

HUSKER GRIDIRON CHANCES GO FOR SKYROCKET RISE

Biblemen Look Like Team in Clash With Frosh; Win Scrimmage.

YEARLINGS FIGHT HARD

Hokuf, Prucka Nab Passes For 2 Varsity Counters; Score Is 19-13.

Nebraska's chances for a big grid season in 1931 took a shoot towards the sky Wednesday afternoon when a fighting freshmen team finally lost out to the varsity, 19 to 13. The fray was a battle all the way through and the first year team gave promise of being one of the best to ever represent Nebraska. The frosh touchdowns came when Murray, former Omaha Tech star, intercepted a pass and raced 60 yards for a touchdown, the second one being the result of three passes. Norwood to Boswell, with the latter finally taking a 20 yard pass out of Paul's hands and going over the line.

The frosh kicked to the varsity to open the game and on the first few plays the regulars advanced at will. Browne's men finally tightened and held the first team for downs on the four yard line, kicking out of danger on the first play. After one play, a long pass Young to Hokuf, produced the first score of the game. Hokuf took the ball from two freshmen players and ran the remaining 20 yards to the touchdown. Frahm missed the try for point.

Murray Nabs Pass.
Soon after the frosh had again kicked to the varsity, Murray, freshman quarterback, intercepted a pass on a dead run and raced 60 yards for a counter. The try for point was low.

Coming back in the second period, the Bible team carried the ball up to the 20 yard line but received a 15 yard penalty. Another long pass, Young to Prucka, was good for 35 yards and a touchdown, Frahm converting the try for point.

Bible and Browne both put new teams in the game and after some see-sawing around the freshmen combination of Norwood to Boswell got to going and on three passes they finally scored, Boswell going over the line and also catching another pass for the counter on the try for point.

Kick Goes Wild.
The third varsity touchdown came when they worked the ball up to within striking distance and Lewis Brown carried the ball to the one yard line on a double pass behind the line. Rowley went over guard for the touchdown but the try for point was unsuccessful.

Coach Browne's team showed more promise than any first year team that has come to Nebraska for years and were hitting hard. The work of Murray, Norwood, Boswell and the frosh line especially stood out. The first year tackles were playing nice ball and giving the varsity a great deal of trouble.

Nebraska's pass attack was functioning a little more smoothly than it has so far this season but still showed signs of needing polish while the blocking was as weak as it has always been. Several times the freshmen broke through the line and smeared the plays before they had time to get under way.

SPECTATORS at the varsity-freshmen scrimmage Wednesday afternoon were given quite a thrill by Fred Murray, former Omaha Tech star, who snagged one of Bob Young's passes and loped sixty yards through the varsity for the first freshman touchdown of the season. Murray caught the ball going full speed and immediately set sail for the goal line and crossed with only one man being able to lay a hand on him, although the varsity chased him all the way to the white line. Murray's unique way of carrying the ball also attracted quite a bit of attention—he carried it a lot like he was afraid to hold it close to him and holds it in one hand.

STEVE HOKUF recalled the Missouri-Nebraska game of last year to mind when he caught Young's 35-yard pass to score the first varsity touchdown of the scrimmage. The pass was too high and when it came down, three frosh and Hokuf were trying to get hold of it. Hokuf managed to twist the pass from the hands of the freshmen safety and romped across the goal line. It was a catch just like this one and by the same man, Hokuf, that tied the game with the Tigers last year.

WHILE we are on the subject, it might not be out of place to say here and now that Nebraska has some freshmen team, and there is no fooling connected with this statement. The way the first year men rallied to hold the varsity on the goal line for four downs in the first part of the workout was nothing to be sneezed at. One of two things is true—either Nebraska has some very wonderful freshman material this year or else Coach W. H. Browne and Captain Lehman are excellent coaches. After watching the game Wednesday afternoon, it is our guess that both are true. The team has only been working together for a week and they actually showed signs of knowing where the ball was supposed to go when they were carrying it. Also, when the varsity was carrying the ball, several ball huggers received quite rude shocks and were forced to sit and think a while before they got up after being tackled. The frosh were playing for blood and it will be well worth the "two bits" to come out and see the annual varsity-freshman game this Saturday.

NEBRASKA'S pass attack began to show some signs of development Wednesday but there is still plenty of work to be done before it can be expected to work with any degree of efficiency against Kansas, Pittsburgh and so on down the list. Young was erratic and his passes were erratic and it was only luck that kept more than the one pass being intercepted. The only one completed for any great gain, outside of the lucky pass Hokuf snagged, was a 25-yard toss to Prucka who wandered on across the goal line for the second varsity tally. But it can truthfully be said that the pass attack has improved and the aerial game shows much more promise of amounting to something than it did last week.

INNOCENTS GET RALLY CONTROL FROM COUNCIL

(Continued from Page 1.) Student council and in case of repetition of last year's pep escapade the responsibility will rest with the Student council. This is the reason for the provision that an outline of plans be submitted by the Innocents to the Student council committee for approval before each rally.

Plan New Constitution.

Among the special committees of the student council, which were announced Thursday by President Kelly who appointed them, first in importance is the constitution committee which is instructed to draw up a new constitution and set of bylaws to be presented to the student body at the coming fall election. A constitution which was drawn up and presented to the council last spring by David Fellman was not accepted but features of his plan will no doubt be incorporated into the new code, Kelly said.

Edwin Faulkner was named chairman of the constitution committee. His aides are Gretchen Fee, Esther Gaylord, Alan Williams, and Bill McCleery.

The rally committee of the student council has Joe Hunt, as its chairman, assisted by Bill McCleery and Julia Simanek.
