

ATHLETIC HEADS LEAVE FOR BIG SIX CONFERENCE

Eligibility Problems and Subsidization of Men Attract Notice.

MUST ELECT SECRETARY

Officials Will Take Up Freshman Competition At Conclave.

Problems of eligibility and alleged subsidization of athletes will appear on the athletic program of the moguls of the Big Six conference at their annual conclave in Kansas City this week end.

No comment was issued from the athletic directors of Nebraska Wednesday as to what would be taken up at the annual conclave in Kansas City other than the regular routine duties of schedule forming and deciding on the place for the Big Six wrestling meet.

Directors Meet First. Directors of athletics will gather Thursday morning for the first session of any conference body. Coaches of football, baseball, wrestling and track; directors of intramural athletics and business managers will hold separate sessions Friday morning and report recommendations to a joint meeting with the directors in the afternoon. Directors and faculty representatives will end the conference with a joint session Saturday morning.

The faculty group must elect a successor to Dr. W. G. Manley of Missouri university. Dr. Manley, conference secretary, died last week.

Discuss Frosh Competition. Among the policy problems to be discussed is that of intercollegiate competition between freshman squads. The conference stepped into this phase by allowing each school two freshman football games in the season which just closed and will consider continuance or abandonment of this movement and the extension of freshman competition in other sports. Freshmen now hold telegraphic competition with other schools in track.

Track coaches are expected to appeal to the directors for a program listing more dual meets and restrictions of participation in the many relay carnivals held throughout the nation during the early spring months. Last season at Nebraska little or no attention was paid to dual meets with schools in the Big Six or outside the conference as outstanding relay events and track carnivals were taking up all the time of the track coaches.

Herb Gish, athletic director at Nebraska, and Dana X. Bible, head football coach, left for Kansas City Wednesday evening, while Dean T. J. Thompson, faculty representative from the Husker school and the remainder of the Nebraska athletic officials will leave today and tomorrow.

BOWLING PRACTICES WILL START MONDAY

Helen McCoy Announces Rules Governing All Teams Entering.

Practices for the women's intramural bowling tournament will start Monday, Dec. 9, and last until Dec. 20. The tournament will be played from Jan. 7 to 25. Each game is limited to two teams, five members on a team.

The tournament will be played at the Lincoln bowling alleys, two games for a quarter. Practices may be held at any time, but they are not required, according to Helen McCoy, head of the sport.

Rules of the tournament have been announced by the sport head. Tourney games are to be played from 2 to 6 p. m. Two teams scheduled to play one another are to report at the alleys at the hour notified from the intramural office. If a team cannot play at that time, the office is to be notified one day before or the game will be forfeited. Score sheets are to be turned in not later than one day after the game to the intramural office.

TWO VETERANS APPEAR

Five boxers from the University of Nebraska will compete in the state A. A. U. boxing tournament at Omaha next Tuesday. It was announced today by Rudolph Vogeler boxing coach.

Three of the men will be competing in their first A. A. U. tournament, while the other two are seasoned performers. Marquis, 147-pound bantam, and Rock, 135 pounds, are the two veterans and leaders of the delegation. Marquis competed in the A. A. U. meet three years ago. He scored a knockdown that time over Poet, who later won the A. A. U. title. Poet won the match by knocking Marquis out the round following his own knockdown.

NEBRASKA BALL SCHEDULE OPENS WITH THETA WIN

Kappa Alpha Theta won over Gamma Phi Beta in the first game of Nebraska ball tournament of the season. Both teams played a hard game, Helen Karup starring for the winning team, and Alice Buffet, the mainstay for the opposing side.

Although Nebraska ball is a game that requires no technique, it takes fast playing and a quick eye. It may be termed as a preliminary to basketball in giving the girls practice in quick floor work.

Several changes were necessitated in the tournament schedule. All games will be played at 5 o'clock in the women's gymnasium. The schedule will be run off as follows, according to the information from the intramural office.

Thursday, Dec. 5. Alpha Chi Omega vs. Phi Beta Phi, team 1. Chi Omega vs. Delta Gamma, Friday, Dec. 6. Kappa Delta vs. Sigma Delta Tau. Phi Mu vs. Alpha Xi Delta, Monday, Dec. 9. Delta Delta Delta, team 2 vs. Phi Omega Pi. Alpha Delta Pi vs. Alpha Omega Pi. Tuesday, Dec. 10. Sigma Beta Chi vs. N'Ergettes. Phi Beta Phi, team 2 vs. Sigma Kappa. Wednesday, Dec. 11. Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Delta Delta Delta, team 1.

Black's Men Enter Period Of Intensive Work Before Opener.

FIVE OLD TIMERS REPORT

Kansas Has Well Balanced Schedule for Coming Hoop Season.

Charley Black and his squad of Cornhusker basketballers were intact, as Dutch Witte, one of Nebraska's most versatile athletes, was in suit. Witte was a three letter man last year, winning his numerals in football, basketball, and baseball.

From now on until Jan. 28, when the Huskers meet St. Louis university, Black will work his men out every night. The workout last night was just like old times, with McClay, Fisher, Grace, Witte and Lewandowski playing on the first team.

Try New Plays. New plays are being tried out, and the old ones are being brushed up for further use. A compact offense, and a quick breaking offense will be Nebraska's style this year. With the material on hand, the team should be as good if not better than it has been for several years.

Against the varsity, Jantzen, Davey, Conklin, Hokuf, and Koster were showing up very nicely. Hokuf and Koster are two plenty nice guards, and will undoubtedly show the first string guards ample competition. Selden Davey played heads up basketball, and made many of his short shots good.

After the first and second teams were excused for their showers, the rest of the men engaged in a real battle. Charlie Black was playing with the team that was recognized as the poorest outfit, but due to his efforts, they countered as often as their rivals did.

Black Plays With Scrubs. Charlie was playing in his old time form, completely fooling his opponents by his uncanny passes and floor work. He was playing in a guard position, and his work aroused a lot of comments among the onlookers. One frosh was heard to remark, "Who is that man out there, he should be on the varsity. Too bad the coach is not eligible for competition."

Bunny Oakes had his freshmen basketball men out for a short workout. He gave them some ideas about what the freshmen basketball aspirants do. Due to the fact that an announcement was not made about the practice, only a part of the men that are planning on coming out were on hand.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO ELECTS NEBRASKA MAN TO OFFICE

Ralph Fortna of Lincoln was elected national vice president of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity at its convention in Chicago, Dec. 1 and 2. Mr. Fortna has edited the fraternity publication for the past six years. Delegates from the active chapter on this campus were Harold Marcott of Lexington and Clarence Clover of Exeter.

RASDAL VISITS CAMPUS.

Earl Rasdal, '24, a graduate of the college of pharmacy, visited the Nebraska campus Wednesday. Mr. Rasdal is in the drug business in Ogallala.

In addition to the big Iowa University rumpus which comes to a head this week, many interesting things are on tap in the field of sports. The Big Six moguls are convening down at Kansas City and the Missouri City states that plenty of fireworks will probably be displayed in the meetings of the conference officials.

Eligibility and the alleged statement of reimbursing athletes will come before the discussion groups of the officials. The status of the Hawkeye school at Iowa City will be determined by Big Ten officials this week as the Iowans attempt to regain entrance to the Big Ten conference after being out on parole for a year. Three of the Big Ten sisters have indicated that they are standing pat on refusing entrance of Iowa back into the fold.

Anyway which ever way the wind blows, there will be plenty of hubbub around the stove league gang after the decision is reached. Then getting back to our own backyard, with Herb Gish down at K. C. with other Big Six officials, no immediate action is in line for the coming 1930 football slate which as yet is still a bit incomplete. Three games are booked for the home field and three away with two dates yet to be filled. The conference games give Nebraska five games and Pitt makes it six.

Action last week on Kentucky was finally dropped and the football followers of the Cornhuskers are eagerly awaiting the final announcement of the completed 1930 schedule.

Among the other undefeated elevens of the country are Notre Dame, Western Maryland, Ohio university, Tulane, Purdue, Utah, Davis Elkins, Texas Christian, Duquesne, Tennessee, St. Mary's, Rider, Fordham. In fact there are just fifteen elevens in the country that have completed their schedule without a defeat. Western Maryland heads the list with ten straight victories while Davis Elkins played ten and tied one. Notre Dame's schedule was by far the most difficult and yet the Irish failed to lose one of the nine games or even turn in a tie.

plan to have the stars of the south meet the stars of the Big Ten in the annual game. Jimmie Phelan of the conference winning Purdue eleven, has agreed to coach the all star eleven from the Big Ten providing the conference permits its senior footballers to take part in the event. Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist would coach the star eleven from the south.

Coach Hugh McDermott down at Oklahoma has started preparations for another whirlwind Oklahoma Sooner basketball quintet to place on the valley floors this season. The little Sooner "Scotchman" has less than three weeks to whip his team into shape and begins his season against the Texas Longhorns. The Sooner coach suffices his team when Cliff Shearer did not return to school after going so hot on the polished courts of the Big Six last season. Shearer was only a sophomore and put up a great game during his first year of competition in the conference. McDermott was grooming Howell to take Shearer's place but now has lost Howell who suffered a broken ankle last week. The loss of Bruce Drake by graduation last year, took one of the sparkplugs of the fast moving Sooner five and McDermott has around which to build his 1930 court quint.

Some of the followers of the Nebraska Cornhuskers may think that the Husker eleven of 1929 was not so hot and the schedule was only mediocre but when the casual onlooker takes an eye of the undefeated football elevens of the country after the dust has died away from the fields and stadiums of the country, he will find two Nebraska opponents of 1929 on of course, is Pitt. The mighty team from Pitt which the Huskers held to a 12 to 7 count, the smallest Pitt team was held during its 1929 campaign. Down the list this casual onlooker will find another Nebraska opponent in the personage of the Southern Methodist Mustangs which suffered not a single defeat during the 1929 campaign although they were tied. It was this team of Mustangs that opened the Husker football season on Oct. 5 with a scoreless tie.

The Notre Dame Irish will meet the all-victorious Pitt eleven on their 1930 schedule according to reports from the eastern schools.

The two schools have entered in a two year contract with the 1930 game to be played in the Pitt Oval in Pittsburgh. In 1930 the Pitt team will meet the Irish in the new Notre Dame stadium. What a grid natural it would be to see these two elevens in action this season. There isn't a stadium large enough in the world to handle the fans who would welcome such a classic. Pitt and Notre Dame, the two foremost gridiron machines in the country and undefeated and untied. But it is merely a dream for the Irish have hung up their cleated shoes for the year and the Pitt eleven will probably journey westward to hold up the dignity of the east against the pride of the west coast.
