

DINNER FOR FOREIGN YOUTHS IS PLANNED

Members of Faculty Will Entertain Students At Banquet.

All foreign students will be guests of Chancellor and Mrs. E. Burnett and members of the faculty at an international dinner...

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from Miss Appleby at Elphinstone building, or from the presidents of the various church groups on the campus.

VEPERS WILL HOLD IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Annual Ceremony of Candle Lighting Is Scheduled For Tuesday.

Annual candle lighting service for the university Y. W. C. A. will be held in connection with the regular Vespers on Tuesday, Oct. 29.

This service for old and new members was first used on the Nebraska campus in 1921 on the evening that the then newly organized Vesper choir made its formal appearance as a part of the Y. W. C. A.

SORORITIES PLACE AUTOMATIC BELLS ON FIRE ESCAPES

An article appearing in the Washington Daily, official campus newspaper at the University of Washington at Seattle, commented very thoroughly on the practice of attaching doorbells to the fire escapes of sororities here.

"Fire escapes," the article reads, "on the newer sororities are about five feet off the ground. A person can reach up and pull down an extension ladder without any difficulty, but when the extension ladder is lowered to the ground an automatic bell rings in the house mother's room and immediately an angered matron comes rushing out to reprimand the unfortunate coed and her escort."

The writer of the article continues, by hopefully suggesting that with the former mode of escape cut off, enterprising and illicit darts will probably devise some other method of exit: "Perhaps a contraption rigged up with scaffold hooks and a rope ladder, kept in store at a convenient fraternity house will solve the problem—until house mothers and architects dispense with window ledges!"

W. A. A. INTRAMURAL

Whoop! Ray for Nebraska—Hail! It's a great game if you don't mind getting knocked down, hit in the back or having someone push an elbow through you. The idea is to sock the ball with the fist across a net three times higher than it should be. All former pugilists should come in for this sport. It's good practice. The ball is a little too large for an elephant's toy, but if three or four of John F. Sullivan's proteges get behind it and push there's a chance of putting it over the net. So go on a diet of raw beef and come out for Nebraska. Well, third hour credit is given now, and it serves to take care of the overflow, that is, all those who don't trust their ability with a rifle, and don't care for such dainty sports as hockey.

There's going to be a hot time in the old hockey field this week. The color teams are all set for the battle and are going into action Monday. The armistice will be signed by Thursday evening and the victors announced. The fur is going to fly and don't be bashful about walking a mile to see this tournament.

Paddle your way to the paddle tennis tournament in November. This is going to be a great exhibition of how to wield the paddle, so come along and get the dope. Each group will be represented by a doubles team.

Speedball is a new feature of the sports program. No one seems to know just what it is, but we're all living in hopes of finding out soon. From all information gathered, it appears to be something like soccer. The ball is laid on the field and then the fun (?) begins. The hardest kicker wins and much technique could be learned by watching the football players plow through. Both these sports will be discussed at the intra-mural meeting Monday noon at 12. Rules and regulations are to be fixed, so someone at least will know what it's all about.

SONG RECITAL IS ON FINE ARTS PROGRAM

Mrs. Lillian Klinker Will Present Convocation Tuesday a. m.

A song recital by Mrs. Lillian Polley, soprano, accompanied by Marguerite Klinker, will be the feature of the school of fine arts convocation to be presented in the Temple theater, Tuesday morning, Oct. 29, at 11 a. m. The program will be as follows:

The Huntsman—Brahms; Japanisches Regenlied—Marx; The Snowdrop—Schumann; Allerseelen—Strauss; The Storke—Clokey; Love Has Eyes—Bishop; An Old Song—Buchanan; Tell Me, Oh Blue Sky—Giannini; The Spider—Lehmann; L'enfant et les Sortilèges—Ravel; Le Moulin—Pierne; Hexenlied—Mendelssohn.

PROFESSOR HILL GETS BACK FROM LAW CONFERENCE

Prof. N. L. Hill of the department of political science returned Sunday from Briarcliff, New York, where he was in attendance at the joint meetings of the Institute of International Law and the Conference of Teachers of International Law. The sessions, held under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, were held jointly for the first time this year. Representatives of foreign governments attended the meetings, as well as teachers of international law from institutions in the United States.

REGENTS SEEK AID IN PICTURE CHOICE

Art Experts Consent to Assist in Choosing Hall Collection.

Royal Cortisanes of New York City, art editor of the Herald-Tribune and Lella Mechlin, Washington, D. C., a member of the staff of the American magazine have consented to aid the board of regents select the pictures for the Frank M. Hall memorial collection.

The collection will be placed on the second floor of Morrill hall. Twelve thousand dollars have already been spent on the Hall collection. The will of Mr. Hall stipulated that the income from his trust fund should be used only for the purchase of art works recommended by recognized connoisseurs. The university received $123,529.64 from the Hall estate.

INTERCOLLEGE PRESS GROUP PLANS MEET

School Journalists Will Convene at Denver in December.

The Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press association, represented by upwards of 200 delegates from schools throughout the Rocky Mountain conference, will meet in convention on the campus of the University of Denver, Dec. 6 and 7, according to recent announcement of the University Press club of the Denver school, sponsors of the meeting.

The purpose of the annual meeting is to afford an opportunity for the staffs of the individual student publications on the various campuses to exchange ideas and principles used in sending their respective editions to press.

An intercollegiate news exchange was recently organized through the medium of the association whereby outstanding news events on the various universities in the conference will be available to all students in the conference.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH ADDS TO STAFF THIS FALL

Three new instructors have been added to the staff of the department of English this fall. Mr. Ray W. Franz comes to the university from the University of Chicago. He will have charge of some of the upper division freshman English courses and conducts a course in Chaucer. N. E. Eliason from the University of Iowa, will take in part some of the classes of R. B. Wilcox, and C. L. Boyd comes here from the University of Michigan. Both the latter instructors will have freshman English classes in the main.

PLANS NEARING COMPLETION FOR FARMER PARTY

(Continued From Page 1.) are being made for a special "hay-loft" entrance to the ballroom of Activities building, which will be the scene of the festivities.

The customary program dance will be the principal entertainment, supplemented by special numbers at intermission periods during the evening. George Cook's ten piece band will furnish the melody for the Ags and Home Ecs to skim and float over the polished maple.

Dwight Andersen is in charge of arrangements for the election of the queen of the ball, who will be crowned at the end of the first dance of the evening. Election of a Farmer's Formal Queen has always been a part of the festivities with the exception of last year when the ceremonies were foregone because of a discrepancy in voting.

The meeting of the college journalists has become an annual affair in the Rocky Mountain conference, last year it having been held at the University of Utah, in Salt Lake City.

Only Ags or Home Ecs are eligible to buy tickets although they are permitted to choose partners from outside the Ag student body if they so wish. A date bureau will function again this year to aid those Ags and Home Ecs who desire its services in making arrangements for the events, as no person will be admitted singly.

The Ag club committee in charge of the preparations as an executive committee consists of Glen Hedlund, Fred Bunde and Howard McClean. Subcommittees who have charge of separate arrangements are as follows: Decorations, Fred Grau, chairman. Robert Danielson, Georgia Wilcox, Everette Kriesinger, Forest Lee, Arthur Mauch, and Marguerite Hagerman. Refreshments, Ruth White, Mabel Johnston and Eston Clarke. Entertainment, Clarence Claver and Charlotte Joyce. Dates, Mabel Bugnell and Cyril Winkler. Publicity and program, Donald Pacha, chairman, Merlin Matzke, Harold Marcott, Neaje Lakeman and Laddellen Munsell. Invitations, Fred Bunde and Genevieve Brehm. Tickets, Edward Janike and Esther Boyer.

SPORTS WRITER TELLS OF NEBRASKA SPIRIT

He relates another incident which might lead any Cornhusker to get the impression that he has been getting some of his evidence from the University of Nebraska campus.

"A girl at a large middle western state university told me recently of the invasion of her sorority meeting by a male classmate who made an inspiring speech and practically demanded that sorority sisters, give money to send the band on a several thousand mile trip to assist at an inter-sectional contest."

Hokul which accounted for the Cornhusker touchdown. After the score, the Tigers tried but tried in vain to drive the length of the field in the four remaining minutes of the game to break the tie.

Schaff returned the kickoff twenty-one yards and the Tigers rolled up two first downs in succession, with Witte intercepting Derry's pass on the Nebraska 22 yard line as the gun ended the Big Six classic.
