

MIXER DRAWS MORE THAN 100 STUDENTS; COMMITTEE PLEASSED

Friday has assured their continuance throughout the rest of the summer session, according to E. W. Lantz, chairman of the faculty committee.
Friday, July 11, has been set as the date for the next entertainment.

"Success of other mixers," Professor Lantz said, "I believe is assured. The crowd Friday was beyond our expectations in size and also showed a very fine spirit throughout the program. In spite of the fact that everyone was packed in tightly, the crowd was easy to handle and willing to do anything to help make the mixer a success."

Many Men Attend.
The entire gymnasium will be opened for the next mixer, Professor Lantz said, and the general program expanded to meet the crowd of students who will be expected to attend.

Fear on the part of the committee that only a few men would attend the program was allayed when nearly 200 came to the mixer. Miss Ash was particularly well pleased with the mixer and commended the students for their cooperation and help.

Prof. A. R. Congdon has been added to the faculty committee on the mixers which also includes E. W. Lantz, chairman Herbert Gish, Marjorie Easterbrook, and Miss Ash, ex-officio.

NOSING FOR NEWS

With George Dunn.

THE Indiana Student, paper at the University of Indiana, recently published some pointed paragraphs worth reprinting:

There is nothing so pathetic in the world than the senior who tries to take the "college" with him when he leaves.

Our definition of hard luck would be no job in sight and 15 hours of flunk for a recommendation.

While time weighs so heavily, seniors might practice up on balancing a mortar board for several hours.

FAME of Iowa university athletes has acquired an international flavor if a request from Hungary is any indication.

From Budapest, one Albert R. Gluck, characterizing himself as an ardent photograph collector, has indicated a request for pictures of Iowa athletes.

Gluck writes, "Just now I have the opportunity to learn the famous results of athletic contests held in your world-known university and I would esteem it beyond measure to receive some photographs of your wonderful men."

As reward for his complimentary remarks, the continental sportsman soon will own pictures of a dozen recent Hawkeye stars, including Willis Glasgow, Edward Gordon, Henry Canby, Frank Cuhel, Wentworth Lobbell, Forrest Twogood, Charles Brookins, Leslie Beers, George Baird and Aubrey Devine.

None of the new faculty men was born in the United States but all have received much of their training in this country.

THE University of Washington Daily at Seattle reports as follows:

The days of free drinks have gone, but cigars went around the Investment Analysis class conducted by Prof. Carl Dakan, of the business administration yesterday because George G. Franklin became the father of a son.

In the midst of a regular class session Don Morbeck arose to offer congratulations to the happy father who responded by passing around a box of cigars, one for each of the boys."

ASBURY college bids for the title of the driest school in the world. The students of that institution voted on May 24 in chapel 499 to 3 for strict enforcement of the prohibition law. Thirty-seven members of the college faculty voted on the same question and were unanimously for continuance of prohibition. Asbury, which is located at Wilmore, Ky., now claims the honor of being the driest college in the United States.

In the last presidential election, the students voted almost unanimously for Herbert Hoover and at the same time gave a heavy majority to the democratic candidate for congress.

THE Indiana Daily Student, official newspaper of the University of Indiana, Bloomington, has summed up commencement week in the following Biblical fashion:—the Book of Kings, to seniors.

—of Lamentations, to underclassmen.
—of Revelations, to professors
—of Job, to the worried.
—of Numbers, when the families arrive
—and then—
—of Exodus.
