

OXFORD DEBATE TEAM CREATES MUCH INTEREST

High School Delegations Are Planning to Hear Nebraska Contest.

TRIO ARRIVE THURSDAY

Debaters From Doane Will Also Hear Oxford Team Meet Nebraska.

Large delegations from neighboring high schools are expected to attend the Oxford debate at the St. Paul church Thursday evening, Nov. 21, according to Dr. H. A. White, professor of English. Students from as far away as Hartington attended Sidney debate last year.

Twenty-five members of the Doane college debate squad have already ordered tickets. Dr. White announced that the doors at the church will be opened at 7 o'clock and that the speaking is scheduled to start a half hour later.

The Oxford debaters, who appear at Hastings college, Wednesday night, will come to Lincoln Thursday morning. They will attend a luncheon in their honor given by the Knife and Fork club at the Lincoln hotel. Dr. White, who is president of the Knife and Fork club, stated that other special guests including the Nebraska debaters had been invited to the luncheon.

No Decision Given.

To meet the wishes of the Oxford men, who prefer no decision debating, there will be no formal decision either by judges or by the audience, according to Dr. White. One-half hour will be allowed for an open forum in which the audience may take part and put questions to the debaters.

Speaking from the floor will be limited to three minutes. The debaters will appear in business suits. The first affirmative and first negative speakers will appear (Continued on Page 3.)

SECOND INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE CLOSES

Over Fifty Delegates Attend Meetings on State Farm Campus.

More than fifty delegates from Nebraska high schools and colleges were present at the second annual conference on industrial arts and trade and industrial education, at the college of agriculture which closed Saturday.

An outstanding talk of the conference was given by L. H. Alberty, supervisor of the industrial education at Lincoln high school. He stressed the fact that the subject material in industrial education must be directly related to practical industry to be successful.

H. E. Bradford, professor of the University of Nebraska, spoke before the conference on "Teaching Related Subjects." He also put special stress on the success of teaching related subjects in all schools.

The closing address of the conference was given by Dr. Homer Smith of the University of Minnesota on "Some Matters in Conflict."

Students Use Grummam Mythology Pamphlet

Students in the school of fine arts are making use of the new pamphlet that was issued early in the fall by Prof. Paul H. Grummam, director of the school, dealing with "Northern Mythology." In the foreword, Professor Grummam points out that many people fail to delve into their own Mythology, looking to Greek and Hebraic lore instead. This study explains northern gods and symbols.

'Smiths' Lose Lead in University to 'Johnsons,' Swedes Win First Again

There are ten "King's" in the new yellow backed student directory—and there are no "Queen's." But that is as it should be because there are no "Queen's" but three students named "Mann" are listed. "Weeks" because there are only four "Day's."

Thirty-six states are represented, including the District of Columbia, and sixteen foreign countries. Iowa is the native state of the greatest number of non-Nebraskan Cornhuskers and there are several states with only one representative each.

More students come from the Philippine Islands than from any other country but there are students on the campus from British West Indies, Canada, Canal Zone, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, England, Greece, Hawaii, Holland, Japan, Korea, Russia and Switzerland as well.

"Johnsons" Have Lead. Contrary to popular opinion.

University Graduate Writes Season's Hit

"The Sandy Hooker," written by Fred Ballard, a graduate of the university in 1907, is the latest "hit" of the season over the footlights of eastern stages, according to press reports that have been received on the campus. This play opened in Philadelphia. "Ladies of the Jury," opening sometime ago in Baltimore, is playing in New York at the present time, with what looks like a year's run, Mr. Ballard writes.

GROUP OF RUSSIANS VISIT AG COLLEGE

Students From Abroad Are Making Study of Farm Methods Here.

A delegation of nine Russians with an interpreter is visiting the agricultural college campus. They represent the All-Union Collective Peasant Farming associations of Russia and are on an extensive tour of the United States. Farming conditions in this country are being studied by the Russians.

They are especially interested in use of modern machinery in farming and visited the department of agricultural engineering. Prof. E. E. Brackett, chairman of the department, conducted the visitors through the building and exhibited the machinery and explained its use.

Mr. Kovalev, who led the delegation, said that they hoped to learn something to take back to Russia which would help improve the general farming conditions. He said they were interested in tractor testing.

The Russians were received by Dr. T. A. Kieselbach, professor of agronomy. Dean W. W. Burr extended a welcome to the visitors, telling them he wished to make their visit profitable. They visited the poultry and animal husbandry departments Monday and will complete their visit today.

WOMEN VOTERS PLAN TEA FOR MEMBERSHIP

Governmental Group Expect About 200; Event Will Be Friday.

The University League of Women Voters will give a membership tea next Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. About 200 persons are expected to attend. In the receiving line will be Marie Herney who is president of the organization and Virginia Guthrie, membership chairman. Mrs. J. P. Senning will pour during the first hour and Mrs. Ellery Davis during the second. The tea table will be featured with a miniature Teapot Dome.

Clever slogans telling the purpose and activities will be hung throughout the rooms. Evelyn Adler is chairman of the committee for arranging the slogans. Dorothy Charlson and Francis Emaline will furnish music during the afternoon hours. Members of the cabinet will act as hostesses. They are Alice McMahon, Vera Waters, Berniece Hoffman and Evelyn Adler. Mrs. Maurice H. Merrill is sponsor of the organization. Every one interested is invited to attend.

Club Espanol Holds Meeting at 4 O'clock

Spanish songs, stories and music by the Spanish orchestra, will feature the meeting of the club Espanol tomorrow afternoon in room 5 of University hall. The Spanish orchestra has been organized and will present several selections at the meeting of the group. The program will be as follows:

Cielito Lindo, sung by the group; dialogue, Mary Sacchi and Miguel; conversation group; presentation of Spanish instructors; vocal duet, Hortense, Henderson and Emilio del Rosario; stories, Helen Baldwin, Zelele Barnhart, Eva Cales; orchestra selections, La Paloma, O Sole Mio and El Amante Vagabundo.

It is not uncommon to find several students having the same name and even sharing a common initial. For instance there are three Dorothy Weavers—two of them with the middle initial of "J" belong to the same sorority.

Among others are the three Russ Whites—two of them with the initial "V"; three Paul Whites and three Howard Millers.

WORK-OF PLAYERS PLEASES AUDIENCE

Lerner Stars in Successful Production by Student Dramatic Group.

ACTING BRINGS HUMOR

Appreciative audiences witnessed the Saturday and Monday night performances of "John Ferguson" given by the University Players at the Temple theater.

Much praise was bestowed upon the acting of W. Zolley Lerner who took the leading role of John Ferguson. Mr. Lerner portrays the part of an old peasant farmer to perfection. His long white beard and hair, his paternal voice, made him appear very fatherly. Mr. Lerner reads and quotes from the Bible in a truly patriarchal manner.

Doris Hosman, as Hannah, deserves special praise for the remarkable way in which she interpreted her part as the spirited young daughter who is wronged by the man holding the mortgage on the farm. Miss Hosman did not know until five days prior to the opening night that she would take the part. She knows an admirable aptitude for emotional parts.

Paul Miller as the half-wit beggar, "Clute" John won immediate favor. With his silly laugh, his unblinking stare, and his inopportune desire to play his "whistle" amuse the audience and help to lighten the otherwise gloomy tragedy.

BLUE PRINT COMES OUT AT NOON TODAY

November Issue Contains Many Short Articles by Staff.

The November issue of the Nebraska Blue Print will be released at noon today, according to John Clema, editor. Tables will be placed in the mechanic arts and mechanical engineering buildings where copies may be purchased.

Unlike other issues the November Blue Print contains a large number of short articles on recent discoveries in various lines of science. These articles include "Long Range Photography" by Marvin Von Seggern, "Photographs Transmitted on a Beam of Light" by John Clema, "Something New in Outdoor Switch Contacts" by E. B. Sawyer, and others. "A Second Report on the Hudson River Bridge," by Willard Dann, is a report of the progress made since Jan. 1, 1928.

Maj. Gen. James E. Felch's picture is shown on the cover. General Felch, mechanical engineering '29, is now one of the most active men in the United States Air Service.

BENGTSON WILL HEAD GEOGRAPHY MEETING

Lackey Is Also On Program Of National Convention In December.

Dr. N. A. Bengtson, chairman of the department of geography of Nebraska, will preside at the annual meeting of the National Council of Geography Teachers to be held at Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 27 and 28. Dr. Bengtson is president of this organization and also of the board of directors.

This meeting will be held in the museum of the Ohio Archeologist and Historical society. An exhibit of the Stone Age as well as various historical exhibits of Ohio, especially those of the mound builders, are to be found in this building. This meeting promises to be one of the most constructive that the National Council has ever held, according to bulletins sent out.

Bengtson Formulates Plans. President Bengtson has already formulated a preliminary program. Several members of the program are found to be either professors or professors of Nebraska university. One of the high spots of the program will be a presentation of "A Statistical Study of Correlation of Geography and American History in the United States," by Professor Earl E. Lackey of Nebraska.

This should prove especially interesting as Professor Lackey has been collecting data on this subject for the past two years. Dr. Bengtson stated. Other parts of the program given by men who formerly were instructors at Nebraska are: Friday, Dec. 27, 10 a. m. "Geographic Significance of Proposed Calendar Changes—Report of Special Committee," Prof. G. E. Harding, State Teachers College Calif., Penn., chairman.

At 2:00 p. m., "A Phase of the Industrial Geography of the Connecticut Valley Lowland" will be presented by Dr. Albert LaFleur, Ball Teachers College, Muncie, Ind., and "Discussion of the Introductory Course in Geography in the Liberal Arts College," will be given by Professor C. J. Posey, University of Kansas.

Bailey Grants Three Days Over Deadline

Permission must be obtained from the Cornhusker and an appointment made with the studio.

Bernice Hoffman, president of the Methodist student council, will preside at the luncheon. Between seventy-five and a hundred are expected to be present. Tickets may be reserved for thirty-five cents through any member of the council or by calling Wesley foundation, B3117.

SORORITIES WILL BE ASKED TO AID Y. W.

Staff Members Will Visit Each House and Ask For Quota.

Solicitation of organized houses, for a lump sum pledge to the Y. W. C. A., was discussed by the financial staff of the organization at its last regular weekly meeting and decided upon as the method for securing their financial quota.

Girls in each house, who are actively interested in the Y. W. C. A., have volunteered to be responsible for the house in which they live and are planning individual campaigns by which they intend to secure pledges from every girl in their house. Staff members will visit houses which are not represented on the staff and explain to the girls there the opportunity for wider friendship which is offered them by this organization.

Sue Hall, president of the university association, states that the money which is being pledged in this campaign is for the most part used to finance the program here on the campus. Only a small part is sent to national headquarters.

Money secured in this campaign enables the organization to provide a schedule of activities which assist the new girl to form campus friendships. According to staff members, girls who have been on the campus before, recognize the value and show their appreciation of them by their contributions.

STUDENT DIRECTORY HAS SIZABLE SALES

Booths in Campus Building Handle Distribution of Publication.

COVERS ARE IN YELLOW

Student directories for the year 1929-30 were placed on sale yesterday, at the usual price of 50 cents per copy. They can be obtained at any time today or Wednesday at booths in Social Sciences, in the university Y. M. C. A., or in the book stores near the campus. For a few hours during the day, the books will be sold at other buildings on the campus.

Bound in an unusual shade of yellow, this year's directory lists all students both alphabetically and according to home town or state. Members of the faculty, and of literary, social and professional societies are also listed in the volume. A list of organization presidents, with addresses and telephone numbers, is included.

Approximately four hundred copies of the directory were sold Monday. The first day of the sales campaign. Those in charge of sales expect to distribute a total of 2,000, according to Robert C. Fifth place was taken by the University of Nebraska grain judging team at the American Royal exposition in Kansas City. Nebraska livestock judging team placed fifth. The grain judging contest was divided into three sections: grain judging, commercial grading of grain, hay and cotton, and the identification of 180 varieties of crops and weeds. Nebraska took second place in all commercial grading of grain, hay and cotton.

Gooding of the department of agronomy coached the team, assisted by Antone Frolik.

Fifteen teams were entered in the livestock judging contest, which included horses, cattle, hogs and sheep. Nebraska took fourth place in sheep judging. Glenn Hedlund, Chappell, was the eighth highest man in the judging of all livestock. Edward Janike, David City, stood second in horse judging, and George Adams, Gandy, took second place in judging cattle.

The other members of the team were J. Russell Batie, Lexington; Bernard Barnes, Loretto, and Raymond Nixon, Fairfield. This team was coached by W. W. Derrick, of the department of animal husbandry.

GEOLOGY GRADUATE RETURNS TO LINCOLN

Murray Roper, former student in the university geology department, and now associated with the American Museum of Natural History has returned to Lincoln to assist members of that department in a test on a long jawed elephant of the Arambold species, on the group from the collection of the late Hon. Charles Morrill. Mr. Roper will return to New York City the latter part of this week.

LaSelle Gilman Gets National Recognition

"The Return," a short story written by LaSelle Gilman for the summer number of The Prairie Schooner, has been placed on the honor roll by E. J. O'Brien, internationally known short story critic, in his publication "The Best Short Stories of 1930," according to a letter received yesterday by Dr. L. G. Wimberly. Gilman's story was honored with three stars, the highest rating given by Mr. O'Brien. Gilman is the first Nebraska student to win such recognition.

JOURNALISTS SECURE BANQUET SPEAKERS

McCleery, Day, Robb and Carlson Will Talk at News Dinner.

RARE POTTERY WORK IS FOUND AT ARCHER

Blackman Receives Picture Of Relic Which Is 500 Years Old.

A photograph of a specimen of Pawnee Indian pottery judged to be nearly 500 years old was sent to E. E. Blackman, curator of the Nebraska State Historical society by a resident of Archer, Neb., who states that a friend found the old pot a few miles southwest of Archer, Neb., at a point along Prairie creek where it washes into a high bank.

The pot holds nearly a gallon and is in good state of preservation with the exception of a small chip broken from the bottom. The donor of this photograph in his letter stated that if the Historical society is not in possession of such a specimen he will turn it over to the museum at an early date.

The specimen is very old as borne out by the fact that when the Indian tribes came in contact with the whites they secured metal pots from them, and as a result only three specimens of Pawnee pottery of this type have been found.

Mr. Blackman intends to go to Archer in the near future to examine the pot and make negotiations to bring it back to Lincoln.

EPISCOPAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS SUNDAY EVENING

Members of the university Episcopal club held a waffle supper in the club rooms in the basement of the university Episcopal church Sunday evening, Nov. 17.

Following the supper a program was given, consisting of two vocal solos by Leo Bennett, accompanied by Paul Thompson, a series of readings by Joe di Natali, and several harp solos by Carroll Wirtz.

After the entertainment officers were elected for the ensuing year. Those chosen were: President, Jerry Michel; vice president, Dave Johnson, and secretary, E. McKim. The Episcopal club is a branch of the national student council of the Episcopal church, which is represented in 104 universities and colleges in this country.

First Production by Players Was Comedy; Current Play Is Serious

BY THE CRITIC.

The University Players opened their current season two weeks ago with a highly successful comestances touches his own son, old John relents. When the life of his own son hangs in the balance, he urges flight, flight away from the moral code of immemorial ages. For however compelling is the written law, the love of father for son is supreme. The penetrating subtlety of St. John Irvine's drama develops this situation neatly and consistently.

MALE STUDENTS CAST 500 VOTES FOR COED QUEEN

Identity of Successful One Will Not Be Known Until Thanksgiving.

FIVE GIRLS COMPETE

Kosmet Klub Hastens Work On Acts For Turkey Day Revue.

In spite of inclement weather approximately 500 votes were cast by male students in the Nebraska sweetheart election Monday, according to Carl J. Hahn, production manager of Kosmet Klub.

Votes were counted by a certified public accountant yesterday upon the closing of polls at 5 o'clock and the sweetheart's identity learned by club members. This identity will not be made public however until the sweetheart is presented in Kosmet Klub's Thanksgiving Morning revue.

The sweetheart will be crowned as princess of King Kosmet's Royal court Thanksgiving morning and will preside as queen of the court next year. Her picture will also occupy a full page in the 1930 Cornhusker in a newly created "queen's section." Ruth Hilton was last year's sweetheart and will act as queen this year. The five candidates for sweetheart were Marie Herney, Phi Mu, Dorothy Tow, Chi Omega; Jeanette May, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Fayette Norris, Pi Beta Phi, and Lucille Carrothers, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Announcement has been made by club members that the morning show will be held in the Liberty theater. Besides Ruth Hilton as queen, Nebraska's sweetheart, and the different organization acts and curtain skits, the cast will be headed by Roger Robinson as king, Russell Mattson as master of ceremonies, and Maxine Mathers, who will present a medley of former Kosmet show tunes. All three of the latter mentioned were in the cast of the morning show last year.

Carl J. Hahn, William T. McCleery, and Russell Mattson are working on a continuity for the revue and the first rehearsal of the entire show is to be held Thursday night.

COEDS PLAN ANNUAL KINDERGARTEN PARTY

Students Will Dress in Kid Costumes; Good Program Is Planned.

The dinner is an annual event sponsored by the kindergarten and primary department, and serves both as a social recreation and a means by which the girls may become better acquainted. It is one of the social events of the department.

Kid costumes are to be worn. Kid games will be played, and kid actions are to be observed at the party. A program following the dinner will consist of a tap dance by Blanche Theldon, Carol Hutchinson will sing, and Helene Perry will give a reading. A special stunt will be presented. A grand march will conclude the evening, and a prize will be awarded for the best costume.

Gertrude Carpenter is in charge of the plans for the party. Betty Wahlquist is publicity chairman. Helen Seymour is in charge of the entertainment, and Mary Beard is in charge of decorations. All students in the kindergarten and primary department are invited to the dinner. Tickets are available in any education class.

LEGAL PUNCTILIOS OF THE MOESIA CODE

Drama Develops. But when the force of circumstances touches his own son, old John relents. When the life of his own son hangs in the balance, he urges flight, flight away from the moral code of immemorial ages. For however compelling is the written law, the love of father for son is supreme. The penetrating subtlety of St. John Irvine's drama develops this situation neatly and consistently.

The work of Zolley Lerner in the difficult role of John Ferguson is splendid, in the best style which has characterized most of the leads in productions of the University Players. His smooth dramatic technique is a tower of strength on the Players' stage. He was a convincing old man. Mr. Lerner's portrayal of John Ferguson may (Continued on Page 3.)
