Charles Tulka, and Jerry Formacek, the foreign visitors, are making a trip around the world and reporting their experiences, together with accounts of customs in different lands, for the press service of Prague, Czechoslovakia.

PLAYERS' SHOW PUTS TEARS IN MANY EYES

Sadness of 'John Ferguson' Changes Appearances of Theater Fans.

HAS DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

Red eyes and red noses around the campus are evidence of the effective presentation of St. John Ervine's four act drama, "John Ferguson," by the University Players at the Temple theater this week.

"John Ferguson" is a domestic tragedy which provides few laughs and many tears. It deals with the character portrayal of an old Irish farmer who is completely imbued with the idea that the Bible is the supreme and only law. W. Zolney Lerner handles this part with ease and finished acting ability. His representation of this old man who lets only his love for his son disturb his faith is genuine and impressive.

Hosman Gives Meaning.

Doris Hosman gives a real meaning to the role of the daughter, Hannah. Miss Hosman enters into her part with zeal and enthusiasm, and consequently makes a fine young Irish woman who is willing to sacrifice everything to keep her old father happy.

Paul Miller as the idiotic half wit, "Clutie" John McGrath, deserves praise for the way he handles a difficult role. His makeup is unusually good.

Two More Showings. The rest of the cast is composed of Mercedes Ames as Sarah Ferguson, Joy Storm as Andrew Ferguson, Edwin Quinn as James Caesar, Richard Page as Henry Withrow, Paul Thompson as Sam Mayhew, and Maxwell Jones as Sergeant Kernaghan.

Only two more performances will be given. The curtain rises promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Single admission tickets may be obtained for the price of seventy-five cents.

BARB COUNCIL IS PREPARING THIRD UNIVERSITY PARTY

Program Includes Dancing And Vaudeville for Saturday Night.

CONTRACT DECORATIONS

Committee Will Attempt To Place Canopy Over Coliseum Ceiling.

A varied program of dancing and vaudeville stunts will be the feature of the third All-university party, to be held at the university coliseum, Saturday evening, beginning at 8:15 p. m.

Something entirely new in favor of the party, these favors, the nature of which has not been announced by the committee in charge, have never been used at a university party. Nebraska colors and a representation of the Cornhusker spirit will be displayed in the tokens, which are being sent directly from New York City.

Will Shoot Favors.

A specially constructed gun will be employed in the distribution, with favors being shot out over the crowds, according to Alan Williams, chairman of the barb council.

As a part of the decoration scheme, an attempt will be made to canopy the ceiling. When this is completed the lighting effect will be somewhat similar to that of a theater, giving a soft light.

Engage Herb Smith.

Music will be furnished by Herb Smith's orchestra. Dancing will begin at 8:15 p. m., with the program of short vaudeville acts given in the middle of the evening.

The party Saturday will be the third of a series of All-university parties given under the direction of the barb council. Attendance at each of the first two parties, according to the committee, has assured the popularity of the series. The parties are open to all university students.

CORN COBS PREPARE TO INCREASE SPIRIT

Pep Club Swings Into Action With 'Beat K-Aggies' As Battle Cry.

CONDUCT MANY RALLIES

Corn Cobs will get into full swing today in preparation for the Kansas Aggie game Saturday at Manhattan with the cry "Beat K-Aggies!" At the meeting last night definite plans were formulated to instill true Cornhusker spirit which Nebraska coaches claim is lacking.

Members of the organization will wear Corn Cob sweaters today and tomorrow, with full uniform including white trousers on Friday. Rallies will be conducted between classes in front of social sciences and singing in classes will be begun by the "gloom chasers."

Cancel Hour Dances.

Sororities are being called by members of the pep club in an effort to cancel all hour dances Friday evening, to allow full attendance at the gigantic bonfire rally which is being planned. Representatives of the Corn Cobs will visit all sorority houses tonight during dinner, asking for whole-hearted support in backing the football team and beating the K-Aggies, thus establishing Nebraska at the lead in the Big Six scoring column.

In an effort to instill fighting spirit into the football team, Nebraska students will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in front of social sciences where the university band will lead the procession to the gridiron where "Mike" Charters, yell king, will lead loyal Nebraskaans in cheering Bible's fighting Cornhuskers.

Lead Bonfire Move.

To build a bonfire and pile it high on the drill field and are asking that all students co-operate in bringing wood boxes and burnable materials to the drill field tomorrow and Friday.

The Friday dinner rally will probably be conducted at both fraternity and sorority houses to rouse the student body, insuring the football team that Nebraska students want them to beat the K-Aggies. Spirit on the Manhattan campus is high, their team having pointed for the Saturday conflict.

Sigma Delta Chi Continues Distribution Plan for November Issue.

Plans are being made by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, for the sale of 700 copies of the November Awgwan upon its release Friday morning at 8 o'clock. This is an increase of 500 over the number of October Awgwans sold by the fraternity, according to Earl Anderson, director of sales.

Eight hundred of this month's issue will be used for advertising, fraternity blocs, and subscriptions, leaving 700 individual copies to be sold. The November magazine will be featured by a novel black and white cover page and a back page that was printed in New York.

A headquarters booth for the sale of the magazine will be constructed in front of social sciences. Sales will be made from this starting at 8 and ending at 4 o'clock. Booths will also be maintained at the Davis Coffee shop, teachers college, and main library from 8 to 12 o'clock, and at Andrews hall from 10 to 2 o'clock. All books for other booths will be checked out of the main stand in front of social sciences, however. Both active and pledged members of Sigma Delta Chi will assist with the sales.

The problem of obtaining employment for graduating members will be one of the main topics. COEDS GET COLISEUM FOR INTRAMURAL DAY

Gish Offers Use of Building To Women's Athletics For This Week.

The coliseum will be used for the activities of the first part of the coed sports day program, instead of the women's gymnasium. The athletic department is glad to have girls use the coliseum, and get as many people interested in it as possible, stated Herb Gish, director of athletics.

This is not merely talk or "balleyboos" for the Kansas Aggies have never beaten Nebraska. A total of thirteen games have been played by the two teams and of these Nebraska won twelve and tied one.

Arouse Spirit. Besides contributing the placards, innocents and members of the coaching staff are making great efforts to arouse the spirit of the Nebraska students. Spirit is the poorest this season that it has been for many years, according to John "Choppy" Rhodes, head freshman coach. He stated that the student body has just as much to do with winning a game as the team itself.

White, and it is entitled, "Decisions in Debate."

JOURNALISM BANQUET WILL INCLUDE AWARD

Committee Plans to Give Sigma Delta Chi Cup In Dinner Affair.

FOR BEST NEWS STORY

The award of Sigma Delta Chi's cup for the best news story of the second semester of 1928-29 will be made at the annual school of journalists dinner at the Annex cafe at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. According to members of the Sigma Delta Chi committee selecting the best news story, several honorable mentions, as well as first, second and third places will be announced at that time. Gene Robb, president of the journalistic fraternity, will make the presentation of the cup which is now the property of Earl N. Andersen. The award to Andersen was made last spring when his account of Tolso's address in Lincoln was judged the best for the first semester of the year.

On the program for the evening will be synthetic "William Randolph Hearst" who will serve as toastmaster. Bill McCleery will impersonate Will Rogers in his campus remarks. O. O. McIntyre's column, "New York Day by Day," will be Stanley Day's subject. All students who are interested in journalism, whether or not they belong to the school, may attend the dinner. Grumann Speaks to York Women's Club

Prof. P. H. Grumann of the Fine Arts college addressed the York women's club there last Friday on the subject of "Operas." This is the second lecture in a series which will be given to that organization by Professor Grumann this winter.

'They Never Have, They Never Will' Is Slogan Adopted for Aggie Game

"They never have and they never will" declared the university coaching staff yesterday in reference to the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska game Saturday. To back up their assertion the innocents society had this printed on placards in the form of a slogan and these will be distributed about the campus this morning.

This is not merely talk or "balleyboos" for the Kansas Aggies have never beaten Nebraska. A total of thirteen games have been played by the two teams and of these Nebraska won twelve and tied one.

Because so much significance has been attached to school spirit which Nebraska evidently lacks this year, members of the coaching staff and of the innocents society are making the rounds of all fraternity houses in an effort to stir up enthusiasm over the approaching grid battle. "Choppy" Rhodes in addressing the fraternities stated, "Students at Nebraska do not seem to realize that the game between Nebraska and Kansas Aggies next Saturday will decide the Big Six title. Whoever wins this game will be champion of the Big Six conference. The Aggies are already two touchdowns ahead of us. Besides that, Manhattan students have been rallying down there for the past two weeks and whenever they see a chance to go out and encourage their team they take it. The Aggies have one of the strongest teams in years this fall and they are pointing for Nebraska. This will be no toss-up game Saturday. But Nebraska students act as though this were simply another football game—nothing to get concerned about. The team needs a strong student support and they've got to have it if they win that game Saturday."

"They never have and they never will" the slogan will be used on a sendoff rally for the team Thursday night and members of the innocents society hope it will stir up enough loyalty in Cornhusker students so that a little enthusiasm really will be evinced.

HUSKERS EXPECT SPIRIT TO REACH PEAK OF SEASON

Students Wake Up to Fact That K-Aggie Game Is Most Important.

RALLIES START TODAY

Pep Demonstrations Before Social Sciences Begin At 10 O'clock.

By the Rally Man. Cornhusker spirit is expected to be at its height throughout the remainder of the week as University of Nebraska students inspire their Cornhusker football team to take its second Big Six championship at the fair of the Kansas Aggie Wildcats at Manhattan Saturday.

Students on the campus have just begun to realize the importance of the oncoming clash with the Wildcats and are also aware that the coming title battle is the real game of the season which decides Nebraska's fate for the 1929 football season. Games with Notre Dame in the past years have always been preceded by great outbursts of student pep and enthusiasm but the Aggie game in the conference this week means more to Nebraska's student body than any inter-sectional battle Nebraska has ever played.

Pep Finds Outlet.

Today at 10 o'clock student pep finds its outlet and will not be quieted until the mighty Cornhuskers leave Manhattan Saturday night with one more victory over the Wildcats from the Kansas school. Impromptu rallies starting after (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

NEBRASKA STUDENTS BUY KANSAS TICKETS

Selleck's Office Forecasts Large Husker Crowd at Manhattan.

Nebraska students who intend to follow the Cornhuskers when they go to Manhattan, Kans., Saturday in quest of a Big Six grid title already have started to buy their tickets, a report from the office of John K. Selleck, manager of student activities, showed today.

So far, the number to purchase the pasteboards is under the hundred mark, but a big increase is looked for soon, according to those in the office. No estimate of the possible number could be obtained, but tickets up to any amount will be available.

The tickets are being sold for $2.50, and are for reserved seats in the stadium. The Nebraska band, Corn Cobs, Tassels, and the team will make the trip to insure adequate Cornhusker spirit.

The train will leave at 6:55 o'clock Saturday morning, rather than at 7:10 as was previously planned, Herbert Gish, athletic director, announced today. Every man on the varsity squad, all of the "Nubbins" who are eligible, and all freshmen who have been out regularly, are up in 12 hours, and did not go to Oklahoma, will make the trip.
