NEW PHILOSOPHY IS NOT REQUIRED SAYS ALEXANDER

Spiritual Conquest Urged By Former Nebraska Instructor.

SPEAKS AT CONVOCAION

'People Don't Need to Weep For New Worlds to Conquer.'

"The pioneer spirit is frustrated and people are weeping for worlds to conquer. Frustrated humanity can't see what the next step in the conquest, the conquest that makes men of us, is to be. The last physical dimension has been conquered. There is another dimension to be conquered, and that is the spiritual dimension.

"It is for you to open the windows, discover the other dimension, and lead out in the new pioneering." Dr. Hartley Burr Alexander, philosopher and architect, of Scripps college, California, and former Nebraska instructor, told students of the university at a convocation in the Temple, Monday morning.

Dr. Alexander decries the need for a new philosophy of life, saying "something has happened to the psychology of the human race that isn't going to happen again." The present generation, he says, has seen the passing of the last of the undiscovered and unconquered land. "There are no more physical worlds to conquer. People are seeking for things they can't discover."

Cites California.
California is described by the Scripps college philosopher as a glaring example of humanity at the present time. "We've got a generation of Americans who were reared on the idea that there were physical worlds to conquer," he says. People have grown up with the common intension of going west. California is full of Americans who have gone as far west as they can. They have found the frontier gone and are living there with no idea of what they are doing, lost and seeking happiness in building chicken houses.

Metaphysics, says the former Nebraska instructor, "is the science of the future." A prominent physicist has announced that the science of physics is complete. Dr. Alexander says that he hopes this is true, because people can turn to other things which are the future worlds which man can conquer.

Broaden One's Outlook.
The reason that the taxpayers of the state give their money to support an institution like the university is that the present generation may broaden their outlook on life. It is the duty of the students to throw open the windows and look out upon the future. It is for the students to become new pioneers, who are not frustrated, because America has no more "out-west" because all the available land has been taken up, because the thing (Continued on Page 4.)

'SS' Means 'Sob Sister' to Some-- Regardless of What It Means to You

"SS" might spell home to one of Uncle Sam's navy boys in blue. It might have a certain significance to some of Nebraska lawyers. . . . but to Bob Young and Doris Powell, prominent students at Nebraska, it can mean only one thing "Sob Sister" in one corner of the stage, it's hard to tell whether Bill is trying to console the girl or start rehearsal on second act of the show.

Bob is proving he can be just as good an actor as football player. He thinks he should be, though, for there's lots of play in both.

Contributions for Sledge Are Wanted

Contributions for the Sledge, the scandal sheet of the engineers, may be placed in the ballot boxes in the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering buildings, according to the "unidentified" editors. ## RIFLE TEAM WINS FOURTH IN MATCH

Husker Marksman Place in Regional Meet; Second In Valley.

BASIC TEAM IS SECOND

Husker rifleman placed fourth in the regional shoot of the National Rifle Association held Saturday at Iowa City. Iowa university, last year's national champion, was the regional winner with Kansas Aggies winning the Missouri Valley cup. The match was one of four held in various parts of the country with the scores of the winning regional teams to decide the national championship.

Following are the teams which fired in the regional match: Iowa university, 1346; Minnesota, 1327; Kansas Aggies, 1309; Nebraska, 1301; Kansas university, 1297; Missouri, 1295; Washington, 1285; and Wisconsin, 1256.

K-Aggies First.
First place in the valley went to Kansas Aggies with Nebraska second. In the recent postal match conducted in the valley, the Cornhusker team took the cup with the Kansas team second.

Following are the men who fired in the team match: Fred Sundeen, Lincoln, captain; Charles Wertman, Milford; Harland G. Pattison, Table Rock; Tom Huddleston, Lincoln, and Ted Burgess, Omaha. Sundeen was high scorer for the Huskers.

In an R. O. T. C. basic course team fired among the several special matches, Iowa won first with a Nebraska team taking the second place medals. The team was made up of Ted Burgess, captain; Robert Jewett, Lincoln; Howard Mixson, Omaha; Paul Yocum, Sutton, and Howard Schultz, Sutton.

Special Match.
A special team match firing prone, kneeling and standing was won by the Iowa first team with an Iowa second team placing second. Third place was awarded to a Nebraska team composed of Curtis Nelson, captain; Bristow; Henry Rinker, Perry, Ia.; Marion Baker, Lincoln; Claude Roe, Ord, and Paul Yocum.

A medley team match of four men each firing a different position was won by two Iowa teams with two Nebraska teams placing third and fourth.

A standing individual match was won by Robert C. Ellis of the Iowa school with a score of 94 out of a possible 100. Wertman of Nebraska placed second with 88.

Yocum Second.
A basic course R. O. T. C. individual match was won by Oliver of Iowa with Yocum of Nebraska second and Schultz of the Husker squad receiving the fifth place medal.

A kneeling match was won by Stafford of the Jay Hawk team with a score of 96 out of a possible 100. Sundeen, Husker rifleman, was fourth with 94.

A prone match was won by Northfield of Minnesota with a possible score of 100. Baker of Nebraska took fifth place.

BIZAD EXECUTIVE MEMBERS SELECT BOARD OFFICIALS

Alfred Hook of Omaha was elected chairman of the Bizad executive board, at its meeting held at 5 o'clock in Dean J. E. Le-Rossignol's office. Florence Anderson of St. Paul was chosen secretary and treasurer. Plans were discussed for Bizad day, but no definite action was taken.

The board decided to call for applications for chairmanship of the Bizad day committee. Any junior or senior in the college of business administration is eligible for the position. All applications must be in by April 14 at 5 o'clock. They should be submitted at Dean Le-Rossignol's office.

Cleary, author of the play who is co-director of the show, gets up in front of the principals at a rehearsal and shouts "Sob Sister—second act" and one of the girls in the chorus who has just received a bad bit of news from somewhere is sobbing softly to herself in one corner of the stage, it's hard to tell whether Bill is trying to console the girl or start rehearsal on second act of the show.

Bob is proving he can be just as good an actor as football player. He thinks he should be, though, for there's lots of play in both.

LARGE CROWDS VIEW PLAYERS' NEW OFFERING

'Little Clay Cart' Draws Responsive Audiences At Temple.

ROLES PORTRAYED WELL

Thirza Fay and Jere Mickel Take Lead Parts in Production.

Large and appreciative audiences are responding with enthusiasm to the University Players performance of "The Little Clay Cart" which is being given at the Temple theater this week, according to Miss Alice Howell, director of the Players.

Thirza Fay and Jere Mickel displayed unusual ability in handling the leading roles. Miss Fay, taking the part of Vasantasena, a courtesan, added to the beauty of the scenes with her picturesque gracefulness. In her long, flowing robes Miss Fay made a very charming Hindu woman.

Mickel Plays Charudatta.
Mr. Mickel portrayed the part of the virtuous Brahman merchant, Charudatta, with an ease and understanding that made his work stand out. Representing this merchant prince who because of his kindness and generosity loses all his wealth, he compels respect and admiration at all times. Mr. Mickel appeared in the original company which presented the play at the Goodman theater of Chicago.

Arthur Singley as Maitreya, the friend and servant of the good Charudatta, also did a nice piece of acting. W. Zolley Lerner as Sharvilaka, a Brahman in love with Madanika, played by Pauline Gellatly, furnishes much of the amusement and humor in the play. His love for Madanika, who is a maid of the courtesan, Vasantasena, causes him to resort to thievery in order to get enough money to buy her freedom. His entrance into Charudatta's house and the way in which he obtains the golden casket which is later found to belong to Vasantasena borders on the farce.

Rest of Cast Good.
Paul Miller, as a shampooer who turns Buddhist Monk, and Edwin Quinn also show a complete understanding of their roles. Harlon G. Faeton is to be complimented on the unique way in which he successfully portrays the character of Sansthanaka, a lipping villain who happens to be the brother-in-law of the king and profits by this relationship to further his villainy.

NEBRASKA POLL OF UNIVERSITIES ELICITS REPLIES

Iowa School Reports on Questionnaire Sent Out Recently.

DRINKING IS NO PROBLEM

Editor Says Ten Percent Habitually Consume Liquor.

BY POLITICUS.

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles containing information gleaned from questionnaires sent out by The Daily Nebraskan to forty universities and colleges. It will be attempted to take up just one institution at a time, beginning with the University of Iowa.

There is no need to worry about being up in curricular hours or having so many hours made during the past one or two semesters in order to be eligible for activities at the University of Iowa—except those who go out for athletics—says a report from the editor of the Daily Iowan, just received at The Daily Nebraskan office.

Athletes, in order to be able to participate in the various events, average, declares the Iowan. Fraternity members, however, can be initiated at any time regardless of how their scholarship stands or regardless of how many hours they have in school. With sorority women, the only requirement is that they must be students in the school at least one semester before being initiated.

Drinking No Problem.
That drinking is not necessarily a problem on the Iowa campus is attested to by the reply made in the questionnaire. Most of the Iowa students, the Hawkeye editor believes, are for strict enforcement of present legislation of prohibition and the conditions are "undoubtedly better than before prohibition," although "about 70 percent are occasional drinkers, 10 percent regular, and the rest total abstainers."

No discrimination is made by the neighboring editor between groups in so far as drinking is concerned. He states that drinking is not chiefly confined to fraternity houses or to nonfraternity students, but what there is of (Continued on Page 3.)

MORE BEAUX DRAWINGS ARE COMING NEXT WEEK

Another Architectural Set of Pictures Will Be Displayed.

Another set of architectural drawings from the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design in New York city is expected in about a week by the architectural department. The drawings will be on display in the architectural engineering design laboratory on the third floor of the Former Museum.

Problems of an advanced type will be featured in this exhibit, making it decidedly better than preceding exhibits which contained problems of an elementary nature. Some of the drawings to be included in the new series are: "An Office Building," first preliminary exercise for the twenty-third Paris prize, "A Peace Memorial," and "A Combined Railroad and Steamship Terminal."

The displays represent the work of various schools of the country. The drawings are sent to the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design in New York City where the work is examined and drawings of high merit compose the exhibit.

Student Council Is To Elect Holdover Group Wednesday

Holdover members for next year's student council will be elected at the regular meeting of the council Wednesday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Ralph Raikes. Two men and two women from this year's group will be selected.

Other important business to be taken up Wednesday will be the May queen election report and a consideration of the report of the committee on student organizations. The date of the spring election will be selected soon, possibly Wednesday.

W. A. A. PLANS MASS MEETING FOR WOMEN

Officers for Next Year to Be Installed; Letters Will Be Awarded.

MISS LEE WILL SPEAK

Women's athletic association will hold the first mass meeting for all university women in Grant Memorial hall at 7 to 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, April 8. Installation of officers and the presentation of the "N" awards will be the two big features of the evening. The new executive council made of the chairmen of the various committees will be announced.

Clarice McDonald, faculty sponsor of W. A. A., will install the president, Ruth Diamond, who in turn will install Dorothy Wenner, vice president; Jean Rathburn, secretary; and Ereniece Hoffman, treasurer. Social, editorial, expansion, points, publicity, concessions chairmen will be introduced.

'N' to Be Awarded.

The "N" awards will be made by Ruth Diamond. Those receiving the award were judged by their eligibility on the basis of interest, scholarship, and character. The committee making the selections are composed of all women now attending the university who have been awarded "N's" and a faculty sponsor. The interest shown by the candidates is determined by the number of sports each has entered every year. The final decision rests with the executive council of intramurals.

Mabel Lee, professor of physical education, in charge of the women's gymnasium, will speak on the ideals of the organization. Miss Lee was the instigator of the present intramural organization. Sport heads will give an outline of the program for this spring. Minerva Worthman will talk about baseball and Elaine Haverfield will talk on tennis. Both sports start this week.

Sports to Be Explained.

Archery will be explained by Lucille Ackerman, deck tennis is to be surveyed by Betty Harrison. Jean Rathburn will speak on the swimming meet to be held the last part of May. The qualification rounds and the flights of the golf tournament are to be explained by Fayette Norris. The dance drama sponsored by Orchestis, the honorary dancing organization, will be the theme of the talk by Antoinette Locooco.

A feature program of clog dancing by Imanelle Waldo, and several song selections is planned. Booklets featuring the spring sport program will be distributed for the first time.

LEGION AUXILIARY WILL AWAR BEST R.O.T.C. STUDENT

A practical and theoretical test will be given on April 15 and 16 from 5 to 6 o'clock on the drill field for a $25 award given by the Nebraska American Legion auxiliary, and open to all students who will have completed the two years basic course in military science this June.

The test will consist of physical bearing and appearance, military confidence, leadership, response of unit being drilled, method and ability to drill and command a squad, and grades in military science. The above will constitute 75 percent of the test, academic standing to count 25 percent.

The test will be conducted by Captains Crissy, Lyon and Lehman, of the United States army in the military department of the University of Nebraska.

Gadfly Swarm Buzzes Out on Picnic Together With Feminine Flea Troupe

BY GAD.
The first (and probably the last) Gadfly picnic was held Sunday afternoon (and well into the evening) at the new Gadfly country club house five miles north and two miles west of Lincoln. The Gadflies, an offshoot of the original organization which circulated the anonymous "With Fire and Sword" a fortnight ago, were accompanied by their auxiliary, the Gadflies.

Only nine of the fifteen charter flies attend the outing. These were Little-Casser-in-the-Coliseum Skiv Moribund McGaffin, Willy Nilly McCleary, Shilly Shally Kelly, Shyster Schick, Nincempoop Robb, Numskull Akin, Flim Flam Waite and Oaf Gomom. The brothers unable to attend for sundry reasons were Spineless Sanabali, Anaemic Anderson, Kow-Tow Backus, Nani-

P. B. K.'S ARE TO BE NAMED TODAY AT CONVOCAION

Honorary Students Will Be Announced Before Temple Audience.

HIGH RATING NECESSARY

Oldest Scholastic Group Requires Exceptional Grade Average.

Thirty-third annual announcement of newly-elected members to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, will be made at a convocation in the Temple theater this morning at 11 o'clock. The announcement will be preceded by the junior recital of Dorothy Ellermeier, student in the school of fine arts.

Present members elect each year from one-tenth to one-sixth of the graduating class on the basis of scholarship during their attendance at the University of Nebraska.

Requirements Listed.

Requirements for membership are: The student must be a member of the June graduating class or of the preceding midyear or summer school class; grades must be made in the University of Nebraska and in subjects exclusive of shorthand, typewriting and required military or physical training; there must be sixty-four hours, exclusively of the above, registered with the registrar; with at least twenty-four of these hours in group requirements.

The highest average of a member of the honor group is 87.10 made in 1920, and the low mark is 87.50 made in the same year.

Founded in 1776.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 at William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va. This organization was preceded by another group, similar in organization and function, known as the Fiat Hall, which was organized in 1750 at the same college. John Heath, the first president of the fraternity, with five other men met one evening in the Apollo room of the old Raleigh tavern at which time Patrick Henry delivered one of his most eloquent orations.

This group chose a motto of which the initial letters are the letters signifying the name. A silver medal with S. P. engraved on one side and Phi Beta Kappa on the other, was chosen as the badge for the brotherhood. The key with which we are familiar soon replaced this emblem.

Organization Grew.

Soon the organization began to grow and as it did so more dignity and prestige was attached to it. Drastic oaths of fidelity and secrecy were designed and administered to the members as the list increased in size. Meetings were held regularly which consisted mostly of a literary program. Essays were read and orations (Continued on Page 3.)

TEKES LEASE PROPERTY ON FOURTEENTH AND Q

Fraternity Will Move Into Downtown Campus Area Next Year.

Before its opening of the university in the fall another fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon, will have become a member of the fraternity group located in the downtown fraternity area. The Tekes have leased the residence on the corner of Fourteenth and Que streets, known as the old Lincoln hospital.

The move will be made from the present fraternity location at 2539 Que street, where the fraternity has been located for the past six years. Previously to the move at 2539 Que, the group lived at Twenty-fifth and R streets.

Leasing of the property in the downtown zone is only temporary, state members of the fraternity. The Tekes own building lots on Vine street where they expect to erect a new home in the future.

The new property was leased from Dr. W. N. Ramey, who formerly operated a hospital in the residence.

Chapter Fights Draft.

The Rag chapter of the organization was founded a week ago to prevent graft and corruption from undermining the best interests of the university. It has been the case in the past. The Gadflies have as their purpose to shed light upon the many rank weeds that grow in the garden called The University of Nebraska. Their constitution has not been submitted to the Student council.

So that the whole school may know their above board tactics, a detailed report of the Founder's day picnic follows:
