K-AGGIES SCORE HUSKER INVADERS

Manhattan Paper Calls Nebraska Students Poor Sports For Tearing Welcome Flags From Poles on Day Of Grid Contest With K. S. A. C.

CHANCELLOR BURNETT REPLIES TO CHARGES

Rooters on Special Train Get Additional Blame for Pilfering of Silverware in Marysville Depot During Brief Stop on Way Home.

Regret that Nebraska students who attended the K-Aggie game Nov. 23 exhibited acts of deprecation and rowdyism is expressed by Chancellor E. A. Burnett in a letter sent to the Morning Chronicle of Manhattan after two editorials appeared in its columns charging a number of Husker rooters with poor sportsmanship in tearing down and carrying away welcome flags from poles in the business section of Manhattan.

Nebraska boosters on the Cornhusker special train are marks for further criticism. They are blamed for looting the Union Pacific depot at Marysville, Kas., of silverware and sugar bowls during a brief stop on the five hour journey back to Lincoln.

When railway officials informed W. C. Harper, assistant dean of student affairs, that the depot lunch counter had been stripped of its table service, he urged all students on the special to leave their booty and plunder on the train. A large number did as requested but the Marysville depot is still incompletely stocked with knives, forks, spoons and sugar bowls.

Chronicle is indignant. The Morning Chronicle became indignant in its editorial and news columns on Nov. 26, because of the acts of alleged deprecation committed by certain members of the group of rooters that followed the Nebraska football team to the Kansas Aggie stadium, on Nov. 23. The Cornhusker rooters were accused of "poor sportsmanship," and were accused of adding "insult to injury."

Some of the Nebraska rooters who attended the football game here Saturday did not play fair, said the Chronicle in its news columns. "They added insult to injury."

Victory Not Enough. The Nebraska delegation was accused of not being satisfied with a victory on the football field, thereby clinching the Big Six championship, but that they "tore some of the street banners from the poles in the business district and carried them back to the Cornhusker fair as souvenirs."

But the next time the Cornhuskers come to Manhattan for a football game, the rooters and team will not be greeted and welcomed with banners and decorations, according to front page comment in the Manhattan Chronicle.

In the editorial columns of the Chronicle, the Nebraskans were accused of being poor sports. "It takes a lot to satisfy some people," commented the newspaper. Besides carrying away the championship of the Big Six football game, the Cornhusker rooters "took along a half dozen of the street flags belonging to Manhattan merchants, as souvenirs."

University Freshmen Continue 'Y' Meetings

Freshmen in the University of Nebraska will resume their Y. M. C. A. council meetings this week. Freshmen in the downtown school will meet Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the Temple under the leadership of C. D. Hayes, university Y. M. C. A. secretary. Agricultural college freshmen will meet Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the agricultural college.

'INSULT TO INJURY'

The following article appeared under the above caption on the front page as a box story in the Morning Chronicle of Manhattan, Kas., November 26.

"Some of the Nebraska rooters who attended the football game here Saturday did not play fair. They added insult to injury. The Cornhusker team showed its superiority over the Aggies by winning the football game, thus ruining the Kansas team's hopes of a conference championship. All well and good. But some of the over-enthusiastic rooters, not satisfied with the Nebraska victory, tore some of the street banners from the poles in the business district and carried them back to the Cornhusker fair as souvenirs. Those banners were the property of Manhattan citizens, as well as many other Manhattan citizens. Owners of the banners, as well as many other Manhattan citizens, are considerably peeved over the action of the Nebraska fans. Several Manhattan merchants vow that the next time the Cornhusker football fans come to this city there will be no banners of welcome along the Manhattan streets."

MILITARY PARTY OPENS WINTER FORMAL SEASON

Orchestra and Decoration Announcements Aid in Ticket Sale.

DUCATS SELL RAPIDLY

Students May Dance Until 12; All of Coliseum To Be Used.

With most of the 1200 tickets issued for the Military Ball, Dec. 6, already sold, a capacity attendance is assured for the opening social event of the 1929-1930 formal season, according to Alfred Wadleigh, chairman of ticket sales.

Wadleigh states that sales carried on by senior officers in the regiment have been boosted recently with the announcement of the orchestra and plan of decoration. Although no definite check can be made until each cadet officer checks in at the military department office, "present indications, the ticket manager stated, are that the tickets will be hard to get by Friday evening."

As the plan of decoration to be used will allow the use of the entire coliseum floor for dancing, more tickets have been issued, and fraternities are buying them in lots for distribution among their members. Traditional as the first formal event of the school year, the Military Ball will be chaperoned by Col and Mrs. F. E. Jewett, Capt. and Mrs. R. G. Lehman, and Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Flegel.

Cadet officers who have checked out tickets to sell are to remit all cash to the military department office as soon as the tickets are sold, so as to afford a definite check on the number of tickets sold.

According to the plan already announced, dancing will be allowed until 12 o'clock, the music to be furnished by Leo Beck and his orchestra, augmented to thirteen pieces. Adequate checking facilities will be instituted to prevent loss of time and clothing, according to the military department, the plan of which will be announced later.

EXTENSION DIVISION PUBLISHES REVIEWS

The first issue of volume two of the Education Research Record has been issued by the university extension division. Articles pertaining to education in its many phases are reviewed by William Young, Vesta M. Farngate, graduate student in education at the university; Rena Clingman, H. R. Best, and Rollin M. Falk. Book reviews are made by B. C. Hendricks, associate professor of chemistry; and Dr. Harlan C. Koch, professor of secondary education in the university.

Nebraskan Lists Big Six Stars for 1929

The Daily Nebraskan, through its sports editor, Jack Elliott, today announces its All Big Six team selections. Four Nebraska men place on the first team and three on the second. Listing of the Big Six team as chosen by Elliott and an accompanying story may be found in the sports section of this issue.

FIRE COSTS ALPHA THETA CHI $15,000

Saturday Morning's Blaze Almost Traps Two Of Members.

Fire starting on the second floor of the Alpha Theta Chi house, 1806 D street, early Saturday morning, did damage estimated at $15,000 and forced two members of the fraternity to do the human fly stunt to get out of the conflagration.

Gerald Philippe and Howard Johnston were the ones trapped on the third floor of the house in the sleeping quarters. The stairway was afire and they climbed down the outside of the house to safety.

The fire was discovered at 6 o'clock in the morning by Bernard Wilson who woke up when he smelled smoke. It started in the study rooms on the second floor. Firemen confined the fire to the back part of the house.

Considerable damage was done by fire and smoke on the first floor. Members of the fraternity resumed occupancy of their home Monday.

MAGEES PURCHASE B. & F. CAMPUS SHOP

Downtown Clothiers Will Continue Business In Dugout.

Announcement of the sale of the stock and fixtures of Bennett and Flugstead, clothiers, to Magee's Inc., was made Monday morning by Elmer Magee. The formal transfer of title was made Monday although negotiations have been going on for some time according to Mr. Magee.

Magee's will continue to operate the store under the name of Magee's Campus shop and the store will sell clothing for college men exclusively according to plans made known Monday. The shop is between Eleventh and Twelfth on R street directly across from the university administration building.

Frank Rowland of the Magee firm will be manager of the campus store. Bob Bennett of the old firm of Bennett and Flugstead, will continue to work in the store. Harry Shearer will also work in the shop.

Bennett and Flugstead opened featuring clothes for university their establishment two years ago, men.

Chancellor Writes Manhattan Paper Regarding Rowdyism of Husker Fans

Editor's note: The following letter was mailed to the editor of the Morning Chronicle of Manhattan by Chancellor E. A. Burnett after he had read its comments on the attitude displayed by some Nebraska students in Manhattan the day of the K-Aggie game, Nov. 23: "I am in receipt of the Morning Chronicle under date of Nov. 26 containing two articles which indicate that rooters from Nebraska attending the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska football game destroyed and carried away property from in the decoration of the streets to welcome the Nebraska group."

"I very much regret any acts of rowdyism which were exhibited by Nebraska supporters who were in attendance at the game. If food ball cannot be carried on between different colleges with courtesy and good sportsmanship on the part of both sides, then it would be better to discontinue intercollegiate football altogether."

"Our students and Nebraska supporters as a rule have, we believe, been courteous and respected the property rights of the cities in which they were guests. I cannot understand why on this occasion they seem to have violated these traditions."

"Will you say for the faculty of the University of Nebraska and the athletic staff that we disapprove of all such demonstrations and will do our best to see that they are not repeated."

I am,
Very sincerely yours,
E. A. BURNETT,
Chancellor.

KOSMET'S REVUE PACKS THEATER ON THANKSGIVING

Kappa Alpha Theta Entry Is Nebraska Sweetheart For 1929-30.

GROUPS PRESENT SKITS

Five Acts and Six Curtain Numbers Feature Live Entertainment.

Kosmet Klub's Thanksgiving morning revue was presented to a well-filled house at the Liberty theater last Thursday morning. Seating capacity of the theater is about 1,200 and only a few vacant seats, most of those being in the gallery, could be discovered. Lucille Carrothers, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was presented and crowned as Nebraska's sweetheart and princess of King Kosmet's royal court. Five acts and six curtain numbers were presented by different organizations and individuals. Some of the leading talent of Lincoln was represented in the show.

The acts were presented by Alpha Omicron Pi, Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Tau Delta and Delta Delta Delta, and Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Tau Omega. Curtain skits were staged by the university Dramatic club, Phi Mu, Alpha Theta Chi Rhythm Boys, Lyle DeMoss, Marjorie Whitney, and Danielson and Danielson.

A lively color scheme featuring the heart theme was used in the grand finale of the show. The Alpha O chorus was used as a sweetheart chorus and assisted in presenting the Nebraska sweetheart, Roger Robinson, king of Kosmet's court sang "If I Were Your King Forever." Maxine Mathers and Grace Kathon sang a number of songs.

College Humor Gives Augwan First Place In Cartoon Contest

The Augwan, discontinued humor magazine of the University of Nebraska, has been awarded first place for a cartoon appearing in the October issue, in a contest conducted by College Humor. The winning cartoon will be printed in the February edition of College Humor, according to a telegram received Monday.

The editor of College Humor congratulated the Augwan on the general excellence of its October number. A five hundred word history of the Augwan will appear in the February issue of College Humor. The telegram indicated that College Humor had not yet learned of the discontinuance of the Nebraska comic magazine.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY WILL HOLD MEETING

Westinghouse Man Plans Talk for Students of Electricity.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers will hold a meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 7 p. m. in the electrical engineering building, room 104.

Dr. C. E. Roberts of the educational department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, East Pittsburgh, Pa., will give a talk on the opportunities of engineering graduates in the Westinghouse company. He will outline the branches of engineering that are open to the graduate student.

A film, "Hydro-Electric Power Developments in the New South," showing the great hydro-electrical project in the heart of the great Smoky mountains of North Carolina will be shown at this meeting.

All electrical and mechanical engineering students are requested to attend this meeting.

Dr. Roberts will be at the University of Nebraska on Dec. 4 and 5 at which time he will interview junior and senior engineering students. All men interested in taking the graduate student course of working during the summer with the Westinghouse company should see Dr. Roberts on one of the days that he will be here.

SWEZEY OPENS UP OBSERVATORY FOR STUDENTS TONIGHT

Jupiter will be observed through the University of Nebraska's telescope, pending clear skies, at the regular observatory open house this evening, between the hours of 7 and 10.

Prof. G. D. Swezey will lecture at 8 o'clock on the subject "Blue Skies and Red Sunsets," at which time he will show how the colored skies at sunset are caused by the scattering out of the different colors in light by dust particles which are the same size as the light waves of certain colors.

INJURY IS FATAL TO NEBRASKA MAN

Blinding Headlights of Approaching Cars Cause Smash Near Hastings; Two Other Occupants of Car Are Uninjured; Auto Is Wreck.

MEN RETURNING TO SCHOOL AFTER HOLIDAY

Student Well Known About Campus, Being Member Of Many Organizations; Composed Theta And Sigma Nu Skit in Kosmet Show.

George H. Gillespie of Omaha, twenty-two year old senior in the college of engineering of the university, died in the Mary Lanning hospital at Hastings a few minutes before 5 o'clock Monday afternoon as the result of an auto accident Sunday night. His death was caused by a fractured skull which he sustained when the Buick sedan in which he was riding with James and Robert Stuckey of Lexington overturned west of Hastings. Neither of the Stuckeys was hurt. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock Sunday night.

Gillespie and Robert Stuckey, who is a freshman in the university, were returning to Lincoln after spending Thanksgiving vacation in Lexington. James Stuckey was driving them as far as Hastings where they were to board a train for Lincoln. About two and a half miles west of Hastings where the D. L. D. highway curves and crosses the Burlington railroad, Stuckey was blinded by the lights of approaching cars. He slowed down and turned out to the side of the road. In turning out, however, the back wheels of the car caught in a shoulder of loose dirt recently thrown up on the edge of the road. This drew the rest of the car in and causing it to roll down an embankment at the side of the road. The car turned over once, hit a guy wire to a telephone pole and threw all the occupants clear.

THIEVES LOOT HOME OF DEAN W. W. BURR

Thanksgiving Robbery Is Biggest Loss Reported In Many Months.

Thieves entered the home of W. W. Burr, dean of the college of agriculture, during Thanksgiving vacation and took away rugs, clothing, silverware and linen amounting in value to approximately $1,000. The Burr home is located at 1300 North Thirty-seventh street. The ransacking was probably done Wednesday or early on Thursday morning.

The theft was reported to police Thursday night by E. H. Burr, 1411 North Thirty-seventh street, brother of Dean Burr, who discovered the break in when he went to the latter's home to take care of the furnace.

Dean Burr and his family were visiting relatives in North Platte during the Thanksgiving vacation. They were notified of the robbery Thursday evening.

Chief of Police Johnstone said Thursday night that the robbery resulted in the largest loss reported in many months.

PERSHING RIFLES PLAN DINNER FOR THURSDAY

Group Also Sets Time for New Tryouts for All Seeking Entry.

The Pershing Rifles will hold a formal initiation and dinner at 3 o'clock Thursday, Dec. 5, at the Lincoln hotel. Members of Pershing Rifles will be dressed in full uniform for this dinner.

An important meeting of the Pershing Rifles will be held in Nebraska hall, Tuesday, at 5 o'clock. Tryouts for the Pershing Rifles are to be held the afternoons of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 3-5, on the drill field, at 5 o'clock. Those students unable to enter the tryouts, held earlier in the season, due to football practice or for other reasons requiring their absence at that time, have an opportunity to try out on these dates.

Hermann T. Decker, baritone, instructor in the school of fine arts, will give a recital at the regular Tuesday morning convocation in Temple theater, at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Jean Decker will accompany him on the piano.

Gillespie was a popular and well known student at the university. He was formerly a member of several honorary organizations, including the Green Gobline society when it was on the campus. He was a member of the Blue Print staff, college of engineering publication. His most recent activity was the writing and directing of a skit which was produced by members of Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Nu in the Kosmet Klub Thanksgiving morning revue. The skit, known as "The Dangerous D. U.," was well received and acclaimed by all who heard it as a clever and original piece of work.

George is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gillespie, and one brother, Claude. Funeral arrangements have not been announced yet.

'POOR SPORTSMANSHIP'

The following comment on Nebraska rooters at the K-Aggie game is expressed under the above title in the lead editorial of the Morning Chronicle of Manhattan for November 26.

"It takes a lot to satisfy some people. After the Nebraska football team had defeated the Aggies Saturday, some of the Cornhusker rooters, leaving town, took along a half dozen of the street flags belonging to Manhattan merchants, as souvenirs."

"The flags were put on the streets as a welcome to the Nebraska people. They were the property of local merchants. . . . It appears to us that the Nebraska fans showed mighty poor sportsmanship in tearing the flags off the poles on downtown streets."

"The Cornhusker team won fairly and squarely from the Aggies. We have heard no alibis from Aggie fans. A couple of thousand people came here from Lincoln and Manhattan was glad to entertain them. Even when two of them were more or less inebriated and fell into the clutches of the law here the police judge paroled them from their fines and from serving jail sentences. The Nebraska team and the fans who accompanied it showed for the most part the best sportsmanship. . . ."
