CORNHUSKERS PLACE IN FOUR EVENTS AT K.C.A.C. TRACK MEET

Ostergaard Wins 600-Yard Dash; Ossian Ties for Second in Vault.

Nebraska athletes at the K. C. A. C. indoor track meet Saturday night placed in four events: The 600-yard dash, the pole vault, the shot put, and the mile relay.

Bob Ostergaard, sophomore from Gothenburg, started his college career as a runner suspiciously when he won the 600-yard dash for the Shannon Douglas cup in 1:16.

Bill Ossian, entering his third season of competition as a pole vaulter, sailed over the bar at 12 feet to enter a three-way tie for second, with Trueblood of Kansas and Soules of Iowa. Hugh Rhea, varsity football man, tossed the shot 44 feet 8 inches for a third place in that event.

The Nebraska mile relay team, composed of Rogers, Siefkes, Mays and Currier, defeated Kansas in 3 minutes, 34 seconds.

There is a possibility that a dual meet with the Missouri Tigers will be arranged for the Columbia track this week end, although the date is still tentative. The next regularly scheduled clash is with Iowa State, Feb. 22, on the Nebraska track.

abeth Thompson, president, is based on a national Panhellenic ruling which says there shall be no publication given to Panhellenic troubles. The practice in the past, said Mrs. Thompson, is to exclude all news of sorority parties to which men are invited.

From the Nebraska's Monday night it was found that eleven out of twelve who could be reached, were whole heartedly in favor of the Nebraska publishing reasonable accounts of sorority parties. This number represents a majority of sororities in the Panhellenic council as there are twenty-one listed in the organization.

NEBRASKA NATATORS WIN FROM GRINNELL

Huskies Take All Events In Swamping Iowans 55 to 20.

W. A. A. INTRAMURALS

BY JEAN RATHBURN

Big sale! Big sale! All prices cut in half! Come to the big Cornhusker carnival and save your money by spending it. Big chance—don't miss this wonderful opportunity. You'll never see it equal (probably true). Great news—probably true! Another way of making money—and it isn't a tea either.

Every group entering a booth receives one-third of the profits it takes in—so read up on all the latest scientific methods of cheating. Don't forget to come and see Fiji, the only wild man in captivity. And bring peanuts for the elephants and the football players.

In spite of the effects of spring fever basketball is scheduled to begin Monday. Snap out of the daze for awhile and be prepared for a real workout. After months of practicing you should at least know the difference between the ball and the basket. However, the more you can get away with the better—but it does take practice to find that out. Double-headers will be run off every hour, so there'll be plenty doing all at once. After a game is scheduled it absolutely cannot be cancelled and that goes.

The Phys. Ed. majors will act as officials which ought to prove interesting to say the least. There's going to be real cut-throat competition—the gym during this week will be a scene of carnage and name labels will be duly appreciated. All upperclassmen ambitious enough to play must have a health permit and they'll need it! All this week's games are in class A, but break away long enough to notice the hour and place. Guess that's enough of that.

GETTING OUT OF THE VALLEY

By Elmer Skov

The above-mentioned John Bentley has come to the rescue with suggested name for this thing, and were duly thankful. He also said "Skoll, Elmer!" and I wasn't just sure about that, but a Swedish acquaintance said it was all right. Thanks!

The same make-shift name is still up there, though. When this column does come out under its rightful heading, it is going to appear with a flourish—fancy lettering and all that.

Bunny Oakes' freshmen received something in the way of variety in their rather monotonous practice diet when they scrimmaged the Doane college team yesterday afternoon in the Coliseum. The scrimmage was not scored, but it was apparent here to observers that the Tigers held no noticeable margin of superiority over the yearlings. That indicates one of three things: That Doane was off form, that the freshmen are better than is generally conceded, or that state college basketball is not of such a high calibre as it might be. Take your choice.

The defeat of the Nebraska basketball team at Lawrence settled the conference championship issue as far as Nebraska is concerned. Before that, it was all figured out how, if Nebraska beat Kansas and then took Missouri and the rest of the games on the schedule, the Huskers would be in a tie for first—if Kansas and Missouri broke even on the two games they have to play. Another air castle gone!

Nebraska athletic teams are again facing a full week. The basketball team, returning from Lawrence last night, has one day in which to prepare for hoped for revenge Wednesday night on the St. Louis team, which took the Cornhuskers when they were on their holiday trip. And after that, there will be two days of practice for the Missouri game in the Coliseum. That game, by the way, even though Nebraska has no chance at the title, should be interesting, to say the least.

While the basketball team is entertaining Missouri, Rudy Vogeler's swimming team will exchange splashes with the Kansas Aggie team in Lincoln, probably in the Lincoln High pool. And at the same time, John Kellogg's wrestlers will engage the grapplers from Iowa university in the Coliseum. The meet will probably be held following the basketball game. In addition, efforts are being made to send the track team against Missouri at Columbia.

GLEE CLUBS WILL VIE FOR HONOR IN WLL SPEAK AT

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Eight glee clubs will enter the Missouri Valley glee club contest to be held at the University of Oklahoma at Norman Feb. 14. In addition to the University of Kansas, the schools which will enter are the Southern Methodist university, Oklahoma A. and M. college, University of Oklahoma, University of Missouri, Washington university, and Kansas State agriculture college.

FRESHMEN SCRIMMAGE WITH DOANE CAGERS

Bunny Oakes and his aggregation of freshmen basketballers mixed in a lively practice scrimmage against the Doane Tigers on the field house hardwood floor yesterday. Doane is preparing for an expected difficult tussle against Midland.

"Mutt" Davidson was the outstanding man during the melee for the frosh, but all of the men were coming through in fine style. Bunny was trying a new combination at the guard posts, using Garveth and Farner. Paul Beattie, the outstanding guard on the yearling team, did not enroll for school the second semester and his running mate, Stansberry, was absent from the practice.

Doane was apparently tired from their heavy schedule of conference games last week, but they got a real workout. They were employing a man to man defense, and on several occasions the freshmen yearlings broke through the system for two pointers. Oakes' aggregation were employing a zone defense, and it was more effective than it has ever been against the varsity.

Behrends got the tip most of the time on Werner, but was unable to keep the Doane men from entering the scoring tables frequently. Davidson and Houtchins

WYOMING OFFER WILL LIKELY BE RECEIVED

Probability That Rhodes Will Be Chosen for Head Coach.

Probability that John "Choppy" Rhodes would get the position of head coach at the University of Wyoming was very strong yesterday although the executive committee of the university trustees adjourned over the weekend without making any final decision. The next meeting of the committee is set for Friday, February 21.

All members of the board will be at that meeting when the applications of Rhodes as well as the other candidates will be considered.

Rhodes is in conference with President A. G. Crane and the executive committee Saturday night. University authorities remained reticent as to the cause for delay in filling the vacancy. Rhodes is the only candidate to have been invited to Laramie for personal interviews and it is generally believed that his candidacy had received the endorsement of President Crane.

Rhodes is a former Cornhusker star football, track and baseball man. Since graduation he has coached varsity baseball and freshman football.

EAVESDROPPING

PIN HANGING JAIL OFFENSE

University of Oregon—Would you like to send a coed to jail for a year. Then all you need to do in the state of Oregon is to "hang" your pin on her. A clause in the Oregon code of laws, unheeded the other day by a law student, provides that any person wearing the badge of a fraternal society to which he does not belong is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by "imprisonment for a term not to exceed one year, of a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or by both."

1,200 MILES IN FOUR YEARS

The Creightonian—Walking .6x miles to and fro from school twice a day for the last four years may seem like quite an uninteresting task, but that is the record of Harry Wallis, a senior law student at Creighton university in Omaha. Leaving his home at 7:15 a. m., he arrives at the law school exactly on time for an eight o'clock class, after a brisk walk of 45 minutes, provides what any person wearing the badge of a fraternal society to which he does not belong is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by "imprisonment for a term not to exceed one year, of a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or by both."
