DIRECTORY GOES ON SALE ABOUT CAMPUS TODAY

Staff Prepares Books With Care; Three Checks Made on Proof.

COMSTOCK HEADS SALE

New Book Contains Twelve More Pages; Add Two New Features.

Twenty-two hundred student directories will go on sale this morning at 9 o'clock at Long's Book store, Co-op Book store, Ag college book store, social sciences building, law college and engineering college. The sale will continue all day today and tomorrow.

The directory sells for fifty cents as usual, but is a bigger and better book this year, because every effort has been made to secure accuracy. The copy was checked for mistakes three times: by the staff, by the Lincoln Telephone company and by the printers.

Comstock Heads Sales. According to William Comstock, sales manager of the 1930-1931 directory, books will be on sale only in the afternoon in the engineering college Wednesday, and in the morning in law college. The other places will have the books for sale all day. Thursday the books will be available at the same stores and at Social Science all day and at Ag hall all day.

This year's book is not so bulky as in former years although twelve more pages are contained in it than last year. A finer stock was used for the new directory.

Two features are added in this year's book. Late registrants are listed in a separate place and graduate students, who previously had no recognition in the directory, are now listed. Students and faculty members are listed alphabetically, fraternity and sorority members are listed with organization presidents. Lists of students by home towns and other incidental information are also included.

The letter S is the most common in the directory, there being eleven pages devoted to that letter. A check of the names reveals that there are more Johnsons in school than Smiths, Browns or Jones. An even fifty students answer to that name. Next come the Smiths with forty-five included.

The staff of the 1930-1931 directory is as follows: Edwin Faulkner, '32, Lincoln, editor and business manager; William Comstock, '32, Omaha, sales manager and assistant editor; Howard Miller, '32, Pawnee, advertising manager; Elwood Thompson, '33, Lincoln, assistant business manager; and Harold Dahms, James Crabbell, and Harold Speier, assistant editors.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES FILE FOR SWEETHEART

Coeds Running for Honor Must Be Under Wire by Friday Noon.

KOSMET KLUB SPONSORS

In observance of the deadline at noon Friday, several candidates have already filed their names in the race for Nebraska sweetheart. Each candidate is filing her own name in the student activities office and, according to the rules set by Kosmet Klub which is sponsoring the election, no contestants will be accepted after 12 o'clock Nov. 14.

Nebraska sweetheart is to be presented for the third time since her origin as princess of King Kosmet's royal court in the annual morning show of Kosmet Klub on Thanksgiving day. For the third time, the previous princess will also be crowned as queen of the court. This honor will go to Lucille Carrothers, Kappa Alpha Theta of Falls City this year. Miss Carrothers was princess of the court last year.

Men Elect. A vote of all male students in the university will be taken Nov. 20 to decide who the sweetheart will be this year. This election will be directly supervised by representatives of the student council. Letters have been prepared and sent out to the various sororities on the campus giving the deadline for sweetheart filings, date of election, and other information necessary. Sororities were urged to discuss the letters in their weekly meetings and to decide on candidates. That this was done is evidenced by the filings in the student activities office in the college. Kosmet Klub members expect many more filings before the deadline Friday so that there will be a sizeable number from which to choose.

Holstein Cow of University Dairy Herd Holds Record

La Vertex Quantity of U. Neb.—not a Romance language, but the name of a Holstein cow at the college of agriculture that holds a world record in having three successive 305 day lactation periods with a total of 2,689 pounds of butter.

"Sure, there are better cows than that," said C. W. Nibler, instructor in dairy husbandry as he recounted this fact, "but there aren't any like La Vertex."

For constant record production this cow has evidently made the most of her daily feed. Her average of 900 pounds of butter fat per year includes a total of 1,027 pounds during one year and 1,033 pounds during another. La Vertex weighs 1,600 pounds.

The dairy herd at the college of agriculture is composed of 142 head of cattle. Of these 46 are in milk. All four breeds are represented in the herd, Holsteins and Jersey outnumbering the Guernseys and Ayrshires. "It is our intention to develop the herd so that we will have 20 of each breed constantly in milk," said Nibler in commenting upon the progress being made in experimental work.

FIGURES SHOW REGISTRATION IS LESS THIS YEAR

208 Fewer Students Enroll in University Than in 1929 Term.

BIZAD COLLEGE GROWS

Financial Stringency is Cause for Decrease Among Women.

Statistics show that the freshman class is responsible for most of the 208 decrease in enrollment of students in the university for the present semester. Figures released by Florence McGahey, registrar, Tuesday show that the total registration on Nov. 8 was 6,327 as compared with 6,535 on Nov. 9, 1929.

This year there are 1598 first-year students as compared with the 1757 of 1929. But nineteen of the total decrease was among the men, the balance 189, being women. This large decrease in the enrollment of women is undoubtedly due to the financial stringency of the country, declared university officials, since women find it more difficult to work their way through college than men.

Bizad's Increase. The business administration college showed the largest increase, with 46 more students than last year. The colleges of dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, graduate college, school of nursing and the school of journalism all show increases over last year. Miss McGahey pointed to the fact that the applications for admission to the medical college this fall greatly exceeded its capacity and it was possible to admit but a limited number of students.

Following are the detailed enrollment figures for the two years:

	Nov. 9, 1929	Nov. 8, 1930
Agriculture	353	269
Arts & Sciences	1063	815
Bus. Adm.	438	509

*The registered names represents students registered in more than one college, and students in fine arts and journalism who are also included in the various colleges.

COUNCIL TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING TONIGHT, 5 P. M.

Constitution Committee Will Present Report on Proposed Plan.

FAULKNER HEADS GROUP

Chairman Writes to Schools of Midwest for Suggestions.

At a special meeting of the Student council this afternoon at 5 p. m. a new constitution designed to give the student body real self government will be considered, according to Bob Kelly, president.

The constitution committee composed of Edwin Faulkner, chairman, Bill McCleery, Alan Williams, Esther Gaylord and Gretchen Fee has been working on a proposed constitution to be submitted to the student body at a special election this fall. A report of this committee will be made this afternoon.

Necessary for Passing. The new constitution must be proposed by the present council, submitted to the student body and approved by the university senate before it becomes effective.

Faulkner has written to a number of schools in the midwest to secure information regarding their plans of self government. Several members of the local council secured first hand information regarding the workings of the men's student council at the University of Kansas last week.

All students interested in the cause of student self government are invited by Bob Kelly to be present at the meeting which will be held at 5 p. m. in University hall III.

PHI TAU THETA WILL HOLD MEET HERE NOV. 23-29

Representatives from chapters of seven midwest universities will be in attendance, when an interesting program is promised. At the first talk of the series which was held in October, Dr. W. H. Werkmeister of the department of philosophy talked on the mechanistic and vitalistic concepts of life from the point of view of a philosopher. Dr. Whitney will emphasize the mechanistic viewpoint.

Dr. J. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, will talk on the same subject, discussing the problem from the point of view of a chemist, at the December meeting of the honorary science society.

Dr. Williams Named To Hoover Committee

Dr. Hattie Plum Williams of the department of sociology has been designated by President Hoover as one of the delegates to the conference on child health and protection which is to be held at the white house Nov. 19 to 22.

STUDENTS VOICE OPINIONS ABOUT COUNCIL'S POWER

Extra-Curricular Leaders Favor Change From Existing Plan.

BELIEF IS UNANIMOUS

Cornhuskers Are Unable to Govern Selves Under Present Method.

BY MORPHEUS. When the Student council meets in special session tonight to consider plans for a new constitution it will have the backing of leaders in many campus organizations.

Opinions from officers and prominent members is various campus extra-curricular groups indicate an almost unanimous belief that more power of self-expression and self government should be given by the faculty to the Student council.

In the opinion of Edwin Faulkner, chairman of the Student council constitution committee, that body should have original jurisdiction over all extra-curricular activities.

"The student council," Faulkner believed, "should have power over all phases of student affairs except those which the faculty may see fit to deny. I believe it is only right that the faculty should act as an appellate body with power to revoke certain steps which the council may take if they consider them too drastic, but to all ordinary ends I believe the original jurisdiction should rest with the council."

Sally Pickard's Opinion.

Sally Pickard, president of the Mortar Boards, and member of the A. W. S. board holds the following opinion:

"It is only fair that the council should be given a voice in some terms of student activity but for the present at least, their authority should be limited. To me it seems that a better plan would be to have a joint council, composed both of faculty and student members. If such a body as this could be organized it would then be practical to let original and final authority rest there because older judgments could enter in and temper student actions on a rational basis."

Stanford Students Govern.

Bill McGaffin, Student council representative and member of Kosmet club, believes that students should be given absolute self-control. In his opinion the Student council is the best extant medium for exerting this control.

COUNCIL ANNOUNCES ALL-UNIVERSITY BALL

'Austin Waltz' Is Feature Planned; Omaha Band Hired to Play.

GROUP SEEKS NEW IDEA

The Third All-University party to be given Saturday, Sept. 15, will feature a very unusual dance. The Barb council in announcing the party stated that every attempt is to be made to introduce new ideas and different forms of entertainment.

The Austin waltz, the novelty number, is an attempt along this line. Alan Williams, chairman, stated that he was sure that the Austin waltz would find instant popularity with the students and every "Joe Collich" who has the good fortune to own an Austin would insist that he be allowed to take his oversized "kiddy car" to all dances from now on, formal included. The exact nature of the dance is still something of a secret but campus rumor tells us that an Austin car will play a prominent part.

The Omaha Night Owls, a colored orchestra, will furnish the music. This orchestra is considered one of the best in Omaha. This is their first appearance at a university dance. The Night Owls have proved very popular in Omaha.

TWO MEMBERS RESIGN

Esther Boyer, '31, and Don Facka, '31, were appointed to fill the vacancies in the senior division of the Farmer's Fair board it was announced yesterday by Merle White, president of the board and manager of the 1931 fair. The vacancies were caused by the resignations of George Wilcox and Robert Danielson, who were appointed last spring.

The fair is conducted and is planned for by the senior fair board assisted by a board of six junior students who will be appointed at a later date. The other members of the senior board are Merle White, Emory Fahrney, Nejae Lakeman and Elizabeth
