

BIBLE STRESSES AERIAL ATTACK TO BEAT S.M.U.

Sloan and Paul Remain on Injured List; Witte Is Back in Suit.

LINE APPEARS STRONG

Oakes Fills Gaping Hole in Center of Line With New Material.

Coach Dana Bible divided his Husker squad into three teams on the practice field Thursday night and staged a scrimmage session with three frosh elevens. The aerial attack came in for the greater portion of the practice session as the Husker mentor drove home the various plays that will be used this season and will be inaugurated against the Southern Methodist Mustangs on Memorial stadium field next Saturday.

It is quite evident from the practice each night that the new Husker coach is going to use a passing attack against Ray Morrison's Mustang eleven when they open the Cornhusker football season on Oct. 5. Forward flips in all conceivable formation are appearing as the main feature on the nightly programs for the Huskers.

Injury Jinx Bobs Up. The injury jinx which seems to hang over the Husker camp is not cramping the style of Dana X. Bible in his attempt to mould a Husker team together for the strenuous season that is ahead. Clair Sloan and Marvin Paul are the two latest additions to the hospital list. Sloan nursing an injured ankle received against the frosh Wednesday while Paul is suffering from an injured hand and a light cold.

"Dutch" Witte, veteran half-back, who has been figured on for one of the positions in the Cornhusker backfield, reported for practice last evening in uniform but is still unable to take any active part in the scrimmage sessions. Rowley and Frahm are being used in the first quartet on the Nebraska team with Peaker and Capt. George Farley making the set of backs complete. Officials in the training camp of the Cornhuskers expect to see Witte and Sloan both back in action for the last week of training before the opening game with Southern Methodist next week.

Line Holds Frosh. As the time draws shorter before the opening whistle of the 1929 football season, Coach "Bunny" Oakes is convincing football fans that he is going to have another stone wall line that will hold all the backs in the conference. For an inexperienced line that Oakes is building up into the varsity forward wall, it appears to be anything but inexperienced. Against the yearlings Wednesday, no gains of any great distance were made through the varsity forward wall. With Feller Masson at the center and "Dutch" Koster and Elmer Greenberg holding down the two guard berths, the frosh were unable to make any noticeable headway in the Wednesday get-together. Broadstone and Richards at the tackle positions seem to be a lower of strength and are expected to be the mainstays of the Cornhusker forward wall this season.

Four ends are making a great bid for the regular wing position and at present no definite assignments have been made by Ed Weir, end coach in the camp of the Cornhuskers. In the Wednesday clash, Prucka and Fisher started the game, with Morgan and Still getting into action with the first eleven. With the passing game getting the major share of the practice hours, Weir is developing his squad of ends to combat the aerial game Southern Methodist is expected to unleash.

Public Game Saturday. Saturday afternoon the gates of Memorial stadium will be thrown open again to the public for the annual freshman-varsity game, the second of the season. Coach Bible will probably be minus the services of "Dutch" Witte and Clair Sloan but will throw his entire football strength on the field against the Rhodesmen. The yearling eleven will use Southern Methodist plays that they have been working on during the past two weeks, while the varsity crew will experiment on some of the plays to be used this season.

The game is called for two o'clock and the stadium gates will be opened at one. While the frosh are meeting the varsity, Coach Ed Weir will scout the Howard Payne-Southern Methodist game at Dallas.

Underclassmen Prepare For Traditional Fight

CANTON, N. Y.—A "barrel" rush, traditional battle between freshmen and sophomores at St. Lawrence university, will take place soon. Members of both classes assemble at opposite sides of the athletic field. A barrel, or steel drum is given the sopho. At a given signal the sophomores are to get the barrel out of sight as soon as possible. After two minutes the frosh are allowed to follow and do their best toward gaining control of the barrel. The class which presents the barrel to the campus council the following morning at 7 o'clock is declared the winner. The event is an annual one.

The travellers reached Vancouver on Sept. 21, and after spending a short time visiting friends at the Chinese consulate there came on directly to Lincoln by way of Seattle. Upon arriving here, Li and Cho presented themselves at once at the office of Prof. Orin Step-nek, of the department of languages, to whom they brought a letter of recommendation from Kweichun, a former Chinese student at the University of Nebraska, who is now instructor in philosophy in the National university at Peking.

GOLD & CO. "The Best For Less" VIEW THE NEW ACCESSORIES WHICH MEAN SO MUCH IN COMPLETING THE SMARTNESS OF THE ENSEMBLE A Presentation of Fashionable Apparel Stressing the Newest OCTOBER MODES THE ADVANCING SEASON confirms the dominance of the princess silhouette—its regal influence extends to every realm of fashion. The Coats—the Frocks for both day and evening—share in this new phase. And with it comes lengthened hemline and the flaring skirt. All of these characteristics of the mode are evidenced in the collections here. COATS GO TO GREATER LENGTHS FOR SMARTNESS! The lengthening hemline is an outstanding detail of the new cloth Coats—keeping pace with the frocks so smartly covered. The princess line flaring into a swirl effect at the bottom by means of godets or circular panels is also typical. Fur trims nearly all of the new models—the hardier pelts for the sports types, the softer furs for those more elaborate. Priced 25.00 to 125.00 GOLD'S—THIRD FLOOR. SPORTS COATS The jaunty, careless lines of the new sports Coats, the rough tweeds and the fur-like camelines and camels' hair piles of which they are fashioned, and the hardy furs that form their garment, combine to stress the need to include at least one in the winter outfit. Priced 16.75 to 69.50 GOLD'S—THIRD FLOOR. WINTER FROCKS ARE CHIC A new smartness—a "difference" in line and contour—gives distinction to the Frocks for early winter. Whether of cloth or silk, there is a tendency to follow the moulded princess line. Skirts are longer and invariably flare. Priced 10.00 to 39.50 GOLD'S—THIRD FLOOR. EARLY WINTER HATS ARE SMALL The smartest Hats are small with intricate drappings, clever folds and subtle manipulations of the material. Trimming may consist of bows of the fabric that makes the Hat—or of ornaments. Cloches, turbans, bonnet effects in velvet and felt. In brown, beige, green, red, blue. Priced 2.95 to 18.50 GOLD'S—THIRD FLOOR.
