SELLECK SAYS RESERVATIONS MUST BE MADE

Doors of Student Activities Close Saturday Noon For Drawings.

LATE RUSH EXPECTED Athletic Office Reports Sale Of Season Books Good Thursday.

Warning was issued Thursday afternoon by John K. Selleck, that all student ticket reservations for Nebraska football games must be in the hands of the Student Activities office not later than Saturday noon. After that time, the doors will be closed and the drawings to determine the order in which reservations will be filled will be made.

Since the acceptance of payment on season tickets began Thursday morning, student response has been favorable, according to Selleck. However, many individuals and groups have yet to turn in their checks and a strong appeal is being made to Cornhusker students to utilize Friday and, as the old saying goes, avoid the panic on Saturday morning.

Receipts are important. Another point which would be advisable to remember is the retaining of receipts. It is important that these be kept by the purchaser in order that it can be produced when called for by athletic business officials.

BIG SISTER BANQUET TICKETS GO ON SALE

All University Women Are Invited to Take Part In Varied Program.

Tickets for the first big and little sister dinner have been placed on sale at Elen Smith hall, and in all book stores near the campus. The dinner will be held in the Memorial hall, Thursday, Oct. 4, at 6 o'clock, and games, dancing and a special program of entertainment will be provided. Tickets are fifty cents, and must be secured by Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 6 o'clock. All university women are cordially invited to attend the dinner even though the big sister organization. Freshmen may come and find a big sister who will help them through the year, and upperclassmen may come and find freshmen to help. In addition all big and little sisters who have already met are urged to come to the party.

The big sister board sponsors a number of parties during the year, but this is the first dinner, and those who were unable to attend the party held during registration week are especially urged to be present. All big sister functions for which tickets are sold are understood to be Dutch treat affairs, unless either the big sister or her little sister wishes to act as a hostess, but big sisters are asked to be sure that their little sisters have been personally invited to the party.

The church receptions being held tonight, and all university go-to-church Sunday will give all big sisters a further chance to help introduce their little sisters to other people connected with the university, and to generally get acquainted.

Wesley Players Will Select New Members

All students interested in religious dramatics work, are invited to leave their name and address at the Wesley foundation parsonage, 1417 K street, or call EB117, before Oct. 10. At that time members of the Wesley players will be selected for this year.

Two Chinese Students Reach Lincoln Thursday To Begin Graduate Study

In far away Peking, Liang-ching Li and Liang-yung Cha heard often of the University of Nebraska in the United States. Leaving their home country, they traveled thousands of miles over land and sea that they might study at what they choose to call "that very famous institution."

Yesterday afternoon, after three tiring weeks on the way, the two boys reached the end of their long journey. "We didn't know exactly when classes began, but were afraid we might be a bit late," explained Li, who seems to be the spokesman for the two. Both young men speak precise, well-modulated English, though their foreign accent is quite naturally readily noticeable.

Liang-ching Li comes to take post graduate work in the department of botany, concerning the ex-

Dean Heppner Closes Friday to Parties

All university church night, to be observed Friday night, is closed to dancing parties and hour dances, according to an announcement issued by Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women.

HEALTH EXPERT TALKS TO CLASS AT AG COLLEGE

Dr. H. E. Barnard of Washington, D. C., who is director of the White House conference on child health and protection, talked to Prof. J. O. Rankin's class in rural sociology at the agricultural college, Wednesday morning. During the noon hour he spoke to the Gamma Sigma Delta, agricultural honor society, to which the home economics faculty were invited.

Doctor Barnard stated that this conference is one of President Hoover's plans for the study of the needs of the American child. Experts along the line of the health of the child, child labor and child delinquencies were being appointed to investigate what has been done in the various parts of the country. The conference will probably be called called about one and one-half years hence when the experts on the subcommittees have made their reports.

EXTENSION OFFERS NEW NIGHT COURSES

History Department Uses Photoplay to Teach Chronicles.

Additional night class courses are being offered by the university extension division according to an announcement issued this week.

Chronicles of America, a history course of fifteen lessons based upon the tale chronicles of America photodrama are being offered for the first time this year. Attendance at these films, which are to be shown at the Social Sciences auditorium every other Monday at 7:30 o'clock commencing Sept. 30, plus written exercises and examinations, will give college credit.

The engineering department is prepared to offer any of the following courses to those who have proper preparation for the same: descriptive geometry, topographical drawing, advanced descriptive geometry, the orders of architecture, perspective, specifications and working drawing, freehand drawing and architectural composition. Something new to the people of this state are the courses in lip reading being offered by Miss Kessler. Elementary lip reading is being offered Tuesdays and Fridays beginning October 1 in 102 former museum building. Classes meet at 10:30 to 12:00 a. m. or from 2:30 to 4:00 p. m. Tuition for this course is $25. A course in advanced lip reading is also being offered. The time for this course is arranged.

In addition to these courses, others in history, business administration, English, education, engineering, fine arts, geography, mathematics, physiology, and philosophy are being offered. For more information come to 202 former museum, the office of the extension division, or phone B6891 number 80.

Commercial Club Will Meet Next Wednesday

The Commercial club will hold its first meeting for this year Wednesday evening at 7:15 in room 203 of the Temple in the form of a pie feed and smoker. All freshman business administration students are invited to attend, also instructors and former members.

Glen Reichenbach, '30, Lincoln, was selected president of the organization at a meeting last spring. Other officers elected at that time were Cassie Baron, '31, Nebraska City, secretary; Merrill Johnson, '30, Fremont, treasurer; George Hyatt, '30, Lincoln, representative of business administration executive board and Donald E. Lexty, '30, Malcolm, and J. C. Lentz, '30, New Point, Mo., directors.

rellence of which he says he has heard much in his native China. Liang-yung Cha, a fellow student of Li's in Nankai university at Tientsin, hopes to specialize in physics.

"America is such a quiet country compared with the turmoil of our own China," commented Li in speaking of their reactions to the new surroundings. "The peace and calm of it all pleases us much. Your city, too, is very beautiful, and we are highly satisfied with what we have seen of the school so far."

The two students left Peking on Sept. 4 by a Japanese boat, the Maurel Maru, and arrived at the Japanese port, Kobe, on the eighth. Two days later they embarked from that point on the Empress of Asia. "There was a terrible ty-

CORN COBS RESERVE SECTION FOR GAMES

Members Get Reduced Price By Aiding Stunts of Pep Organization.

SATURDAY IS DEADLINE

In order that the Corn Cobs, men's pep organization, may have seats together in the stadium and a reserved block for basketball, track and baseball games, all active members of Corn Cobs and pledges must present their identification cards with $4.50 to president Stanley Day or Fred Graub before Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

All active and pledges of Corn Cobs who do not comply with this regulation must pay the full amount, $9 for their student athletic tickets. A block of reserved seats in the cheering section has been awarded to the Corn Cobs by the student activities office and it is imperative, according to Mr. Day, that all men have their money in before the deadline.

More Pledges Expected. Fraternities who have not designated their pledges for the year must do so at once, so as to take advantage of the special offer. Pledges must be selected, checked for eligibility and elected to the organization before Saturday, to allow time for the program of events planned for the school year.

All active and pledges who have not acquired the official Corn Cobs sweaters are to place their orders at once at Ray Killian's store to insure delivery before the rally the night before the Southern Methodist football game. The first meeting of the Corn Cobs with the new pledges will be held Thursday evening, Oct. 3, at 7 o'clock in the Temple, the room number to be announced later.

OVER 100 WOMEN WILL BE NEEDED FOR CONCESSIONS

Concessions this year, at football games, under the management of Gretchen Fee, will be in charge of the intramural representatives. Each representative will be responsible for at least two girls selling at the games. It is estimated that over one hundred women will take part in concessions for intramurals. Those women selling will have free entrance to the games.

A meeting of all those selling at the next game will be held Thursday, Oct. 3, at 5 o'clock in the women's main gymnasium.

HUMMELL TELLS OF PROPOSED INTER-RACIAL COUNCIL

Plans looking to the formation of an interracial council, composed of representatives of all races present on the campus of the University of Nebraska were made yesterday at a meeting of the Christian world education committee of the university, Y. M. C. A.

According to Ray Hummel, president of the committee, meetings of the council will be started later this year. Race prejudices will be the chief topic of discussion.

The Christian world education committee also planned its work in co-operation with other religious organizations on the campus for an Armistice day dinner. Students from other nations who are attending the university will be guests at the banquet.

The committee also plans an institute later in the year, at which outside speakers will discuss some phases of international relations.

H. A. White Teaches Course in Browning

English 137, the course in Browning, formerly offered by Dean L. A. Sherman, will be given this semester by Prof. H. A. White. The study will consist mainly of shorter poems of Browning and a few of the dramas like "The Return of the Druses."

The course was not listed in the regular schedule, and consequently students know that it is offered.

Sandahl Calls for More Applications For Staff Positions

Applications are now being received by Cliff F. Sandahl, editor of The Daily Nebraskan, for contributing editors. Blank cards are available at his office in University hall 4, and should be returned to him before 5 p. m. Friday, Sept. 28.

DEAN BURR HOLDS A RECEPTION FOR ALL AG STUDENTS

Students in the college of agriculture are to be received by Dean W. W. Burr at the annual dean's reception to be held on the college of agriculture campus Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Invitations for the affair have been mailed to 850 students. Faculty members as well as students will attend. Miss Margarita Fedde, Miss Amanda Heppner, Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Miss Irma Appleby and C. D. Hayes will act as sponsors for the reception.

Games, dancing and a grand march will feature the evening's entertainment. Decorations will follow a Chinese scheme and will be carried out with red and jade green lanterns.

CHURCHES CONDUCT PROGRAMS TONIGHT

Officials Close Evening of Social Functions; Event Is Annual.

CARAVAN IS PLANNED

All university church night will be observed this evening by Lincoln churches at 8 o'clock. This is a night which is reserved annually for the purpose of acquainting new students with the various churches. The evening is closed to both party dances and hour dances as has been the custom in previous years. Special programs and receptions are being planned by all churches for the occasion. Every student is invited to attend one of these receptions and church leaders urge freshmen to avail themselves especially of this opportunity to become familiar with religious activities of the city.

Programs Are Arranged.

A number of the churches have arranged programs which should prove of special interest to those attending. An out-standing feature of the evening will be the Presbyterian caravan. It will begin its journey from the First Presbyterian church at Seventeenth and F streets. After a short program there the caravan will proceed to Westminster Presbyterian church at Sheridan boulevard and South streets. From here it will continue to the Second Presbyterian church at Twenty-sixth and P streets where it will continue the program. The caravan will then proceed to the Presbyterian Manse at 333 North Fourteenth street where they will be served refreshments. A band is expected to precede the caravan throughout its trip.

Fine Reception Expected

At each Methodist church the pastor, together with the president of the Methodist student council will be introduced to those attending the receptions. Rev. W. C. Fawell, Methodist student pastor, stated that he expected fine receptions in the nine Methodist churches of the city.

A musical program will be furnished for Lutheran students of all synods in gallery A of Morrill hall at 5 o'clock. Following the presentation of the various Lutheran pastors, refreshments will be served.

The big sister board announced Monday night that big sisters are to take their little sisters to these receptions.

UNIVERSITY NOW RAISES ALL KINDS OF NEW FLOWERS

"Where do all the lovely flowers come from?" asked some of the more observing guests at Miss Heppner's tea yesterday. Potted palms, fall asters, zinnias and canas in profusion decorated the parlors of Ellen Smith hall. These like the floral decorations for all university social events, were provided by the greenhouse.

Many students have noticed that some of the yellow canas in the bed between 'U' hall and Memorial have one or two red blossoms on the same stem with the golden flowers. This, the gardener explains, is because the yellow King Humbert canas were developed from the red King Humbert variety. A bed of the latter is blooming in front of Administration hall.

"U" hall, the original building of the university, flaunts Nebraska's scarlet in the bright bed of "Firebird" canas directly in front of it. On its west side are the yellow edged burnt orange flowers of the benary canas. Two other varieties are blooming now on the campus; along the east side of the greenhouse are the tall California orange canas and at Social Sciences hall the brilliant Julius Koch blooms.

YELL KING ASPIRANTS TRY OUT NEXT WEEK

All Men Desiring To Be Cheerleaders Will Meet Monday.

SELECTION IS ON MERIT

Varsity and sophomore cheerleaders will be selected by a committee from the innocents society early next week, it was announced today. Tryouts have been arranged to take place on the drill field Monday, Sept. 30, at 4 o'clock. All candidates for cheerleading position are requested to meet at the south door of Nebraska hall at that time for preliminary instruction.

It has been customary in the past to select our Cheer King and two assistants to lead the student body in the east stands in Nebraska songs and yells. Five sophomore men are chosen to direct cheers in the west stands. Eligibility for the three varsity cheerleaders requires junior standing or above and the general eligibility requirement of twenty-seven hours passed the year before, twelve hours the preceding semester and passing in twelve hours the current semester. For the sophomore cheerleaders only the general eligibility requirement applies.

Selection Must Be Soon.

"Selections for both the varsity and sophomore cheerleaders will be made on the basis of merit," the committee stressed in the announcement today. "Varsity cheerleader positions especially incur heavy responsibility and the men selected for these positions must be fully prepared to assume it."

The committee also pointed out that the time is short between the announcement of selections and the first game. "Aspirants for cheerleading positions must also realize the short time between announcement of selections and the first game. In consequence, previous experience and correct demonstration and directing of Cornhusker songs and yells add considerably to the candidate's chances for becoming a cheerleader," concluded the committee.

MATZKE REORGANIZES COUNTRYMAN STAFF

Editor Appoints Ten New Assistants; Webster Adds Two Aides.

Reorganization of the Cornhusker Countryman staff, necessitated by regular members failing to return to school, was completed yesterday with editor Merlin Matzke's appointment of 10 students to different positions on the editorial staff and business manager Webster's appointment of two assistant business managers.

Response to the call for applicants was good and the new staff members have had quite a bit of experience in various fields, according to Matzke.

The complete staff which will publish the Countryman for the coming semester is as follows: Merlin Matzke, editor in chief; Clifford Webster, business manager; Donald Paack, Harold Marcott and Claude Re assistant editors; Emory Fahreny, Gerace Hedges and Charles Kellogg assistant business managers; Georgia Wilcox, home economics editor; Eston Clarke, circulation manager; Cyril Winkler, Clifford Jorgensen, assistant circulation managers; Frank Sampson, campus news editor; Mabel Johnson, Edward Janke, alumni editors; Harlan Bollman, 4H editor; Mabel Bignell, Genevieve Brehm, Eula Bee Martin, Jesse Bilyeu, Lily Danielson, Eleanor Dixon, Glen Burton, George Round, Edith Stahl, Katherine Mulnix and Lester Harsh, contributing editors.

PATTERSON TEACHES BIBLE STUDY CLASS

Dr. C. H. Patterson, assistant professor of philosophy has begun a course of study for young people at Westminster Presbyterian church. It is the object of this class to teach the literature of the Bible with reference to religious problems and the Christian management of life.

The class is conducted under the auspices of the Westminster fellowship and is nondenominational in its intentions. A group of students met last Sunday and discussed introductory matter. The topic for next Sunday is, "Higher Criticism and the Bible." The class hour is from 6 to 7 o'clock in the evening. All students are welcome.

The Reverend Paul Johnson is pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Applicants File For Yearbook Positions

Applications for positions on the 1930 Cornhusker will be received at the Cornhusker office until Friday at 5 p. m. A large number of positions on the Nebraska yearbook are open. Application blanks may be secured at the Cornhusker office in the basement of University hall.

Brown Issues Call For Grid Managers

A call for five additional sophomore football managers was issued late yesterday by John R. Brown, football manager. Any men of the sophomore class who wish to apply for these positions should see Brown at the stadium any afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

THIRTY FRESHMEN ATTEND MEETING OF 'Y' COUNCIL

Freshman affairs at the University of Nebraska were discussed by thirty first-year men in a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. The meeting was the first of a series of weekly gatherings of freshman men, and inaugurated the university Y. M. C. A. freshman council.

The freshmen attending the meeting last night were divided into three discussion groups. Leaders will be Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary; William Kaplan, chairman of the committee on freshman work; and another from the agricultural college, yet to be named.

Discussion at the meeting was led by C. D. Hayes, Y. M. C. A. secretary, and by Mr. Kaplan. The next session will be from 7 to 8 o'clock Wednesday night of next week.

ENGLISH DEBATERS WILL APPEAR HERE

Oxford University Forensic Artists Meet Nebraska Team in November.

BRITISHERS MAKE TOUR

Nebraska audiences will have another opportunity to enjoy the wit and repartee of English debaters this year when the Oxford university team will meet the University of Nebraska debating team in Lincoln Thursday evening, Nov. 15. Announcement of the international debate was made Tuesday by H. A. White, varsity debating coach.

The contest this year will be the second occasion of a team from Oxford university appearing before Nebraska audiences. Two years ago the teams debated before a packed auditorium in Grant Memorial hall. Last year the university forensic experts competed against the University of Sydney, Australia.

Three men compose the Oxford team. The debaters from abroad arrive in New York on Oct. 24 for an extensive tour of the colleges and universities in the middle west. As usual the Englishmen suggested several topics, choice among which was made by the American colleges desiring to debate with them. This season five different subjects were mentioned, only two of which seemed well adapted to the American style of debating. These concerned the abolishment of the jury in trials in our courts and the condemnation of installment buying.

Jury Subject Selected.

After a careful consideration of all five subjects, the jury question seemed best adapted for discussion in Nebraska this season. It has been worded as follows by the Oxford team: The jury system is unnecessary in the administration of justice. Oxford will by choice of their own uphold the affirmative of the proposition, leaving it to Nebraska to defend the jury as we have it today in both civil and criminal trials.

All the English debaters have done considerable speaking, and two of them have had some little experience in public affairs. Contrary to the American custom of using only students who are undergraduates in college or university departments or schools, the Oxford (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

Agricultural Engineers Call Meeting for Oct. 2

The meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, which was to have taken place last Wednesday evening was called off. The first meeting of the organization will be held Oct. 2, at 7:30 in room 211, Agricultural Engineering building on the college of agriculture campus. All members are urged to be present as plans for the semester will be discussed. The society is a men's professional organization composed of college of agriculture students.

The Cornhusker Oath.

As a student entering the University of Nebraska, I subscribe to the following:

Recognition of an obligation to parents, friends, schools, and state for the sacrifice made and encouragement offered which enabled me to enter the University of Nebraska.

Desire to remain in the university with the firm intention to advance in scholarship and to cultivate those social activities which make for good citizenship.

Loyalty to the administration, faculty, traditions, and purposes of the university.

Purpose to enter classes and other work fully prepared and to give such attention as will insure satisfactory results, not failure.

Organization of time to be devoted to study, recreation, activities, and rest, and the pursuit of this schedule with due diligence.

Finally, I will at all times ensure and guide my conduct and work toward personal advancement, and safeguard the relation I hold to the welfare of the university and its service to the state.

DIGNITY MARKS INITIATION OF NEW STUDENTS

Condra Administers Oath To Frosh; Chancellor Burnett Talks.

GROUP PICTURES TAKEN

Speakers Urge Listeners To Make Use of All Opportunities.

With attendant solemnity, more than one thousand new students at University of Nebraska were duly impressed with the dignity and sacredness of Nebraska spirit and traditions at annual freshman initiation conducted Thursday morning in university coliseum.

Green caps and green buttons, traditional badges of freshman men and women, were much in evidence, since freshman initiation had been proclaimed the deadline for donning of the emblem.

Eldred Larson, president of Innocents, senior men's honorary society, presided and Innocents and members of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary organization, formed a semicircle on the stage.

Thompson Is Pleased.

Dean T. J. Thompson expressed himself as being favorably impressed with the convocation. "Of the five gatherings that I have attended," he said, "this one was in my opinion the most successful. New students were welcomed by Chancellor E. A. Burnett, who briefly urged need of university pride. "Cement to yourselves the lives of other men and women engaged in a common purpose," was (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

LAW STUDENTS WIN SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Faculty Refunds Twenty Junior and Senior Tuition Fees.

Twenty scholarships were awarded to seniors and juniors of the law college at a recent faculty meeting.

Continuations granted to those holding scholarships in the spring semester of 1928-1929, were as follows: Seniors, Joseph Ginsburg, Oscar E. Johnson, William H. Lammie, Palmer McGrew, C. Russell Mattson, William Henry Meil, Joseph Patrick O'Gara, Bert L. Overcash; juniors, Marie Martha Herney, Perry W. Morton, Fred W. Rees, Harry A. Spencer.

New scholarships were awarded to the following: seniors, Levi Daniel Lorenson; juniors, Gale Elwood Davis, Frank B. Morrison, Mark Simons, Eugene S. Taylor, Lester P. Shick, Frank J. Erb, Thomas L. McLaughlin. These annual scholarships constitute a refund of all tuition fees, and are based to a large degree upon scholarships.

FUN SHOW ADDS NEW ATTRACTIONS TO ITS PROGRAM

New features are being added each night to the program of performances at the first annual fall fun show being sponsored this week by the American Legion post No. 3 at the university coliseum, according to announcement made Thursday by C. L. Combs, stage director of the frolic.

The Coed trio, composed of Lulu Jo Hyland, Alice Duffy and Katherine Cruise, was featured in the hour of entertainment Thursday evening.

Attendance records stood at 5,200 late Thursday afternoon after 3:30 had passed through the gates on Wednesday. This mark exceeded by 500 the attendance of Tuesday evening.

Max Johnson, general chairman of the show, predicts record attendance on both Friday and Saturday nights and the committee expects a total attendance record of near 30,000 after the gates close Saturday.
