

OKLAHOMA TEAM PLANS TO UPSET SCARLET HOPES

Coach Jacobs With Big Six Indoor Winners Will Open Season Here

SCHULTE GROOMS SQUAD

Cornhusker Mentor Gets Men in Fettle to Break Sooners' Wins.

Local cinder fans are in for their first real treat of the 1929 outdoor track season when Coach Henry F. Schulte's Scarlet and Cream performers take the field against the Oklahoma Sooners in their initial stadium appearance tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp. The Oklahoma squad will invade Lincoln with a dual victory sheet that dates back for more than five years will attempt to add the Husker artists to their already overflowing list.

The two-way mix-up promises to be a thriller with each event resulting in a nip and tuck affair. Comparative scores would indicate that the final total will be exceedingly close with either team afforded the chance of edging out in front.

Cornhusker squad will pin their hopes on being able to clean up with seconds and thirds enough to offset the individual performers on Coach Jacobs team. Shelby, high jumper, and Howell, weight man, appear to be the best bets for the southern invaders although Ashburn and Rowley may upset the hope for Mr. Howell should they hit their stride of the past week or so.

Southerners Have Edge
Oklahoma team, with the Big Six indoor championship already at their quarters, is bent on repeating in the outdoor meet and will attempt to subdue the Huskers as a stepping stone to the title. Fling, Carmen, Bruce, Drake and Carson, with Shelby and Howell, who counted for the leading points at Kansas City last winter, will carry the Jacob burdens.

First places appear to be evenly divided for both schools. The final tally appears to be a toss up as the relay games of the past few weeks have prohibited any team comparison of any of the valley schools.

Officials for the meet, announced by the athletic office Thursday include A. A. Schabinger, Director of Athletics at Creighton university, referee; Early Johnson, starter, and Harold Miller, student manager, clerk of the course.

Fernan Jobst, Otto Zumwinkle, H. Bowers, C. L. Dow and Rev. D. B. O'Connor will also act in an official capacity. Hobb Turner will have charge of the high jump, Don Bell, broad jump, Scott Harman and Walter Black, shot put, W. W. Knight, and Dr. Moon, javelin and W. H. Browne, discus, J. L. McMasters and B. C. Bren will act as inspectors, and Bob Russell will do the announcing.

BURNETT TALKS TO LIONS CLUB
Chancellor Discusses Plans For Improvement of University Plant

Program of the University of Nebraska for the next two years was outlined by Chancellor E. A. Burnett at the meeting of the Lions club yesterday. He spoke in the place of Coach Bich, who was scheduled to give the talk. Legislative action, he said, left the University prepared for plant expansion rather than internal improvement.

Dormitories to be built will be used for freshman women, with the ultimate plan of requiring freshman women to live in dormitories. The regents and the capital commission will meet Saturday to plan for the joint heating plant authorized by the legislature. Arrangements will be made with the city for the tunnel right-of-way down Fourteenth street, he said.

Filings for Election Close at Five Today

Filings of candidates for offices in the spring election to be held Tuesday, May 7, will be received until 5 o'clock this afternoon at the student activities office in the Coliseum, according to Eldred Larson, president of the Student Council.

MANY STUDENTS WILL GET SPECIAL AWARDS

Brenke Announces Plans For Convocation Honors Day, May Eighth

SCHOLARSHIP DOMINANT
Five hundred students from all classes in the University and a number of student organizations will be honored on Honors day, May 8, for the scholastic record they have made during the previous two semesters. Announcement of the plans for the event was made Thursday by Prof. W. C. Brenke, chairman of the committee in charge of Honors day convocation.

The committee has prepared a list of those to be honored. The compilation of grades was based on the averages for the last semester of last year and the first semester of this year. This list of honored students will be included in the Honors day convocation.

Upper three percent in the senior class in each college will be recognized for "superior" scholarship. The upper ten percent of all four classes in each college will be recognized for "high" scholarship.

To Honor Greeks
A few organizations will receive recognition according to Professor Brenke. Non-social organizations will be recognized provided a sufficient proportion of the members of the organization have high scholarship. Fraternities and sororities will be in the list of honored organizations provided they are sufficiently higher than the rest of their groups.

Honors day is an innovation on the Nebraska campus this year. It is in line with the University's policy of designating special days for certain achievements. Honors day this year has been set for Wednesday, May 8. At the convocation held on that day some of the students and organizations with the highest scholastic achievements will be announced. All receiving recognition will be printed on the program.

Things Galore Mark Activity Of Seven Days

Students this week are wondering if all important events are not coming at the same time. It is not enough that Engineers week and Pharmacy week should be held at the same time. Upon top of that have been heaped all manner of important and interesting events.

Farmers Fair, of course, claims a good portion of the spotlight. In itself it seems enough to occupy one week. But it must share the light of public interest with the Panhellenic and the Interfraternity banquet, Madam Schumann-Heink, the Barb party and high schools from all over the state who are visiting Lincoln.

Five Scientists Convene.
Certain learned scientists add their portion to an already full week. The meeting of the American Academy of Science and allied sciences is quite important. It claims the attention of many who wonder if they can see everything else that is going on at the same time.

Baseball games and tennis matches Saturday will vie for the spotlight with the last football game of the season. Over on the clinders Coach Schulte's track men will draw their quota of onlookers.

Seniors especially are expecting even more crowded times a few weeks hence, but where can one week buster than this one appear to be?

Sideways Will Open With Unique Display
Among the attractions at the Farmers Fair tomorrow will be the side shows. Under the roof of one of the tents will be "The Six Great Wonders of the Modern World," the foremost of which is "An Amazing Experiment of a Round With Two Thousand Squares."

The five other great wonders are: "What Boy Hate About a Sorority House," the first appearance of "The Original Black Bottom," "The Missing Link," the only one in captivity, "The California Dog" and "The Canadian Hairless Bear."

In a separate booth will be found "Marshall of Zanzibar," the fortune teller who reads by any method desired. "The Original American Siamese Twins" will make their debut in Nebraska and "A Swimming Match Between Two Mice," will feature trained mice which hold records for swimming.

BIZARD STUDENTS START SALE OF TICKETS TODAY

Salesmen Solicit Support For Annual Program Friday, May 10

ARRANGE MANY EVENTS

Parades, Lunch, Dances, Games and Baseball Tilts Are Scheduled

Ticket sales for Bizard day will start this morning at 8 o'clock, according to Walter Lehmkuhl, 70, Wahoo, general chairman. All College of Business Administration classes will be canvassed by salesmen today and the first two days of next week.

The price of the tickets has been set at one dollar which includes all the festivities of the day, a baseball game between the Haskell Indians-Nebraska baseball teams, and a dance Friday night, May 10. "Red" Krause and his band will play.

Parade Opens Festivities.
Starting the festivities of the day by a huge parade of cars to Antelope park, the early morning events will consist of a baseball game between teams representing Phi Chi Theta, Girls Commercial club, and a team of faculty members. Horsehoe contests and soft ball games are also being arranged for student pastimes. Barbecue lunch at noon will be the feature of the day's program, according to the committee in charge.

Special attention is being called by the committee to the tickets available for women students of the college. These tickets will be sold for fifty cents, entitling the holder to the baseball game, lunch and festivities but not to the dance in the evening.

Committee heads for Bizard day are: Entertainment and program, Don Ertel; baseball, Harold Halbesen; transportation, Leroy Jack; dance, Ornan King; tickets, Bob Evans and Glen Reichenbach; lunch, George Holt; publicity, Douglas Timmerman.

BRINLEY AND HOFFMAN WIN HEALTH CONTEST

Students Write Essays and Design Posters to Get $5 Prizes

Winners of the first prize for the best health poster and for the best health essay entered by university students of this campus have been announced. Verna Brinley won the prize of $5 for the best essay, and Melvin Hoffman was awarded the prize for the poster.

The contest was held to interest students in the health problems, to get some of their ideas on this subject, sponsored by the department of physical education for women. Mabel Lee, Helen Morehead, Keretlin Thorin, and Mary Olsen judged the papers and posters entered.

Any subject pertaining to mental and physical health were accepted in the contest. Essays were submitted by all freshmen English classes. From the essays received the three chosen as the best were; first, by Verna Brinley called "Elizabeth and Martha"; the second by Evelyn McBride, and third by Lydia Barry. The winning poster by Melvin Hoffman symbolized the importance of health in home and business.

TOURNEY STARTS FOR COED TEAMS

Sorority Nines Begin Race For Title in Baseball Competition

With twenty-two teams entered in the girls' intramural baseball tournament, games began Wednesday. May 1. Games will be played each school day from 5 to 6 o'clock for the next two weeks. A straight elimination tournament both for winners and for losers will be played. The committee managing the baseball tournament are Betty Kimberley, chairman, Rita Pierce, Elizabeth Reimers, and Marjory Hyatt.

Friday games will be played by Delta Zeta, second team vs. Kappa Alpha Theta, and N.E.ergettes vs. Phi Omega Pi. Phi Mu will play the Jay Hawks Saturday morning. In case of rain, captains should call the intramural office for further instructions.

BURNETT JUDGES OMAHA CONTEST

Chancellor Officiates in the State Oratorical Meet of High Schools

Chancellor E. A. Burnett presided yesterday at the World-Herald oratorical contest held in the auditorium of Technical high school in Omaha. Six Nebraska high school orators and one from Iowa competed to decide the representative for this district at Kansas City, May 11.

The winner of yesterday's contest received a $100 prize given by the World-Herald. Each of the six Nebraska representatives had already won a $25 award for securing the right to represent smaller districts at the Omaha meet.

At the same competition in Kansas City the winner of the Omaha contest will vie with six other sectional representatives for the prize of a three-month South American tour with all expenses paid. The winner will also represent the zone in the national oratorical contest.

COEDS PREPARE NEW PAGEANT FOR RODEO

Announce Cast for Home Economics Department Girls Production

Girls in the home economics department are presenting at the Farmers Fair Saturday a play, "Your Dream Kitchen Come True," and a pageant, "A Day in Notting ham," taken from the "Tales of Robin Hood." The play will be given at 8:30 o'clock in the Machinery hall, and the pageant at 8:30 o'clock.

Melva Dickinson plays the part of Robin Hood in the pageant, Ruth White will be the king, and Gedna Brown the queen. The remainder of the cast includes Evelyn Kroez, Charlotte Joyce, Alice Buffert, Alice Fosling, Vivian Chamberlain, Sybil Halliday and Mildred Bickley, besides groups of milkmaids, hay-makers, outlaws, dancers, and peasants.

AG AFFAIR OPENS SATURDAY WITH NEW FEATURES

Committee Plans Series of Events for Afternoon Entertainment

PARADE BEGINS ACTIVITY

Gigantic Processional Will Start Festival With Goddess at Head

Eleventh Annual Farmers Fair will open Saturday noon with a parade on "O" street. The parade, headed by the university R. O. T. C. band, and consisting of fourteen floats and several other features, promises to be one of the outstanding attractions of the fair, according to Ed Janke, chairman of the parade committee. A complete program of entertainment has been prepared for the afternoon and evening, with a horse show and polo game as major attractions in the entertainment.

One hundred and fifty students are working on the floats, eleven of which will depict Nebraska's major industries and three which will be of a special nature. The "goddess of agriculture" float is in charge of a committee headed by Walter White. The "goddess of agriculture," who rides upon the float, is chosen by the girls of the College of Agriculture upon a basis of scholastic records and school activities. Her identity remains a secret until the day of the fair. Other floats in the parade will represent the alfalfa, wheat, corn, sugar beet, potato, fruit, dairy, livestock, poultry, manufacturing and packing industries.

Lengthy Parade Planned.
The parade is routed as follows: College of Agriculture campus down Holdrege street to 23 street, on 23 street to R, on to 25; thence on 26 to O street, and along O street to 10. The return will be by way of R street, 16 street and Holdrege street.

Complete program of events indicates that the midway and exhibits, the pony and pet stock show, and the horse show open at 1 o'clock. The horse show consists of exhibitions of horses of many classes, and includes an interiority riding contest. It is announced that further entries in the contest will be received by Keith Walker.

GIRLS MAY PLAY IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Intramural Board Secures Antelope Course for Coed Contest

Under the management of the girls' intramural board, a golf tournament for university girls is being planned for the month of May. Games are to be played on the Antelope park course. All university girls are eligible for participation in the qualifying round of play which will be extended to May 11. Following the qualifying round, girls making the sixteen lowest scores will be chosen to play in an elimination tournament.

Names of those entering the tournament will be paired, and girls will play off their matches together, according to Lois Raymond, manager of the golf tournament. The first nine holes of the Antelope course will be used for the tournament. Scores are to be turned in at the office of the Antelope golf club. A poster for girls to sign upon entering the tournament will be posted at the course, according to Lois Raymond in conducting the tournament are Beth Baker, Mildred Swanson and Edith Jensen.

SOCIOLOGISTS PLAN SPEECHES

Three Nebraska Instructors Arrange to Talk at Science Meet

Three members of the department of sociology will give talks during the annual meeting of the Association of Nebraska for Geography, History and Science, held at the University of Nebraska on May 10. The speakers will be Miss W. G. Sumner, Miss Williams will talk before the general assembly in Social Sciences auditorium at 11 o'clock on "The Sociological Significance of the Platte River in Nebraska."

At 1:30 o'clock in Social Sciences room 101, W. G. Binnewise will talk on "The Application of the Quantitative Method to Social Analysis." He will give in his talk the ways of measuring certain phenomena in quantitative terms in order that it may be more definitely studied.

Athletic Tickets Are Valid for Ball Games

Students will be admitted to the Nebraska-Kansas Aggie baseball game this afternoon by presenting their athletic season tickets, according to John Selbeck. Regular admission to the contest will be fifty cents.

ENGINEERS ARRANGE FOR DINNER TONIGHT

Prof. J. B. Davidson Arrives From Iowa State to Address Group

Prof. J. B. Davidson of the Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa, will be the principal speaker at the engineers' banquet to be held in the Annex cafe at 6:15 o'clock this evening. The banquet is the climax to a week of events staged by engineering students in celebration of their annual Engineers week.

Prof. Davidson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He is also founder and past national president of Sigma Tau, an honorary engineering fraternity. Prof. C. J. Frankforter, chairman of the department of chemical engineering, will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

Observe Engineers Night.
Engineers night was observed last night and all the engineering buildings on the Nebraska campus held open house from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock. All types of tests and explanations of various machines were given by engineering students.

Featured on the banquet program will be the awarding of five prizes, the announcement of the Blue Print (engineering magazine) staff of 1929-30, and distribution of "The Sledge," official College of Engineering scandal sheet.

Prizes to be awarded are the O. J. Peo trophy by Dean O. J. Ferguson, Sigma Tau freshman medal by Myron Johnson, civil engineering scholarship award by Prof. C. E. Mickel, A. S. A. E. scholarship award by Prof. E. B. Lewis, and the Sigma Tau picture to the Engineering Hall of Fame by Lester Shoemaker. Tickets which were placed on sale Monday are selling for one dollar, according to Ralph Deeds, ticket chairman.

Publicity Staff Advertises Fair Through State

Work on advertising and publicity for this year's Farmers Fair has been carried on by organized committees. The people responsible for this phase of the work include Elvin Frolik, promotion chairman; Donald Packa, publicity chairman; and Merrill Matzke, advertising chairman. A large staff aided in the work.

Special forty-four page issue of the Cornhusker Co-ordinator with 2,000 extra copies furnished one of the early means of publicity. These copies were distributed among people attending Fenders day and sent to people whose names were submitted by students.

Stories Written.
A general story of the fair was sent to all weeklies in the state. Where possible, a local angle was added to the story by telling of the work which a student from that vicinity was going to do on the fair. News reels of last year's Farmers Fair is being shown in two Lincoln theaters this week, half time at each place. Slides are also being used in several of the motion picture houses. Several hundred posters of different kinds were distributed over Lincoln and surrounding territory.

Music Wafts From Engineers Building

A melody out of the sky, moaning, drooping, causing people to doubt the soundness of their senses—then someone with a keen sense of vision discovered the secret. The southwest corner of E. hall, and two windows of a nearby shed marked E. E. were adorned with loud-speakers from whence issued strains of "enchanting" Hawaiian music. Then suddenly it broke off.

A decidedly unenchanting voice spoiled everything by announcing that the department of Electrical Engineering, broadcasting through courtesy of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company whose wires they were using was responsible for the harmony. This outbreak was part of an annual electrical engineering eccentricity, known as the "engineering exhibit." It is as a feature of engineers week.

Varsity Baseballers Meet Kansas Aggies in Big Six Home Game

TED PICKETT ON MOUND

Nebraska Coach Is Hopeful Of Victory Against League-Leaders

In the first Varsity baseball game at Lincoln since 1925, "Cherry" Rhodes, the Cornhusker horse-hide mentor, will send his proteges against the league-leading Kansas Aggies this afternoon at Landis field. The game will start promptly at 3:30.

For the opening home game today, Coach Rhodes will delegate Ted Pickett, Scottsbluff, to the mound, to bring Nebraska back in the scoring column and to try for a Cornhusker spirit is due to revive this morning between 3 and 10 and 10 and 11 o'clock classes for the purpose of creating enthusiasm for the opening of the Husker baseball season at Landis field today.

The between class rallies are a part of the program arranged for the return of baseball to the Nebraska campus. The remainder of the program will be held at Landis field with attempts being made to get Chancellor Burnett to throw the first ball.

Although Pickett lost his two southern trip engagements by close scores, Rhodes is confident that the Scottsbluff boy will register a win today. Russell Snygg will start at the catching assignment. Pickett's losses against Oklahoma and Missouri were hard to take as the mound ace has been pitching masterful ball throughout the season.

The Husker lineup today has been switched but little and Marshall Keyes is slated to begin the batting order for the home boys. Williams, shortstop, Roy, right field, Betts, second baseman, Wright, centerfielder, Grace, left fielder, Ulstrom, first base, Snygg, catcher, and Pickett on the mound, will comprise the batting order of the Nebraska entry today.

PALLADIANS PRESENT LOGIC DRAMA TONIGHT

Players Will Enact 'Power Of Suggestion' at Open Spring Meeting

A three act comedy entitled "The Power of Suggestion" will be presented at this evening's open meeting of the Palladian literary society. This is the regular annual junior-senior program, given toward the close of each year, by the junior and senior members of the society. The play itself is written by one of the senior members, Leila Marshall.

In addition to the play there will be an overture and several other numbers by the "Big Little Junior-Senior Philharmonic Symphony," under the direction of one of the members of the society.

FOLLIES FEATURE EVENING PROGRAM

High spots of the entertainment for Farmers Fair, which will be held May 4 at the College of Agriculture will be the combined Snorpeum and Follies and the minstrel show.

The snorpeum follies will consist of a thirty minute vaudeville program of eight acts which will include dancing, singing and readings. A ten piece orchestra will assist in the production. The minstrel show which is a newly added attraction to the fair will include a one act program of jokes, music and frivolity, given by a cast of nine, and lasting for thirty minutes.

Agriculturalists Plan Matinee Feature Dance

One matinee and two evening dances comprise the dancing program for the Farmers Fair to be held at the College of Agriculture Saturday. The matinee will be held from 3 to 5:30 o'clock at the student activities building, while the evening dances will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock at both the student activities building and the outside pavilion.
