QUEEN'S HUSBAND TAKES STAGE AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

Play Has Reputation for Broadway Success; Critics Write.

LOCAL CAST IS STRONG

Preliminary Showing at Reformatory Meets With Approval.

First performance of the funny comedy of the season, "The Queen's Husband" by Robert Sherwood will be given by the University Players at the Temple theater tonight. The curtain rises promptly at 7:30 p. m.

An unusually strong cast has been selected. Ray Ramsay plays the lead as the queen's husband; Maurine Drayton will appear as his officious wife, Queen Martha; Mildred Orr is the Princess Anne who falls in love with her father's private secretary; Walter Vogt, the private secretary; Fredrick Granton who wins the princess' love; and W. Zolney Lerner, the imperious prime minister, General Northrup.

Veteran Cast Supports.

The remainder of the cast is as follows: Edwin Quinn as Philip; Richard Page as Lord Birten; Thompson as Peley; Art as Major Blent; Arthur Gifford as a soldier; Harlan G. Easton as a fellow; Jere Mickle as Prince William; Al Tiffany as Laker; and Eleanor Foley, Gertrude Sullivan, and Doris Roseman as ladies in waiting.

A successful pre-showing of the play was given at the state reformatory Wednesday. The play is a very amusing comedy-satire probably caricaturing the royal family of Rumania. It is full of laughs and bright humor.

Saturday matinee will begin at 2:30 p. m. Reservations made at Ross P. Curcio for single play tickets will be held at the Temple box office until 7:15 on the evening of the play. If forty-eight hours notice is given, single play exchanges may be made from season books.

FORDYCE WILL TALK TO SCHOOLMASTERS

Department Head Arranges Trip to Milwaukee For Meeting.

Dr. Charles Fordyce, chairman of the department of educational psychology and measurements of the University of Nebraska, will leave this week end for Milwaukee, where he will address the Wisconsin Schoolmasters' club. His address will be on the subject, "Some neglected aspects of individual differences that affect efficiency in teaching and in school administration."

The Schoolmasters' club is an organization composed of college professors and instructors, school administrators, principals and departmental teachers.

Dr. Fordyce will leave Milwaukee late Sunday evening, returning to Lincoln Monday morning.

BETA SIGMA GAMMA INITIATES NEW MEN

Five Seniors Are Admitted Into Bizad Honorary On Scholarship.

Beta Sigma Gamma, honorary scholastic fraternity of the college of business administration, held initiation last night for five senior men. Those taken into the organization were Milton Reynolds, Otto Jacobson, Rudolph Bridley, Emmet Spraktes, and Henry Strathmann. Membership to the organization is restricted to the high ten per cent of the senior class of the college of business administration. Beta Sigma Gamma installs chapters in schools which are members of the American Association of Schools of Business. Raymond Dein is president of the Nebraska chapter.

Cuckoo Finds Home Inside Clock-Door In Fossler's Room

A genuine imported Schwarzwälder cuckoo clock with musical attachments now features the office of Prof. Laurence Fossler, chairman of the department of Germanic languages, in Andrews hall. The clock is a beautiful piece of work, with intricate ornamentation. As one who examined it said, "One can almost see the carver's joy and satisfaction in his work of fashioning bird or beast or hunting gear or woodland scene."

STUDENTS ADHERE TO DIVERSIFIED CREEDS

Registrar's Reports Show Methodist Religion Has Preference.

FEW HAVE NO CHOICE

Twenty-two different denominations are represented among the students of the University of Nebraska, according to the records of the registrar. Seventy-five per cent of the students indicated in formation blanks filled out a time of registration that they were members of a church. Only one per cent gave no church preferences.

Included in the twenty-two sects are nineteen protestant denominations, Catholic and Buddhist organizations.

Leading in numbers was the Methodist church, with a total of members and adherents of 1,941. Second in rank is the Presbyterian with a total of 1,053. Other groups are considerably smaller in size, including the Congregational, 588, Lutheran, 458, and the Christian, 443. Church members and adherents to the Catholic faith number 439, Jewish 13, and Buddhist 1.

Included in the less commonly mentioned protestant sects were Federated, Mennonite, Swedish Mission, Quaker, Latter Day Saints and Adventist.

The survey made by the office of the registrar for the university news service was based upon information gathered in connection with registration each fall. The check included all of the university's 6,531 students, except 104 nurses at the college of medicine at Omaha. Of the total, all but 258 men and 52 women had church preferences.

LOEFFEL CONDUCTS 4-H CLUB MEETINGS

Professor Discusses Meat Products Throughout Towns in State.

Prof. W. J. Loeffel, of the department of animal husbandry, returned Thursday from Custer county, where he has been conducting 4-H club meetings. Professor Loeffel stated that the meetings were well attended in spite of the unfavorable weather.

He met with the 4-H clubs in Mason City, Callaway, Broken Bow, Sargent and Anselmo. He took samples of beef ribs with him in order to illustrate their quality and discussed the quality of meat which the consumers demand and the type of cattle required to produce such meat.

A lamb cutting demonstration according to the method recently developed by the National Livestock and Meat board was made by Professor Loeffel at each of the towns.

WAR VETERANS MAY SEE OVERSEAS FILM

Picture Depicting Environs Of Army 'Overthere' Will Be Shown.

A five reel moving picture of war scenes of the Eighty-ninth division, taken overseas, will be shown in the Temple theater tonight for veterans and their families. Admission is free and attendance will not be limited to the veterans alone. The film is being shown under the auspices of the organized reserve officers.

Wild Animals Cavort on Screen at Morrill Hall

Four reels of motion pictures showing the haunts and habits of wild animals were shown yesterday at Morrill hall by the Lincoln chapter of the Izaak Walton League.

DEAN HICKS BELIEVES IN COEDUCATION IDEA

Arts and Sciences Head Values Learning as Most Profitable.

ASSOCIATION IS NEEDED

"A liberal education has a value even though it can not be translated into dollars and cents," stated Dean J. D. Hicks, at the meeting of the Ag World Forum Thursday noon. Dean Hicks spoke on "The Value of a Liberal Education."

Dean Hicks cautioned the students not to be overly influenced by adverse criticism about the college educational system. "There may be lots of things wrong with it," he said, "but there are a lot more things right with it."

He stated that anyone who really wanted a liberal education "could get it at any one of the many universities of the United States." "We pursue learning," he said "we don't catch it." "If after four years of study we reach the place where we realize the value of education, we have progressed remarkably," he added.

The dean stated that he regretted that many people in the university did not realize their opportunity for acquiring a liberal education because it came at a time when they were the least to appreciate it.

Ten or fifteen years later he said that they would regret that they did not avail themselves of their opportunities.

Contacts Valuable.

Dean Hicks stated that he did not take much stock in the belief that students should come to college in order to learn how to express themselves. "We don't have a whole of a lot in us to express at birth," he stated. The dean pointed out that students should get in contact with other men in order to develop their own.

He stated that a liberal education should be broad and not be centered only on one subject. Dean Hicks stated that he was sorry that requirements such as credits and degrees were necessary but he added that he had the highest respect for a degree when it represented a real education.

TICKETS FOR CARMEN SELLING IN ADVANCE

Choice Ducats Set Aside For Former Patrons of Productions.

OFFER PRICE REDUCTION

A large number of exchange tickets for the opera Carmen, which is to be presented Thursday, March 20, in the university coliseum by the Chicago Civic Opera company, were checked out to student groups from the booths in Ellen Smith hall and the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple, Thursday afternoon between 2:30 and 5 p. m.

No more office hours will be held until Tuesday, Jan. 21, when student groups may again apply at Ellen Smith hall for the block reservations of twenty-five, which entitle them to the 15 percent reduction offered to students who are organized into groups of twenty-five or more.

Will Compose Groups.

Reserved seats, for which the exchange tickets may be transferred, will go on sale to the general public Monday, Jan. 20 at Ross P. Curcio Music company. Mail orders are now being taken at the student activities office in the coliseum. Any student, or group of students, who wish to secure their exchange tickets with the reduced rate advantage, and have not already made arrangement to do so, may call Mildred Olson at the Alpha Delta Pi house, if he does not wish to wait until Tuesday when office hours are again to be held.

In order that every student in the university may have the advantage of the 15 percent reduction on all reserved seats, which is offered to students organized into groups of twenty-five or more, members of Mortar Board, who are sponsoring the sale of the exchange tickets on the campus, have arranged to sell tickets to all students at the reduced rate, and they then block the tickets which they have sold into groups of twenty-five.

Tassels Sponsor.

Members of Tassels, women's pep organization sponsored by Mortar Board, have been asked to sponsor the sale of the exchange tickets in all sorority houses, and letters have been sent to the presidents of all organized dormitories and rooming houses for women, asking them to cooperate in promoting the sale of the block ticket.

College 'Ednas and Joes' Prepare for Gigantic 'Y' Frolic

The couples swayed under the spell of the entrancing music-colored lights played over the slowly moving dancers. A screen split the air—the music suddenly stopped—two figures raced down the stairs and across the floor. "You're it!" The music started up again, the dancing continued. It was only a game of tag at the Y. W. C. A. general party.

Now, how could you afford to miss anything so exciting as that? Join the crusades and make a trip to Jerusalem or if that doesn't sound exciting ring-around-rosey or drop the handkerchief are thrilling games. The novelty of these should at least prove a diversion for some of the sophisticated, bored coeds and "Joe Colleges" who adorn the campus.

Big Free Lunch!

The Y. W. is sponsoring this big pow-wow to be given Saturday night from 8 to 11. A big time is guaranteed—and it's free! Children under ten not allowed. A really good program is being planned which includes such talented people as LuLu Jo Hyland and the Ivory Ticker, Myron Rosenblum who plays the violin, and nine-year-old Bobby Hudson. Games are in charge of Alan Williams. The social staff is composed of such social celebrities as Esther Vicar, Betty Harrison, Margaret Day, Vivian Hildreth, Gretchen Fee, and Jane Beaumont. Janet Winter, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of the event. Even refreshments will be served—all free of charge—costs absolutely nothing.

JUDGES SELECT MEN IN DEBATE TRYOUTS

Levy, McKnight, Larson and Pospishil to Defend School's Laurels.

TWO TEAMS ARE CHOSEN

Teams composed of Nathan S. Levy of Hastings and George McKnight of Auburn, and Christian L. Larson of Aurora, and Lloy Pospishil of West Point, were selected last night to represent the University of Nebraska in intercollegiate debate matches. Ted Felder and Earl C. Fishbaugh were selected to work with the four regular men, and will be used in some of the debates. Prof. H. A. White, university debate coach, said.

The question used in the forensic meets will concern disarmament, worded, "All nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament, except for such forces as are needed for police protection."

Several Judges.

Judges of the tryouts, in which nine men took part, were: J. D. Hansen of the English department of Lincoln high school; George A. Henley of Baylor, Toulon, and Healey, attorneys; and Lloyd J. Marti of Perry, Van Pelt and Marti, attorneys.

McKnight and Levy will make the northern debate trip, to include meets with South Dakota university, to be held at Sioux City, Ia., Gustavus Adolphus at St. Peter, Minn., and Carleton college at Northfield, Minn. Larson and Pospishil will enter the home debates with Kansas State Agricultural college in Omaha or Lincoln, Iowa State and North Dakota.

Ag Man Represents State in Consideration of Farm Outlook.

Harold Hedges of the college of agriculture left Tuesday evening for Washington, D. C. to represent the state in a national conference at which the 1930 agricultural outlook will be completed.

Mr. Hedges expects to be there more than a week. From now until Saturday he will work in one of the several committees which consider recommendations for a whole. Next week all the men from all the states will meet together in conferences.

Regulate Conditions.

The national outlook will probably be released all over the United States on Saturday Jan. 25, or on Monday, Jan. 27, according to the information Hedges had when he left Lincoln. It will form the foundation for several hundred local meetings held in the various states. Farmers of Nebraska, for example, will talk over Nebraska conditions with Mr. Hedges and others from the agricultural college.

Schedule of meetings to be held in Nebraska this spring is about complete at the central offices of the extension service. Letters have been sent to a number of county agents regarding meeting places. The official schedule is practically ready to release.

According to preliminary plans two groups of men from the Nebraska college of agriculture will make two different trips across the state and hold a total of about 20 meetings. They will explain what Mr. Hedges and others work out at Washington regarding the present supplies and demands, indications of changes within the next few months, and indications of what farmers intend to plant and produce in 1930. This is said to be the best information of the kind available. Those who give emphasis, however, that no one knows for certain just what will happen in the next twelve months.

4-H CLUB SPONSORS AG CARNIVAL FRIDAY

Student Activities Building Will Be Scene for Farmers' Mixer.

Members of the 4-H club will sponsor a mixer at the Student Activities building on the campus of the college of agriculture Friday night. Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Downs, Prof. and Mrs. F. P. Kim, and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Dix will be chaperons at the party.

Admission of fifty cents will be charged for the men, ladies free. Identification cards must be presented at the door, according to Irwin Hutchinson, president of the 4-H club. Herb Smith's orchestra will play.

BIBLE PLANS ADDRESS FOR BAPTIST CLASSES

Head coach Dana Bible will speak at the meeting of the university class of the First Baptist church on Sunday. The class hour begins at 12 noon for a fifty minute discussion, according to Mildred Stannard, advertising chairman of the class. The First Baptist church is located at Fourteenth and K streets.

A. A. U. W. PROCURES FUND FROM PROGRAM

Money for Scholarships Is Raised at Musicales Given at Temple.

MUSIC DISCUSSION HELD

A fund of $300 was added to the scholarship fund of the Lincoln branch of the American association of University Women from the proceeds of the annual musicale presented Wednesday evening at the Temple theater. The scholarship fund provides grants for young women of the University of Nebraska.

The program was composed of numbers given by Lincoln musicians on the faculty of the university school of music. Herbert Gray gave seven songs by the Spanish composer Manuel de Falla, preceding them with a brief talk on the place of Spanish music in modern composition and an explanation of the meanings of titles of the songs.

The feature of the program was the numbers presented by the Schumann quintet in E flat. Members of the quintet were Mrs. Lura Schuler Smith, pianist, Carl Steckelberg, first violin, Earnest Harrison, second violin, William Quick, viola, and Herbert Gray, violoncello.

Mr. Hedges expects to be there more than a week. From now until Saturday he will work in one of the several committees which consider recommendations for a whole. Next week all the men from all the states will meet together in conferences.

FISHER WILL QUIZZ PALLADIANS TONIGHT

Alumnus Offers Prize for Best Score in Test on Literary Value.

Ned Fisher will conduct his annual open meeting of the Palladian Literary society at the Palladian hall in the Temple, Friday evening at 8:30 p. m. Mr. Fisher is a member of the Palladian alumni.

The meeting will consist chiefly of a literary contest sponsored by Mr. Fisher, who each year conducts the contest as an incentive to the promotion of better literary taste. The contest will consist of a series of one hundred questions on poetry and prose. A prize will be given to the person making the highest score on their answers.

Hold Open Session.

A musical program to include violin solos by Bertram Ellsworth and vocal solos by Betsy Benedict has been arranged by Mildred Steelman, chairman of the program committee for the active chapter.

At the close of the regular program Palladians and guests will join in the singing of Nebraska songs. Following this Victor Seymour, president of the Society will give a short address. Open meeting of the society are held at various times of the year to give opportunity for university students to enlarge the number of their acquaintances and to offer programs of educational and social advantage.

Lamar Burling Joins Isham Jones' Dance Orchestra as Pianist, Arranger

Lamar Burling, graduate of the university conservatory of music and well known in Lincoln musical circles, has recently obtained a position with the Isham Jones' Brunswick recording orchestra, according to a letter received from Burling by Joyce Ayres, senior journalism student.

Burling wrote that he is first pianist of the famous band and besides, is first arranger, has charge of a vocal trio in which he himself will sing, and is over-seeing a violin trio. The band at present is playing in a Milwaukee hotel but will leave soon on a tour of the east, stopping at several universities enroute to play college

COLL-AGRI-FUN GROUP MEETS TO AID ORGANIZATION

Faculty Members, Students Gather to Discuss Ag Festival.

APPOINT NEW STAFFS

Business Heads Formulate Ideas for Success of Production.

General organization for Coll-Agri-Fun, annual fun show of the college of agriculture, was advanced Wednesday night at the joint meeting of the Home Ec and Ag clubs, held at Ag hall auditorium. According to Fred Grau, chairman of the committee, the meeting was well attended and evidenced a very optimistic attitude.

Talks by members of the faculty and members of the student committee made up the greater part of the program. Dean W. W. Burr urged cooperation to the fullest extent. Prof. T. H. Gooding, a member of the faculty committee both this year and last year, pointed out the necessity of originality in the stunts.

"Get Acquainted!" Miss Winegar, a member of this year's faculty committee gave a criticism of last year's show. The time of the acts should be limited, she said, and the number increased. Acts should begin promptly, she said, and pointed out that since the show comes rather close to the time of the Farmers' Fair, thought should be given to the idea of holding it during the first semester.

"It is one of the finest opportunities for students to get acquainted, next to the Farmers' Fair," Miss Winegar said.

Prof. C. M. Smith, another member of the faculty committee, gave some ideas for acts, pointing out what acts should be and what they should not be. He stressed training, and urged that the skits be ready when tryouts come.

Robert Danielson, chairman of last year's student committee, gave a resume of last year's program and described a few of the

RIFLES REVIEW FILM OF ARMY OVERSEAS

More Than 100 Are Present At Scheduled Meeting Of Organization.

More than 100 members and pledges of Pershing Rifles were present at the meeting of the honorary drill organization last night at 5 o'clock.

The main purpose of the meeting was the viewing of the film sponsored by the military department, showing scenes of the Eighty-ninth division in the World war. Col. F. F. Jewett explained some of the scenes to the organization.

The next meeting of Pershing Rifles will be Thursday, Jan. 23, according to Stanley Day, captain. All members and pledges are to attend.

CABINET MEMBERS ENTERTAIN GROUP VISITING OFFICIAL

Honoring Mrs. Charlotte Crawford, girl reserve secretary from Omaha who was visiting the campus of the University of Nebraska Tuesday, members of the university Y. W. C. A. cabinet, gave a dinner at the Temple cafeteria. An informal discussion of social problems followed the dinner.

Guests at the dinner included the seventeen women who are members of the cabinet, Miss Erma Appleby, general secretary, Miss Grace Spacht, Baptist student secretary, and Mrs. Crawford.

P. E. O. HEAD CALLS FOR RESERVATIONS

Women on the campus who are members of the P. E. O. have been requested by Mrs. R. C. McMullen to make their reservations for the annual Founders day banquet, which is to be held Jan. 25. Reservations for the event may be made with Mrs. McMullen at F4900.

Lamar Burling Joins Isham Jones' Dance Orchestra as Pianist, Arranger

Lamar Burling, graduate of the university conservatory of music and well known in Lincoln musical circles, has recently obtained a position with the Isham Jones' Brunswick recording orchestra, according to a letter received from Burling by Joyce Ayres, senior journalism student.

Burling wrote that he is first pianist of the famous band and besides, is first arranger, has charge of a vocal trio in which he himself will sing, and is over-seeing a violin trio. The band at present is playing in a Milwaukee hotel but will leave soon on a tour of the east, stopping at several universities enroute to play college proms and other parties of that nature. Burling was for several years a member of the Nebraska orchestra which later became the Pershing Rifles. Both of these orchestras played several successful seasons in Estes Park, Colo., as well as in Lincoln. Burling collaborated with Joyce Ayres in writing the music for two Kosmet Klub spring shows.

He was made a member of the Kosmet Klub last spring. He has composed a number of pieces the best known probably being "Sweet Nebraska Sweetheart." This, too, was written in collaboration with Ayres and used in one of the Kosmet Klub shows. Burling has studied music in Chicago since his graduation from Nebraska.
