CANADIAN U GOOD WILL FOUNTAIN IS TO BE UNVEILED

MONTREAL, Quebec—(IP)—A marble fountain, symbolic of the friendship of the United States for Canada, is to be unveiled on the campus of McGill university here Saturday, Nov. 1, with elaborate ceremonies.

The fountain, designed by Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, is the gift of a committee of good will composed of about 100 prominent citizens of the United States, including many college presidents, business men, writers, and army and navy officers.

Miss Ellen Ballou, a McGill graduate now living in New York City, originated the idea of the gift. She is the organizer of the United States Committee of Good Will in Canada.

DEAN TO SANCTION FOOTBALL TRIPS OF OHIO U COEDS

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Coeds who are planning to attend out-of-town football games must have the approval of the dean of women before they leave. This applies to any woman student who is going, whether driving or traveling on a student special train. They must also have the permission of their parents.

The head resident of each university house and sorority house is expected to report, in writing, the names of those women who are going and must state how they are to get there, also the time of their leaving and when they expect to return.

S. M. U. Organizes Frosh Pep Squad To Improve Rallies

DALLAS, Tex.—Replacing the old organization of Mustang Sporters, a pep squad dubbed Blue Shirts was organized from members of the freshman class of Southern Methodist university by upperclassmen Thursday. Activities of the organization as outlined by organizers will be to guard the campus of the university, build bonfires, and to march at all pep rallies of the school.

14 Schools Issue Annual Which Has No Optional Purchase as Cornhusker

By JACK ERICKSON

At Nebraska an annual such as the Cornhusker, is something which students are offered an opportunity to buy. At fourteen other large universities an annual is something which must be purchased, sometimes to the tune of seven or eight silver dollars.

Statistics received at the office of the Cornhusker yearbook show that in a census taken in fifty-seven schools there are two universities which issue a ten dollar annual, seven schools which make a seven dollar assessment for the yearbook, and thirty colleges which publish a six dollar book.

Twenty one higher educational institutions are on a par with Nebraska in that they charge five dollars for their annual while five colleges are able to put out a four dollar book. In each of the latter cases, however, the school is much smaller and the book is proportionately less thorough in its make-up.

Greeks Lucky.

Male and female Greek-letter lodges on this campus are lucky for if they were subjected to the plan followed on forty-eight other campuses they would be paying from $30.00 to $60.00 a page for space in the annual. At Nebraska the Cornhusker staff uses a plan whereby a charge of $50.00 is made for two full pages in the yearbook.

All in all it would seem as if the students here are getting a number of breaks. They are not asked to buy an annual, instead they are given the voluntary option of purchasing one of the five best annuals in America, so chosen by a national association of college yearbooks.

VARIED OPINIONS ON COED SMOKING TOLD ON CAMPUS

throughout the state." This point of view was also expressed by Miss Jean Rathburn, a member of the A. W. S. board. "Public opinion controls the elections, the elections control the legislature, and the legislature controls the doing out of university appropriations."

Consensus of opinion among A. W. S. members interviewed seems to be that the people throughout the state are decidedly opposed to any such practice as coed smoking. Hence, it is said, the board decided not to meddle, especially since the University of Nebraska is a state controlled institution.

According to Miss Gaylord, "In eastern schools, the question is a very old one. People have become accustomed to seeing the women smoke. Here, it is a new question—too new a situation. People must have time to adjust themselves to it, before it can be openly approved without raising violent opposition throughout the state."

"Without saying anything about the question of its advisability, its good or bad features, one thing seems clear. Any new idea required to be dealt with, one way or the other, fairly and without prejudice."

These objections were discounted by Miss Frances Holyoke, Theta Sigma Phi and the Delta Gamma. Said Miss Holyoke: "The idea that coed smoking rooms would shock the people of the state and rouse violent opposition is a big mistake. Nebraskans are not hicks. They are not long whiskered, countrified, narrow minded folk. They know what this score is."

"Other states in the middlewest have smoking rooms for women students—Colorado, Minnesota, Missouri and others. Nebraskans are capable of considering this question without prejudice. The A. W. S. board should take a definite stand on the matter."

Miss Amelia Heppner, dean of women, while expressing the desire not to interfere in the matter at all, said that in her opinion the agitation for coed smoking rooms was being carried by a small minority. "If the time comes," she said, "when nearly all women students smoke, then smoking rooms will undoubtedly be adopted. At present, there seem to be very few of the twenty-five hundred girls in the university who do smoke and fewer still who are interested in this question at all."

"The state is not ready for such a move. If, eventually, a majority should approve, or at least not condemn coed smoking, then it might be permitted. That is another question."

"In the day of my predecessor, Miss Graham," Dean Heppner continued, "Dancing was barred upon the campus. Yet after a while everybody had learned to dance. Where it had been regarded as almost a sin, later it became a universal practice. Then dances were held upon the campus, in the former gymnasium. In spite of a few objectors, the practice was not condemned by the people in general."

"Similarly," she concluded, "most of the women in eastern schools smoke. It is a generally accepted practice, and consequently there are no serious objections to women students smoking. In our own school, and even in some eastern institutions, however, the practice is banned."

Situation Varies. "In Nebraska, we have a very different situation from that characteristic in the east. The idea of coed smoking rooms is too new upon our own campus, and particularly throughout the state. It may come eventually, but the people of Nebraska in general are not now accustomed to seeing girls smoke, and would condemn such a practice. Until the situation changes, the idea of instituting smoking rooms for girls is very impractical."

While neither Miss Heppner nor Dr. Thompson, dean of men, took any definite steps in dealing with the question officially, and neither approved nor condemned the idea, Dean Thompson wrote to approximately thirty other universities

Rollins U Has no Lectures, Profs Or Assignments

A college, without lectures, professors or assignments, has always been to many students their ideal of a university. However, the interesting fact is that there are colleges that do not have these things. At Rollins university, the tutor system of education is used. There are no lectures, and students are signed up for courses, but their work is directed by tutors. These merely act as guides to the students in the reading and investigation of some subject.

Such a system is ideal in that there are no professors lecturing just to fill up the hour. If no one has anything to say, either students or faculty, they don't say it and thus much waste time is eliminated.

and colleges, requesting information in their handling of the question. The answers were not agreed. Many of the schools had ruled in favor of smoking rooms for women, many were opposed to it, even forbidding any women student to smoke at all, and some were undecided.

Consensus of advisory opinion seemed to be that coed smoking rooms would give university life in general a bad name, and would result in much unfavorable publicity over the state. Most of the A. W. S. board members (students) were of the same opinion but many women students took their stand at the other extreme.

WASHINGTON MAY VOTE ON USING BIBLE AS TEXT

OLYMPIA, Wash.—(IP)—It is thought possible that a constitutional amendment may be submitted to Washington voters in the near future, calling for the permission to use the Bible as a textbook in the public schools of the state. Since Washington became a state, religious education in common schools has been forbidden by the constitution. The question has been taken through the courts by interested individuals and organizations.

Geology Specimens of Value Found in Montana

PRINCETON, N. J.—(IP)—The geology department of Princeton university is making plans to continue its research in the vicinity of Red Lodge in southern Montana, where members of the department made important geological finds during the past summer. The first dinosaur eggs ever found on this continent were discovered there this summer. Detailed reports are now being prepared on discoveries in this region, and another expedition will go out next summer.

FIRST CAMPUS BUILDING.

University hall is the original University of Nebraska building. Built shortly after the founding of the school in 1869, it was originally three stories in height, surmounted by a bell tower. All the classes were held within its walls.

Within the past decade the condition of the building has demanded the removal of the upper floors and the substitution of a flat roof. Campus building plans call for its destruction within a few years.

Investigation carried on by Louis I. Dublin, statistician for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, has led to the discovery that college-bred men live longer on the average than other men.

One of the new courses on the curriculum of the University of California is one on investments. The students will learn how to invest money in the stock market without taking too big a loss.

San Francisco.—(IP)—The University of California medical school hospital here has given care to 139,960 patients in its public clinic department, during the year 1929-30, officials reported.

A $15,000 damage suit brought against the freshman and sophomore classes of Columbia university by the owner of a restaurant which was damaged in a class fight, was dismissed against the two classes, and individuals were made defendants instead.

It is estimated that 20,000 college students will be under paddle rule this fall because they happen to be freshmen.

Mark Webb, Cambridge university bacteriologist, told students of the university that two youths who had grafted the head of a bee on a beetle afterward maintained they had evolved the perfect humbug.

WISCONSIN U HEAD DENOUNCES METHODS

Says Regular Sessions of School Waste Time For Students.

MADISON, Wis.—Charging the regular sessions of the universities with wasting time, materials, and money in accomplishing in 18 weeks what the summer sessions accomplished in six weeks, President Glenn Frank, in an address delivered before the Association of Deans and Directors of Summer Sessions Friday, maintained that the universities of today are merely machines for merchandising information.

In denouncing the methods used in the institutions of higher education, Pres. Glenn Frank recommended that "universities should adopt some modern invention such as the talking film to its needs."

College Program Initiated. Pres. Frank told the association that he had thought of employing the talking film in the university ever since it was perfected by the scientists, but he further added that the university was not contemplating the adoption of such a plan.

"The entire program in American universities is vastly over-inflated. It is so over-emphasized that if we were to try the same thing on the outside world we would be fired from our jobs in short order," the president stated.

"Talkies" Are Solution. "The difficulty with so-called higher education today is that it is merely a merchandising of information. We haven't any genuine education in the sense of training minds to meet problems." President Frank maintained in his criticism of the present method of education employed in the universities and colleges of this country.

"If, however, such merchandising is desired, then universities should adopt some modern invention such as the talking film to its needs. With this device information might be dispensed in the manner of other commodities," the speaker stated in offering his solution to the problem.

DUTCH DATES ARE POPULAR THING AT WISCONSIN SCHOOL

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Dutch dates are all the rage at the University of Wisconsin, we read. This may mean a number of different things. Maybe the men are declaring themselves at last, or perhaps competition is extraordinarily keen among the coeds at Wisconsin. Then again, the women may consider this just another step in their movement for equal rights.

Penn State Opens Trial Frosh Summer School

ALTOONA, Pa.—(IP)—During the past summer, the Altoona branch of the Pennsylvania State college here opened an unusual trial summer school for prospective freshmen.

Here, for six weeks, freshmen tried their wits at college subjects. Those who succeeded gained advance college credits. Many of those who failed saw their unfitness for college work, and went to work. It is expected that the number of men and women who will drop out of the college at the end of the first semester will be reduced greatly as a result.

Rowntree Discovers Help for Arthritis

KANSAS CITY—(IP)—That by cutting two little nerves that lie along the spines of persons whose hands and feet are cold, the cold and clammy handclasp can be eliminated, was the information conveyed to the Southwest Clinical conference here by Dr. L. G. Rowntree, of Rochester, Minn.

Feverish with arthritis or bone fever also may be benefited by the operation which increases the blood supply in the afflicted regions. Dr. Rowntree told the conference.

"Let's walk" "Oh, well..."

THE Neolithic men were unquestionably a smart people. In the heart of the Umbrella Age they figured out that strolling in the rain would be fun if you only didn't get wet. Nothing more was done about it, though, until 1836, when Tower started making slickers. We're good at it now, if we do say it.

Fish Brand Slickers, roomy, well-cut, long-wearing, are sold everywhere in a wide range of models, weights and colors, for men and others. Dogs Moved From Pharmacy Annex To Their Old Quarters in Attic; Will Silence the Class Disturbing Yelps

A happy conclusion to the agitation against the yelping whelps and their deeper voiced papas and mamas of the pharmacy college menagerie who have caused great discomfort to students and instructors in neighboring buildings was reached when the canine members of the zoo were removed to their former quarters in the attic of the Pharmacy building.

The solution, however, can hardly be regarded as happy from the point of view of the dogs themselves, for the ancient garret of the old building is far inferior to the opulent quarters of the Annex where the animals received ultraviolet ray treatments and had their quarters steam pressure cleaned daily.

Annex Superior. Thought the dogs will no longer receive the benefits of modern luxuries provided in their former residence, all noiseless animals maintained by the druggists will continue to take their daily light treatments in their well heated, lighted, and ventilated cages. As Dean Lyman admitted, the annex is far superior in construction to any part of the old building, and it may be that the cats and rabbits will some day be forced to vacate their hall in favor of some of the pharmacy college faculty members who can turn over their less attractive offices to the animals.

As to the dogs, their accommodations are at least enough to keep them from cold blasts of winter and shield them from the scorching heat of summer, and most of all to confine their noisy complaints within the walls of the old attic. No doubt to the dogs themselves, there is little distinction between annex and attic so long as daily food is forthcoming.

Change Permanent. Dean Lyman asserts that the change will be permanent even though the dogs may suffer some from the heat during the summer. Summer school students in particular will reap the benefits from the removal of the dogs, for during colder weather when classroom windows are closed, only the loudest bark penetrated into the halls of learning. In any case, however, it is certain that students and faculty will welcome the disappearance of the boisterous brutes with satisfied exclamations of "doggone."
