school, president at toastmaster. Following the dinner Miss Theima Shirley sang blues numbers, and Jack Marcy, diminutive eleven year old tap artist, provided entertainment. Richard F. Wood, Bryan Senate at Creighton, and twelve years in the state legislature, spoke following the entertainment. Mr. Wood is now at the head of the Nebraska safety council, and operates a private law office. Colonel Price of the local chapter, at present librarian of the law college, and several alumni, including Clem Gaughan, Le Roy Blighman, Samuel Dieckrick, Russell Banister and William and Edwin Mutschallat attended.

Hundred Couples Attend Alpha Sig House Party. More than one hundred couples attended the house party of Alpha Sigma Phi at the chapter house on Saturday evening. Chairwomen for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ramsey, Dr. J. W. Brauer and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Schmidt.

Alpha Thetas Give Party Saturday. Following the Freshman-Varsity game members of Alpha Theta Chi gave a house dance on Saturday evening. About fifty couples attended the affair. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hinds and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Eliason chaperoned the party.

Informal Eskimo Tea Given on Ag Campus. An Eskimo tea was given by the home economics association at the agricultural college on Thursday afternoon from 4 until 5:30 o'clock in their parlors.

The program was in charge of Ruthalee Holloway. In the receiving line were Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department of home economics, Niesje Lakmen, president of the home economics association, Estelle Boyer, Gertrude Chittenden, Lucille Conley. Decorations of igloos, polar bears, ice and snow carried out the northland motif. Refreshments and favors carried out the scheme.

Phi Alpha Delta was hostess to about twenty guests at a law smoker held at the chapter house Thursday evening. Guests included Justice Dean of the supreme court, H. H. Foster, dean of the college of law, Professor Scanning, head of political science, and Professors Volk, Merrill and Orfield of the college of law. Alumnae and

Nebraska Library Needs More Space, Declares Gilbert H. Doane; Central Reserve System Is Greatly Desired

University of Nebraska library conditions are by no means ideal, according to Gilbert H. Doane, head of the library staff. "As the library is the laboratory of the social sciences," says Mr. Doane, "it should receive as much consideration in physical equipment as any scientific laboratory."

Because of the lack of space it is necessary to have books stored at various places about the campus. Storage rooms are maintained in the basements of Law and Social Science buildings, with a small one recently added in U hall. To these places are relegated books and material for which few calls are received.

Central Reserve Wanted. Books are placed on reserve by the instructions of the professors. It is the wish of some to use the Social Science reserve, others find it more convenient to place books for their classes in the main reserve. A central reserve system would facilitate matters greatly, but the means for handling such a proposition are inadequate. Commenting further on library matters, Mr. Doane stated that an effort at stabilizing the growth of the different sections within the

Send Band to Texas Is Hoosier Ambition. BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Raising the money to send the Hoosier band to Dallas, Tex., to take part in the dedication of the Southwestern Methodist university's new stadium is the prime concern of the University of Indiana student body. Receipts of the Indiana Military band, to be held on November 8, proceeds from several benefit shows at Bloomington theaters, as well as contributions from fraternities, sororities, and alumni will all be used to send the band to Dallas. If this trip proves successful, the band will be sent to the Notre Dame and Purdue games as well.

Lillian Grady and Frank McDonald of Lincoln were married on Sept. 9 at her home in Bonesteel, S. Dak. They are now living in Lincoln.

The Alpha Chi Omega chapter held their formal initiation Wednesday evening, making Maude Bryan, Leone Folds and Lucy Larson members of the sisterhood.

Della Taylor will give an informal luncheon at the Kappa Delta house Sunday for the instructors of the physical education department.

Miss Mary Lou Leslie, national officer and member of Pi chapter of Kappa Delta, visited the local chapter last week.

Washington Coed Prints Five of Own Diplomas. PULLMAN, Wash.—Miss Olive Erwin, Washington State college coed, has printed five of her own diplomas during the last nine years of her school career.

Miss Erwin was always interested in the printing profession and has earned a portion of her school expenses by working in various print shops.

In 1921 Miss Erwin printed the diploma which she received from a study in bookkeeping; in 1922, she received one from the prep school of the state college. Her bachelor of arts and five year normal diploma was also printed in her department. Just this summer Miss Erwin was given her life diploma after three years of successful teaching.

The Daily Californian, student newspaper of the University of California, is conducting a vigorous editorial campaign against junior colleges, on the grounds that the two-year course institutions hurt scholarship and activities, and have undesirable effects on transfers.

Tap Dancing Class Is Most Popular at Waco

WACO, Tex.—Most popular of the physical education classes at the Baylor university, Waco, Tex., is a class in tap dancing, with an enrollment of fifty women. Because the tap class proved too noisy to hold in the regular gymnasium on the third floor of a class building, the dancers have been transferred to the old chapel of the university.

Skim Milk Now Used for Variety of Products Including Fountain Pens

That the modern dairy farm contributes to higher education in another way than that of supplying milk and cream for the student's breakfast table was revealed by L. K. Crowe of the dairy husbandry department at the college of agriculture. Fountain pens are now being made of skim milk. Paper such as that used for notebooks and examinations is being glazed with casein, a constituent of skim milk and romba, glue, soap, shoe polish and cork are being made by a new process.
