

4-H HEALTH PROJECT WINS NATIONAL AWARD

Douglas County Country Schools Take $200 Cash Prize.

A 4-H club health program of Douglas county has been awarded the championship of the country, according to a telegram from the National Dairy Council to Miss Clara Noyes, assistant county extension agent of Douglas county.

Only 14 of 105 boys and girls underweight at the start of the program a year ago failed to gain weight and show signs of better by the time school was out last spring, the report says. One hundred and eighty-eight of the boys and girls were weighed and measured last fall, 105 of the 188 were more than 7 percent underweight for their ages considered a serious condition by health authorities.

The improvement was due to a well organized series of health talks at school, health games and exercises, better school lunches, and better health habits in and out of school. For example, children in one school chased a coffee pot around the wall of the school room and out of the door with due ceremony by substituting milk for the accustomed coffee at noon lunch time. For each bottle of milk they drank, they slid the coffee pot far enough toward the door to make room for a paper milk bottle behind it.

In another school, a club sold a bottle of milk, a cookie, and a straw for a nickel, making a penny profit on each sale. With the profits from about 14,000 sales during the year, they got additional equipment for their club work at school, tipped the ice man $1.98, gave a party for the little tots, and enjoyed a theater party themselves. Their treasury is still well filled. Before they started the idea, any youngster who brought milk to school was called baby.

District No. 38, Ponca school, Irving school, and Ashland Park school were the four interested in the project. All of them are close to Omaha but rural districts. Miss Angeline Tauchen was local leader at Ashland Park, Miss Lucy Phalen at Irvington, Miss Harriet Sitzman at Ponca, and Miss Loretta Harpater at district No. 38. They received wholehearted co-operation from the University of Nebraska college of medicine at Omaha, the report states.

The project which Miss Noyes worked out to win the national honors has been recommended to county extension agents and teachers in a number of other counties. Miss Florence Atwood, foods specialist, and Miss Helen Noyes, club worker of the extension service at Lincoln, have been interested in the health program and have prepared the outline of the project for use in other counties.

Mortar Board Finds Chicago Not So Tough; Spends Summer Laboring in Cafe in Windy City's Loop District

BY MARY SUTTON.

Either Chicago "ain't what she used to be," or else Miss Ruth Hatfield, member of the campus Mortar Board society, and sixteen other coeds from midwestern schools just naturally took the city of guns and gangsters by storm. Anyway, strange as it may seem, these young philanthropists assumed the roles of poor working girls and labored during the summer months amid the excitement of Chicago's loop.

Like the proverbial heroine, each went her own way and at the end of the first day in the Windy City Miss Hatfield found herself in an employment agency with ten negro women and twenty white men as work-seeking companions. Courageously the young Nebraska coed applied for work and was immediately rewarded with a position as a cafe waitress in the midst of the city's busiest section—the loop.

Finds Little Glamour.
Miss Hatfield soon discovered that the glamour that is Broadway's certain does not radiate to the main street of the second city—Chicago. Her salary of $16 a week together with a list of expenses was handed to one of the girls who had charge of the expedition and she received back a small part of her salary after it had been split up to defray the expenditures of the group.

The experiences which Miss Hatfield encountered in securing a position are perhaps the most interesting part of her story.

"Have you had any experience?" her employer asked.

"I can wash dishes and wait on tables," answered Miss Hatfield demurely.

"Pretty good," was the half hearted reply. "Can you bus?"

"Oh yes, I can bus," lied the trembling young philanthropist.

Methodists Ask Attendance.
Methodist students have been requested to come to some Methodist church in the city. Between eight and nine hundred students are expected to attend these various receptions.

W. C. Fawell, Methodist student pastor; Berenice Hoffman, Miss Mary Weiner, president of Kappa Phi; Methodist sorority; Henry Rinker, president of Phi Tau Theta; Methodist fraternity, and Caroline Cooper, president of the Wesley players, will assist in greeting the Methodist students at the churches of Lincoln.

Baptist student receptions are being held at the First Baptist church at Fourteenth and K streets and at the Second Baptist church at Twenty-eighth and S streets. Christian students will meet at the First Christian church at Sixteenth and K streets.

Congregationalists Plan Meeting.
First Plymouth Congregational church, Seventeenth and A streets, and Vine Congregational church, Twenty-fifth and S streets, will be the places for Congregational gatherings. All Evangelical students will meet at the Calvary Evangelical church at Eleventh and Garfield.

"Look here, Bill, what did you shoot at me for? I ain't got no quarrel with you."
"You had a feud with Ben Walker, didn't you?"
"But Ben's dead."
"Well, I'm his executor."

REAL FOOD—35c

When former Vice President Marshall said that what the United States needed was a good five-cent cigar—well, he said a mouthful.

And by the same token, it was a real mouthful those twenty University of Nebraska football players said when they agreed with D. H. Harris to manage the upstairs dining room of and put on a Special Students' Lunch and Special Students' Supper at the low price of 35 cents.

Lunch begins at 11:00 a. m. and lasts till 2:00 p. m. There are three numbered lunches, different each day for thirty days, consisting of meat, vegetables, rolls and butter, and coffee or milk.

The supper menu is ready at 5:00 p. m. and lasts till 8:00 p. m. Three numbered suppers, all different from the lunch menus, give you for 35 cents meat, vegetables, rolls and butter, and coffee or milk.

Why not try the excellent food and enjoy eating in a place where everything is clean and comfortable and the service courteous? Open all night now.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES PLAN STUDENT WORK

Full Program Outlined for Winter; Dr. Ray Hunt Directing Work.

The Young People's council of the Disciples of Christ students is getting well under way with plans for a comprehensive program for the school year. The council works under the direction of Dr. Ray E. Hunt who is the student pastor for the Christian church and Homer R. Deadman who is the student representative of the Nebraska Christian foundation. The officers of the council are James H. Anderson, president; Lloyd L. Poepshill, vice president; Beulah Seymour, secretary; and Helen Lapp, treasurer. The officers together with the committee chairman plan the program for the year.

Co-educational classes in the church school are taught in the young people's department. The courses for the first semester are: "How Jesus Met Life Questions," by Dr. Carl Rosenquist; "The Place of the Bible in Modern Life" by Dr. B. C. Hendricks; and "Elements of Personal Christianity" by Miss Gladys Beaumont. The church school classes meet every Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon a social hour is held at 3:30 o'clock at which an informal get-acquainted program is planned. Light refreshments are served. At 6:30 the group has a discussion hour in which subjects pertinent to student life are discussed.

A full program of activity is planned during the week days for the students. Dramatic programs, parties, gospel teams, mission work, journalism, art work, promotion plans, setting up services, music programs and gymnasium programs all make up the program for the young people and students. All disciples and Christian church students are invited to participate in as many of these activities as possible. All of the program outlined takes place in the First Christian church at Sixteenth and K streets.

RUTGERS PRESIDENT ADVISES STUDENTS
Tells Freshmen to Leave Conceit at Home; All Get Same Start.

NEW BURNSWICK, N. J.—(UP)—The 200,000 or more men and women who are entering college for the first time this fall were advised to "leave their conceit at home," when Dr. John M. Thomas, president of Rutgers university, addressed them over a nationwide radio hookup.

"Conceit in any society or group is not the way to popularity," he said, "least of all the college campus. It is better to keep still about one's merits and achievements, and better still entirely to forget them."
"In every college one starts from scratch, and it is wise not to scramble to the first row when the freshman picture is taken. Merit, ability and powers of leadership find their just recognition as surely and as properly on an American college campus as in any place in the world."
"Tailors and haberdashers can help very little in that process, and a tongue too well lubricated is a great handicap."

MORE TAKE NORMAL WORK.
The enrollment of twenty-five juniors and seniors in the normal training department exceeds all previous enrollment in that department, according to Lillie M. Parks, supervisor of normal training in the teachers college.

MISSISSIPPI TURNS OUT 15 College Instructors
GULFPORT, Miss.—(IP)—For reasons not immediately announced, the trustees of the University of Mississippi, meeting here, have dismissed four professors at the university and eleven members of the faculty at Mississippi state college for women.

Unsubstantiated rumors on the campuses of the two schools blamed the dismissal of the eleven men and women on the alleged liberal views entertained and promulgated by the faculty members.

Colonel William H. Oury, Head of Military Department, Was Student And Football Player Here in 1895

Military tactics at the University of Nebraska now are under the direction of a Nebraska graduate, a former football star. The new commandant is Col. William Oury, who was graduated in 1893 from Omaha high school, now Central high school. After his graduation, he came to the University of Nebraska, where he showed a marked interest in military work.

The year after his graduation, the Spanish-American war broke out, and he was one of the first to enlist. His ability was soon recognized and he was commissioned as a captain. He took his company to the Philippines with the Second Expeditionary forces during the war, and took an active part in the taking of Manila.

In Philippines Four Years.
On the same day the Maine was blown up he applied for a commission in the regular service. He was then commissioned a second lieutenant in the 23rd infantry, U. S. A. He served four years in the Philippines.

Most of his time was spent in command of a mounted detachment chasing leaders such as Aguinaldo and Aguinaldo. After Aguinaldo's capture, Colonel Oury returned to the United States. He was then stationed at Fort Apache, Arizona, for two years, after which time he was then detailed to the infantry and cavalry at Fort Leavenworth where he put in a year. At Leavenworth he received his captaincy, a rank which he held for seventeen years, or until the outbreak of the World war, when further promotion came.

Served in World War.
At the beginning of the war he was serving a detail in the quartermaster general's office, in charge of the construction division. He asked to be relieved from this duty in order to go to France. He was made lieutenant colonel of a national army regiment and was
