

OHIO STATE TIME LIMIT ON DATES SET FOR 1 A. M.

Faculty Supervises Most Student Activities, Is Reply of Editor.

PROHIBITION IS PROBLEM

No Poll Taken, But Opinion Prevails That Liquor Situation Is Bad.

Cord students at Ohio State university are required to be in their dormitory or rooming houses at 1 o'clock on week end nights.

The 10:30 rule for week and Sunday nights for women students prevails as at Nebraska.

In all-university social activities, the fraternity and sorority group is the dominant element.

The Drinking Problem. No poll or questionnaire has been taken which would give information on the drinking question.

There is no direct faculty supervision of student elections at the present time. Elections are generally on the level of fraternity politics.

Little Eligibility Trouble. Scholarship constitutes the only eligibility requirement.

The editor of the Lantern estimates that 30 percent of the students attend church.

AMES, Ia.—Five athletic events on the home field this week will give Velshe visitors at Iowa State college a chance to see three Cyclonic teams in action.

The Big Six Shooter

AFTER the manner of Jean Rafterburn: Play ball! At least the game is something like baseball.

If you happen to be in the vicinity of the field east of Social, just take a look at the enthusiasts playing the game.

IT MAY be interesting to chuckle a little at the antics the girls go through while indulging what they call intramurals.

THE BASEBALL team had a pleasant afternoon Monday with Kansas.

It rains and rains and rains and rains and rains and rains and rains.

Here's the Body. Because it rains and rains and rains and rains and rains and rains and rains.

And just as we get to the end of that, in comes Elmont Waite, returning from a moist trip to the Journal with copy.

THE ROYAL Odor of Gadflies is engaged in work intended to raise the general tone of the organization.

spring by opposing the University of Missouri tracksters Thursday.

Besides the main athletic features, Coach Jake Daubert will again present his swimming circus with its cast of Cyclone splash stars and bathing beauties.

WEDNESDAY afternoon the Cyclone tennis team opposes the championship University of Oklahoma quartet on the local court.

Following the match with the Sooners the Cyclones engage the Missouri net team on Saturday.

Of the three teams Oklahoma is alone undefeated this season.

Runkle and Thurman, high ranking players in the conference a year ago, are still serving for the Oklahomaans.

Besides the main athletic features, Coach Jake Daubert will again present his swimming circus with its cast of Cyclone splash stars and bathing beauties.

Dick Fleig, Big Six champion diver this year, along with Neil Chicken, also a diver on the Iowa State team, will be featured.

Iowa State Radio Announcer Reveals Love, Laughter and Death in Studio

AMES, Ia.—The humor and drama, joy and tragedy, music, lectures—life as it passes through the broadcasting studio has been revealed to Iowa radio fans by A. G. (Andy) Woolfrie, announcer for WOI, broadcasting station of Iowa State college.

A radio announcer's life is not in any sense monotonous, according to Andy. He told of the time when two sopranos were discussing culinary matters in the studio while he announced the next song.

New Version. "This was a new version of 'Whispering Hope' and we thought we would never hear the end of it."

Announcers seldom have time to dabble in romance but Andy may have played a rather important part in one a few years ago.

Baseball Squad Gets Rained Out. Rain prevented the playing of the game scheduled for yesterday at Lawrence, Kas.

WOMEN'S SPORTS CONTINUE WITH COMING OF SUN

Good Weather Enables Ball Games to Be Played Off Monday.

GROUP RATINGS LISTED

Delta Zeta in Lead; Tri Delta Second, Kappa Deltas in Third.

Women's intramural sports continued this week, with the advent of a short period of favorable weather.

As was announced at the women's intramural meeting some time ago, in the six sports offered so far this year, hockey, paddle tennis, bowling, basketball, Nebraska ball and rifle, over one thousand girls have entered.

Tourney Winners. Delta Delta Delta and Delta Gamma were winner and runner up respectively in the paddle tennis tourney.

1930 YEARBOOKS TO BE RELEASED MONDAY, MAY 9

Only 2,000 Copies Printed, Says Business Head; May Be Scarce.

CONTAIN NEW FEATURES

Novel Department Section, Student Life Pages, Editors State.

Monday, May 19, is the date set for the distribution of the 1930 Cornhusker, according to George Kennedy, business manager.

Those who get to the officers first will be the ones to receive a year book. Mr. Kennedy also stated that in case any fraternity or sorority wished to have its name embossed in gold letters on the front of their book they would have to sign their intention at once because the order is to be sent immediately.

The 1930 Cornhusker embodies several new features this year that are calculated to make it one of the best books that have been put out at the University of Nebraska, according to staff members.

Senior Sections Revised. The senior and junior sections have been changed to incorporate an idea which is thought will simplify the identification of each person in the panels.

CHICAGO, Ill.—The health department is upset over the traffic policemen's whistles.

They are too harsh, too shrill, too raucous, Commissioner Arnold Kegeel told the Chicago medical society today.

UNIVERSITY TO "FLOAT". UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, SEATTLE.—The science department of the University of Washington will turn into a "floating" university when a group of students will be taken on a cruise to study geology and botany in the Hawaiian islands.
