

"TALKIES"

STUART—"THE SOPHOMORE." It was comical! Although the plot was unreal it was quite evident that no effort had been made to have it appear real.

LINCOLN—"WHY BRING THAT UP?"

Moran and Mack, supported by Evelyn Brent and Harry Green, come to the Lincoln this week in "Why Bring That Up?" and they bring real entertainment.

Although humor packs the lines from start to finish, there is a pronounced undercurrent of pathos, and the production has many a tense, dramatic moment.

FASSNACHTS BRING PASSION PLAY TO LINCOLN AUDIENCE

(Continued From Page 1.) From the life of the savior. At this stage in the development, much heated rivalry sprang up between towns, each attempting to surpass the other in the splendor and beauty of the production.

The transitional return to the original solemnity and splendor of the passion play was brought about by a worthy citizen of Freiburg named Fassnacht.

Adolph Fassnacht, a direct descendant of that elder Fassnacht of seven centuries ago, was prevailed upon to bring his cast to America for one presentation of the play.

Autumn of '79

While Yale and Princeton were battling to a tie at Hoboken, New Jersey, a small group of scientists, directed by Thomas A. Edison, was busy at Menlo Park, only a few miles away.

Few realized what fifty years would mean to both electric lighting and football. The handful who watched Yale and Princeton then has grown to tens of thousands to-day.

Much of this progress in lighting has been the achievement of college-trained men employed by General Electric.
