DR. A. C. STOKES FILES NAME FOR REGENTS' BOARD

Prominent Omahan Enters Race as Nominee of Second District.

IS NEBRASKA GRADUATE Physician Plays Part In Building of Medical School Campus.

Dr. A. C. Stokes, Omaha physician, has filed his name as candidate for the University of Nebraska board of regents from the second district, which includes Douglas, Sarpy and Washington counties, according to an announcement received Tuesday from the metropolitan.

The candidate is a graduate of the University of Nebraska medical college at Omaha, having received his M. D. degree there in 1899. He took his B. S. degree at Iowa State college, Ames, in 1892.

For twenty-five years he was associated with the Nebraska medical college faculty, being professor of surgery. At present he is a physician for one of the leading life insurance companies.

Raises Money for Building.

Dr. Stokes was instrumental in making the medical unit in Omaha a part of the state university. He was at the head of a committee to have the state legislature raise $100,000 for the first building on the medical campus, thereby making the school state owned and tax supported.

Among other activities with which he has been connected on the Omaha campus was the securing of the Compton Hill endowment of $2,000 per year, which is the only endowment ever given to the medical school and which is being used for any purpose as the authorities see fit.

Establishes Library.

He also established a library for the students taking medicine, and at the present time is president of the Omaha Medical Foundation, which provides a sum of money annually for the support of needy students.

During the World war the doctor organized and took to France the University Base Hospital No. 46. He is now national colonel of the medical reserve corps.

Wishes Co-Operation.

"In announcing my candidacy," declared Dr. Stokes, in a statement to The Daily Nebraskan Tuesday, "I shall have as my purpose in securing the election as member of the university board of regents to correlate a feeling of co-operation between the medical school and the university proper in Lincoln." According to reliable sources, the Omaha aspirant is receiving the endorsement of the State Medical society and Douglas County Medical society, both of which claim his membership.

While an undergraduate at Ames, Dr. Stokes affiliated himself with Delta Tau Delta. Since then he has been honored with membership in numerous medical fraternities and associations.

The doctor has been a resident of Omaha for a number of years.

EDUCATION GROUP SENDS NEBRASKA MAN INVITATION

Dean W. E. Sealock received an invitation to attend a conference of the national advisory committee on education on the principles of federal relations to education, which was held on Saturday, May 24, in Washington, D. C. The invitation was extended by Dr. C. R. Mann, chairman of the committee. Owing to previous engagements, it was impossible for Dean Sealock to accept the invitation.

Chancellor Issues Bulletin Telling Of Religious Life on Husker Campus

By Clarence Himes.

Religious life at the University of Nebraska is described in a bulletin being sent out to high schools in Nebraska from the office of Chancellor E. A. Burnett. Here is some of the information given:

"College men are now talking about religion in their own language. They are talking a religion that embraces better relations, people with each other and the individual in the highest possible way to the universe," the dean of one of the most famous colleges in the United States recently declared at a meeting to discuss religion. It does offer in the department of another large university stated that moral life in colleges was never higher.

The University of Nebraska does not exercise any official supervision over the religious life of the students, but nevertheless the students of the university are religious. It does offer in the departments of history, philosophy, and literature, many courses in which the principles of morals and religion are discussed.

Pastors Supervise Work.

Through the work of the university pastors and the various denominations, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A., a large group of religious activities are carried on. Members of the faculty taken an active part in Lincoln churches. Many graduates and former students are now in all parts of the

SCHULTE SPEAKS AT COMMERCE LUNCHEON

Coach Analyzes Reasons for Nebraska's Loss in Track Meet.

BAUSCH IS OUTSTANDING

Coach Henry Schulte spoke at the regular noon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today on track as a sport and gave reasons why Nebraska failed to take the conference meet last Saturday. Ray Ramsay, secretary of the Nebraska alumni association, acted as master of ceremonies.

"The other team was just a little bit stronger than we were," was Schulte's only alibi for not winning the conference track championship. He said he was glad to have been able to score a man in every event.

Psychology Plays Part

"A team that is focused upon the day of winning was his answer to the question of what it takes to make a winning team. He explained that the psychological element of the contestant should not be one of a strained mental attitude.

Remarkable on the performance of some of the outstanding men of the meet he first presented Cobe Thompson, winner of the broad jump and Nebraska's only clear first, who was among those present.

Schulte Lauds Bausch

Jim Bausch should have beaten Rhea as he did in Schulte's opinion, with the years of track experience he has had. In fact, Schulte gave Bausch the credit for Kansas' victory over Nebraska. He lauded Bausch by saying that he is probably one of the best all-round athletes in the field today.

The reason for Lamson failing to beat Hager, in spite of Lamson's getting started a little poorly, was that Hager was just a little faster than Lamson. Schulte offered the same alibi for Nebraska's not winning the low hurdles, saying that in each case Nebraska's men were faster than they had ever been before.

Ostergard Does Well.

The coach gave Ostergard due credit in the half mile for doing as well as he did against Swartz of Missouri, stating that Swartz had a highly developed sense of pace that makes the fast distance man and that Ostergard has not yet developed that sense.

He concluded his talk by saying that a person should enjoy watching a track meet, not only because of the speed of the man but because of the beauty and rhythm that the skilled track athlete exhibits.

Pi Mu Epsilon Plans Meeting for Tonight

Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics society will have a special meeting in room 211 Bruce hall, Wednesday May 28, at 7:30 p. m. The subject of the talk to be given is: "A Machine for Drawing Polar Curves."

The public is cordially invited to attend.

COUNCIL FAVORS NEW METHOD OF PLAQUE AWARDS

Dean Harper States That Fraternity Averages Have Declined.

WOULD AVERAGE GRADES

Greeks Set Tentative Date For Interfraternity Ball as Feb. 7.

Although no change was made, the Interfraternity council, by a vote of 27 to 5, Tuesday night, showed that it was in favor of the proposed change in the method of presenting the scholarship plaques. The majority of the council held to the belief that the new system would tend to raise the general average of the university. Dean W. C. Harper, who was present at the meeting stated that the fraternity averages has taken a marked slump in the past two semesters.

Heretofore the scholarship awards have been made upon a delinquency basis, that is, they are awarded to the fraternities with the least number of hours failed. Under this plan the averages were not counted, the delinquent hours against the house being the only basis for compiling the list for the awards.

Grades Will Count.

The proposed plan to take the place of the old system is the same as is used in figuring the scholastic standing of all the organizations on the campus. Dean Harper explained the plan to the council. This method is the average point system and it provides that four points are to be given for each hour in the nineties, three for each hour in the eighties and so on. Points are deducted for each failed, conditioned, and dropped hour. Hours dropped in good standing are not figured in the average. Incomplete hours do not deduct points but the hours are not deducted from the total hours of the group.

After the points have been summed up and the negative points deducted the number of points is divided by the number of hours carried by the group so as to have an average and a basis of comparison. This plan permits good grades to count for the chapter

GEOGRAPHY TEACHERS PLAN FOR SUMMERS

Three Leave to Conduct Classes in Various Schools.

Members of the geography department will teach at three different schools this coming summer. Dr. Bengston, head of the department of geography will teach at the summer session of the University of Nebraska until July fourth when he will leave for Columbia university where he will conduct classes in economic geography in the school of business. After completing his work at Columbia he will visit in eastern Canada. Before returning to Lincoln Dr. Bengston plans to make a trip thru Canada. He will again head the department of geography next year.

Dr. Willem Van Royen of Utrecht, Holland and New York City will have charge of geography at Nebraska during the summer following Dr. Bengston's leave.

Associate Professor E. E. Lackey will visit in Oklahoma next month. From June 23 until August 1 he will teach at Western Reserve university in Cleveland, Ohio. After August 1 he will return to Lincoln and work. Next fall he will be gone on leave of absence. He plans to enter Columbia university as a student.

Miss Shipman is going to teach at Clark university, Worcester, Mass., during the summer. Next fall she goes to Mount Holyoke college in Massachusetts where she will head the department of geography.

Poor High School Students Usually Fail in University

Pupils who have poor records in high school are likely to fail in university, although there are a few exceptions to the general rule, comments C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty at the University of Wisconsin.

For nine years Mr. Smith has followed closely the work of students who are admitted to the freshman class on probation.

Out of 144 students who entered on probation last fall, 66 are enrolled in the second semester. Of those who dropped out, 59 were dropped by faculty action on account of poor scholarship, 16 withdrew before completing the semester, and one took the advice to withdraw.

Only thirty-one made grades high enough to escape faculty action at the end of the semester, and 21 made as many grade points as credits. One of the students, however, made twice as many grade points as credits, and four others made more than one and a half grade points per credit. The whole group made slightly more than one half a grade point per credit.

FAIR JUDGES RECEIVE FIRST SHORT COURSE

Thirty-Five Attend Session Sponsored by Home Economics Group.

MEN PRACTICE JUDGING

The faculty of the home economics department and the extension service had charge, Tuesday, of a program at which thirty-five prospective judges of home economics exhibits at Nebraska fairs met for the first annual judge's short course at the agricultural college.

Talks were delivered early in the day by W. H. Brokaw, director of the extension department, and H. J. Gramlich, chairman of the animal husbandry department. Educational value of judging was discussed by Mr. Brokaw, and the ethics of judging by Mr. Gramlich. The rest of the forenoon was occupied by judging practice. Talks were given in the afternoon by Miss Gladys Ruby, Miss Allegra Wilkens, Miss Florence Atwood and Miss Mary Ellen Brown.

Brokaw Speaks.

Mr. Brokaw said that for several years the agricultural extension service has furnished judges to many Nebraska county fairs, but since an increasing amount of work in August and September is being witnessed, it is quite necessary for the fairs to obtain their judges elsewhere. However, there should be a certain standard of judging from year to year, and even though the extension service can no longer furnish judges from the faculty, it is still interested in fair judging.

Certain specific plans should be made in order that a well informed person remains with the exhibits throughout the fair to explain the reasons for the articles being judged as they were. As much as possible of the work should be done in the presence of the crowd so as to prove educational to the fair visitors.

Judges Need Tact.

In judging the articles on exhibition, good judgment, tact, and an understanding of human nature are necessary and important in a person who becomes a popular judge. Exhibitors should be encouraged by the judges by emphasizing all good points without making too plain the weaknesses of the exhibition.

The judges should remember the articles on exhibition in order that they may be able to discuss them with owners after the show, if they wish, and above all the reasons for placings should be brief and clear.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

Semi-Annual Election Is Evening's Business Before Group.

The Men's Commercial club of the college of business administration will hold its semi-annual election of officers in the clubroom in Social Sciences hall on Wednesday at 7:15 p. m., according to announcement made by Alfred A. Hook, president of the organization.

The officers elected will take their chairs immediately and will continue thru the first semester of next year.

The nominees for officers, named a week ago, are for president, Donald Exley and Edwin Mortensen; for treasurer, Otto Bauman and Vincent Eggleston; for secretary, H. M. Demel and J. Russell Andrews; for representative on the student executive council, Frank B. Smith and Earl Hald, and for the board of directors, Harvey Goering, Cassie Baron, Ross Brown, Sidney Epstein, J. Miller Richey and Morton Richards.

All members are urged to be present.

Sealocks Entertain At University Club

Dean and Mrs. W. E. Sealock entertained the teachers college members of Phi Beta Kappa at dinner at the University Club Saturday evening, May 24. There were nineteen present.

Red ribbons will be given to the company winning second place. Third place company will be honored with white ribbons. The Lincoln Theater cup and ribbon goes to the platoon awarded first place.

Commanding officers of winning companies and platoons will be awarded medals and loving cups will be given for first, second, and third places in individual competitive drill.

COEDS HOLD WATER CONTESTS YESTERDAY

Team 5 Compiles Greatest Number of Points in Aquatic Carnival.

The women's swimming meet which was held last night at Capitol beach nearly completes the intramural sports program for the year. Points for the various events have not yet been compiled, and standings of groups cannot be changed until it has been done.

The meet opened with a free style event won by Mary Alice Kelley, Backstroke was won by Eleanor Bessie. The underwater swim was taken by Margaret Beardsley. Team four succeeded rating first in the rescue race.

Edna Kummer Carries Peanut.

Edna Kummer proved herself adept at carrying a peanut on a spoon and placed first in that event. Team five won the relay race. Linnette Knox won the race for the fastest crawl stroke. Edna Stroy took the side stroke honors. Carrying a side stroke honors, the pool without dousing it into the depths proved to be a feat indeed worthy of mention, and the event was won by Mary Jane Lemere.

Proving that one's feet are not at all necessary to master the art of swimming was the contribution of Dorothy Weaver who placed first in the feet tied race.

Team five captained by Linnette

Men Desert Capitol Beach When Mermaid Meet Fails to Start

Even a co-ed swimming meet must be on time to hold the attention of Nebraska men, it now appears.

At any rate, some one hundred and fifty Cornhusker lads gathered at Capitol Beach swimming pool yesterday to watch coeds go through their paces. The meet was supposed to start at 4:30 o'clock, but did not get under way until after five.

By the time the events finally started, the original one hundred and fifty had dwindled to some forty or fifty, most of whom were in swimming suits. Watchers from the bank practically had vacated the scene before the bathing beauties ever hit the water.

COEDS WILL AID IN CRETE SUMMER CAMP

Nine Included in List of Counsellors for Two Weeks' Session.

600 IN ORGANIZATION

A number of university girls are included in the list of counsellors at the Camp Fire Girls Summer camp at Crete which will be held for two weeks beginning June 8. Miss Ruth Ridnow of Lincoln will be assistant counsellor in handcraft; Miss Dorothy Weaver of Lincoln, assistant in swimming; Miss Dorothy Charlson of Lincoln, assistant in recreation and games; Miss Jean Rathburn of Lincoln and Miss Betty Wahlgust of Hastings, assistants in swimming.

Miss Betty Everett, Lincoln, will also be assistant counsellor of handcraft; Miss Virginia Pollard, Nebraska, counsellor of recreation and games; Miss Hortense Henderson, Superior, assistant counsellor of recreation and games; Miss Mildred Johnson, Holdrege, reporter and counsellor of office mail.

Many Sports.

Camp Crete has grown to an organization of 600 who have a concrete swimming pool, enjoy supervised days on the river with access to thirty-five boats, several canoes and launches, and who may choose from an extensive curriculum of sports, art and handicrafts. The camp is now the largest of its kind in the whole world.

All Nebraska girls, except Omaha and Lincoln girls who have access to their own camps, are free to attend. Over 400 girls are expected to attend each week as usually the campers stay but one week of the two week period.

Landscaping Awaits Committee's Sanction

Landscaping the grounds around the stadium has been held up temporarily because of a decision to submit the plans to the board of regents for approval. The regents have referred the plans to the campus committee. Work will start as soon as this group is heard from.

Knox compiled the greatest number of points having placed four firsts, two seconds, and one third. Mary Alice Kelley took first in two events; Margaret Beardsley took third in diving, first in underwater swim, and second in side stroke. Dorothy Zoellner took second in the newspaper race, and Louise Westover came in third in the side stroke event.

Team three was second in number of points aggregated, and team two was third. In the diving contest, first place went to Knox; second to Lemere; and third to Beardsley. The dives exhibited were running front, front jack, swan and optional. They were judged on the basis of 10.

Judges for the meet were Miss Clara Rausch, Miss Miriam Wagner and Josephine Orr. Betty Kelso announced the various events. Captains were Jean Whitlence, Linnette Knox, Mary Jane Lemere, Luicic Kelley, Maxine Stokes, Adelaide Burr.

Prof. Fling Sees End of 40-Year Job In Search of Life of Mirabeau; Is To Probe Data of 1919 Peace Parley

BY ART WOLF.

Professor Fred Morrow Fling, who will return to his duties as professor of European history at the university next fall, is in sight of the end of a forty year job. This task has been the writing of the life of Gabriel Honore Mirabeau, famous French statesman.

Last year at the close of school the board of regents gave Dr. Fling a year's leave of absence to complete his monumental labor. He will return at the end of the summer having completed all the work on his three volume life of the French Demosthenes, as Mirabeau is called.

Work is Recognized.

Dr. Fling was immensely pleased at the action of the board of regents which made it possible to complete his task. He saw in that action recognition for his work and the possibility for increased recognition of scholarly work. "If we are to have a graduate college and professors who do research work we must have the wherewithal to carry on," he said. "If such work is worth doing at all it is worth paying for."

Mirabeau's life and work are of immense importance and it is necessary for the student who would know something of the foundations and the directive forces of political development in Europe and America during the last one hundred years to know something of the man who dominated

STUDENT UNION BUILDING LOGMS AS POSSIBILITY

Alumni Board Will Hear Report From Ramsay Regarding Cost.

DEAN APPROVES MOVE

Schramm Favors Erection Of Social Center at Nebraska.

Plans for a Union building on the University of Nebraska campus will be submitted to the alumni council for consideration at its meeting Friday morning, June 6. Extensive investigation has been made by Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary, as to the probable cost of such a building. He estimates that it will be approximately $600,000.

There has been considerable agitation on the Nebraska campus for a student building which will serve as a general center for activities. Prof. E. F. Schramm of the geology department has been one of the leading advocates for such a building.

Thompson Approves.

In a statement yesterday, T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, expressed himself as heartily in favor of such a student center, letic board member and the alumni needs," he said. "are a Union building and a large auditorium." Dean Thompson does not believe that there is any possibility of a building of this type being included in the university's building program in the next few years due to the limited finances at the disposal of the board of regents.

Lounging rooms, a large ball room for banquets and parties, student activities offices, a cafeteria, soda fountain and possibly an auditorium are the main features of the tentative plans which are to be submitted to the alumni council. It is very doubtful, according to Mr. Ramsay, that anything can be done on the project in the next year or two. It is possible that the Alumni association will be able to finance the building, however, he said.

Business Before Council.

The alumni council is composed of representatives of all graduated classes and of the various alumni clubs. The executive committee, which is composed of five members, will meet Friday morning in addition to considering the possibilities of a Union building, it will approve the budget, elect an athletic board member, and the alumni secretary.

UNIVERSITY MAN EARNS 'MENTION'

Ben F. Hemphill Receives Recognition by Beaux Art Institute.

Ben F. Hemphill, junior in the Architectural Engineering department received a "mention" from the Beaux-Arts institute of design of New York on his drawing, "An architectural motif terminating a vista." The department considers awards of the institute as a valuable indication of worth as they are given only after comparison of hundreds of drawings from all parts of the country. The total number of awards received this year exceeds the total received since the department became associated with the institute four years ago.

Mr. Hill, instructor in the division of architectural engineering of the department of applied mechanics said that additional significance could be attached to the honor Mr. Hemphill received since

Graduate of Bowdoin.

Some forty years ago Fred Morrow Fling was a newspaper editor in Old Orchard, Me., which was then a notable summer resort. Five years earlier he had graduated from Bowdoin college, the alma mater of Longfellow. Then he taught school for five years in Biddeford, Me., high school. He then went to Heidelberg in '88, determined to get a degree and become a college professor for the rest of his days.

He received his doctor's degree after two years—on borrowed money the second year—in 1890. His degree was in history and economics. His thesis was on
