BIBLE, SCHULTE SPEAK

Ten Motor Coaches Due in Lincoln Friday Night for Reception.

Nebraska's "Cornhusker" spirit will have its first opportunity to display itself at the first football rally of the year Friday evening, Oct. 4, at the evening before the Nebraska-Southern Methodist game. The rally will start at the drill field at 7 p. m. The Corn Cobs, men's pep organization, and the Tassels, women's pep organization, will be present in a group at the rally. Short talks by Head Coach Bible and Coach Schulte and by Capt. George Farley will be the features of the rally. The meeting at the drill field will be very short. Parade to Hotel.

If the present plans work out a huge parade, starting at the drill field, led by the Innocents society, the Corn Cobs and the Tassels, will march down to the Lincoln hotel where the Southern Methodist team will be introduced for the first time to the Cornhusker spirit. This will be the first time that Nebraska's Southern Methodist football team will be introduced at the Lincoln hotel, after the parade. It is being planned to have talks by Athletic Director Blackwell and Coach Ray Morrison together with some of the others of the Southern Methodist contingent. A fleet of ten motor coaches is expected to come from Dallas for the game. If they arrive in time they will be included in the welcome at the Lincoln hotel.

AITKEN SPEAKS AT VESPERS TUESDAY

Pastor of St. Paul's Warns Against Neglecting Religious Life.

"Adjust yourself to your surroundings but do not let them master you," advised Rev. Walter Aitken, of the St. Paul Methodist church, in his talk before Vespers Tuesday evening at Ellen Smith hall.

"Students become so absorbed in grades and social life," he said, "that they are apt to forget one of the most important phases of life—the religious. The church is the means of self-expression. Every student should identify himself with one. The church is the best place in the world to receive spiritual aid. Do work out problems. It depends on how much you look at things as to what you get out of life," explained Dr. Aitken. "Take a little time out each day to seek out your difficulties by yourself. You'll develop a purpose." A special vocal solo was given by Charlotte Lehreck, and music was also supplied by the quartet. Helen Day, vice president of the Y. W. C. A., led the meeting.

GLUNDERSON HEADS DRIVE ON CAMPUS FOR CHEST FUNDS

The annual Lincoln community chest drive, with the 1929 goal set at $145,823.19, got under way yesterday. L. E. Glunderson, finance officer of the university, is chairman of the drive on the campus. Members of the faculty and business administration staff of the university will be solicited, according to present plans. The amount represents an increase of approximately 10 percent over last year, when the total was $124,314. One of the reasons for the increase was the unusually severe weather last winter, which necessitated welfare organizations spending more money than ever before. Of the total amount, the university Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will receive $2,040 and $1,761.50.

GYMNASIUM OFFICERS PLAN INTRAMURAL DAY

Elective Hour Wednesday's Offers Chance for Different Sport.

Intramural day every Wednesday is an experiment to be tried by the women's physical education department. All women taking work in this department are registered for two hours, the third to be elected on Wednesday. Sports are to be offered at every hour from 9 to 6 o'clock. Women taking tennis, hockey, dancing, or individual gymnastics are registered for two hours of work a week in which the educational content is emphasized. For the third hour, any sport offered can be elected, at any hour of the day. This hour, although required for students taking physical education, will be entirely recreational.

Sports May Be Changed. Neither the same sport nor the same hour need be taken on Wednesday throughout the semester. For instance, a student can take archery at nine o'clock, and dancing at four the next Wednesday. The two hours that the women are registered in, however, function regularly.

For intramural day, women may come out in sports costume other than regulation gym suit as long as it is suitable to the sport. Tennis shoes, or low heeled sport shoes are necessary. Women registered in individual gymnastics will only partake in the modified sports such as archery and deck tennis.

Miss Adler spent no money during the six weeks that she did not earn herself. She was paid $12 per week and worked nine and one-half hours per day. She will particularly deal with the conditions of the laundry in which she worked and of the conditions of the home in which she stayed. Tickets can be secured from the salesmen on the campus for thirty-five cents, or they may be bought at the door for forty cents. C. D. Hayes, secretary of the university Y. M. C. Engineering College Gets New Apparatus

Advanced Students Can Use Equipment for Study of Mechanical Analysis.

A complete set of the Begg deformer apparatus, to be used in determining the strength of concrete bridges and other frame-work, has been secured by the department of civil engineering. The machine has been previously tested by actual use. An example of the kind of work for which the machine is built is shown by a situation in North Carolina. The state highway commission built a federal aid project, a three span concrete arch bridge over the Yadkin river. In 1926 the Carolina Power and Light company built a dam in the river nine miles above the bridge, raising the water level until the water rose over the bridge. The bridge was then useless and a new one had to be constructed. A model analysis of the structure was then tested with the Begg deformer apparatus, and compared exactly with the destruction of the bridge according to the government reports.

Innocents Select Charters Yell King

Mickel, Benson Are Other Two Yell Leaders in Student Section.

First Rally is Friday

Robert W. "Mike" Charters, Lincoln, was selected as the head cheerleader for the coming year Tuesday night at a meeting of the Innocents society. He will make his first appearance as yell king at the Nebraska-Southern Methodist game Saturday.

George Mickel, Omaha, and Harold Benson, Randolph, are the other two varsity yell leaders who will try to bring out the true Cornhusker spirit at the football and basketball games.

Those selected to have charge of the west stands are Ed Brewster, Beatrice; George Cook, Casper, Wyo.; Robert Kincaid, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Ralph Rogers, Charters and Benson both served formerly as cheer leaders in the west stands of the Memorial stadium. All of the varsity cheerleaders will help arouse enthusiasm at the rally Friday, Oct. 4, preceding the Southern Methodist game. According to Elfred Larson, president of the Innocents society, one more man will be added for the west stands within the next few days.

Cadets served as the audience for the tryouts Monday afternoon. Their hearty response served as a great spur for the contestants. The old locomotive yell was the big favorite of the various candidates in the tryouts. Each man had the privilege of selecting any two yells he wished and to deliver them in any way he wished. Immediately after the tryouts on the drill field the candidates went to the stadium where they underwent a voice test with the megaphone.

There will be no further tryouts for the remaining place open. The fifth man for the west stands will be chosen from those who made the first tryouts.

Nelson Says Party Open to Everyone

Head of Group Promoting All Student Function States Purpose.

Greeks Are Welcomed

"The all university parties are presented by the barb council as a means to an end," according to Meredith Nelson, president of the non-fraternity organization. "The end in view is not one of promoting the selfish interests of the barbs, nor is it antagonistic to the fraternities," he stated.

"While the all university parties may seem to compete with many fraternity functions, no spirit of competition exists," he said. "Our invitation to fraternity people carries all the cordiality extended to everyone."

The first all university party will be held in the coliseum, Saturday, Oct. 5, at 8:30 o'clock. The barb council is sponsoring it. An admission of thirty-five cents will be charged, which is less than the admission charged to the varsity parties last year.

The barb council made a profit at both the parties they sponsored last year although only twenty-five cents admission was charged. The council expects to furnish more elaborate entertainment and decorations at the all university parties.
