ALL-UNIVERSITY CHURCH PROGRAM SET FOR FRIDAY

Annual Affair Includes All New Students; Many Receptions Held.

NO UNIVERSITY PARTIES

Purpose to Help Acquaint Frosh With Lincoln's Religious Life.

All university church night, held annually for the purpose of acquainting new students with the various churches of Lincoln, will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. All of the churches are planning special programs and receptions for the occasion. Every student is invited to attend one of these receptions and church heads hope that freshmen students especially will avail themselves of this opportunity to become acquainted with the religious life of the city.

Friday evening will be closed to all other university parties and dances in keeping with a university custom of long standing. One feature of the evening will be the Presbyterian caravan, which will begin its journey from the First Presbyterian church at Seventeenth and F streets. Students are to assemble there, and after a short program continue to Westminster Presbyterian church at Sheridan boulevard and South street. From here the caravan will drive to the Second Presbyterian church at Twenty-sixth and P streets. After the program at this church the group will go to the Presbyterian manse at 353 North Fourteenth street, where refreshments will be served. A band is expected to precede the caravan on their trips between destinations.

Varied Programs Arranged. All Lutherans of all synods will meet in Morrill hall in gallery "A" at eight o'clock. A musical program will be featured, and after various Lutheran pastors are presented to the group, refreshments will be served.

JAMES HEADS SOUTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY

Nebraska Educator Starts Campaign to Advance His New School.

Herman G. James, former dean of the graduate college of arts and sciences at the University of Nebraska, is now president of the University of South Dakota at Vermillion. President James is considered one of the outstanding educators of the middle west, and is thought of as a drawing card to many South Dakota students who formerly attended colleges in other states.

Advocating a "go to college in South Dakota" campaign, President James is urging clubs and organizations to boost the program for advancement which would put that university on a par with other state universities.

Less than one-fifth of the eligible college students in South Dakota take advantage of their opportunities for a higher education. If the University of South Dakota has a student enrollment which is relatively less than half as large as the enrollment in the universities in neighboring states in which economic and social conditions are comparable to our own, it seems to me entirely justified to say that our university is serving less than half of the young men and women it ought to serve," President James said.

The inferiority, he believed, is due in part to the fact that the university is not receiving adequate support from the state. He thought it was also due to the fact that the opportunities which the university now offers are not being taken advantage of by all the students who could well be served.

Dr. James said that more money from the state is needed in order to maintain a high standard and in order to progress in the future. He appealed to the service clubs throughout the state to get behind the university and to help realize its aims for progress.

Sandahl Calls for More Applications For Staff Positions

Applications are now being received by Cliff F. Sandahl, editor of The Daily Nebraskan, for contributing editors. Blanks are available at his office in University hall 4, and should be returned to him before 5 p. m. Friday, Sept. 28.

The work of the contributing editors will largely be confined to editorial writing. The editor, however, reserves the right to call upon these members of the staff for the exercise of any duties he may have, aside from the writing of editorials.

NEW AGRICULTURE STUDENTS INVITED TO BIG RECEPTION

A reception for new students in the agricultural college will take place at 8 o'clock Sept. 28 on the campus of the college of agriculture. Invitations have been mailed to 850 students. Chaperones for the affair will be Miss Margaret Fedde, Miss Amanda Heppner, Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Miss Irma Appelby and C. D. Hayes. Faculty members of the college of agriculture will attend.

Entertainment will feature games, dancing and a grand march. A Chinese scheme of decorations will be carried out with red and jade green lanterns.

DEAN HEPPNER GIVES TEA FOR FRESHMEN

All University Women Are Invited to Attend; Music Planned.

All university women are cordially invited to attend the tea, given by Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, at Ellen Smith hall this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. At this time Miss Heppner will present members of her staff and those who are connected with Ellen Smith hall.

At this tea, the first honoring new women students at the University of Nebraska, members of the honorary musical sorority, Delta Omicron, will present a varied program. Josephine Bergien, Margaret Anderson and Cornelia Gant will give piano solos. Paula Eastwood, Doris Greene and Frances Stoll are the vocal soloists on the program.

Eleanor Douglas will play a violin selection, and Josephine Retzlaff will whistle. Other numbers will be presented by the Delta Omicron trio, composed of Dorothy Holcomb, Gertrude Giermann and Lulu Jo Hyland.

SEVEN NEBRASKANS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Laverne Noyes Awards Go To Ex-Service Men or Their Relatives.

Seven University of Nebraska students benefited from scholarship awards made possible by the estate of the late Laverne Noyes, Chicago philanthropist, for the current year of 1929-1930.

Applications were open to all ex-service men of the world war, or to some of their close or dependent relatives, who were eligible for entrance into the university. All beneficiaries of the scholarship will be awarded their tuition fees, with merit and need furnishing the basis for the presentation of the prizes.

Three of the awards went to students enrolled in different departments on the Lincoln campus. They are: E. C. Henthorn, teacher's college; Albert C. Hornaby, arts and science; and Merlin F. Sailor, college of law. The remaining four were given to Lloyd M. Kumbel, Tim I. Leon, Carol W. Dewey, and W. L. Shaw, students attending the medical college located in Omaha.

Although at the present time the designated quota is filled, all applicants from the state of Nebraska, who formerly filed their applications, were awarded one of the scholarships.

COLORADO AGGIES RECORD INCREASE IN REGISTRATION

FORT COLLINS—Substantial increases in student enrollment are shown in practically every department of the Colorado agricultural college this fall, compared with the final registration figures last fall, according to S. J. McCracken, registrar.

Total registration up to and including Sept. 16 was 1,349, or 121 greater than the final enrollment last fall—an increase of approximately 10 percent over 1,228, the final total for the first semester last year. About 30 percent of the enrollment is made up of young women students.

Men From Campus Y.M. Will Go to Conference

To attend the state fall conference of student Y. M. C. A. officers, Lee Rankin, Wendell Groth, William Kaplan and C. D. Hayes will go to Camp Strider at Crete Friday afternoon. The conference will continue over Saturday and Sunday. Among the speakers on the program will be Rev. Ervins Ingalls of the Vine Congregational church, Lincoln.

Rankin is president of the local university Y. M. C. A., Groth is field council representative, Mr. Kaplan freshman adviser, and Mr. Hayes secretary.

Minnesota Educator Is Coming to Lincoln

Chancellor Burnett Friday noon will give a luncheon at the University club for L. B. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota. President Coffman will address the Interprofessional institute at the Lincoln hotel, Friday evening.

OCT. 8 IS DATE SET FOR FALL ELECTION

Council Takes No Action On the Nonfraternity Organization.

FAVORS CLOSED NIGHT

Election of four class officers and senior woman-at-large member of the Student council was set for Tuesday, Oct. 8, by action of the council at its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon. The date was set in accordance with the rules for class elections. Failure of the Barb council to present a written constitution for approval prevented any action by the Student council Wednesday. The matter was discussed to some extent but any action awaits an application from the nonfraternity organization. Other matters taken up at the meeting included granting permission to the Awgwan to conduct a sales campaign on the campus, acceptance of the invitations committee report and a hearty endorsement of a Friday closed to all but church affairs.

BLUE PRINT ADOPTS NEW STYLE MAKE-UP

John Clema Announces New Gover Design, Larger Size Magazine.

"The Blue Print is making a radical departure in editorial make up," John Clema, editor-in-chief, of the engineering publication stated Wednesday. "The first issue will be out Oct. 15 and will contain forty-four pages," he said. The Blue Print has been limited in other years to thirty-six pages. Clema stated that articles written by graduates of the college of engineering, who have attained prominence in all the civilized parts of the world, would appear in the ensuing issues for the year.

Ben Cowdrey is business manager of the Blue Print. Raymond Prohaska has charge of the circulation and Bernard Robinson is managing editor. "We are hoping to make the Blue Print a greater success this year than it has ever been before," Clema stated.

A very unusual cover has been secured by the engineering publication board for the first issue of the Blue Print. The cover design follows the suggestion of the members of the board.

It is composed of an etching of the new state capitol, in the foreground, with a view of a frontiersman with a covered, ox-drawn wagon in the extreme background. The work is colored in several tones.

Willard Merrin, of Schenectady, N. Y., chairman of the Engineering College Magazine association, wrote, "It is one of the best covers I have ever seen on an E. C. M. A. magazine."

Paul Nelson West, vice chairman of E. C. M. A., said, "It is altogether of a different nature from anything that has never been used on any engineering college magazine before."

LARGE NUMBER TAKE BOTANY IN SUMMER

Dr. Pool Tells of Vacation Course in Estes Park Proving Popular.

The annual six week summer botany course in the Rocky mountains, conducted yearly by Dr. R. J. Pool, exceeded all previous registration this year, thirty-five students taking the work. Students of wide and varied interests were represented, these members of the class coming from six different states.

The group made its headquarters at Camp Olympus at Estes Park, Colo. Here conditions proved especially favorable for the study of botany. Most of the work was carried on at Long's peak, the highest mountain in Colorado. The party was divided into two groups to cover this point. The region was very thoroughly covered by means of a very carefully arranged series of field trips by autobus and on foot. Here the vegetation was excellent, and the environmental influences were especially conducive for study.

"We feel highly elated with the past summer's work," Dr. Pool stated, "and plan on continuing it the following summer." We feel that we are offering the student college training of the best quality. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2.)

EIGHT HUNDRED LOWERCLASSMEN GET UNIFORMS

Eight hundred military uniforms have so far been given to first and second-year men, according to Colonel F. A. Kidwell, the quartermaster. It is quite a task to outfit a regiment and at the same time see that all are fitted properly. A large supply of new uniforms and caps is making the task easier this semester.

The band will receive its uniforms Oct. 3, and shortly afterward rifles will be assigned to freshmen and sophomores in the R. O. T. C. unit.

UNIVERSITY SPONSORS CONVOCATION TODAY

Classes Excused So That All Freshmen May Be At Meeting.

All freshmen and new students are excused from all 11 o'clock classes in order that they may attend the initiation convocation to be held in the coliseum Thursday at 11 o'clock.

The purpose of the convocation is to acquaint the new students with the traditions and outstanding personalities of Nebraska. Talks will be given by Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Dr. T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs; Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women; George Farley, leader of this year's grid squad, and Coach Dana X. Bible.

The famous Cornhusker oath will be administered by Dr. G. E. Condra, who will also give a talk. By edict of the Innocents the initiation is the deadline for donning of green caps by freshmen men.

Tickets, which can be exchanged for green buttons at Rudge & Guemsel's will be distributed by the Tassels, the girls' pep organization, to the freshmen girls. All freshmen girls will be required to wear the green buttons. There will be no charge for the tickets or for the buttons. However, every girl must get a ticket at this meeting.

TASSELS START DRIVE FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS

"Have you $2.00 for a subscription to the Daily Nebraskan?" This is a question which may be put up to anyone on the campus by any number of young women. The Tassels, women's pep organization, has invaded both the agricultural college campus and the city campus, in a drive which its members are sponsoring for new subscriptions to the campus daily.

While no check up of results has been possible as this paper goes to press, indications point to a rather slow beginning. Perhaps students the financial strain a year's subscription would necessitate. Members of the organization are looking forward to better support by the student body today.

The subscription rates are the same as those of last year, $2.00 for the year, or $1.25 for a semester. Distribution of student subscriptions is handled through the college book stores. Fraternity and sorority houses are covered by group or block subscriptions and the papers are delivered at the respective houses. If anyone wishes to have their copy mailed direct to them the price is $1.75 per semester or $3.00 per year.

Anyone whom the Tassels might miss can place his subscription with someone in The Daily Nebraskan office in the north basement of University hall.

Tea Planned for Mrs. Dana Bible

One hundred and fifty invitations to a tea honoring Mrs. Dana X. Bible, wife of the Cornhusker football coach, have been mailed out. The tea will be given next Wednesday from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. at Ellen Smith hall. Wives of the officials of the athletic department of the university are in charge.

CORN COBS ANNOUNCE NEW MEN PLEDGED

Fifteen Are Eligible; More Proposed, But Not Yet Checked.

GROUP TO LEAD PARADE

Fifteen men whose eligibility had been established were made pledges of the Corn Cobs, male pep organization of the university, at a meeting held in the Temple building Tuesday night. A number of other games were submitted for pledging but only fifteen are eligible so far. The remainder of the names are being checked for eligibility.

YEARBOOK POSITIONS OPEN TO APPLICANTS

Staff Members Will Be Appointed; Friday Is Time Limit.

A number of positions are open on the staff of the 1930 Cornhusker and applicants are urged to get their blanks at the Cornhusker office in the basement of University hall and submit their applications at the earliest possible time. No applications will be accepted after 5 p. m. Friday.

The list of the offices open is as follows: Five assistant managing editors; five associate editors; art editor; administration editor; assistant administration editor; sorority editor; seven assistant sorority editors; fraternity editor; six assistant fraternity editors; athletic editor; women's athletic editor; student life editor; military editor; studio editor; office manager; publicity editor and stenographer.

The positions will be filled by appointment, those having experience or a natural inclination for the work will of course have a superior claim. The men filling the assistant managing and the associate editors' positions will be expected to have a knowledge of fine writing on a par with that of the average college instructor.

The art editorship will necessarily have to be filled by some person who delights in artistic creations, for it is conceded that in present day university year-books the art section is a prominent part. All of the positions are important and necessary for the completion of the yearbook and it is through the smaller offices that a working knowledge of the Cornhusker is acquired, thus enabling a man to work up to a higher position on the staff.

ALUMNI PUBLICATION ISSUES SPORT EDITION

Weekly Football Number Gives Squad Lineup And Prospects.

The weekly football edition of the Nebraska Alumnus is out and contains much interesting information for distant Nebraska alumni. A picture of the entire football squad and coaches, as well as individual pictures of Captain George Farley, Clark McBride, Clair Sloan, Harold Fraham, and Coach Dana X. Bible adorn the pages.

The Alumnus informs the alumni that the "Cornhusker football prospects are bright for this fall." It also says that there need be no worry for the future as a record number of freshmen have reported for practice.

Separate articles give full accounts of the preparations of both the Southern Methodist university and the Pittsburgh elevens. An additional story gives a brief glance at the work of the other teams scheduled to play Nebraska.

An editorial on the advantages of knowing the new signals, a schedule of the coming games, and a list of the University of Nebraska football squad completes the paper.

The football edition was inaugurated last year, and its reception among the alumni warranted its continuation again this year.

Heppner Announces Hour Dances Banned

All-university church night, Friday, Sept. 27, will be closed to hour dances, as well as evening dancing parties, according to an announcement made by Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women.

ALUMNI STUDENT LOAN COMMITTEE CALLS MEETING

The filing of more applications by students for loans from the Alumni association student loan fund has necessitated the calling of a committee meeting on Monday morning at ten o'clock in the Alumni office in the Temple.

Two previous meetings have been held to help students with loans. The committee believes, however, that this will be the last meeting that will be necessary. Applicants for loans are asked to be on hand when the committee meets.

GREEKS MARK TIME ON RUSHING RULES

Musgrave Says Committee Will Be Appointed in Few Days.

"No committee for revising present interfraternity rushing rules will be appointed yet but one will probably be chosen in the next three or four days," stated James Musgrave, president of the Interfraternity council Wednesday. The unanimous decision for creating a new set of interfraternity rushing rules was made at the council meeting held in Morrill hall Tuesday night.

Musgrave stated that he was not sure whether the old committee on rushing would stand or a new one be appointed to take its place. He stated that the present tentative plan of improving the rules was to correspond with different universities in the country gaining new ideas on rush week control and rushing rules from these different schools.

The newly originated plans will be recommended to the council as they come in, he stated, and no hasty decisions will be made since the rules will not be in effect until 1930.

MUSIC ENROLLMENT REMAINS UNCHANGED

Conservatory Now Belongs To National Group of Forty Members.

Enrollment in the university school of music remains practically the same for the year 1929-30, but no figures have been compiled as yet for the reason that students are still registering, and in the opinion of George P. Kimball, secretary of the school, will continue to do so for at least another month.

Courses remain practically the same except for the enlargement of all degree courses to conform with the standards of the new association to which the school now belongs. This organization, the National Association of Schools of Music, is national in scope, and is composed of about forty of the foremost conservatories in the United States. The association is seeking to establish better standards for all schools of music.

The Lincoln A. Capella choir held its first rehearsal last week under the direction of John M. Rosborough and will soon be ready to begin its activities. This organization is composed almost entirely of university students.

Rehearsals of the school of music symphony orchestra will begin Saturday. This orchestra is under the direction of Carl Steckelberg.

LEGION SPONSORS SHOW THIS WEEK AT FIELD HOUSE

At the university coliseum this week the American Legion, Nebraska post No. 2, is sponsoring its first annual fun show. Attendance Wednesday night was larger than either Monday or Tuesday when between two and three thousand persons attended the program. Concession booths line the walls of the coliseum. On the stage an hour of entertainment is presented, after which the large floor is cleared for dancing. A twelve piece orchestra furnishes the music.

On the Wednesday night program the Yodeling Twins from York and the Yarny Four, a group of university students, appeared. Thursday night the Coed Trio composed of Lulu Jo Hyland, Alice Duffy and Katherine Cruise will be featured.

Cadets Will Usher At Football Games

Cadet students in the Nebraska R. O. T. C. unit who want to usher at the Cornhusker home football games this fall should post their names at the student activities office in the coliseum. Selections will be made early next week. Already a large number of men have signed.

Mitchell Accepts Job in Oklahoma

L. E. Mitchell who has been connected with the department of geological survey at the University of Nebraska since his graduation in June, left Lincoln Monday to take up work with an Oklahoma oil company at Tulsa.

STUDENT TICKET SALE BEGINS; NO WAITING IN LINE

Drawings Determine Choice Of Best Places; All Treated Alike.

PRICE RAISED TO $9.00

Saturday Noon Is Deadline For Reserving Seats; Cash Required.

Student tickets will be on sale at the Student Activities office in the coliseum starting this morning. Reservations will be received today, Friday and until 12 o'clock noon Saturday.

Drawings for seat assignments will be made Saturday afternoon, tickets being ready for distribution next Monday.

The price of a student book which permits the holder to all variety athletic contests is $9.00. Tickets to the roster section are $5.50. The cheer group is located in the middle section of the east stands and participates in the stunts between halves. The cheer section this year is open to men and women.

Individuals may purchase season books as follows:

1. Present student identification card and $9.00 (or $9.50 for seat in cheer section) at the student activities office in the coliseum.
2. Receive receipt for ticket and return to coliseum Monday for season ticket and identification card.

Group purchases may be made as follows:

1. Individual should collect identification cards and money from students desiring to sit together. In case group desires to be divided between the cheer and the student section, one request must be made for cheer section seats and another for those in the student section, each request being accompanied by the required identification cards and price of tickets. All reservations must be made by Saturday noon.
2. Receive receipt for tickets and return to coliseum Monday for season books and identification cards.

Season book reservations are not made unless accompanied by identification cards and cash price of tickets. All checks should be made payable to John K. Selleck, treasurer.

AWGWAN STAFF PLAN MANY NEW FEATURES

Art Group Will Hold Friday Meeting at Offices of Engravers.

A meeting of all persons interested in the art and cartooning departments of the Awgwan will be held by Arch Powell, art editor of the magazine, at 3 o'clock Friday. The meeting will be held in the upstairs office of the Lincoln Engraving company, 136 South Eleventh street.

This meeting will be of especial importance to artists and cartoonists wishing to work on the Awgwan since it is being held for the purpose of explaining a new form of art to be used on the Awgwan this year.

Arch Powell will meet cartoonists wishing to confer with him about their work in the Awgwan office, basement of "U" hall, at 4 o'clock Thursday.

An Awgwan staff meeting was held in the basement of "U" hall Wednesday afternoon and the new editorial policies of the magazine were explained. The meeting was very successful and such gatherings will be held from time to time, according to the Awgwan editor. The following were present at the meeting and will help make up the new Awgwan staff: Bob Kelly, Arch Powell, Edmund Douglas, Geraldine Hartwick, A. Glue Allen, Frances Holyoke.

Helen Whitmore, Lowell Davis, Bill McGaffin, Howard Kruger, Don Carlson, Arthur Pinkerton, Catherine M. Ashford, Ruth Botsford, Marie Swanson, Marguerite Danielson, Bunny Norris, Jean Robert, Orrin Jones, Clarke Powell, Ernest Huston, Norm Galleher, Glenn Hughes, and Marie Noble were also present.

Awgwan subscription sales will continue in Social Sciences hall all today and Friday.

Deadline Set for Blue Print Filings

Applications for positions on the Nebraska Blue Print staff will be received until 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2, in the Blue Print office in the Mechanical Engineering building, room 102. Applications may also be handed to John Clema, editor-in-chief of the Blue Print. Positions are open on both the editorial and business staff. All engineering students other than freshmen are eligible for these positions.
