W. A. A. INTRAMURAL

BY JEAN RATHBURN. Speedball, the world's best sport (if you believe in signs): You can kick, throw, run, and what not—mostly what not. Anything goes in this game, so go as far as you like. The idea of the game is to get the ball from one end of the field to another and how it gets there is nobody's business. The rougher you treat 'em the better. Soccer champs could make a good beginning at the game, but it takes some real rough stuff to keep the ball going.

Workouts will be held Nov. 4-13. The tournament is to be played off Nov. 18-29. A topster tournament will also be held in this sport. Real speedball players will be picked for this, so all good big show, ladies and others, and see the speedball do its tricks. P. S. All workouts offered at 4 and 5 o'clock every day, and at any hour Intra-Mural day.

By the way, the squirrels are certainly having a good year according to all reports from the gym office. Clogging and grand marching are endangering the sanity of the whole department. If you should happen to walk in on one of these sessions, don't be alarmed, you're not in the State Hospital, but merely watching some of us poor social failures learning how to be graceful. Of course, the grand marching is a help to kindergarten teachers, and just serves to remind us that we're still children after all. Intra-murals just couldn't get along without its bed-time stories, so all good little girls can listen to the story of "How to be a Success" by Intra-Murals every Friday evening from 7 to 5 p. m., broadcast by KFOR.

At last! They've decided to have a paddle tennis tournament. Reach for a paddle instead of a date and chase yourself over to the gym office and sign your John Henry by Thursday, Oct. 1. Practice at swinging the paddles any afternoon at 4 p. m. until the date of the tournament is posted.

The great day is here! The army is going into action. All members of the shooting squad are urged to come and try out their methods at the rifling tournament Nov. 18. Applicants should be able to make at least ten points out of a hundred or have had enough practice to be able to. Sign up for one practice hour a week and designate the group you're affiliated with for the tournament.

Only sixteen girls can shoot at a time, so put a little speed behind it! The miracle has happened! Two credit hours, both phys. ed. and Intra-Mural, are given for this single hours practice. What is happening to the gym department? We all hope it's nothing too serious.

ROBB DIRECTS STUDY REGARDING BUSINESS

University Graduates Take Part in Research Into Developments.

Three separate university studies of business development are progressing rapidly under the direction of Prof. T. Bruce Robb. The scholars, Miss Martha C. Weaver, James E. Bartley and Oscar L. Osterlund are being supported during the study by three separate scholarships awarded by prominent business people of Lincoln.

Miss Weaver is studying the problem of "Rural Credits in Nebraska." Among the topics she is investigating are the relative amounts of loans made for purchase of land and capital equipment on farms, sources of the loans, rates of interest and time duration of the loans.

Mr. Bartley is investigating "Failure of National Banks in Nebraska Since Statehood." Mr. Osterlund's subject of study is "Recent Tendencies in Retail Hardware Merchandising." His topic deals with the effect chain stores have had on the old type unit hardware store, how lines of hardware goods in department stores have drawn trade from the older stores, and the condition of the trade in general.

All three of the scholars are graduates of the University of Nebraska college of business administration. Their studies will be used in bulletins published periodically by the Nebraska studies in business. These bulletins are mailed, upon publication, to all parts of the state and have great bearing in guiding business policies of Nebraska business men.

"Eyes" for blind flying! Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air. LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magnet compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board. Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.
