PRICE FIVE CENTS.

CORN COBS TAKE TICKET SALE OF PLAYERS' SHOWS

Pep Organization Makes Plans for Two Days Of Campaigning.

REDUCE SEASON PRICE

Year's Admission Is Sliced In Half to Increase Student Support.

Members of the Corn Cobs, pep organization, are to be in charge of the sale of tickets for the University Players this year. It was decided at a meeting held Monday evening. If this sale is successful the Corn Cobs' trip to Missouri is practically insured, according to the president.

Set Half Price.

The price of $2.50 is exactly half the price of previous years. Those who do not have student tickets or season tickets will pay seventy-five cents for each ticket. This means a saving of about forty-four cents for the holder of a student ticket. Also, a holder of a student ticket will be allowed to miss three of the plays and still see the remaining five for fifty cents each.

Sell on Campus.

The men will be stationed in Social Sciences, the Library, the Temple, and at various other places on the campus. Plans are being made for the personal soliciting of faculty members and sorority and fraternity members.

Every effort has been made to please both students and faculty in the arrangement of the dates and hour of the plays. Performances start on Friday evening and last until the following Thursday evening. Six evening performances and a Saturday afternoon matinee will be given. When the

WHITE STATES TIME OF DEBATE TRYOUT

Varsity Coach Calls for Candidates to Enter Preliminaries.

Names of candidates desiring to enter the preliminaries of varsity debate competition will be received at my office any time between now and next Tuesday, Oct. 10," stated Prof. H. A. White, in charge of the debate schedule of the University of Nebraska, Monday.

"When the names have been collected they will be placed in a hat, from which they will be drawn, one by one, and the names assigned places upholding affirmative or negative sides in alternate order, that is, the first drawn is first affirmative, the second, first negative, the third, second affirmative, the fourth, second negative and so on," explained Professor White at length.

In the interval between Oct. 10 and Oct. 17, the candidates will work up the question for debate and the material for this will be found on reserve in the reference room of the library. Oct. 17 is the assigned date for tryouts. The question to be debated at the time is resolved, that the jury system is unnecessary in the administration of justice.

Teachers Will Have New Notebook Paper

A new type of note paper is to be used in teacher's college in the future. It has been used in an experimental way for over three years and the satisfactory results have prompted its general introduction.

The new paper fixes the placement of certain mechanical elements of note taking and is so organized that both sides as well as the marginal areas may be utilized. Teacher's college professors are of the opinion that it is significantly better than the old type of paper.

Deadline Approaches In Scholarship Filing

Candidates for the Rhodes scholarship are required to have their papers on file in the office of Dean John D. Hicks, Social Sciences 112, on or before Oct. 12. So far approximately a dozen applications have been made. There are five recommendations to be made from the University of Nebraska by Oct. 19.

FIRST ISSUE OF YEAR'S AWGWAN GOES TO PRESS

The first issue of the Awgwan was sent to the press Monday and will be ready for distribution Monday Oct. 14, according to the editor, Raymond Murray.

This year the policy of the Awgwan is different, in that there will be no more of the feature numbers as published last year. One of the outstanding features of this issue is the work of illustration done by Paul Benson, of Omaha. Benson, according to many who have seen his sketches, uses a style quite similar to that of the famous illustrator, Russell Patterson.

AG STUDENTS ELECT EXECUTIVE LEADERS

Officers Include Winkler, Facka and Halladay for Semester.

Organization of an executive board at the college of agriculture was completed by the election of officers Monday. Cyril Winkler was elected chairman and Donald Facka vice chairman. Sybil Halladay is secretary of the new board. Dr. F. D. Keim is the faculty adviser.

Eight members make up the entire personnel of the board. Other members are Ruth White, Mabel Johnson, Fred Grau, and Dwight Anderson.

The executive board represents the central organization of the college of agriculture, and is a means of sponsoring activities. The two main organizations represented are the Ag club, and the Home Economics club. The board started last year, but is actively organized this semester.

PRIZES ARE OFFERED FOR BIZAD RESEARCH

Students May Write On Any Business Subject to Receive Awards.

Announcement has been made through the college of business administration of attractive prizes offered for the best studies in various fields of business research. Two sets of prizes were announced. The first set, class A, consists of a first prize of $1,000 and a second prize of $500 for the best research by any citizen of the United States or Canada on any approved business subject. The second set, class B, consists of a first prize of $300 and a second prize of $200 for chosen studies in business presented by any undergraduate of any college in the United States or Canada.

A committee of Prof. J. Lawrence Laughlin, University of Chicago; Prof. J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Prof. Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University; Hon. Theodore E. Burton, Washington, and Prof. Wesley C. Mitchell, Columbia University, will judge the contest. Prizes are being offered through the courtesy of Hart Schaffner & Marx of Chicago. The awards will be made during the year 1930.

Suggested topics for research work are: "The Effect of an Increase in Our Tariff on Our International Relations," "An Estimate of Investment Trusts," and "Our Economic Relations with Mexico."

GUILFORD WRITES ON PSYCHOLOGY FOR PERIODICALS

Prof. J. P. Guilford of the department of philosophy and psychology is the author of five articles appearing in current periodicals. "Ocular Movements and the Perception of Time" appears in the Journal of Experimental Psychology for August. "An Experiment in Learning to Read" appears in the Journal of Experimental Psychology for September. "Measuring Human Wants in Business" is included in the September American Economic Review.

"Ocular Movements and the Phenomenon," with Prof. Harry Helson of Bryn Mawr college as co-author, and "An Illusion of the Movement" both appear in the American Journal of Psychology for October. Professor Guilford is also the index author of the American Journal of Psychology for the year 1929.

FORUM ARRANGES FOR ADDRESS BY JOSEPH GILBERT

Joseph Gilbert will speak at the regular meeting of the World Forum on Wednesday. Mr. Gilbert is editor of "The Lincoln Craftsman," the official publication of the Lincoln Labor union. "Labor Organization," will be the subject of his talk.

The meeting will be held in the dining room of the Nebraska hotel at 12 o'clock. Tickets may be secured from C. D. Hayes, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., or from Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A. They may also be secured from salesmen on the campus. The tickets are priced at thirty-five cents. They may be bought for forty cents at the door.

SENDOFF RALLY IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Students Will Attempt to Stimulate Spirit for Syracuse Tilt.

TO START WITH PARADE

Wednesday afternoon Nebraska's student body will meet in front of Social Sciences for the first big sendoff rally of the season to start the fighting Cornhuskers off for Syracuse for the all-important intersectional classic with the Syracuse Orange. The rally is scheduled for 4:30 o'clock and the parade down to the station will start promptly at 4:50 after a short rally on the campus. The Nebraska Cornhuskers will have a short workout on stadium field and pull away from Lincoln at 5 o'clock from the Rock Island depot. Coach Bible and his Huskers are meeting what sport critics say is one of the strongest gridiron aggregations on the east coast and when the Huskers go up against the Orange of Syracuse, it will be the seventh meeting of the two eleven's, with each team scoring three victories.

PHI TAU THETA WILL HOLD OPEN MEETING

Methodist Fraternity Lays Plans for Meeting of New Huskers.

Phi Tau Theta, Methodist religious fraternity, will hold its second open meeting of the year for new students, Tuesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock at the Wesley foundation parsonage, 1417 R street. A special invitation is extended to Methodist freshmen and new students. The chief purpose of the group is Christian fellowship and the development for a vital religious life.

The devotions of the evening in charge of Chaplain Bernard Malcolm will be in the nature of a religious education test on the life and teachings of Jesus. This is one of a series published by Northwestern University.

President John Le Mar will outline clearly the ideals and plans of Phi Tau Theta for 1929-30. Following this the group will be entertained by Oz Black, Lincoln cartoonist.

MANY ENGINEERS REVISIT SCENES OF COLLEGE DAYS

Recent alumni visitors to the campus and the college of engineering are: Howard G. Nehrbas, mechanic, '28, with the Superheater company, 17 East Forty-second street, New York City; Clari F. FROSH COUNCIL HAS PROBLEMS FOR DISCUSSION

"What are we in college for?" and the value of extra-curricular activities will be topics for discussion at the meeting of the university Y. M. C. A. freshman council Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the Temple.

One group of freshmen, under the leadership of C. D. Hayes, university Y. M. C. A. secretary, will discuss the first topic, which came up at the council meeting last week. The group under Ray Ramsey is to take up the matter of extra-curricular activities. A third group under William Kappian will take up kindred topics.

All Students Asked To Check Addresses

Correcting of name lists for the directory of University of Nebraska students will continue Tuesday when lists of names beginning with G, H and I will go up in the first floor hall of Social Sciences building.

ELECTION PUTS LINE ON POLITICAL CAMPS

Student Interest Centers On Polls as Voting Day Arrives.

Campus politics held the interest of Nebraska students Monday night on the eve of the first major election of the school year. Political camps were alligned quite differently than at the last election in the spring when blue shirts and yellow jackets united to defeat barb candidates.

After their overwhelming victory in the student council election in May when the barb uprising was successfully checked, Greek factions again lapsed back into their previous positions with yellow jackets and blue shirts battling for their respective candidates.

Greek Sunday felt assured that at any rate offices open at the election today would not fall into the hands of barb aspirants. That confidence, however, has vanished. Though Meredith Nelson, chairman of the barb council, and Alan Williams, founder of the barb definitely state they are "out" as far as politics goes, new cohorts of nonfraternity men have risen to take their places and at the tide of fraternity domination.

Greeks Line Up.

There is a barb ticket and the barbs will make an organized fight under their new political workers to win the election. Whether the barbs can defeat the split Greek line-up is problematical. Dissension among some of the barbs as to the political procedure is said to have caused a slight disagreement in that quarter. Barbs, however, are expected to vote barb regardless. It is only a question of the number visiting the polls.

Fraternities are lined up on their sides, yellow and blue. Below are listed the blue shirt and yellow jacket fraternities in alphabetical order.

Blue shirts: Acacia, Alpha Chi Sigma, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Delta, Delta Sigma, Lambda, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Theta Phi, Delta Upsilon, Farm House, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Phi Sigma, Theta Chi, Theta Xi, Xi Psi Zeta Beta Tau.

Yellow jackets: Alpha Theta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Omega Beta Pi and Phi Alpha Delta claim no affiliations.

POSTMASTER WARNS LETTER ADDRESSERS

'Lincoln Is More Than Wide Place in Road,' Says T. E. Gillaspie.

NEED STREET NUMBERS

Some people evidently do not realize that Lincoln is more than "a wide place in the road." According to Trev E. Gillaspie, Lincoln postmaster, many letters are mailed which are simply addressed "Lincoln, Neb."

These letters go to the dead letter office. Mr. Gillaspie stated that letters should bear a definite street number or a box number in the post office. He also said that the street number of a fraternity or sorority house should always be given.

It sometimes costs a student two or three dollars to send his laundry home. Mr. Gillaspie stated that according to the postal regulations no letters or papers should be included in a package. If letters are enclosed in a laundry case it goes as first class mail, while if the package contains no letters or papers it goes as fourth class mail at a much reduced rate.

Mr. Gillaspie stated that he wished to assure the students of better service if more care and attention are given to these two matters.

HONORARY GEOLOGICAL GROUP GIVES SMOKER

Fifty Attend Sigma Gamma Epsilon Get-together; Professors Speak.

Fifty students attended a smoker sponsored by Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity, which was held in Morrill hall Thursday night from 8 until 9:30 o'clock, for the purpose of acquainting new students and those interested in geology with that department.

Prof. E. F. Schram of the department of geology told of some personal experiences which he had while in the fields of South America. Mr. Foster, district geologist of Texas for the Sinclair Oil company explained a few of the features of geology as applied in the Texas oil fields.

F. G. Collins, assistant curator of the University of Nebraska museum, the chemistry department, and several active members of the Delta chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, also addressed the group. Refreshments, in the form of apples, doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee were served.

MANY PAY VISIT TO MUSEUM ON LECTURE TOURS

Approximately 500 people visited Morrill hall for a lecture tour through the museum Sunday, Oct. 6, conducted by F. G. Collins, assistant curator, and R. L. Bleu.

The tour started at 3 o'clock with Mr. Collins conducting them through the downstairs, while Mr. Bleu gave a lecture, illustrated by slides, on the main floor of the building.

The lecture tours are a continuation of the regular Sunday afternoon programs which were held last year for both children and adults, and will be continued each Sunday afternoon.

Beginning next Sunday the lantern slide programs will start at 2:45 o'clock for children, and at 4 o'clock for adults. The public, in general, as well as the students of the university, is invited to attend the lectures and slide programs.

FOOTBALL GAME ATTRACTS MANY GEOLOGY GRADS

A number of graduates of the University of Nebraska geology department returned last week to see the S. M. U.-Nebraska football game, and to visit the department of geology.

Those who visited the geology department are: Melvin Stirtz, geologist for the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Co., Bartlesville, Ok.; Donald B. Dow, '17, chief engineer for the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Co. of Bartlesville, Ok.; Edward V. Hansen, '26, geologist for the Roxana Petroleum corporation of Houston, Tex.; F. K. Foster, '24, district geologist for the Sinclair Oil and Gas Co., Wichita Falls, Tex.; John Vetter, '22, consulting geologist of the firm of Vetter and Bowman, Houston, Tex.; Wesley G. Gish, '22, chief land geologist for the Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. at Fort Worth, Tex.

STAFF PREPARES NOVEMBER ISSUE OF LAW BULLETIN

The first issue of the Law Bulletin is expected to appear in November. The Law Bulletin is a magazine of legal comment which is published four times a year.

The publication is edited by Prof. H. M. Merrill who is assisted by a staff of students who are appointed each year. Those who have been appointed to the staff for this year are, senior members: Joseph P. O'Gara, Robert B. Hamer, Joseph Ginsburg, Levi D. Loreman, and Bert L. Overcash; junior members: Perry W. Morton, Harry Sackett, Fred W. Reas, Bartlett E. Boyles and Paul B. Newell.

BARBS WILL SUBMIT RULES FOR COUNCIL

Nonfraternity Organization Prepares Constitution For Submission.

The barb council, according to Meredith Nelson, chairman, will submit a constitution to the student council for ratification at its Wednesday meeting. The barbs are at work putting the finishing touches to the rules which will shape their activities for the future.

The entire barb council is working on the document, but it is a relatively small group, since many of its members did not return to school this year.

The student council has not recognized the existence of the barb council, which was organized last year. Nelson explained that the non-fraternity organization has never had an official constitution before and hence it was impossible for them to petition the student council for its ratification.

Y.W.C.A. SUPERVISES FRESHMAN MEETINGS

Four Groups Gather for Discussion About College Life.

Four freshman commissions, discussion groups which form a part of the Y. W. C. A. organization on this campus, are holding weekly meetings at Ellen Smith hall. One group meets at 11 o'clock on Tuesday; two at 4 o'clock Tuesday, and the last one at 7:10 o'clock Thursday night.

Topics which pertain to college life are discussed with the aim of helping each one to get the best possible start in her university. A few of the topics which are used as subjects are: "Personality," "Leadership," "Popularity," "Is a Perfect Life Possible on a College Campus?" "Is the Sorority-Fraternity System Christian?" "After Death, What?"

Several meetings throughout the year will be devoted to social hours in which one group will entertain another. There also will be social functions attended by all of the groups.

PASTORS AGREE ON SUCCESS OF CHURCH SUNDAY

University pastors were unanimous in voicing praise of the annual all university church Sunday following the 1929 observance last Sunday. Well attended services and interest in the church activities gave evidence of the success of the traditional religious day, they agreed.

Although nearly all of the churches in the city welcomed students Sunday, the observance centered around the services held by the following university pastors: Rev. Ray E. Hunt, First Christian church; Rev. L. W. McMillen, university Episcopal church; Rev. Henry Erick, Lutheran pastor; Rev. W. C. Fawell, Methodist pastor, and Dr. Arthur L. Weatherly.

INDIANA STUDENTS URGE ACCEPTANCE OF COURTESY IDEA

"Courtesy week" to take the place of "rough" week is almost unanimously upheld by the presidents of sororities on Indiana university's campus according to data compiled from a questionnaire recently sent to each sorority president to determine the universal opinion on the matter.

Different plans are being formulated which are aimed at giving the pledges a worthwhile idea of those facts on which the organization ritual is based. Probation week, senior council, a day of silence, and stunt week are among the suggestions submitted. Of the fourteen questionnaires returned, only two sororities were in favor of continuing rough week practices.

Among the numerous reasons cited by opponents of rough week were the bad impression to persons not connected with the school, discouragement of pledges in their ideal of the sorority; interference with school work; and the breaking down of the sisterly feeling in the organization.

BARB POLITICAL MACHINE ENTERS ELECTION FIELD

Nonfraternity Men Stifle Report of Inactivity At Polls Today.

SIX OFFICES ARE OPEN

Twenty-Five Candidates On Tickets; Student Council Will Manage.

Although there has been a disagreement between barbs as to whether or not an official barb political party will be in operation this year, such an organization is to exist and will function in the annual fall student election today. Information was conveyed to the Nebraskan Monday in a statement signed by W. Gerald Whitford, barb candidate for senior class president. Stanley J. Mengler, Ralph Kilzer, Alta H. Reade, Edwin J. Quinn, and Joe di Natale.

Six vacant student offices including that of four class presidents, senior woman-at-large on the Student Council, and honorary colonel are to be filled at the election. Twenty-five candidates have filed for offices.

Barb Leaders Withdraw

The withdrawal of Alan Williams and Meredith Nelson, last year's barb leaders, from barb politics this year was thought to have disrupted the party. Other men have arisen to fill these vacancies, however, and the barb political party will continue as last year by organizing and running a party ticket at each student election. This was told to the Nebraskan by Whitford Monday.

Whitford also declared that although Williams has withdrawn from barb politics, he had a hand in composing the barb ticket which will run at the election today.

Will Have Party
"Nelson and Williams have walked out on the barb party and quit barb politics," declared Whitford. "I am running as a barb, however, and have talked it over with Severance, Thomas, and Pache who are also running as barbs. There will be a barb political party this year regardless of Williams and Nelson."

'Y' WORKERS WILL GO TO KANSAS MEETING

Group From Lincoln Plans To Confer With Field Council Members.

Seven persons connected with Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations on the campuses of Lincoln universities and colleges in Lincoln will attend the fall meeting of the executive committee of the Rocky Mountain field council of student Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations at Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 11 to 13.

Those who will attend the Y. M. C. A. meetings are Wendell Groth, university chairman of the field council; C. D. Hayes, secretary of the university Y. M. C. A.; Dean H. C. Gosard of Nebraska Wesleyan; and William E. Braisted, field secretary for Nebraska. Discussion at the meeting will include the making of preliminary plans for the Y. M. C. A. conference at Estes Park, Colo., in June, and routing of special speakers through the area.

Those at the Y. W. C. A. conference will be Evelyn Adler, Marfan Wilkerson, and Erma Appleby, secretary of the university Y. W. C. A.

Independent Candidates Withdraw From Running

Lyle E. Eno and Duane F. Lyon, independent candidates for president of the freshman class in Nebraska late Monday night to state that they do not wish to be considered for this office.

Eighty Years After Time of His Death, Poe's Work Remains

Eighty years ago yesterday, Edgar Allan Poe died in poverty in New York City. Today, and in the future, his fame and genius is assured one of the highest places in the world of men, for Poe was an outstanding American genius. His poetry and his prose was like a blast of cold fresh air upon the sordid and didactic style which permeated the literary atmosphere of his time. Voltairean like, his works created a sort of literary revolution the effects of which are transforming and enduring.
