MIZZOU SPECIAL OFFERS REDUCED RATE TO GAME

Burlington Railroad Cuts Fare Again; Expect Large Number.

TRAVEL METHOD VARIES
Tourist Cars and Pullmans Will Be Added to Day Coaches.

By figuring the short line mileage, railroad round trip fares to the Missouri-Nebraska football game at Columbia have been reduced from $13.61 to $13.40, according to word received from the Burlington railroad Tuesday.

Lower Pullman berths will be $4.50 each and upper pullmans will cost $3.60 each way. Berths may be obtained on two tourist cars which will accompany the special for approximately $5 for the round trip. The $13.40 round trip rate has not only been offered to Nebraska rooters but to the varsity football team as well, according to H. P. Kauffman, general passenger agent of the Burlington. Former rate to the team was a fare and a third for the round trip or about $18.

Expect Many.
When interviewed as to how many would make the trip by train, Mr. Kauffman stated, "We naturally expect over 200 to make the trip or it wouldn't pay us to run the train. We hope, however, that at least 400 or more will make the trip."

Mr. Kauffman declared there was nothing to the rumor that a special recreation car for dancing and entertainment would be taken on the special. The train will leave Lincoln Friday night at 9 o'clock, arriving in Columbia at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The return trip will start at 9 o'clock Saturday night unless enough of the passengers wish to stay over. If the majority does not wish to leave until later than 9 o'clock that will be taken care of, according to Mr. Kauffman.

INNOCENTS PROVIDE 'HUSKER WIN' CARDS

Fight Phrases Are Slogans For Students Making Missouri Trip.

Cards bearing the inscription, "This Time, Too, Mizou," and tags stating to "Tame That Tiger" and "Keep the Bell" will make their appearance on the campus this afternoon. The cards and tags are another of the series of slogans provided by the Innocents society for the purpose of building up spirit preceding football games.

All students planning to make the trip to Columbia, Missouri, by automobile are requested to provide themselves with a supply of these cards and tags to carry the Cornhusker spirit into the "enemy" territory.

A committee from the Corn Cobs headed by Edwin Edmunds will take charge of the distribution and all those desiring cards may obtain them from the committee this afternoon. Banners labeled with such slogans as "Show the Show Me's," "Help Make the Husker a Big Tiger Champ" and "Tame That Tiger" appeared on the campus Monday.

PROFESSORS GO TO PSYCHOLOGY MEETING AT YALE

Two University of Nebraska professors, Prof. J. P. Guilford and Prof. D. A. Worcester, attended the International Congress of Psychology at Yale university during the first week of September. This was the first time that the congress has met in the United States.

One thousand or more delegates representing countries from all over the world were present. Three official languages were used. They were English, French and German. Some addresses were delivered in Russian with the aid of an interpreter.

Nebraska Ranks Third In R.O.T.C. Rifle Meet

Nebraska military students, attending R. O. T. C. camps this summer, were awarded third place in the competition for the Warrior of the Pacific trophy, awarded by the business men of Hawaii to the university having the highest marksmanship average.

First place was won by the Hawaii university group with an average of 211. The University of Oregon ranked second with 207 and Nebraska ranked third with an average of 198.

P. H. Grumann Begins Woman's Club Addresses

Prof. Paul H. Grumann began a series of talks to the York Women's Club last Friday. There will be six addresses in the series, consisting mostly of interpretations of Greek. Professor Grumann led the York club last year in a similar series of talks.

AWGWAN EDITOR CHOOSES WARNER TO FILL VACANCY

Philip Warner, 31, Dakota City, was appointed art editor of the Awgwan Tuesday to fill the vacancy made by Archibald Powell, former art editor. Powell was compelled to quit his position because of ineligibility.

Work on the November issue of the Awgwan is under way and cover ideas must be submitted by Monday, Oct. 28, according to the editor. Deadline for all copy is Nov. 1. This will allow only two weeks of preparation for the November magazine.

The Awgwan editor stated that he was pleased with the cooperation given the October Awgwan by Nebraska students and that he wishes to thank them for their support.

WELFARE WORKERS WILL CONVENE HERE

Nebraska Conference Plans Meeting in November; Speakers Picked.

EASTERNERS TO ATTEND

Plans for the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Nebraska conference of social workers to be held in Lincoln, Nov. 3, 4, and 5 have nearly reached final form this week, with the announcement of the main speakers for the convention. Miss Ada Barker, general secretary of the social welfare society in Lincoln, is serving as chairman of the program committee for the convention.

Dr. H. E. Chamberlain, director of the Minneapolis child guidance clinic of the public schools of Minneapolis, has been obtained for two addresses during the convention. Dr. Chamberlain is a psychiatrist in the hygiene clinic which studies and deals with all problems of behavior and conduct of the school child. He will deliver his first address Monday, Nov. 4, on "What Can the Community Do for the Mental Hygiene of Its Children?" This will be an evening lecture, starting at 8 o'clock. On Tuesday, he speaks on "Mental Hygiene of the School Child."

Carstens to Speak.
The main address on the Monday afternoon program will be given by Dr. C. C. Carstens, executive director of the child welfare league of America, on "The Fundamentals of a Community's Program for Child Care." The child welfare league of America is an organization of 139 children's agencies, institutions and state provinces of Canada. The league deals especially with the education, physical care, and case work among children. The organization made a survey in Omaha last year, under the auspices of the Omaha council of social agencies.

J. R. Batchelor of the playground and recreation association of America comes from New York city. He will give an address at the luncheon on Tuesday, Nov. 5, on "The Parents' Responsibility" (Continued on Page 3.)

KOSMET KLUB URGES MORNING SHOW WORK

Manager Requests Filings For Revue Skits and 1929 Sweetheart.

Kosmet Klub's production manager, in an interview with a Nebraska reporter Tuesday, urged that fraternities and sororities take heed of filings for Nebraska sweetheart and the call for skits for the Thanksgiving morning revue. An article concerning sweetheart filings and the call for skits was published in Monday's Daily Nebraskan.

Nebraska's sweetheart will be elected by a male vote of the university and presented in the Thanksgiving morning revue, sponsored by Kosmet Klub. Next year she will preside as queen of King Kosmet's royal court in the annual morning show in the wishing to enter candidates in the Kosmet Klub rooms located in the Annex building without delay.

These names will be placed on a ballot from which the sweetheart will be chosen. Fraternities and sororities as well as individuals who wish to have skits in the morning revue must indicate their names in the headquarters which may be obtained in the headquarters. Skits by organizations can not play longer than fifteen minutes and individual skits are limited to five minutes.

Those desiring to work on the production staff must sign application blanks. The staff will be chosen some time this week from the applications made and will commence its duties immediately.

VOGELER ANNOUNCES MORE GREEK RACES

The third of a series of interfraternity bare and bound races will be run this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Rudolph Vogeler, director of intramural athletics. Announcement of the starting point of the race is to be posted on the bulletin board of the south dressing room at the stadium. Delta Sigma Lambda is leading the field in the event at the present time.

MISSOURI TIGERS WHO MEET NEBRASKA SATURDAY.

Here are five of Coach Henry's Missouri Tigers who go up against the Scarlet and Cream from Nebraska Saturday in what is expected to be the greatest Big Six game of the year. Sport critics expect the winner of the Husker-Tiger game to come out with the gridiron championship of the conference this season. Scott Kennedy in the upper left is one of the mainstays in the Tiger backfield and will start against Nebraska Saturday. Louis Derry is another back in the Tiger lineup. Capt. John Waldorf is the main cog in the Tiger passing machine. Russell Dills is a reserve who will get the call in the starting backfield Saturday. Cox and Reece will also figure in the Tiger-Husker classic at Columbia this week.

AYLESWORTH STATES M'DONALD DEFENSE

Professor Will Advance Views in Meeting of Forum Today.

Prof. L. E. Aylesworth, of the department of political science, will speak at the World Forum luncheon today. Professor Aylesworth is an ardent admirer of Ramsay MacDonald, whom he will talk about. "Ramsay MacDonald is a sort of an Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson rolled into one," Professor Aylesworth stated. "He is one of the most outstanding, interesting and important figures in the world today."

The rise of the Labor party and the principles for which it stands will also be treated by Professor Aylesworth. He will point out the purpose of the MacDonald visit to this country as he sees it, and discuss MacDonald's plan for the promotion of world peace. The luncheon will meet at 12 o'clock at the Nebraskan hotel. The meeting will be over at 12:50 o'clock making it possible for people having 1 o'clock classes to attend.

SCIENTIFIC GROUP ASKS WEAVER TO TALK ON GRAZING

Dr. J. E. Weaver has been requested to give an address on the applications of ecology to the soil before the American Association for the Advancement of Science at its national meeting at Des Moines in December. Professor Weaver's extensive studies with the Carnegie Institution of Washington have attracted wide attention and new principles worked out by him and his students are finding practical applications in many fields.

ASTRONOMY HEAD PLANS NEXT OPEN HOUSE ON NOV. 5

The university observatory will be open to the public Tuesday, Nov. 5, for observation of stellar bodies, according to Prof. G. D. Swezey of the department of astronomy. This will be the next regular open house which the department of astronomy arranges on the first and third Tuesday of every month during the school year. Last Tuesday the university telescope was trained on the moon. While the visitors viewed the moon, Prof. Swezey lectured to them on the various features of its surface.

Patricia Anne Burke Gets Applause From Players' Following

Patricia Ann Burke, age eight months, was the hit of the Monday night showing of "The Royal Family" by the University Players and got a big hand from the audience. Patricia Ann took the part of the great grandchild in the play and seemed to enjoy it thoroughly. When Zolley Lerner as the showman Wolfe during the course of the play said to her, "Well, you are a Cavendish," she looked at him as if to say "Why not?" This young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Burke. Mr. Burke recently came to Nebraska to study law. He had been engaged previously as an efficiency expert with the Swift Packing company of Chicago. Mrs. Burke graduated from Lincoln high school. She is now acting as a trained nurse for the board of education.

Production is Praised.
All who have attended the performances of "The Royal Family" have voiced their praises. They find its intimate portrayal of the family life of actors and actresses amusing and enlightening. They find out all those things about actor folk which they have always wanted to know.

The cast lives up to all expectations. Dornel Jaeske as the grand daughter of the theatrical family has won the favor of the audience. Patricia Ann is her child, and according to modern methods, she is guided by the book and the clock. In fact, as Miss Jaeske remarks, she can only play with her child eight minutes a day. Only two more performances will be given. The shows start at 7:30 and are over at 10 o'clock. Seventy-five cents is the price for a single admission.

FINE ARTS BAND PLANS PROGRAM FOR COVOCATION

The fine arts band will present a convocation at the Temple theater, Tuesday, Oct. 23, assisted by John Sheldnek, trumpet soloist, according to an announcement issued today by William T. Quick, director. The fine arts band has a membership of forty pieces. The program, which will include both classical and semiclassical numbers, will be announced later. This semester the band has an instrumentation of forty pieces and has an exceptionally fine brass and reed section, the director states.

COUNCIL WILL MEET ON IMPORTANT WORK

Special Session Is Called To Discuss Fellman's Election Plan.

Important matters will be discussed at the meeting of the student council Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, according to Ralph Raikes, president of the council. The time of meeting has been changed from 5 o'clock to enable David Fellman to be present to explain his plan of proportional representation on the student council.

It is improbable that any action will be taken on the matter at this meeting, Raikes stated. In order to make any such change as Fellman advocates it will be necessary to get a referendum by the entire student body.

There is also a possibility that the bar council constitution will be considered at the Wednesday meeting. The meeting will be held in Temple 205.

CONDRA LEAVES TODAY FOR NEW ORLEANS SESSION

Dr. George E. Condra, director of the Nebraska soil survey, will leave Wednesday night by auto for New Orleans, where he is to speak before the Mortgage Bankers association. The subject of his talk is the relation of soil conditions to the farm loan business and for illustrative purposes he will use the lantern slides and charts of soil conditions in this state.

According to Dr. Condra, the state of Nebraska ranks above any of the neighboring states in the extensiveness of its soil research work. Detailed surveys have been made in sixty-seven counties and land conditions have been charted in the remaining districts.

COLLEGE FAVORS IRRIGATION PLAN IN HALL COUNTY

A report from the college of agriculture on an irrigation project of forty-nine farms in Hall county shows that while central Nebraska farms without irrigation produce from ten to fifteen bushels of corn to the acre, irrigation raises the yield to from thirty to seventy-five bushels. The irrigation project which was studied consisted of fifty vertical centrifugal pumps costing $305.63 per farm. They are mostly operated by tractor or gasoline motor. The statistics showed that in every case the increase in yield of grain far exceeded the cost of irrigation.

FRESHMEN WILL HOLD DISCUSSION AT AG COLLEGE

The first meeting of the agriculture college freshman council group will be held in Agriculture hall Thursday at 7 p. m. One of the interests that a freshman should choose from the multitude offered in this council sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. The council will discuss the problems that face a freshman by having older men lead the discussion.

Through these meetings the freshman gains a broader vision of what his years in college will mean and will find in these meetings the finest kind of fellowship and friendship, according to those in charge. The meeting will be in room 301 and in accordance with university rules will close promptly at 8 p. m.

TICKETS FOR BENGAL CONTEST GO RAPIDLY

Supply of Ducats on Sale Here Is Diminishing; More If Needed.

MANY TO ATTEND GAME

At least 600 University of Nebraska students will see the Cornhuskers tangle with Missouri's Tigers at Columbia, Mo., Saturday. Approximately that number of tickets for the game at Missouri have been sold at the university here, John K. Selleck, chairman of university student activities, said today. He declared that the possibility of a shortage was growing more acute, and that the remainder of the 600 would probably be sold today.

Some Crowd!
The number is the greatest ever sold for a game at Missouri, the chairman pointed out. It exceeds by 200 the number sold for the game at Columbia two years ago.

In the event that a shortage results, Mr. Selleck said that a telephone call to Columbia would be made, and an additional block of seats would be reserved. If such measures become necessary, students will be able to get their tickets for the game at Columbia.

The student special train which is being added by the Burlington railroad is equipped to take 200 or more to Columbia. As more than 600 tickets have been sold for the pigskin contest the special train is assured. According to Mr. Selleck, Tuesday, more tickets to the game will be needed with the announcement that the Burlington railroad will run the special with a reduced rate of $13.40.

Tickets for Cornhusker followers are being reserved at Columbia to allow for a large Nebraska rooting section. The cheer leaders assisted by Corn Cobs will conduct the "Husker enthusiasm."

DR. WERNER OUTLINES SPIRITUALISTIC VALUE

Instructor Talks Before Women Students at Vesper Hour.

"It is the spiritual values, not the material rewards that count in life," stated Dr. Werner, of the Teacher's college, department of education, as the theme of his talk before the women's Tuesday evening in Ellen Smith hall. "It is the spirit behind it that produces the masterpiece. The whole framework of science is built on the spiritual aspect of life—the astronomer, the chemist, the biologist all base their theories on faith. Spirit reigns supreme in the pages of history. From the time of ancient Egypt up to the time of the World War right has always conquered and the true spirit comes out on top in spite of overwhelming odds."

Material is Spiritual.
Material means are merely the expression of the spirit. The conquest of the material is of no value unless it is accompanied by the conquest of the spiritual. Clarence Darrow cannot see behind the material to find the spiritual just as Alexander the Great evaluated things in the terms of material possessions. The right smiling spirit makes the successful business man, the right attitude between students and teachers produces the good school, and love alone makes the beautiful home.

"It is my contention that the spirit is supreme in this world, it is an absolute necessity of life—it dominates it."
Lucille Ledwith, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., led the meeting. Special music was a piano solo given by Virginia Ann Shrimpton.

WEIDEMANN OFFERS EXTENSION COURSE

Dr. C. C. Weidemann, professor of history and principles of education, through the university extension division, is offering education 160x, problems in character education, for two hours credit. This course is highly recommended by the state department of public instruction to all teachers in this state, especially those in the field of character education.

INNOCENTS PLAN GRID PARTY FOR TIGER CONFLICT

Scarlet Followers Unable To Trek to Columbia Will Be Guests.

BEE-NEWS RADIOS GAME

Omaha Newspaper Sponsors Broadcast to Students At Auditorium.

All Scarlet and Cream followers who are unable to accompany the Cornhusker team to Columbia for the Missouri game will be afforded an opportunity to hear play by play reports of the game at the radio football party in the Temple theater Saturday, according to Jack Libbert, sports editor of The Daily Nebraskan.

Three radio parties, sponsored by the Innocents society, were planned by that body for this year. One took place two weeks ago when Nebraska played Syracuse. One is planned for Saturday's game, and the last one will be held for the Kansas Aggie game.

Hearst Officials.
The grid party will start at 2 o'clock. A direct wire direct from the stadium at Columbia will be broadcast over radio station KFAB. The Omaha Bee-News has leased the direct wire and the services of KFAB for this game. It was in charge of the direct wire for the Syracuse game and it will lease the wire for the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska game.

Ed Walt, local music dealer, has given a Majestic radio to the Innocents society for receiving reports of the game in the Temple theater. A grid graph will also be used so the position of the ball on the field can be seen by the audience.

No charge will be made for admission to the grid party. These parties are annual affairs which are sponsored by the Innocents society. Last year they were held at the university coliseum for the Army game, the Oklahoma game, and for the Kansas game. It was decided that a great deal of expense and inconvenience would be avoided by holding the parties at the Temple.

ASSOCIATION SELECTS DOANE AS PRESIDENT

University Librarian Chosen At State Meeting by Representatives.

Prof. Gilbert Doane, university librarian, was elected president of the Nebraska library association at the annual meeting held at Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 17 and 18.

Several other members of the university library staff were present at the meeting and heard May Lambertson Becker, editor of the reader's guide section of the Saturday Review of Literature, speak on the most outstanding novels that have been published during the past few months.

The books that Mrs. Becker particularly discussed were: "Farewell to Arms" by Ernest Hemingway; "The Glass of 1902" by Ernest Hemingway; and "Ellen Glasgow's new novel 'They Stoop to Follow.'"
