NEBRASKA AWGWAN OUSTED

BOARD SWINGS AXE ON HUMOR SHEET

Chairman H. E. Bradford Calls Publication Moguls Together to Investigate Moral Status of 'Joke Book'; Destruction Follows.

BLAME UNWHOLESOMENESS AS MAJOR CAUSE

Official Magazine for Twenty Years Goes by Boards in Faculty Cleanup; Judiciary Group Places No Censorship on Editor or Staff.

BY BILL McGAFFIN

University of Nebraska Awgwan, humor magazine of the university for the past twenty-five years, was abolished at a special meeting of the student publication board Monday afternoon because of "objectionable material" contained in the November issue released last Friday.

The statement of the board in regard to its action was given by Chairman H. E. Bradford, head of the vocational education department. It read:

"By motion, the board has abolished the Awgwan as a publication of the university since it serves no useful purpose in the university. The November number which occasioned the discussion and discontinuance of the publication was but the culmination of a growing tendency in the Awgwan. The board wishes to lay no personal blame on the staff of the magazine. We have expressed no grievances and no action is being taken against either the editor or the remainder of the staff."

The Awgwan was under the sponsorship of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity. Gene S. Robb, president of the fraternity, stated last night that a resolution of censure against the November issue was passed by Sigma Delta Chi the day it appeared on the campus.

Only Circulation Aids.
"Sigma Delta Chi sponsorship has been very inactive," he stated. "The only thing we have done this year in the form of aid for the magazine has been to assist in its circulation. The Awgwan has been under the student publication board and Sigma Delta Chi has had nothing to say about its organization or policy."

A portion of the letter in which responsibility was disclaimed follows:

"To the Student Publication Board of the University of Nebraska: By this resolution, Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, Nebraska chapter, repudiates its apparent official sanction of the publication of the November issue of The Awgwan, which by reason of its content of material far below the standards and ethical principles of our fraternity and profession, we regard as obscene, unwholesome and not fit to merit our sponsorship."

"Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to H. E. Bradford, chairman of the student publication board; T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs; and Raymond Murray, editor of The Awgwan."

The resolution was passed at a special executive meeting of Sigma Delta Chi Friday afternoon, Nov. 22, the day the Awgwan was put on sale.

Murray's Appeal Fails.
Raymond D. Murray, '31, Los Angeles, Cal., editor of the magazine, and Robb were both called into consultation by the board. Murray wanted the magazine to be continued as a short story publication with short quips and features but his request was not granted.

Mr. Bradford, in commenting upon the board's decision, stated that there was no field for a humor magazine at the University of Nebraska. In his opinion no college humor magazine can come up to the standards of real humor. He stated that it is difficult for students to put out a humorous publication without injecting objectionable matter into it.

Awgwan Highest.
The highest rating of college humor magazines, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, anywhere in the United States was accorded the Nebraska Awgwan by the national Sigma Delta Chi fraternity last year.

Bradford stated that finances of the magazine would about break even after advertising collections had been made and adjustments taken care of. Murray stated that a meeting of the Awgwan business staff will be called to explain refunding of money to subscribers. The Awgwan was discontinued once before during its twenty years of existence on the Nebraska campus, according to Al McIntosh, editor of the book in the spring of 1928 and now associated with the advertising department of the Lincoln Star.

"That was six years ago, in 1923," he stated. "The publication was abolished because of undesirable matter and lack of financial support. Commonly designated as 'The Shun,' it was edited by Gayle (Continued on Page 2.)"

OLDFATHER DELIVERS TALK ON PALESTINE

History Professor, Assisted By Miss Shanafelt, Gives Program.

"Afoot Through Palestine" was the subject of a lecture by Prof. C. H. Oldfather, chairman of the department of history, given at the regular Sunday afternoon museum program for adults, at 4 o'clock last Sunday in Morrill hall. Professor Oldfather's talk was of reminiscences of an overland hike through the Holy Land with a group of Syrian students while he was teaching in that country.

Miss Marjorie Shanafelt, curator of visual education, conducted the children's program at 2:45 p. m. and talked on "Noses," explaining the types of noses and their relation to the various species of animals. A motion picture depicting the life of jungle animals was shown.

F. G. Collins, assistant curator of the university museum, conducted lecture tours through the galleries of Morrill hall beginning at 3 p. m.

ROBERT DETWEILER FOUND DEAD IN CAR

Former Student Commits Suicide With Reason For Act Unknown.

Robert Detweiler, twenty-two, of Omaha, and a former University of Nebraska student, was found dead in his automobile outside the city limits of that city early Sunday morning. He was found dressed in formal attire, slumped over the wheel of his car, the motor of which was still running, with a .32 calibre revolver clutched in his right hand.

After an investigation authorities said they believed he had committed suicide. The officers questioned Miss Martha Peterson, twenty-four, of Council Bluffs, who had been with Detweiler Saturday evening. She declared that he had indicated in no way to her that he had meant to commit suicide nor had he acted any way except as usual during the evening.

Detweiler had attended the University of Nebraska last year and was a member of Delta Chi fraternity. He was a junior in the law college of Creighton university this year and had planned to complete his course there.

Student Describes Haunts of Movie Stars in Life Outside Studio Hours

Camille Horacek, University of Nebraska student who spent last year in Hollywood and its environs, returns to Lincoln with accounts of the haunts and habits of the moving picture stars.

The visitation of night clubs forms a major activity for actors and actresses. The two best known clubs are in Culver City, a suburb of Los Angeles. They are Roscoe Arbuckle's Plantation and Frank Sebastian's Cotton club. The latter features Creole revues, together with drinking, dining, dancing, and high prices. The plantation is very similar except that they feature vaudeville. Blues singers are very popular in both clubs.

A very popular movie haunt inside the city of Los Angeles is the Mexican quarter in Madama Zuka's. Its outside aspect is dark and dreary, something on the order of a speakeasy. The inside, however, is magnificent. Sunset boulevard in Hollywood is the site of Cow Inn, and the Russian Eagle. Both of these inns feature Russian orchestras and Russian entertainment exclusively. An odd feature at the former is the finale, when all the kitchen help comes on the

MILITARY HEADS INVITE MANY TO ATTEND FORMAL

List of Dignitaries Includes Officers, Sponsors and Former Students.

Officers from Fort Omaha and Fort Crook will be present, cadet field officers from the Big Six institutions, Creighton and the University of South Dakota, professors and instructors in the university, city pastors, parents of senior officers, parents of company and battalion sponsors and former students in the department.

Included in the list of guests are: Governor and Mrs. Arthur Weaver, Mayor and Mrs. Don Love, General J. J. Pershing, Miss May Pershing, Adjutant General and Mrs. H. J. Paul, Colonel and Mrs. Johnson Hagood, Colonel and Mrs. Lawrence Halstead, Colonel and Mrs. C. A. Tross, Colonel and Mrs. Frank Esger. (Continued on Page 2.)

WOMEN VOTERS HOLD ORGANIZATION MEET

Nearly Hundred Gather to Plan for Activities of Association.

University league of women voters gave a membership tea Friday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall for nearly 100 university women not previously affiliated with the organization. About ninety signed up to attend the next general meeting to be held Dec. 3, at 4 o'clock in Social Sciences.

Women on the staff and members of the league explained the purpose and work of the league. Slogans of the activities of the organization decorated the room. Music was furnished by Dorothy Charleston and Francis Emaline. Members of the cabinet who acted as hostesses were Alice McMahon, Vera Waters, Berenice Hoffman, and Evelyn Adler. Mrs. Maurice H. Merrill is sponsor of the league, and Marie Herney is president.

C. D. HAYES WILL LEAD CONFERENCE OF SCHOOL BOYS

C. D. Hayes, secretary of the university Y. M. C. A., will be one of the discussion leaders at the state Y. M. C. A. older boys conference, to be held at Columbus this week end.

M. Hayes will lead a special group of students who plan to attend college next year. Boys at the conference will be of high school age. Other persons from the university may attend the conference, Mr. Hayes said today.

CORNHUSKER MEN WILL SPEAK AT TECUMSEH MEET

Two University of Nebraska students from foreign countries will address the Tecumseh, Neb., Hi-Y club tonight, and will describe the life of boys in their home lands.

The two are Claude Gordon of Jamaica, British West Indies; and Robert Maria of the Philippine Islands. They will be introduced at the meeting by C. D. Hayes, secretary of the university Y. M. C. A., who will accompany them on the trip.

Leaders of the Hi-Y club at Tecumseh are Empt. Lloyd D. Heston, University of Nebraska graduate in 1912, and Athletic Director Dean Higgins, University of Nebraska graduate in 1924.

THIRD BARB PARTY GETS LARGE CROWD

Next Nonfraternity Social Event Will Take Theme of Winter Season.

WILLIAMS IS ELATED

A crowd of over 1,000 people attended the third all university party at the coliseum Saturday night. It was estimated by those in charge of the event. It was the largest crowd that has yet attended a variety party. Allan Williams, chairman of the barb council, stated.

Plans for a unique variety social in the line of a snowball party is to be the biggest one yet attempted, according to Williams. The lighting effects of the canopy were especially successful. Over 1,000 square yards of crepe paper were used in obtaining the effect. The council intends to use the same method of lighting again.

Many varieties of favors were given out at the party, in the form of toys and noise makers. The orchestra was well received by the crowd, and assured the success of the evening.

The four chaplains were members of the physical education department. Stories had it that they had difficulty in entering because they were mistaken for students, but the matter was soon straightened out and the party proved popular.

HOME ECONOMICS FACULTY MEETS AT AG COLLEGE

Sixteen members of the home economics and teacher training staff met in the home economics dining room, college of agriculture, Thursday evening at 5:30 for the third regular faculty meeting of the year. The class in institutional management served the dinner.

After dinner Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department of home economics gave a report of the meeting of the association of land grant colleges and universities which she attended in Chicago last week. The main topics she reported concerned the consideration of the overcrowded curriculum and the methods of correcting it. Progress in adult education and in research were reported in detail.

FINAL OUTBURST OF ENTHUSIASM HELD FOR RALLY

Students Will Meet at 5 O'clock Wednesday to Cheer for Win.

PARADE TO STADIUM

Coaches and Players Plan Talks Before Crucial Cyclone Contest.

Final football rally of the year will be held on the drill field at 5 p. m. Wednesday evening preceding the Iowa-State game. This rally will also be one of the most important of the year as the championship of the Big Six depends upon the outcome of the Thanksgiving day contest.

After assembling on the drill field the students who participate in the rally will march to the stadium for a fifteen minute pep session. The east stands will be used for the purpose. If even darkness threatens to interfere the athletic department has agreed to furnish arc lights on the west side which will lighten the east stands.

Head Coach Dana Biele, other members of the coaching staff and players who will complete their university football career in Wednesday's game, will be called upon and give brief talks.

The rally will be in charge of Eldred Larson, president of the In-nocents society. A practice session for the cheering section card stunts is being considered. Further announcement on this subject will be made tomorrow.

PHARMACISTS EXTEND RODENT ENCLOSURES

Experimental Animals Will Be Cared for in New University Home.

A modern home for dumb animals is being constructed on the east side of pharmacy hall. Rats, cats, dogs, guinea pigs, and other small miscellaneous animals will be confined within the enclosure.

Dr. Rufus A. Lyman, dean of the college of pharmacy, stated that enough animals for experimental purposes could not be confined in the space afforded in the Pharmacy hall tower, which has been serving as an animal home. The dean stated that the new structure would accommodate several thousand rats.

Rats are used for most experiments conducted by pharmacy students. The structure will be 14 by 40 feet, with glass around all the sides, and panch glass over the roof, which will let the violet rays through. The building will also be equipped with sun lamps, as it will be impossible for it to get the rays of the afternoon sun.

UPSON ADDRESSES GRADUATE MEN OF CHEMISTRY CLUB

Dr. F. W. Upson, dean of the graduate college gave a short talk to graduates at the meeting of the Chemistry Colloquium last night. Chemistry Colloquium is a relatively new organization on the campus, being organized last year. It is composed of graduate students who are interested in chemistry. Howard Bonnett is chairman of the organization.

The program:
1. O Come, Let Us Sing. Chorus—"O Come, let us sing. Duet (soprano and tenor)—"The eyes of all wait upon Thee." Chorus—"Before the mountains were brought forth."
2. Great is the Lord. Solo (soprano)—"When o'er the trees of Eden." Quartet—"Great is the Lord." Solo (soprano)—"The streamlet raised its gentler voice." Quartet—"Great is the Lord."
3. The Promise. Solo (tenor)—"Thus saith the Lord." Trio—"While the earth remaineth."
4. The Fulfillment. Recit. and air (contralto)—"Consider the Lilies." Solo (soprano)—"O Lively flowers, blest messengers divine." Duet (soprano and tenor)—"The blushing fruits appear at His command." Quartet—"With Bass solo." "Forever, O Lord, Thy word endureth."

Crippled Children Get Treatment In Physical Education Department

H. W. Orr, orthopedic surgeon, is the examining physician for the clinic, and sends some of his own patients to be cared for by the majors.

Infantile paralysis cases are given massage and special exercises to strengthen the affected muscles. An examination is given and a study is made of each case. Individual exercises are planned and given by the students in the class of the theory of individual gymnastics. All of the work is supervised by Clara Rausch, instructor in physical education, and head of this type of work.

Special Cases Treated.
Many postural cases are also treated. Special exercises are given to strengthen curved spines and prevent faulty posture. Serious deformity in later life may be checked by these corrective exercises for posture now.

Saturday morning means two hours of sunshine to some twenty little boys and girls. Anticipation for that day marks the week for each one of them. This work done by the physical education department is gaining recognition throughout the public school system and promises to become a permanent institution of this university.

A diminutive "Freckles" keeps his attendant busy with his eager willingness to be like other boys. Two other small boys are relaxing patiently according to instructions. Smiles and shy little confidences more than reward the majors for their two hours of painstaking care of the youngsters.

Some of them are from the Orthopedic hospital, and others from the public schools. Still others have been brought in by parents who have heard of the clinic. Dr.

Contrary to Rumor No Classes Will Be Held Next Friday

No classes will be held in the university Friday, according to an announcement by the dean of student affairs, T. J. Thompson. This announcement spikes all rumors that last Friday's rally would result in a shortening of the Thanksgiving vacation. The vacation will be of the duration originally planned, classes to be resumed at 8 a. m. Monday morning.

BAND PLANS PROGRAM FOR CONCERT SEASON

Musicians Will Play Dec. 8 in First Seasonal Music Classic.

An exceptionally well balanced program is in store for Lincoln music lovers who will attend the R. O. T. C. band's first concert of the season, which will be given Dec. 8 in the coliseum at 3 p. m. according to William Quick director. The band is opening its concert season a month earlier this year than it has in the past. Director Quick stated. A second concert will be given in January and a third in February.

The program Dec. 8 will feature several of the marches that have made Sousa famous, and "The University of Nebraska March," which the great bandmaster wrote and dedicated to the R. O. T. C. band, will also be played. Among the more difficult numbers on the program are "Barber of Seville Overture," selections from Friml's "Rose Marie" and "Pas des Fleurs."

The band has been rehearsing many of its concert numbers during the past few weeks, and with the football season coming to a close Thursday, will devote the remainder of the winter to concert work, Mr. Quick said.

According to present plans the university band will take at least one long trip every three years, the finances of the trips being conducted by Colonel Jewett and the alumni association. There are no long football trips scheduled for next year as yet, one game with an eastern institution pending definite action.

HAYES, RUSSELL TALK AT SIGMA XI MEETING

Investigation Into Science Of Bedology Made by Agronomy Head.

Frank A. Hayes, of the conservation and survey department of the University of Nebraska, and Prof. L. C. Russell of the department of agronomy, addressed the second open meeting of Sigma Xi, held in Morrill hall auditorium last night at 8 p. m. at which approximately fifty people attended.

Prof. Russell made a brief outline of the development of the new science of bedology and showed the promise recent investigators have given this new science during the past twenty years. Mr. Hayes described some of the remarkably features of lime accumulating soil that six years of recent investigation have revealed.

He also explained the characteristics of fully developed prairie soils and the forming processes leading to maturity of development. Prof. Nels A. Bengtson presided at the meeting.

KOSMET TAPERS OFF REHEARSAL FOR BIG REVUE

Practice Production Given Last Night to Insure Show Success.

BROADCAST 'TEASERS' Individuals From Annual Classic Radio Short Musical Skits.

Parts of the Kosmet Klub Thanksgiving Morning revue will be broadcast over the telephone radio system of Program Service company from 6:30 to 7 o'clock tonight. The chorus from the Beta-A. T. O. act will be featured along with other material from the show, according to Carl J. Hahn, production manager of the club. One of the bright spots of the program will be the "Hey Hey Hymn" rendered by the chorus. The song was written by Joyce Ayres and Bill McCleery.

A radio broadcast over KFAB featuring stars from the show was sponsored by the club from 10 to 10:30 o'clock Monday night. Included in the list of entertainers were Bill McCleery, Russell Mattson, Roger Robinson, Maxine Mathers, Harold Turner, Grace Kathan, and the Alpha Theta Chi trio, all well known through past performances in Kosmet shows.

McCleery and Mattson gave a dialogue sketch. Robinson and Miss Mathers sang several numbers from past revues. Turner played a piano medley of Kosmet (Continued on Page 3.)
