Producers Announce 10:30 As Closing Hour for Each Performance

Seasoned from a series of presentations throughout the state, and freshened by a short rest prior to the Lincoln showing, the "Don't Be Silly" company of fifty people will run through a short "signal practice" this evening in final preparation for the initial curtain Friday evening.

Special attention is called to the fact that both the Friday and Saturday shows will end promptly at 10:30 o'clock thereby giving students the opportunity to attend parties after either performance. The curtain rises each evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Box office records of advance ticket reservations indicate a large audience will be in attendance at both performances. Reservations for seats may be made only at the Liberty theater box office which opens daily at 10 o'clock in the morning. There will be no special box offices on either of the university's campuses. Y. W. ADVISOR GIVES TALK ON RELIGION

Mrs. Roy Green Speaks to Management Group Wednesday

"The Religion of the Home," was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. Roy Green, member of the advisory board of the Y. W. C. A., to the home management committee Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Green emphasized the fact that children should be taught religion in the home as early as possible. Children are taught religion by what the parents are and how they live.

The best means of religious expression in the home are saying grace, praying individually and attending church, she said. It is well to teach children that grace is the beginning of the meal and the spirit of thanks and peace result throughout the meal. The home has grown away from family prayers, but every child should be taught to pray by himself. The parents should pray with very small children and gradually let them express themselves. There are many kinds of standard prayers, but those that leave children with the feeling of peace and security are the best to use. Spiritual depth cannot be expected from children, but any of them can understand simple prayers. A child should be taught the fundamental virtues such as love, honesty and courage. These readily pave the way for religious understanding. Mrs. Green emphasized.

'Freddie,' Male Lead

Donald Carlson, of Cheyenne, portraying the part of "Freddie MacMillan," a young man just out of college, in the Kosmet Klub production, "Don't Be Silly." Carlson displays his ability as an actor, singer and dancer, several times during the course of the performance.

BURNETT PROPHECIES CHANGE WITH DORMS

Chancellor Says Second Year Pledging Would Follow Reform

That first year pledging by fraternities would be discarded immediately after completion of a dormitory system at the University of Nebraska, was a point brought out by Chancellor E. A. Burnett at a meeting of the Lincoln chapter of American Association of University Professors at the University club last evening.

"By 1931 the proposed dormitory system will be able to handle nearly 800 freshman girls," declared the chancellor. "The legislature has appropriated $200,000 for construction, which will allow $100,000 for purchase of property, with $100,000 to apply on the cost of building and $200,000 to be amortized," he explained.

Continuing, the Nebraska administrative leader said: "It is the plan of the regents to sell 5 per cent securities guaranteed only by rentals and profits of the dining room, which will be sufficient to pay off interest and principal within thirty years. No other program of the University has met with such widespread approval over the state at this proposed dormitory plan."
