HIGH SCHOOL WEEK BEGINS NEXT FRIDAY

Nebraska Music Contest and State Cinder Meet Are On Calendar

High school week will begin Friday, May 3, with the state music contest and end May 10 with the finals of the state track meet at the Memorial Stadium. The academic pentathlon contest has been abandoned, according to A. A. Reed, director of the extension division and director of former academic meets.

The University will not have academic contests for high school students this year. Last year approximately 750 students competed in the academic meet including the newly created pentathlon. The meet last year was the sixth annual affair of that nature.

No Academic Contest

Because of inadequate housing facilities the University substituted the plan of having students take examinations in their own schools. The examinations were to be mailed in to the University to be graded and the awards made. The plan contemplated also the pentathlon contests being held the same as last year.

Lack of interest among the high schools of the state was the cause for the abandonment of both plans.

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS NORMAL BILL VETO

Reasons for vetoing the bill providing that normal schools might add two years of university work to their curricula were given by Governor Weaver in a recent interview when he declared that the University of Nebraska occupies a distinct field in education and that the four state normal schools exist for an entirely different purpose.

The bill H. R. 454, was passed by the legislature in its recent session. Another bill, S. F. 271, interfering the same idea as set forth in H. R. 454, was also vetoed by the governor.

Would Mean More Taxes

"The legislation contained in H. R. 454 would be the first step toward setting up five universities to be supported by the state instead of one," declared Governor Weaver. "This would greatly increase the cost of higher education to the people of Nebraska and there is no legitimate need or public demand for it."

The governor quoted the state constitution in defining the status of the state normal schools, stating that the proper field of work for such schools was a "whole" of teachers for public schools.

Three Fields of Education

The educational system of Nebraska is founded in three separate and distinct fields, according to the accepted policy of the state. These are the common schools for citizens from five to twenty-one years of age, the state normal schools, and the university.

"In my opinion, our system of education is so splendidly coordinated and has been so uniformly successful in answering our educational needs that a change of policy as contemplated by H. R. 454 would not only be unwise but inimical to the highest interests of the normal schools, the University and to the state as a whole," declared Governor Weaver.
