BETTER WEATHER ASSURES HOLDING JOURNALISM DAY

Entire Schedule of Events To Be Given Due to More Favorable Elements.

PICNIC PLACE CHANGED

Horkey's Park, Crete, Is to Be Used in Place of Seward Spot.

Because of the inability to make satisfactory arrangements for the Seward park, the picnic program of the Journalism day will be staged in Horkey's park in Crete. The entire schedule of events will be held, contrary to reports of yesterday. Transportation is being furnished by the committee in charge.

With the return of sunny skies as further assurance of the success of the first annual Journalism day which is scheduled to begin this morning, arrangements have been made to carry out the complete program as formerly announced.

Due to the inclement weather of yesterday reports were circulated to the effect that the picnic part of the program had been abandoned, but it was later decided by the committee in charge that it would be possible to stage the picnic in the afternoon.

Party Goes to Crete.

The scene of the picnic had to be changed at the last minute to Horkey's park at Crete instead of the Seward park as formally announced. It is thought by the committee that this change would be more convenient and would offer additional attractions for the crowd.

Because of the altered plans, some tickets for the picnic had already been sold yesterday for fifty cents. With the resuming of the entire day's schedule, purchasers of these tickets may secure a new ticket which entitles them to take part in the entire day's program for fifty cents additional.

Dancing Provided.

Tickets for the program will be available this morning, either at the office of The Daily Nebraskan or the school of Journalism for $1. There will be a social at the 10 o'clock section of the news writing class also.

The caravan for Crete will start at 1 o'clock following a lunch at the Annex cafe. The first event in the schedule is a convocation in the Social Sciences auditorium at which time the Sigma Delta Chi award will be given for the best news story and the best feature story written for The Daily Nebraskan during the first semester of this year. Three skits have been prepared for the convocation.

The afternoon's program will include an elimination indoor basketball tournament, boxing and other activities. Horkey's pavilion has been secured by the committee, and dancing will also be a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

A big picnic supper specially prepared by Miller & Paine's lunch service is to be served at 6 o'clock to wind up the activities of the day.

114 SECONDARY SCHOOLS ENTER RECORD COMPET

New record for teams entered in the state school track meet was established when the total reached 114 Tuesday afternoon. The largest number previously entered was 116 last year. Recent entries in group 1 are Greenwood and Valparaiso; group 2, St. Paul West Point; group 3, Callaway, Holdrege, McCook and Seward.

Lincoln high turned in its entries in golf and tennis.

TASSELS TO ELECT MEMBERS THURSDAY

New members will be chosen at the Tassel meeting Thursday at 7:15 p. m., in Ellen Smith hall. Plans will also be made for picnic at which new girls will be pledged. All those who have ordered Tassel pictures are requested to bring their money, according to Sally Pickard, president.

REGISTRATION IN COLLEGES JUMPS TO HIGHER LEVEL

Registration increased Wednesday according to reports from the offices of the colleges. The college of engineering, with a total of 270, has the highest registration in the college of arts and science. Only 100 students have registered in the college of business administration. Reports concerning registration of the other colleges were not obtainable. Students in the college of business administration must be registered by Thursday evening. There will be registration on Friday because of the annual Bizzard day.

REGENTS CREATE FOUR FRESHMAN AWARDS

Scholarships to Be Given On Results of Entrance Examination.

TEST ON FIVE SUBJECTS

Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska have provided four scholarships for freshmen entering the university this fall to be awarded on a basis of results of an examination in five academic subjects required for admission to some college of the university. English, mathematics, foreign languages, natural sciences and social sciences are the subjects which will be used in the examination.

Each contestant must be examined in English and mathematics. Each contestant will select three other examinations, the highest unit of the subjects necessary to complete the nine academic units required for full admission to the college which the student expects to enter. Those preparing for the college of arts and sciences, college of business administration, the college of pharmacy and the teachers college A. B., must add a foreign language completing the nine academic units by natural sciences and social sciences as desired.

For the college of engineering, mathematics must be a major and chemistry and physics must be minors. Those expecting to enter the college of agriculture or the teachers college, B. Sc., may complete their nine academic requirements by any combination required.

Each School May Enter Two.

Each accredited high school may enter two contestants. The students may take the English examination in the classification tests taken for entrance to the university while the other examinations will be taken on Wednesday of registration week.

All contestants must be members of the graduating class of the year 1929-30, either midyear or June, and must be graduated in order to have their entry finally validated. They must have entrance credits that fully meet the requirements of a college of the university.

The examination in algebra will be divided into two parts. All candidates for entrance to colleges other than engineering who have only a minor in mathematics will take the first part only. There will be no other examination in mathematics.

ANNUAL HORSE SHOW SET FOR MAY 16, 17

Second Exhibit to Be Held At Coliseum on State Fair Grounds.

Horsemen from all parts of the Midwest will gather in Lincoln on May 16 and 17 for the second annual Lincoln Horse show, which will bring fine pleasure and draft horses to the state fair grounds coliseum.

Nebraskans whose interest in thoroughbred horses has been whetted by the first Lincoln horse show last year and also by the Ak-Sar-Bon horse show, held in conjunction with the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee last fall in Omaha, are taking a great interest in the Lincoln show and groups of horse lovers from every section of the state are planning on coming to Lincoln next week for the Friday and Saturday evening performances and the Saturday matinee.

Every class of horses will be represented. There will be fine draft horses from the University of Nebraska stables, beautiful saddle horses, gaited and walk trot animals, hunters and jumpers, and ponies that will delight the hearts of the boys and girls who attend the horse show with their parents.

Different Classes Represented. Thrills, excitement and enjoyable entertainment are the keynotes of this year's show.

Governor to Attend. Gov. Arthur Weaver and Mrs. Weaver will attend the show and a special box has been reserved for them. Governor Weaver will also deliver a brief message to the people of Nebraska who like fine horses, at one of the performances. Miss Louise Weaver, daughter of the governor, will probably ride in the best lady rider's class.

Managers. Minneapolis, Kansas City and several Texas cities that are horse centers will send entries from their best stables to the Lincoln show. More than 250 thoroughbreds are entered in the various classes. Keen competition exists between Omaha and Lincoln entries.

FACTIONS MAKE PLATFORMS FOR STUDENT POLL

Blue Shirts, Barbs Create Policies After Planks of Yellowjackets Appear.

COED OFFICES PROBLEM

Parties Puzzle Over What To Do With Positions Demanding Women.

BY POLITICUS.

Following the appearance of the surprise platform of the yellowjackets in Wednesday's Nebraskan, the other two factional groups on the campus—the blue shirts and the barbs—have drawn up their policies in plank form.

The barb platform is being published this morning while the blue shirt stand will be given Friday morning.

The biggest problem looming up at the present time in the minds of the bosses and their henchmen is what to do with the offices which must be filled by women. Whether to include the female element in their slates is the big question.

Heretofore, the barbs have always had a sprinkling of women candidates along with their male choices and according to the non-fraternity leader, Alan G. Williams, the same procedure will be followed this year.

Williams Made Barb Chief.

The barbs held their faction meeting Wednesday noon when Williams was elected official chief. Their slate is still pending, hinging on eligibilities and other matters.

Neither Carl Hahn, yellowjacket boss, nor Stanley Day, blue shirt captain, were sure if their groups would digress from former years and list women candidates too, when questioned about the matter Wednesday afternoon.

Rumors are very numerous that the fraternity factions will attempt something of this sort in order to gain sorority support.

The sororities still have another alternative—they have a right to organize factions of their own or they may file their candidates separately and independently from any of the other factions.

Caucuses Held.

Caucuses were held late last night by both the yellowjackets and blue shirts and an announcement concerning any action taken then in regard to this matter will be made tomorrow.

The major part of the evening's deliberations of the two camps, however, consisted of who should run for the respective positions and why. Tentative lists were gone over after the axe had been swung on those who could not weather the eligibility storm.

All offices are expected to be taken care of by Friday, so that all aspirants can be filed by a faction representative before the deadline at 5 p. m. that day.

Because of the more stringent rules laid down by the Student Council as regards eligibility, the party men have found more difficulty than formerly in getting their cards outlined as best they can.

MISS LALLMAN, RICHARDS WIN MATH CONTEST

Lorraine Lallman won the Calculus contest and Cerdic Richards won the analytics competition sponsored by Phi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics society, according to an announcement made by the group last night.

The society will hold a meeting in Social Science 101 at 7:30 tonight. C. Holton will be the principal speaker. He will give a comparison of the amount of sun light received in various parts of Nebraska during the different times of the year, and will tell how it is computed.

Dentistry Chairman Will Conduct Regular Exams

Dr. Fred W. Webster, chairman of the department of operative dentistry, will conduct his regular semester practical clinical examination after the same manner as the one conducted by the Nebraska State Dental Examining board next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 12, 13 and 14.

Coed Candidates for Council Do Not Need To Join With Parties

Women candidates for the Student Council need not affiliate themselves with any of the three major political factions, Ralph Raikes stated yesterday. They may either file independently or form a new faction among sororities.

There are several places on the Student Council which are open to women only. There are two women elected from junior class, one sophomore woman from the college of arts and sciences, one from the school of fine arts, one from the teachers college. In addition women members may be elected from the school of Journalism.

Barb Faction Platform

On the basis of the following issues as making for progress and betterment of the University of Nebraska, the barb faction asks that the barbs and all others interested in a constructive program vote for its candidates.

1. We stand for democratic participation in student activities for both men and women in student government.
2. We stand for an intramural program that allows and encourages the participation of non-fraternity students.
3. We believe that the all university parties should remain in the hands of the group at present conducting them.
4. We stand for better co-operation and understanding between the administration, faculty and student body.

R.O.T.C. Parade Will Be Held at 5 O'clock Today on Drill Field

R. O. T. C. cadets will stage the fourth parade of the semester when they assemble in honor of Chancellor E. A. Burnett on the drill field at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

There is a chance that members of the university rifle team will be honored at this time by the presentation of a medal when they receive the Missouri Valley championship. Fifteen medals of gold are now on display in the trophy case in Nebraska hall.

According to all reports this parade promises to be one of the best of the year, and Col. F. J. Jewett voices similar sentiments.

OMAHA SCHOOL WILL NOT HURT NEBRASKA

Burnett Says New Institute Will Not Affect Many Students Here.

GOOD THING FOR CITY

The establishment of a municipal university in Omaha will not affect the student enrollment to a marked degree, as indicated in a statement by Chancellor E. A. Burnett.

"This is undoubtedly a good thing for Omaha, and I heartily approve of the establishment," he declared when informed that the vote had been favorable. An appropriation of $250,000 a year was voted in order to create a municipal university from the former University of Omaha, a denominational school.

The Omaha university had a small budget of $60,000 a year, and proved to be insufficient to provide adequate facilities. The municipal university is a part of the new movement sweeping the country for the establishment of such institutions. The most notable examples are New York, Chicago and Cincinnati.

"Perhaps fifty or a hundred students will be affected by this, but the number is negligible in comparison to the large number enrolled," the chancellor opined. The university has been competing with many small colleges in the state successfully, and the new college will probably be similar to Crete or Wesleyan, mainly an arts and science college. The new municipal university will probably draw largely from the Omaha students, he believes.

CUNNINGHAM HAS EXPERIENCE IN FIELD

Professor Architecture for Next Year Is Engaged by Goodhue Associates.

Harry F. Cunningham, recently appointed to the department of architectural engineering, instituted for the first time in the university next year, and professor of architectural engineering, comes to Nebraska following years rich in experience in that profession.

At the present time he is engaged as a practicing architect by the Goodhue associates of New York city. Since becoming affiliated with this organization he has had charge of the redesigning of the tower of the Nebraska state capitol building.

While making various trips to Lincoln during the past three years in connection with his work on the capitol building, Mr. Cunningham has made many friends in the city who attest his ability as a lecturer of unusual interest and as a man of versatile interests and accomplishments. He is an advocate of the new type of architecture, of which the capitol building is an outstanding example.

Ferguson Comments. Dean Ferguson of the college of engineering in speaking of him said, "Mr. Cunningham is an idealist with peculiarly strong ability to recognize practical values, and"

Reade and Miller Practice With Family Skeletons, to Aid Acting As Grave Diggers With 'Hamlet'

BY EVELYN SIMPSON.
Robert Reade and Paul Miller, as the grave diggers for Ophelia's grave, relieve the dramatic intensity of the preceding acts with their comical interpretation of their occupation in the University players' offering of "Hamlet," which is being presented at the Temple theater this week.

In an interview, they consented to reveal the source of their experience as grave diggers. Mr. O. Reade, who is stage manager of the University players and also enacts different character parts, profited by his experience during the winter when the flu epidemic was sweeping the country.

The Family Skeleton. Mr. Miller began his career as a child when he caused his parents much embarrassment by dragging the family skeleton out of the closet. He continued his career when as a sophomore he dug the dirt for the University night show, a practice during his years in school. Both men are non-graduate students who play chautauqua circuits during the summer.

The skulls used in the show are not real skulls but made of paper mache. The bones used formerly

PUB. BOARD WILL SUPERVISE GIVING OF ALL CONTRACTS

Letting of contracts for printing, engraving and paper for The Daily Nebraskan and The Cornhusker hereafter will be made by members of the publication board and the university purchasing agent sitting as one body. That was decided yesterday at a meeting of the publication board.

Election of next year's staffs of The Daily Nebraskan and The Cornhusker has been set for May 17. Applications for the various positions open will be received at the office of the school of Journalism until Wednesday, May 15.

Tentative plans were also made at the board meeting for publication of a semi-weekly newspaper during the summer session. Further announcements regarding it will be made after the next meeting of the board.

SUNSHINE AIDS PLANS OF BIG BIZARD FROLIC

Program Will Be Carried Out as Usual if No More Rains.

LEADERS WIND UP TASK

The god Pluto threatened to spoil Bizzard day, and Wednesday the college of business administration began petitioning Old Man Sol to come to the rescue and pull their day of frolic out of the mud.

It was feared that the rain had already made the tennis courts too wet for the tennis tournament, but all hope was not lost as late in the afternoon the sun burst forth with welcome rays. Unless extremely unfavorable circumstances prevail Friday, May 9, the picnic will be conducted as usual.

All arrangements took definite form Wednesday as the committee chairman finished their preparation. From all indications, the ticket sales for the annual picnic will make a new record.

Entries in the tournament began to come in Wednesday, although more men are urged to compete for the golf prize. Entry can be made by notifying Gerald Philippe at 1506 D street.

Few Tennis Vacancies. The tennis entries were nearing completion, according to Edwin Mortensen. There were a few vacant places within the limit of six tennis competitors, and all tennis players are urged to rush their entries with Mortensen, chairman of the tennis committee.

An additional feature has been added to the program in the form of a pie eating contest among the freshmen of the college. A prize will be given to the winner of the feature contest at the dance at Antelope park pavilion in the evening at the same time the other prizes are awarded. All freshmen, men or women, are asked to hand their names to one of the committee members if they wish to compete in the contest.

Bernard Wilson, general chairman in charge of arrangements for the day, was very optimistic over the trend of affairs. He said that he was receiving the best of that he was receiving from the students and faculty members of the college and that he expected the day to be a great success.

UNIVERSITY OFFERS CREDIT FOR OUTING

Botany Courses Will Be Given During Stay at Mountain Camp.

The university is offering biology courses at Camp Olympus, Rocky Mountain National park, from June 10 to July 18. Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, is giving the courses.

Botany 13 is the beginning course. Each give six semester hours for six weeks' work. However, the exact credit given in course 201c is arranged with the instructor. The university extension division is in charge of the registration.

The fee for either of the courses is $16.00 while $97.50 covers the costs of meals and lodging, including two meals, one night at Boulderfield Cabin on Long's Peak, and ascent of the peak. Auto transportation with the class in the park is $35.00. The cost of transportation to the camp and spending money must be added to this total, $148.50.

While at the camp, students stay in a group of new and comfortably equipped buildings. The Continental Divide is twelve miles away. The center of camp activities is a three story building known as the Lodge. It has great fireplaces and a spacious two storied veranda, and also affords sleeping quarters and ample dining facilities. There are also several out-lying cottages in which class room and additional quarters are provided for the students in these courses.

Dick Devreux, chairman of the banquet committee, states that a limited number of tickets will be available at the door.

VARIED MEANS USED TO LIST SCHOLARSHIP

Standings for Convocation, Panhellenic Banquet Are Different.

Inconsistencies in scholarship ratings of sororities as announced at the Panhellenic banquet and at the Honors convocation are due to the different methods used in averaging the grades, according to information obtained by The Daily Nebraskan. A new plan was used to determine the scholastic standings of the sororities, but the old plan was used in choosing the winners of the fraternities.

In determining the standing of each sorority, the grades are exactly averaged and the average grade of the group per hour is determined. Conditions, drops, and failures all count against the sorority. Conditions count 55, while drops and failures only count 45.

The number of hours of conditions or drops and failures multiplied by 45 or 55 will give the total number of hours. The exact grade is also multiplied by the number of credit hours and this total plus the total of conditions, failures and drops determine the scholastic average of the sororities.

The average grade points by which the winner of the scholarship cup for fraternities are determined, are different from those of the sororities. Four grade points are awarded for each credit hour carried with a grade of 90 or above, three grade points are awarded for each credit hour carried with a grade of 80 to 89, two grade points are awarded for each credit hour carried with a grade of 70 to 79, and one grade point is awarded for each credit hour carried with a grade of 60 to 69.

Flunks Deduct. Zero grade points are awarded for each credit hour of incomplete, one grade point is subtracted for each credit hour of condition, and two grade points are subtracted for each credit hour of failure or drop in unsatisfactory standing. To obtain the average for each group, the total grade points are divided by the total number of hours carried by the group.

The fourteen plaques are given to the fraternities which have the least percentage of conditions, drops and failures, and not to the fraternities whose scholarship is the highest.

Recognition of the sororities and fraternities in the Honor day convocation was determined the same way as the winner of the scholarship cup of the fraternities.
