HUGH RHEA GETS SECOND IN SHOT PUTTING FINALS

Jim Bausch Sets New Mark At 49 Feet, 1 1/2 Inches to Beat Husker.

LAMSON DRAWS SECOND

Conditions Nearly Perfect For Finals at Drake Relay Carnival.

Willis Lamson gave Sentman, Illini high stick artist, a pretty race in the 120 yard event, trailing him only a few inches, and crowding him for a mark of 14.9 seconds in Drake relay finals Saturday.

Conditions were good for record breaking performances. The track was exceedingly fast, and a warm sunshine spurred 2,400 athletes from all parts of the middle west to superlative efforts.

After having set a new record for the Drake relay carnival in the shot with a toss of 48 feet, 10 inches Friday, Hugh Rhea, Husker weight star, was forced to take a second in the event, when Jim Bausch, Jayhawk phenom, outdid himself in the Saturday finals with a second record in two days of 49 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

The Nebraskans managed to take two places in the hop, step and jump when Craig negotiated a trip of 43 feet, 9 3/4 inches for third place, and Tomson getting 43 feet, 3 1/4 inch for fifth place. Cobe also took a fourth in his favorite, the broad jump, with a leap of 23 feet 1 1/4 inch.

Bill Ossian failed to get into the 13 feet class in the pole vault and had to content himself with a fourth, acquired with an effort of 12 feet, 6 inches. Both Hokuf and Faytinger delivered in the javelin event, the former annexing third place with a heave of 182.57 feet, and the latter getting fifth with a toss of 178.2 feet.

The Husker 2 mile relay quartet drew a third, while the football 440 yard team got a fourth.

Hugh Rhea, Nebraska footballer and weight heaver par excellent turned in his third record breaking performance of the week when he heaved the shot 48 feet 10 inches in the preliminaries of the Drake carnival. His toss was one inch better than the previous Drake mark, set by White of Kansas State Teachers, Pittsburg, Kas., in 1928.

Steve Hokuf, likewise a football favorite, was another Nebraskan to qualify in the shot event. He was second to Rhea, both men being ahead of Jim Bausch of Kansas university, recognized as one of the best weight men in the west. Hokuf likewise qualified in the javelin, along with Faytinger, Weldon of Iowa got the best throw in the preliminaries. His distance was 199.42 feet.

Ossian Qualifies. Lamson, Nebraska hurdle ace, was the best man in the hurdle preliminaries. He stepped the high sticks in 14.9 seconds, the best time of the meet. Smutney, Nebraska dash man, qualified in the 100 yard dash. He was led to the tape by Claude Bracey, Rice Institute (Texas) speedster, who ran the distance in 9.8 seconds.

Ossian, Nebraska pole vaulter, was among those who got into the finals at the Drake carnival. He cleared the bar at 12 feet 9 inches to qualify. Five meet records were smashed in the qualifying rounds at the Iowa races. They were: University medley relay, run in 10:23.7, by Marquette university; Iowa college mile relay, Morningside; Iowa college half mile relay, Morningside; Hugh Rhea, Nebraska, shot put; and 880 yard relay, won by Michigan in 1:26.6.

PLANE SCHOOL WILL GIVE FOUR AWARDS

Tuition Value of $7,100 Is Being Offered By Aviation Leader.

Four scholarships for university students interested in aeronautics will be offered on the basis of an essay contest, according to a recent announcement. The total tuition value of $7,100 offered by W. E. Boeing, an outstanding figure in American aviation, are effective at the Boeing school of aeronautics at Oakland, Calif., according to the notice received by the administrative officials. Candidates must write an essay on one of the following subjects: "Aviation's Contribution to Internationalism," "The Development of Air Transportation and Its Possibilities," or "The Development of Safety Features on Established Air Transport Lines. They must also have maintained a scholastic standing to classify them in the upper one-third of their class for their entire period of their enrollment. Any undergraduate student, including the 1936 graduating class, is eligible as a candidate. The essays, due at the Boeing School by June 9, will be judged by a national committee of award, composed of prominent educators and leaders in the aeronautical industry. Full details may be obtained at the administrative office.

HUSKERS RAINED OUT ON SOONER DIAMOND

Saturday Game Called Off at End of Third; Ends No-Victory Tour.

OKLAHOMA WINS FRIDAY

A sudden and drenching shower in the third inning of the Nebraska Oklahoma baseball game, Saturday denied Choppy Rhodes' diamond men the opportunity to get revenge for the 6 to 5 beating they received Friday on the Norman field.

The score stood at 1 to 0 when the arbiter decided to call it a day. Glenn Ullstrom was having the most luck at the plate for the Huskers, getting a pair of singles in two trips to the plate.

Rhodes chose to start Ted Pickel, with Russell Snygg doing the backstopping. The Sooner battery consisted of Cannon and Watson.

The end of the southern swing found the Nebraskans with three defeats against them, and a called off game. Missouri pated a pair of trimmings earlier in the week, and Oklahoma getting a decision Friday. This brings the Husker loss total to four, and a lone victory from the Haskell Indians.

In the Friday game, Don Chappell, a lanky, blonde pinch hitter for Oklahoma, spelled defeat for the Cornhuskers when he poled out a triple in the last half of the tenth inning of an extra period encounter and scored two men ahead of him. The count had been knotted at 4 all at the end of nine innings.

The two counters scored on Chappell's hit gave the Sooners a one run margin, 6 to 5, as the Huskers had scored only one run in their half of the tenth. The count had previously been knotted at 3 to 3 at the start of the ninth. Mutt Davison of Nebraska got the only homer of the day in that inning.

The hits were even in the game, each team getting six. Four errors were charged against the Sooners and three against the Huskers.

DRYS MAKING SLIGHT GAIN IN DIGEST POLL

Votes for Enforcement Rise, Repeal and Modification Continue to Lead.

OTHER CHECK-UPS TALLY

Drys continue to gain slightly in the Literary Digest poll, as is shown in this magazine's seventh report. Kansas is the driest and New Jersey is the wettest state. Of a total of 46,500 votes for Nebraska, 19,750 were cast for enforcement, 13,863 for modification, and 12,717 for repeal.

The drys polled 29.49 percent of the total. The vote for modification is 29.84 percent. The number of ballots registered for repeal show a decrease over former polls. The repeal ballots represented 40.67 percent of the total.

Connecticut, New Jersey, and Rhode Island are the only states which show a clear majority vote for repeal. Enforcement states are Alabama, Colorado, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Texas. States polling for repeal are Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and the District of Columbia.

The Literary Digest invites all newspapers in the country to check up on their returns. Several papers have done so, and the Digest states that the results are similar in each case.

Omaha Sees to It That Its Students Do Not Swell Lincoln's Population

Where there is college students there is trouble. The latest application of this self made adage can be found in the census count that is now being made. Whether University of Nebraska students are being counted in the Lincoln population or whether they are being cared for by the "home folks" is at the bottom of the whole thing.

Stepping gallantly to the front and asserting its rights, the Omaha chamber of commerce has declared war on the Lincoln enumerators alleging them of trying to swell Lincoln's count by including nonresident students. As a result the chamber has begun a canvass of Omaha students at the University of Nebraska, with the idea in mind of having them listed in the Omaha census.

"We hear Lincoln is enumerating Omaha students on the grounds they work for their board and room," Frank Fogarty of the Omaha chamber of commerce is quoted as saying in one of the city's newspapers.

Students Counted at Home. "The law says students must be counted not in the college town," continues Fogarty, "but in the localities from which they come. We are going to make a complete check to see that all of our students away at school are counted for Omaha."

The names of Nebraska students are not the only ones that are to be scanned by the Omahans. They have announced an extensive check-up on all their students at the Universities of Missouri and Iowa, and the Iowa State college at Ames, as well as the University of Nebraska.

Harley O. Parsons, Lincoln census supervisor of the sixth district, says no deliberate attempt is being made on the part of his enumerators to "steal" Omaha's young population.

Greek Houses No Population. "There are rows of fraternity and sorority houses here where we haven't listed a soul as population," he said. "In that fraternity and sorority district, there are more votes cast than the census figures show. They vote in Lincoln, but they aren't counted as population."

The supervisor says that his workers are counting students who have jobs in Lincoln, regardless of their home addresses. But, he said, he was doing this with full authority.

Announce Standings In Ball Tournament

As the interfraternity baseball tournament enters the fourth week of play, Alpha Sigma Phi in League I, Tau Kappa Epsilon in League II, Delta Tau Delta in League IV, and Pi Kappa Phi in League V are leading the field. In League III, Delta Sigma Phi and Delta Upsilon are tied for the top position.

NEBRASKA SIGNS FOR 1932-33 PITT MIXES

Gridsters Will Play Turkey Day Game in Smoky City For First Time.

FOUR GAMES ARRANGED

Nebraska's football team will have at least one strong intercollegiate opponent up to and including 1933. It was announced Saturday by H. D. Gish, director of athletics.

The announcement followed the signing of a new two year contract with Pittsburgh. The new agreement is an extension of the present one, which runs through 1931. It will bring Pittsburgh to Lincoln Nov. 12, 1932, and Nebraska will go to the eastern school in 1933 on a date to be determined.

The 1931 game will be in Lincoln, with Nebraska going to Pitt for the 1930 encounter on Thanksgiving day. The contest will be the second Nebraska game away from home on Thanksgiving day in several years. The last one was in 1926, when Nebraska played the University of Washington at Seattle.

Need Strong Game. "Although Nebraska will be departing from its usual custom in playing away from home Thanksgiving day in 1931, we feel that it is best," Mr. Gish said Saturday. "A strong opponent cannot be secured for a Thanksgiving game year after year at home. Iowa university's Hawkeyes will come to Nebraska Nov. 22, the Saturday before Thanksgiving, and that will close the home season in 1931. We felt that to secure a weak team for a home game on Thanksgiving day in 1931 would be an anticlimax, and decided that it would be better for Nebraska to go to Pittsburgh for the holiday contest."

In 1931, the Cornhuskers will meet Kansas, Oklahoma, and Iowa State in addition to Iowa U. Additional home games are to be scheduled later, Pitt, Missouri and Kansas Aggies will be among the teams to be met away from home that year.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Coach Black Will Head Two Weeks' Workout for Frosh Benefit.

Spring basketball practice is scheduled to get under way tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Coliseum, with Coach Charley Black in charge. The workouts will be held every afternoon for two weeks. Freshman and stage floors are to be used for the sessions, since the varsity court is now being used for tennis.

One of the primary objects is to give freshmen something to work on during the summer in case it is possible for them to practice, according to Coach Black. Instruction will be given them in the style of shooting used by the Nebraska team and in fundamentals which can be practiced at home.

The spring practice is expected to be useful in putting the squad in better shape for the opening of the training grind next fall, by getting considerable of the work of fundamentals out of the way, leaving more time for drill on team play.

ATHLETIC OFFICIALS TO TOUR OUTSTATE

Bible, Ramsay, Selleck, McBride and Gish Will Address Alumni.

WILL SEE TRACK MEET

Head Coach Dana N. Bible, Ray Ramsay, John K. Selleck, Gregg McBride and H. D. Gish will leave Monday morning for a trip through the western part of Nebraska to speak at a number of meetings of Nebraska university alumni and civic clubs, and to officiate at various track meets.

They will be honor guests and speakers at a joint meeting of the university alumni and the junior chamber of commerce at North Platte Monday night. Tuesday will find the party in Oshkosh, Neb., where they will officiate at the South Platte Valley High School track meet. Mr. Gish will act as starter, D. N. Bible as head finish judge, and Gregg McBride as referee. Tuesday evening the group will be guests at a banquet, which will be attended by all the athletes in the track meet.

In Alliance Wednesday. An alumni and civic club luncheon will be given in honor of the Nebraska party at Alliance Wednesday noon. A similar function at Scottsbluff will be given for the five representatives of the university Wednesday evening.

High school athletes, alumni, and members of the chamber of commerce will be addressed by the party at Broken Bow Thursday night. They will remain in Broken Bow Friday, and will officiate at the Custer county track meet. It will be the eighth consecutive year that Mr. Gish and Mr. McBride have served as officials of the meet. They will return home Friday night.

LARGE AUDIENCE APPLAUDS FINAL KOSMET COMEDY

ious direction on the part of the author and Carl Hahn, production manager of the club. McCleery and Hahn had complete charge in selecting the cast as well as directing them.

A coed dancing chorus of ten proved to be an immense hit and the male chorus of nine, which furnished a singing background to several different scenes, brought forth much favorable comment. Complete change of costumes was provided for each dance and these were the work of LeRoy Clark, master of costumes in the club. His originality and cleverness in conceiving the different costumes were mentioned by everyone who saw the show.

Music for the show has been declared by critics to be the best ever used in any Kosmet production. The encores which were given in response to calls from the audience should back up such an assertion. A thirteen piece orchestra under the direction of William T. "Billie" Quick played for the solos, dances and between acts of the show.

The chief song hits of the show were "Lock Step," "Step It Up," "Uncertainty," "High Hat," "No More Women," and the theme song "Believing." The first two songs were used by the choruses. Miss Powell played her own accompaniment and sang "Uncertainty" at the end of the show.

Due to a typographical error the date of STUDENTS' NIGHT at the Pia-Mor was quoted as Saturday night, whereas it should have read Friday night. The Nebraskans played Friday night.

the start of the second act. This me' with tremendous favor. "High Hat" and "No More Women" were both sung by Chiles and encores were necessary on both of these. Ray Casford, Stan Kiger and Bill Silverman, known as high hatlers from the male chorus, sang with Chiles on "High Hat" and were received in a fine way. "Believing" was sung by both Miss Powell and Mr. Young and both was used in the finale.

The plot of "Sob Sister" is an unusual one. The story centers around Bob Young as Bob, and Warren Chiles as Bennie, convicts in San Menquin penitentiary. Bob is in for two months on a mysterious record which is only known by the governor and himself while Bennie's term of six months is for reasons which "the prosecuting attorney knew more about than anyone else."

When the play begins, each have only two weeks left to serve. A group of sob sisters come through the prison one day on a tour of inspection and with them is Doris Powell in her role of Mary Smith. Bob is attracted to Mary, who is not a sob sister, and when he and Bennie get out two weeks later they "crash" a reception being held in Mary's home.

Soon after they arrive, Doris Hosman as Miss Shedd, sob sister, discovers that she has lost a diamond necklace and the police are called. Bob and Bennie meet Mary, who does not recognize them as former convicts, and they pose as friends of Virgil Shedd, Miss Shedd's brother. Their alibi is broken when Shedd, played by Walter Vogt, appears and identifies them as ex-convicts of San Menquin. They are taken back to San Menquin so that their records may be checked but Bob believes Shedd has stolen the necklace. He gets permission to have Shedd and sister, Mary Smith and her mother called to the prison and after they arrive proves that Shedd must have taken the necklace although Shedd is never arrested.

Bob and Bennie are freed and Bob's mysterious record is cleared up when the governor discloses that Bob is really Robert Courtland Hamilton, famous novelist, who had himself put in prison so he could get atmosphere for his next book.

Prof. Orin Stepanek of the university language department, in commenting on the play recently declared that it was on a par with Gilbert and Sullivan.

Other comments of professors interested in the drama have been to the effect that McCleery's play is very good, unusual for a student, and full of witty lines and fast moving comedy.

The play was given Thursday and Friday nights as well as last night and response on each of the nights was the same as on the final presentation. McCleery's "Don't Be Silly" last year was deemed witty and clever by all who saw it but it is claimed that "Sob Sister" even surpassed "Don't Be Silly." "Don't Be Silly" was taken on a five day road tour besides being given two nights in Lincoln. It was staged by an all male cast. Good crowds witnessed Friday and Saturday night's presentations of "Sob Sister" while only a fair audience was in attendance Thursday night.
