home Economics Courses Today."

New Cornhusker Football Mentor Outlines Spring Grid Drill Plans

(By William McCleery.) Seated before the desk in his Coliseum office, Dana X. Bible, Nebraska's new head football coach, outlined a schedule of drill yesterday afternoon for the Scarlet and Cream grid squad.

Coach Bible is friendly and cordial. He speaks with a slight southern drawl, for he is a native of Tennessee. "I am not sufficiently well acquainted with the situation here to outline prospects," stated the new Nebraska man. He has prepared a schedule of brain and brown workout for the Cornhusker football material.

At 10 o'clock every morning a meeting of coaches will be held in Coach Bible's office. He emphasized the importance of blackboard discussions which will be presented to grid aspirants each afternoon. Chalk talks are scheduled for every afternoon in the week, with repeat discussions following the regular talks to enable all players to attend.

"The same ground will be covered on Tuesday afternoon as on Monday afternoon," declared the coach. "The hour between 3 and 4 o'clock of every afternoon class will be taken up with these talks, but only three different ones will be given each week. This will enable the men who have classes on Mondays to hear the work on Tuesday, and so on throughout the week."

Closed Practices Planned Outside practice on the stadium field starts at 4 o'clock every afternoon. "During the spring workout I hope to take up four formations," continued Mr. Bible. "Each Saturday afternoon a game will be played, and the public is invited to attend these scrimmages. On other days the gates to the stadium will be closed."

Dana X. Bible has had wide ex-
