STUDENTS BRING 300 FATHERS TO DAD'S LUNCHEON

Weaver Gives Main Address On Value of State's University Work.

BURNETT ON PROGRAM

Chancellor Stresses Need For Parents' Support Of Institution.

About 300 dads and their sons and daughters attended the Dad's day luncheon at the Lincoln chamber of commerce Saturday noon. The room was decorated with Oklahoma and Nebraska banners. Gov. Arthur J. Weaver delivered the main address. "Although we are proud of Nebraska for its material progress," he said, "we are more proud of her for developing such a fine educational institution, the peer of all the universities in the country." The governor praised the high standards and ideals of the university, declaring that upon the work it was doing depended the quality of the citizens of tomorrow. He urged all of the visiting dads to visit the new state capitol building during their stay in the city.

Burnett Gives Talk.
Chancellor E. A. Burnett stated that after glancing over the group of assembled fathers he was sure that the university students had the right kind of heritage to make them successful in college and in life. He urged the dads to look at the university critically and if they discovered anything of which they did not approve to bring the matter to the attention of the school authorities. He said that he wanted the father of every Nebraska student to be a real booster for the institution.

The merits of the city of Lincoln as a location for a university were expounded by Frank Eage, president of the Lincoln chamber of commerce. He invited the dads to keep their eyes open and see if they could discover anything in the city that would be detrimental to the morals of his son or daughter. He stated that the city of Lincoln realized its great responsibility and was ready at all times to cooperate with the university authorities in fostering anything that would be to their advantage.

"You may hear people say that the students are a bunch of rowdies," he said, "but when you do remember that the people of Lincoln consider their contact with them as the city's greatest asset." Dean T. J. Thompson declared that he believed that Nebraska had the finest group of young men and women of any school in the country.

GOLD AWARDS KEYS TO BIZAD STUDENTS

Lincoln Business Man Gives Ten Prizes to Class Of Last Year

Ten freshmen of the 1928-29 term were awarded gold keys by William Gold, prominent Lincoln business man, at the annual honor convocation of the college of business administration held Friday, Nov. 8. These names were previously omitted from publication.

The winners were Marie Adams, Herman; Paul Freeman, Stromsburg; Dorothy McCall, Alliance; Leonard Nelson, Lincoln; Gerald Phillips, Basin, Wyo.; Herman Sierka, Pickering; Helen Smith, Juniata; Turner L. Smith, Hastings; Clarice L. Vance, Omaha, and Helen C. Vogt, Lincoln.

In addition to being elected to membership of Gamma Epsilon Pi, Miss Catherine Brown of Deadwood, S. D. was awarded the Phi Chi Theta key which was awarded on a basis of scholarship and being chosen as a representative junior girl in the college.

Student Directories Will Be Out Monday

Students may obtain university directories Monday, according to the announcement of Robert Verner, editor of the 1929-30 volumes. Copies will be sold at the usual price of fifty cents, and may be purchased in social sciences at any time Monday. Sellers will be stationed in the other buildings on the campus for part of the day only. The directories will be kept permanently in stock by the book stores.

PLAYERS TAKE HARD ROLES IN NEW PLAY

Lerner Handles Lead Part In 'John Ferguson' at Temple Theater.

OPENS FRIDAY EVENING

By Mozelle Kleeman.
Excellent portrayals of difficult roles marked the work of the University Players in "John Ferguson" which opened at the Temple theater Friday evening. W. Zolney Lerner carried the extremely difficult character part of John Ferguson with ease and confidence. With his deep, impressive voice he quoted God's words from the Bible like a true prophet. Indeed with his long white beard and white hair he resembled a modern conception of the great Moses.

Shows Finished Ability.
Mr. Lerner shows finished ability as an actor, and his presence on the stage seemed to give a firm foundation to the rest of the play. He was convincing in his part and grasped the very spirit of this old peasant farmer who believed that "weeping may endure for a night but joy cometh in the morning." Mr. Lerner lives his part on the stage and performs with an enthusiasm and smoothness which is commendable.

Doris Hosman as the daughter Hannah gave an admirable representation of the spirited young Irishwoman. Her part was an emotional one, but Miss Hosman was equal to it. Mercedes Ames as the wife, Sarah, and Joy Storm as the son, Andrew, also gave praiseworthy performances in heavy roles. Miss Ames made a typical Irish mother and her voice and brogue were natural.

BLUE PRINT WILL BE DISTRIBUTED MONDAY

Staff Places Sale Tables In Engineer Buildings As Headquarters.

Nineteen issues of the Nebraska Blue Print will go on sale Monday morning, according to John Clema, editor. Tables will be placed in the lower halls of the mechanical engineering and mechanic arts buildings where copies may be purchased.

The November issue contains "A Second Report on the Hudson River Bridge by Willard Damm. This is a report of the work completed since January 1, 1928. Ralph S. Mueller, Electrical Engineering '28, contributed "Business as a Career," in which he tells the advantages of a business over a profession.

"Some Interesting Facts Regarding Electric Power Used in Western Mines," an article written by E. B. Sawyer, electrical engineering '28, has special significance for all metallurgical and electrical engineers. Other articles of interest are "Long Range Photography," by Marvin Von Seggern and "Photographs Transmitted on a Beam of Light," by John Clema.

Dean O. J. Ferguson gives a discussion of street traffic troubles and explains the plans carried out in some cities in overcoming these troubles. The Blue Print has an attractive modernistic cover showing the Nebraska state capitol on a blue background.

KLUB FORECASTS SWEETHEART TO GET LARGE VOTE

Kosmet Election Will Take Place Monday Outside Social Sciences.

ELECTIONEERING BEGINS

Meister and Stotts Leave Competition Because of Ineligibility.

A large vote is expected to be cast at the Kosmet Klub election of Nebraska sweetheart Monday, according to Carl J. Hahn, production manager of the club. Election will be held in front of social sciences and polls will be open from 9 to 5 o'clock. All male students are eligible to vote but must have identification cards with them.

Hahn stated that rumors circulating about the campus Saturday indicated that a good deal of electioneering will be done by the different fraternities having candidates entered. Several organizations have expressed their intention of backing certain favorite candidates, he said.

Two Coeds Withdraw.
Helen Meister, a Delta Gamma, and Evelyn Stotts, Delta Delta Delta, have withdrawn from the contest because of ineligibility, Hahn said. Neither were declared ineligible on account of grades. They had not met with the university hour requirement for entrance into activities, however. The requirement is twenty-seven hours (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

BIZAD BOARD PLANS ALL-COLLEGE DINNER

Ticket Sale Will Start in Social Sciences for Annual Affair.

Tickets will go on sale Monday on the third floor of social sciences for the annual dinner sponsored by the student executive board of the college of business administration. The plate charge is seventy-five cents.

The dinner is a yearly affair to promote spirit in the bizad college. More than 100 students and members of the faculty will attend the affair, according to predictions of George Holt, who is in charge of arrangements.

All organizations of the college, including Phi Chi Theta, Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Kappa Psi, Gamma Commercial club and Mens Com, pledged their entire support to the dinner to be held at the Annex cafe. Several special speakers will give toasts, and music will be provided for entertainment.

METHODIST STUDENTS STAGE PIGSKIN PARTY

About 400 From Nebraska And Wesleyan Attend Friday Affair.

More than 400 students attended the all Methodist Pigskin party Friday evening in the agricultural college student activities building. About 300 Methodist students were from the University of Nebraska and one hundred from Wesleyan university.

Early in the evening Coach Dana K. Bible was introduced and expressed himself very much at home in Nebraska because of the welcome he had received. He said every team he played this year has pointed for Nebraska. The failure or success of the teams has been determined by the result of the clash with Nebraska.

The games of the evening were all featured in football gridiron style with opportunity for a touchdown every few moments of play. In a brief formal program following the games Miss Bernice Hoffman, president of the Methodist student council, introduced Dr. M. E. Gilbert who told how Nebraska Wesleyan helped Nebraska to win a Missouri Valley championship in 1898 when football had been outlawed at Wesleyan.

Verne Livingston read a dialectic version of football. Miss Ruth Carr of Wesleyan responded to the greeting of Miss Bernice Hoffman. W. C. Fawell, Methodist university pastor, and W. Edgar Gates, treasurer of the Wesley foundation, were introduced and spoke of the future events in the Methodist student program. The representatives of the three churches sponsoring the party were introduced. For the first church, Miss (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

Delinquency Slips Will Appear Nov. 23

Delinquency slips for students who have incomplete or conditioned work will not be mailed before Saturday, Nov. 23, according to T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs. Thompson stated it would be impossible to mail them before that time since reports from the instructors will not be made to the central office until Monday, Nov. 18.

NEW AWGWAN WILL BE PUT OUT FRIDAY

Sigma Delta Chi Continues Sales Campaign With Ten Cent Price.

PRINT LARGER NUMBER

The November issue of the Awgwan will be released for sale on the campus early Friday morning, Nov. 22. Ray Murray, editor of the magazine, declared Saturday night. The price will remain ten cents. Members of Sigma Delta Chi will sell the magazine from booths at five places on and around the campus.

Harl Andersen, director of sales, expects to maintain booths in front of social sciences all day and in the morning at the Davis coffee shop, in the main library building, of teachers college and Andrews hall.

The last issue of the magazine was sold out six hours after it was released, a total of 1,000 copies being distributed. Many more could have been disposed of had they been printed. As a result of this demand 1,500 copies of the formal number will be released.

The formal idea in anticipation of the opening of the formal season with the Military ball, will be carried throughout the magazine. Features in the Awgwan will be short jokes, a poetry page and a novelty feature on "What it means to hang a fraternity pin, and the origin of custom."

The art work in this issue is reported to be of exceptional merit. It was done under the direction of Phil Warner, art editor, with the assistance of Ruth Haley, Katherine Ashford, Paul Benson, Bill Beecham, Frank Roehl, and Dale Swenson. The cover was done by Miss Haley, and is different from the usual run of covers on college humor magazines.

Contributors to the short jokes, which will occupy most of the space in the magazine, are Dean Johnson, Roger Robinson, Lowell Davis, Don Carlson, Betty Wahlquist, Gene Allen, Norman Gallagher, Robert Kelly and others.

VETERAN OF WAR TALKS ON PEACE WHILE IN LINCOLN

Clark M. Eichenberger, former soldier and veteran of the World war, addressed students and others interested in problems of world peace at a dinner meeting held Friday evening at 6 o'clock. Mr. Eichenberger discussed questions pertaining to the league of nations and the world court. He is official executive secretary of the league association for the midwest, and stopped in Lincoln on his way from Omaha to Denver.

Mr. Eichenberger, addressed class groups at Cotnam Friday morning, and spoke at a special luncheon at Nebraska Wesleyan university Friday noon. Wesleyan debaters are to discuss the League of Nations in their contests this winter, and were especially interested in what the speaker had to say. At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Mr. Eichenberger spoke before Miss Reynoldson's history class.

TOTALS INDICATE SMALL INCREASE OF ENROLLMENT

Records From Registrar's Office Show Fifty-One More Students

MANY COLLEGES GROW

Cornhusker School Boasts Attendance of 6,484 Undergraduates

An increase of fifty-one students over the enrollment for last year is shown by the figures recently released from the registrar's office. Six thousand four hundred eighty-four students were enrolled in the university last year on Nov. 8 and 6,535 are listed at the present time in the various colleges of the university.

All the colleges except four, the college of arts and sciences, college of law, college of pharmacy, and the teachers college, show increases in enrollment. The largest increases were made by the colleges of business administration, agriculture and the graduate college.

Bizad Makes Record.
The bizad enrollment increased from 672 to 736, making the largest gain of any college of the university. Girls are evidently taking a greater interest in business as the number of women enrolled in the college increased from 85 to 100. Graduate college stands second in gain with an increase from 346 to 398. The number of women in this college fell from 153 to 144.

Third place in increased enrollment is taken by the college of agriculture, which made a gain of forty-two. The enrollment increased from 562 to 604, which gives no proof to the belief that college people are becoming divorced from the farm.

Engineers Gain Twenty-eight.
The college of engineering made a gain of twenty-eight, its enrollment increasing from 694 to 722. The number of women registered in the college decreased from four to three. A gain of six students was made by the school of fine arts. Five hundred and eight students were enrolled in 1928 and the present enrollment is 514, 77 of whom are men and 437 women.

MEAT JUDGES LEAVE FOR NATIONAL MEET

Four Women From College Of Agriculture Make Kansas City Trip.

The home economics meat judging team, college of agriculture, University of Nebraska, left Saturday department has coached under the American royal livestock show contest sponsored by the national livestock and meat board.

The girls on the team are: Myrtle Greenlund, Clifton, Kan.; Anna Brackett, Lincoln; Emma Lou Michaelson, Columbus, and Nell Trenkle, Alliance. Miss May Mackintosh of the foods and nutrition department will accompany the girls. The contest is scheduled for Monday.

W. J. Loeffel of the animal husbandry team. Mrs. Louis Hall, formerly Louise Genung, who was high member of the team last year, has assisted Mr. Loeffel throughout the workouts. Miss Mackintosh and Miss Winnie Powell, a member of the team last year, have also aided the judging team in the training contests.

THIRTY TASSELS MAY GET MANHATTAN TRIP

Coed Pep Organization Wins Cornhusker Contest For Journey.

About thirty women from the Tassels, pep organization, are to attend the football game at Manhattan, Kan., it was decided at the last Tassel meeting. Through winning the yearbook prize of fifty dollars, and from the money made by selling red feathers, this trip has been made possible, according to Edna Schrick, president.

SOUTHERNERS GET EARLY TOUCHDOWN

Nebraska Plunges Away From Sooners After Starting Counter to Lead 13 to 7 at Gun on First Quarter; Both Teams Use Passes.

CAPTAIN FARLEY GOES THROUGH FOR TALLIES

Approximately 10,000 People, Season's Smallest Crowd, Witness Big Six Encounter Which Leaves Conference Lineup Minus Change.

BY JACK ELLIOTT.
Nebraska's Cornhuskers, minus the services of Clair Sloan, played the Oklahoma Sooners to a 13 to 13 standstill in Saturday's Big Six conference game on Memorial stadium field. A crowd of 12,000 fans watched the annual Dad's day game which represented the smallest football crowd of the season in Nebraska's stadium. As in all the games this season the Cornhuskers were forced to come from behind early in the game and with the powerful work of a fast Nebraska backfield, the Scarlet from Lincoln rolled up a total of thirteen points before the gun ended the first quarter.

CORNHUSKER PICTURE DEADLINE IS REACHED

Bailey Offers Special Time To Students Who Get His Permission

HAVE 1100 PHOTOGRAPHS

Cornhusker picture deadline went into effect Saturday at 5 o'clock and will not be extended, according to Arthur Bailey, editor of the yearbook. Bailey stated that he was pleased with the junior and senior response in having their photographs taken in the last two weeks.

Although the picture deadline went into effect Saturday, for the benefit of those who were working or found it impossible to have their photograph taken before the Saturday deadline, a limited number may have their pictures taken up to Wednesday at 5 o'clock by obtaining permission from both the Cornhusker editor and the studio. No junior or senior pictures at all will be taken after Wednesday, according to Bailey.

Six hundred and fifty junior and senior pictures have been taken in the last two weeks which bring the total number of pictures taken so far close to 1,100, Bailey said. According to the yearbook editor all proofs of photographs must be returned to Hauck's or Townsends' studios before Saturday night, Nov. 23.

Marjorie Williams, '30, Omaha, has been appointed to associate editorship of the Cornhusker, according to an announcement made Saturday by the editor.

PARTY HELD BY CATHOLICS HAS FIFTY COUPLES

Fifty couples attended the Catholic student club party at the Knights of Pythias hall Friday evening, with Francis Sherman's orchestra providing music. Decorations were in Nebraska colors, scarlet and cream. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kidwell, Gertrude Goering, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Obrist and Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Clark were chaperons.

FALL SCHOONER GETS OFF PRESS SATURDAY

Literary Magazine Contains Many Short Stories, Poems, Essays.

Fall edition of the Prairie Schooner, literary magazine of Nebraska, is expected to go on sale at Lincoln newsstands Monday afternoon, according to Prof. L. C. Wimberly, editor. The magazine was off press Saturday morning and was ready to be attached.

Various short stories, poems and essays by students and faculty of the university and by prominent midwestern writers, will appear in the fall issue. Authors among the faculty include Martin Peterson, instructor in English, who writes the midwestern section. Instructor Charles Lindsay, of the history department, has written an article on pioneer Wyoming entitled "Arland: A Cowboy's Paradise."

L. C. Wimberly of the English department and editor of the Schooner, has written his usual "Ox Cart" and also an article on red headed people. Among the student authors, or those who have been students at Nebraska, are: Richard House, who has contributed a poem called "I Remind a Lady"; Mable Langdon, who has two poems entitled "Autumnals"; Thelma Sealock, "The Lamp," a short story; Gerald V. Lambert has an essay on "The Habit of Taking Baths."

Various midwestern authors have also contributed to the fall edition. Foremost among these is Mrs. Josephine Spencer, author of "Olaf's Freedom," a short story. Gilbert Doane, of the university library, appears with an essay on the gentle art of handwriting. Loren Eiseley, a promising young poet, is author of "Poison Oak." A short story of "Poison Oak" and a poem by Maude Sumner Smith and a poem by Nels Arnold complete the fall number.

Tryouts for new members will be held in the near future. The exact date to be announced later in The Daily Nebraskan.
