BIZAD STUDENTS ATTEND ANNUAL COLLEGE DINNER

(Continued from Page One) ber of the college faculty, ever since the college was established. Chancellor E. A. Burnett, was present and gave a short talk at the close of the program. Unique menu cards were made by Catherine Brown, chairman of the program committee. Take-offs were printed on the cards concerning various members of the faculty and on the students of the college. A humorous account of Dean LeRossignol's trip on Armistice day, to Kansas, where he participated in a chess tournament, was printed on the menus. Musical entertainment was provided by Dorothy Sturn, who whistled several selections. Miss Sturn was accompanied on the piano by Neva Neely.

The dinner was sponsored by the organizations of the college of business administration including Phi Chi Theta, Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Kappa Psi, Girls Commercial club, and Men's Commercial club. George Holt was chairman of the committee in charge. He was assisted by Catherine Brown and Glen Reichenbach.

TESTS INDICATE FAULTY READING CAUSES FAILURES

The teachers college high school is making an attempt to attack the problem of reading as a cause of college failures, by giving high school students a number of standardized reading tests during the year. In recent studies, college failures have been found to be caused to a great extent by the lack of reading ability of the student. This year the tests are being given to determine the general reading level, to be followed by diagnostic tests to discover individual needs.

Freshmen May Brave Harsh Winter Gales to Obtain Tickets for Revue

"Extra! Extra! Big News. Freshman's ears frozen off while waiting in line to buy revue tickets. Extreme cold causes ears to drop off in front of Liberty theater. People bring lunch and stand in front of the box office for hours in futile attempt to get tickets for show. Tickets at a premium. Show reputed best in years."

These are not the notes of a beginning headlines writer. It is expected by Kosmet Klub, however, that the extreme cold continues, something such as that pictured above might really happen. For several fraternities have already indicated their intention of sending freshmen down to buy tickets for the Kosmet Thanksgiving Morning revue when they are placed on sale Tuesday morning.

The club expects a full house at its show which deserves one if any ever did. A large cast from the various fraternities, sororities and other organizations on the campus has been enlisted to furnish a pro-
