

Cornhuskers Meet Missouri Today at Landis Field

NEBRASKA PLOTS TO DOWN TIGERS IN DOUBLE TILT

Rhodesmen Seek to Avenge Former Defeats in Dual Series.

GAME CALLED AT 4 P. M.

Both Teams Hold Practice For Games Tuesday, Wednesday.

BIG SIX STANDINGS.

Oklahoma	10	1	1.000
Arkansas	8	2	.800
Missouri	7	3	.700
Iowa State	6	4	.600
Nebraska	5	5	.500
Kansas	4	6	.400

When "Choppy" Rhodes' baseball team takes the field against the Missouri Tigers at 4 o'clock this afternoon, every man will be eager for revenge. The two game series Tuesday and Wednesday offers the Nebraska club an opportunity to get even for the two beatings administered at Columbia by the Missouri boys earlier in the season. Scores were 4-3 and 10-8.

Both teams played games Friday and Saturday of last week. Rhodes' men were in Iowa where they lost the first game 5 to 3 and won the second one 12 to 5. Henry Armatis saved the day for the Huskers. He relieved Pickett after the first game was lost and kept the score down and went in for Sloan to win the second contest.

The Tigers were no match for Kansas Aggies last weekend, dropping both games and allowing the Kansas team to push itself forward as a serious contender for the conference title. If the Aggies weather a trip to Ames at the end of this week, their encounter with the Sooners, who are now leading the Big Six contenders, may decide everything.

In preparation for today's battle both schools had men on the field working out yesterday. Missouri took a little rest exercise and lots of batting practice in the morning and the Cornhuskers were occupying the field in the afternoon getting the feel of the bat again after a day's rest.

Tigers Are Outfit.

In the opinion of "Choppy" Rhodes Missouri has two good pitchers and one of them, Gieselmann, will probably start the game today. Both of the encounters that the neighboring team took from Nebraska at Columbia were close games and the Huskers were credited with more hits than the victorious Tiger nine each day. At present Missouri and Iowa State are tied for fourth place in the conference with Nebraska fifth, having played two less games than the other two teams.

The lineups for today in batting order are: Missouri: Fruit, left field; Embrey, first base; Doorn, third base; Harutin, right field; Williams, second base; Carter, short stop; Monroe, center field; Haring, catcher; and Gieselmann, pitcher.

Nebraska: Spike Williams, short stop; Saygg or Boo Williams, catcher; Frankfort, first base; Ullstrom, second base; Witte, center field; Grace, left field; Row right field; Davison, third base, and Fairchild, pitcher. Williams and Lindberg will umpire.

SLOAN TOPS BAT WIELDERS WITH TALLY OF .625

Nebraska Fastball Tosses Collects Ten Hits in Sixteen Tries.

DAVISON RANKS SECOND

Sophomore Regular Makes .407; Grace, Witte Place in Order.

Clair Sloan, Nebraska fastballer, who slides them by unsuspecting batters, hits .625.

When batting averages were figured today, the pitcher, who has seen service as pinch hitter and at second base as well, was far ahead of the heap. He had been at bat sixteen times so far this season, and ten times has connected for a safe blow.

"Mutt" Davison, third base, the only sophomore regular on the team, has been showing older heads among the squad his heels. Davison has played in every game this year and has made thirty-seven trips to the plate. Fifteen of his trips have been productive and his average stands at .407, better than .080 ahead of his nearest competitor among the regulars, Harve Grace, whose mark is .322. Grace has shown a marked ability with the willow this spring in comparison to last year, when he hit only .089 for the season. He has played center field most of the time.

Witte Hits Four in Row

Row, outfielder, is next in line to Grace among the regulars. Out of twenty-four chances, he has hit seven times for an average of .292. Dutch Witte, who was out of the lineup for two weeks, has hit .289 so far this year. The mark is far below his average of last year, which was better than .400 for the season. Three hitless games in a row brought his total down. However, the Dutchman came out of his slump in a tilt with Iowa State at Ames last Saturday to connect four times in four official journeys to the platter. His other time at bat went on a sacrifice fly.

Spike Williams, shortstop, with a mark of .250; Patton, fielder, with .217, and Glenn Ullstrom, first base, with .209, are others on the regular squad who are above the .200 mark.

Others High.

A catcher and two pitchers, who like Sloan have not been to bat enough times to be considered regular, have hit better than a .300 clip so far this season. They are: Boo Williams, five hits out of thirteen times up for .385; Armatis, three hits out of nine times up for .333; and Pickett, three hits out of nine times up for .333.

A potential candidate for batting honors has been uncovered in Wally Frankfort, who saw service in his first Big Six baseball game at Ames Saturday. The new man, who took Ullstrom's stand at first sack when Ullstrom went to second to relieve Maser, got one hit in his first three times up, for a mark of .333.

The BIG SIX SHOOTER

HANK ARMATIS pulled the iron man stunt at Ames Friday and Saturday when he worked as relief pitcher in both games. Friday he hurled four innings, but started too late to save the game. Saturday, when Clair Sloan left the mound after hurting his arm on the first ball he threw, Armatis again took up the burden, stimulated to the great activity by the fact that each of the bases was occupied by an Iowa State man who was anxious to move along. However, there were two down, and Hank simply fanned the batter, retiring the side, giving
