

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Student Newspaper of the University of Nebraska

VOL. XXX—NO. 72

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, TUESDAY, JANUARY, 13, 1931

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

OPENING DAY'S REGISTRATION IS CLOSE TO 1,000

Proceeding Faster Than Usual; Ag College Leads With 440.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Fees to Be Paid Jan. 25-28; New Students to Check In Jan. 30.

With registration proceeding much faster than usual nearly 1,000 students had completed the process at the close of the first day's registration at 5 o'clock yesterday. The college of agriculture, where registration began Friday, led in the number of students registered, with 440 having arranged their courses.

Reports were available from all colleges where registration had begun except the law college which reported "in the process of registration, but nothing to give out."

First Day's Reports.
The reports given out from the offices of the deans of the colleges at the close of registration yesterday are as follows:
Arts and Sciences, about 100.
Engineering, approximately 120.
Agriculture, 440.
Dental, about 50.
Teachers, 185.
Pharmacy, 5.
Business Administration, 107.

That registration in the college of pharmacy did not begin until afternoon accounts for the small number who completed registration there yesterday. A much larger number is expected today.

Faster Than Usual.
Registration was proceeding much faster than usual, according to the report of the college of arts and sciences, teachers college, engineering college, and college of business administration. Teachers college registered 75 during the first day of registration last year as compared with 155 this year. The college of business administration reported 32 last year as compared to this year's total of 107 for the first day. The college of engineering reported registering much faster than usual.

Registration will begin Feb. 2 in the graduate college and continue until Feb. 14. Jan. 30 is the date set for registration in the medical college at Omaha.

To Close Saturday.
Registration on the city and agricultural campus will close Saturday noon, Jan. 17. Fees will be paid Jan. 25, 26, 27 and 28. Students failing to see their advisers and arrange their second semester classes this week or failing to pay their fees at the prescribed time will be charged the late registration fee, according to the announcement of Registrar Florence I. McGabe.

Lyman to Talk at Pharmacy Meeting

Dr. Rufus A. Lyman, dean of the college of pharmacy, this week will read a paper on "Advantages and Necessity of Increasing the Scope of Examinations for the Licensing of Pharmacists" at a meeting of the sixth district of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy at Hot Springs, Ark. Nebraska is in the fourth district of the association but because of its proximity to the sixth district, Dr. Lyman has been invited to attend the meetings.

Home Economics Course for Men Proves Satisfactory Enough to Continue, Says Professor Fedde

Results of the home economics course given for men the first time in the history of the University of Nebraska were sufficiently satisfactory that the course, somewhat changed and modified, will be given again this year, Prof. Margaret Fedde stated in a recent interview.

Miss Fedde explained that the course last year was given somewhat in the nature of an experiment. At the close of it, questionnaires were passed to the men, who were asked to tell which classes they thought were the most beneficial to them. "You see we do not want to give the course," Miss Fedde explained, "if the boys feel they are not getting anything out of it."

Varied Content.
Last year six lessons were given on nutrition, five lessons on homes and home furnishings, five lessons on clothing, seven on child development, several on home equipment, two on social relations and two on budgeting the family income. Miss Fedde stated that as a result of the questionnaire the course would be somewhat altered this year.

The twelve men who took the course last year stated that they would have liked to have had more work in family relationships, use of the family income, clothing selection and child development. "We aim to make the course practical," Miss Fedde said, "and propose to give the boys work in the phases of home making in which they are the most interested."

This year the course is opened to all junior and senior men. Last year only students registered in the college of agriculture were permitted to take the course.

Dairy Club Photo To Be Taken Friday

Cornhusker photo of the Dairy club will be taken at 12:15 o'clock Friday afternoon. It was announced by President Fred Meredith. All members are requested to be present.

CLARENCE VIRTUE, LAW GRADUATE IN '29, ENTERS FIRM

Clarence C. Virtue, who graduated from the college of law in 1929, has entered the New York law firm of Root, Clark, Buckner and Ballantine, according to word received in Lincoln. Rupert A. Warren, who took his first year of law work at the University of Nebraska and who is now in the Harvard law school, will also go into the firm upon his graduation in June. George E. Johnson, law college alumnus, has been in the employ of the Root firm for more than a year.

A. W. S. TO AID COEDS CHOOSING VOCATIONS

Make Plans for Helping Women Find Places in Social Work.

MISS DUNN IS SPONSOR

In attempt to aid the women in the campus in making decisions as to the vocations they will pursue, the A. W. S. board is sponsoring a week of vocational guidance on social work. It is the first of a series of weeks to be devoted to the study of various fields. Speakers will be engaged to talk to groups of women and also for personal conferences.

Social work is a very large field, and with opportunity for personal counsel women may register this week more accurately with their desires. Miss Catherine M. Dunn of the sociology department is sponsoring the week on social work.

Will Talk to Groups.
Miss Dunn will address the sophomore commission groups Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. At this time she will outline the fields and give a resume of required preparation. Following her talk there will be a period for discussion when she will answer the questions of those women who wish to consult her.

Other speakers at group meetings will be announced later. Each morning Miss Dunn will be in her office in the Social Science building from 9 until 11 o'clock when she will hold private conferences with any students interested in social work. Special appointments will be made upon request.

Cites Possibilities.
In classifying the possibilities of social case work, Miss Dunn lists family case work, child welfare work, visiting teacher work, positions in schools, psychiatric problem cases and medical social work.

A large field also falling in this group is personnel work in large industries.

Miss Dunn will also talk on institutional work, group work in recreation and character building organizations, like that of the Y. W. C. A. and Camp Fire girls, and the executive work of organization and administration.

During the weeks of the coming semester weekly conferences will be held on journalism, interior decoration, music, law, medicine, pharmacy, writing and literature, business administration, teaching, drama, research and many other fields which will be grouped. Early in the spring the conferences will be climaxed when a nationally known worker in the field will be brought to the campus by the A. W. S. board. Berneice Hoffman, chairman of vocational guidance, is in charge of the conferences.

KIRBY PAGE TO ADDRESS FORUM TOMORROW NOON

'Must There Be Another World War' Is Topic of Noted Author.

WELL KNOWN PACIFIST

Speaker Is Editor of 'The World Tomorrow'; Was Guest of Gandhi.

"Must There Be Another World War?" will be the topic before the World Forum tomorrow noon when Kirby Page, noted author, journalist, and educator will speak. Considerable comment has been caused by his topic due to the present controversy here and in other universities throughout the country on the compulsory drill question.

Mr. Page is a noted pacifist, being the editor of "The World Tomorrow," a pacifist magazine. Page is also the author of numerous books and pamphlets. All of his publications are printed in the most inexpensive form possible and are sold at actual cost so as to present them to the greatest number of people.

Studied Indian Conditions.
As a personal guest of Mahatma Gandhi in his ashram in India, Page was able to study conditions there at close range and received first hand information from Gandhi on the situation. His visit with Gandhi was a part of his leisurely tour of the world in 1929 and 1930 when he visited England, Russia, Japan and India. Mr. Page's visits were for purposes of study and for purposes of writing on those conditions.

His two best books are said to be "Jesus, or Christianity," and "Dollars and World Peace." He has also written many pamphlets on the subject of world peace. The best of these are "War, Its Causes, Consequences and Cure," "Imperialism and Nationalism," "The Sword and the Cross," "The American Peace Policy," "Mahatma Gandhi, the Greatest Man of the Age," "The Monroe Doctrine and the World War," and "International Relations in the Sight of the Religion of Jesus."

Born in Texas.
Kirby Page was born in Texas in 1890 and after completion of his secondary education there matriculated in the University of Nebraska. (Continued on Page 2.)

GREEKS ARRANGE FOR FIFTH ANNUAL PARTY

Interfraternity Committees Schedule Feb. 7 as Date for Ball.

VON SEGGERN IS CHIEF

The fifth annual Interfraternity ball of the University of Nebraska will be held Feb. 7. A place for the ball has not yet been decided upon. Marvin Von Seggern of West Point was appointed by Fred Grau, president of the Interfraternity council, as general chairman in charge of the ball, Saturday.

Other members of the committee named are music and hall, William Comstock, '32, Omaha; decorations, Robert Kinghead, '32, Cheyenne, Wyo.; chaperones, Ootie Erickson, '32, York; tickets, Richard Bell, '32, Bellwood; entertainment, Robert Venner, '32, Lincoln; and publicity, Art Wolf, '32, Edgar.

The Interfraternity ball is a comparatively new affair on the campus in the way of formal parties. Before 1926 the party was known as the Panhellenic ball, and as such had been organized by the Kosmet Klub for some fourteen years. Due to the presence on the campus of an organization known as the Panhellenic council the name of the ball was changed to the Interfraternity ball.

Plans are under way for the affair and the committee is endeavoring to obtain the best music and the best hall for the event according to Von Seggern, general chairman.

FELLMAN ANNOUNCES GRAD STUDENT PARTY

President of Club States Dance Will Be Given Jan. 30.

A graduate dance and party open to all graduate students will be given at Morrill hall Jan. 30, according to David Fellman, president of the club. This is the first graduate club ever to be formed on the Nebraska campus.

The party will be held in galleries A and B, one gallery being devoted to dancing and the other to those who do not. Features of the evening will be in the form of dancing, refreshments and music.

Students may secure their tickets either from Fellman at Social Science 108 or from Herbert Kahler at Social Science 226, if they are not solicited during the preceding weeks.

India Bound Bronze Turkeys Arrive at Destination Safely

A trip more than half way around the world to India has been completed by a pair of bronze turkeys raised at the college of agriculture. A letter announcing the arrival of these birds was received by Prof. F. E. Mussehl, chairman of the poultry department.

The turkeys arrived in good condition, considering the length of the voyage, the letter reads. J. J. DeValois, of Katpadi, North Arcot, South India, was the purchaser of the pair of bronzes.

Mr. DeValois, in his letter, expressed surprise in receiving the American birds. He stated that he had canceled the order in a previous letter because of a plague that was spreading through India and which was killing off all fowl. All danger of the plague is now over, however.

It required eight weeks to ship these turkeys to India, the voyage being 13,000 miles. A cage was constructed for them, measuring four feet in width and six feet in length. An abundance of hay, green feed, cabbage and a fifty pound sack of grain was placed in the cage at the time of shipment.

FACULTY MEMBERS ENDORSE FOREIGNER

Burnett, Hicks, Oldfather, Hinman Praise Visiting Professor Macchioro.

TO CONDUCT CLASSES

Prof. Vittorio Macchioro, visiting professor who will instruct University of Nebraska classes next semester, is endorsed by Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Dean J. D. Hicks, Dr. C. H. Oldfather, and Dr. E. L. Hinman.

Speaking of Prof. Macchioro, Chancellor Burnett pointed out that the University of Nebraska was fortunate in securing him and that his coming would be considered a compliment to this institution.

"Professor Macchioro's classes are made possible by a grant from the Carnegie Foundation," the chancellor said.

Should Be Proud.
"Although there may have been a geographical consideration which might have affected the foundation's decision to send Macchioro to this school we should certainly be proud that we were selected. His courses will furnish an opportunity for first-hand acquaintance with the Italian type of education."

The courses which Professor Macchioro will give are, according to Dean J. D. Hicks of the college of arts and sciences, of a general nature such as would appeal to students other than those who are in the department of philosophy. Credits from these courses will apply toward the requirement in either philosophy, history, or the classics.

Show Foreign Instruction.

Dr. C. H. Oldfather, chairman of the department of history, believes that Professor Macchioro's courses should be valuable and interesting since they will show the method of instruction used in foreign universities.

"In fact," Dr. Oldfather remarked, "students will virtually have a chance to attend a class in a foreign university, right here at home."

Dr. E. L. Hinman, chairman of the department of philosophy, also acclaims Professor Macchioro and he too believes that the courses will be valuable because they offer first-hand contact with early Greek and Roman religions taught by a European who understands them.

First Visitor for Time.

It is the first time in a number of years that the university has had a visiting professor, and Professor Macchioro is the first one to visit it from Europe. He was formerly connected with the University of Naples but during the past two years he has taught at the University of Chicago, Columbia university, and the University of Virginia, respectively.

Previous to Professor Macchioro the last visiting professor was S. G. Joshi, a philosopher from India. He was an exchange professor and when he came here Prof. P. M. Buck of this institution was sent to Joshi's country to each.

Campus Calendar

- Tuesday. Scandinavian club, 7:30, Temple 305. Kosmet Klub, 8 o'clock, club rooms. Lutheran Bible league, 7:30, Temple 205. Phi Tau Theta, Wesley Foundation parlors, 6 o'clock dinner. Dr. F. E. Heuzlik will speak. Upperclassmen commission meeting at 4 o'clock, Ellen Smith hall.
- Wednesday. Vesper service at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall.
- Thursday. Spanish club meeting at 7 o'clock at the Chi Omega house. Student Council, 5 o'clock, University hall 111. World Forum, Annex upstairs cafe, noon. Kirby Page will speak. Sophomore commission meeting at 5 o'clock, Ellen Smith hall.
- Friday. Signa Delta Chi, Sigma Nu house, 8 o'clock.
- Saturday. Social dancing class from 7 until 8:30 o'clock in Armory.

REGENTS ELECT TAYLOR AS NEW HEAD OF BOARD

St. Paul Man Will Succeed Webster Who Has Served For Twelve Years.

DINNER GIVEN IN OMAHA

Chancellor and Metcalfe are On Program; Discuss Appropriations.

Frank J. Taylor of St. Paul will head the board of regents as a result of the election held in the University of Nebraska college of medicine dining room Saturday night. The present board of regents, officials of the state and Douglas county medical societies, medical college and university faculty members were present.

Taylor succeeds John R. Webster of Omaha, who has served for the past twelve years as a member of the board, and in whose honor the dinner was given.

On the Program.

Speakers included Frank J. Taylor, the new president, Mr. Webster, ex-president; Stanley D. Long of Cowles, elected vice president; W. P. Warner of Dakota City, former regent; Dr. F. A. Long of Madison, editor of the Nebraska State Medical Journal; Mayor Richard A. Metcalfe of Omaha; E. A. Burnett of the University of Nebraska; Dean C. W. Poynter of the college of medicine was toastmaster.

"The medical college was Regent Webster's child," Chancellor Burnett said in commending the work of Mr. Webster. "He wanted to see it grown up and properly introduced in society before he went out. That's why he consented to a second term."

"It is up to us to see that the legislature gives us the appropriations that the regents have recommended, not only for the medical school, but also for the whole state university in this session. Even if the legislature followed Governor Weaver's cutting suggestions and cut off nearly a million dollars from the requested total for the next two years, there wouldn't be a man in this room who could tell the difference in his taxes."

"We must urge the legislature to vote so strongly that, even if economy should get the better of our new governor, he would hesitate to veto the program."

"Building for the future is the (Continued on Page 3.)

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY NOON

Dr. McMillan Presides in Absence of C. D. Hayes; Talk of Gathering.

HARRISON WILL SPEAK

The chancellor's council of religious welfare met Monday noon at the Temple with Dr. L. W. McMillan presiding in the absence of C. D. Hayes. The faculty group was represented by B. C. Henricks, A. A. Reed, O. J. Ferguson, E. L. Hinman, Miss F. Leland and Mrs. H. P. Williams. The student pastors and the student groups were also represented.

Preceding the discussion of the mass meeting to be held Feb. 8 at which Dr. Paul Harrison, a Nebraska graduate, will talk quite extensive committee reports were given.

State Pastors Convention.

Another topic of discussion was the state pastors' convention of all denominations which is to be held on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 19 and 20. Dr. McMillan will deliver an address on "Religion on the Campus" on Tuesday afternoon.

After his address, Dr. E. L. Hinman, Rev. D. E. Leland and a student speaker will present ideas gathered from the standpoints of pastor, student pastor, and student. At the conclusion of these talks, Dr. McMillan will again speak, summarizing the ideas and presenting a general view.

The reports of the delegates who were sent to the national convention in Detroit during the holidays were brought up and set for the next meeting. Prof. W. H. S. Morton, of teachers college, concluded with a survey of religion in high schools.

WOLCOTT WILL TALK ON WILD LIFE JAN. 23

Doctor to Tell League Why Game Is Having Uphill Struggle.

Dr. R. H. Wolcott of the biology department will explain some of the reasons why wild life in America is having such an uphill fight against the encroachments of civilization and agriculture, at the monthly Iszak Walton league meeting at 8 p. m., Friday, Jan. 23, in Morrill hall auditorium.

Dr. Wolcott's main subject will be a talk on "America's Vanishing Game." Possibility of leasing a tract of land near some lake or stream for the use of Valtonians as a club camp will be discussed.

President Announces Important Meeting

A very important meeting of Tassels has been called by Betty Wahlquist, president, for Tuesday noon at Ellen Smith hall. All Tassels are urged to be present.

VESPERS CHOIR CHOOSES BETTY

SAIN PRESIDENT
Newly elected officers of the vespers choir are Betty Sain, president; Fern Johnson, vice president; Pauline Gaudreau, secretary; Virgene McBride and Denise Green, robe managers; Leone King, social chairman, and Marienne Sechler and Jean Alden, librarians. The choir meets for practice each Monday evening at 5 o'clock. At this time a rehearsal for the vespers service on Tuesday evening is held. Aleen Neely is the director of the choir.

LEGISLATURE ACCEPTS BIENNIAL INVITATION

University Will Entertain Lawmakers at Dinner Thursday Night.

BRYAN TO BE PRESENT

Third biennial dinner of the state legislature will be held Thursday night in the activities building on the college of agriculture campus, according to Chancellor E. A. Burnett. Both houses have voted to accept the invitation, and 450 persons will be present, including wives of the legislators.

Additional invitations have been sent to regents of the university, deans, a few faculty members, and all state officers, including Governor Charles W. Bryan. Chancellor Burnett will preside at the affair, which is to be informal, and at which university topics will be discussed.

Addresses will be made by Frank Taylor, president of the board of regents; Max Kier, speaker of the house of representatives, and Ted Metcalfe, lieutenant-governor.

Meat from a prize steer at the college of agriculture will be served.

DEADLINE FOR PLAQUE DESIGNS IS THURSDAY

Ideas Must Be in Form to Insure Good Bronze Casting.

Thursday, Jan. 15, has been set as the deadline for scholarship plaque designs, according to the committee in charge. The design will be cast in bronze, as the old plaster casts are in bad shape. Because of this the ideas must be such as to give a good bronze casting.

The plaque committee, composed of Guy Craig, Bill Eddy and Richard Devereaux has announced that designs must be submitted to the Interfraternity office or to members of the committee before the deadline date.

Fifteen 11x13 plaques will be cast and will be awarded at the Interfraternity banquet, as usual. A prize of ten dollars will be given for the best design, the winner of which will be announced soon after the close of the contest. The committee states that a number of good designs have been submitted so far and more are expected before the contest closes.

Foster Sees No Reason Why Girls Should Not Take Law; Might Be Wasted Time for Those Who Wed

"The law college is a perfectly sane institution, so I know no reason why girls shouldn't take law," H. H. Foster, dean of the law college said when asked if he favored girls entering the law course. "Naturally, it might be considered a waste of time in that many of the best trained women lawyers never use their law education, but get married."

As an example of girls who have graduated from the law college and been successful in that type of work, Dean Foster told of Zannie Hill, a negro girl who graduated two years ago who is probably the only negro woman to come from a law school in the association of American law schools. Miss Hill is now in Hot Springs, Ark., where she is junior counsel for the Woodman of Union Insurance company, the largest negro fraternal insurance company in existence.

Successful in New York.
Another successful woman graduate from the law college is Emmeline E. Ferris, '27, who is special deputy attorney general of the state of New York and whose duties consist of looking after the property of persons confined in asylums.

Lillian Margolin, '26, is the only woman to have graduated from the law college with a cum laude degree, an honor which is given to the highest percent of the class.

The majority of women lawyers find it difficult to engage in general law practice, because most people prefer men lawyers. However, according to the dean, women lawyers are very successful in cases pertaining to domestic difficulties. If a woman has some secretarial training in addition to her lawyer's certificate, she can be placed more easily. She can usually secure a position in a law office, in government service in Washington, D. C., in some welfare organization, or in title examination or abstract title office.

Boys Don't Object.
Dean Foster said that the boys in the law college do not object to girls entering this particular field of study. If the girls are good mixers, everything proceeds the same as it does when only boys are present, Margaret Gerrits Hall was considered by her classmates "one of the best men" in the college, he declared.

Lack Experience of Men.
"If you're going to ask," said Dean Foster expectantly, "if the girls are as good students as the boys, all I'll say is some are—some aren't. One disadvantage that the majority of girls encounter is that they do not have the business experience of men."

The two girls now registered in the law college are Marie Herney, a senior, and Audrey Gregory, a freshman who was elected Nebraska sweetheart. Miss Herney wishes to practice general law or do some work in international law. Miss Gregory has not definitely decided (Continued on Page 2.)

GUNDERSON SAYS WOULD WELCOME FINANCIAL QUERY

Proposal of Investigation of Records by Solons Meets Approval.

NEBRASKAN SUGGESTS

Secretary Presents Report For Past Two Years; 'No Duplications.'

In response to requests made by The Daily Nebraskan for an informal investigation of the financial records of the University of Nebraska to be made by the state legislature, L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary, Monday stated that such an examination would be welcomed by him at any time.

"I would be pleased to furnish any member or committee of the legislature all information regarding my office which may be desired upon request," declared Gunderson. "The board of regents of the university and the officials of the institution welcome any examination of its many activities and especially the business departments."

Similar information, together with complete and official financial reports of the University of Nebraska for the past two fiscal years were furnished each member of the house of representatives and the state senate, as well as Governor Bryan, by the finance office, Gunderson stated.

Cover Two Years.
The reports cover the two years immediately following the period for which similar reports were submitted to the members of the 1929 legislature, he pointed out, and include detailed statements of income and detailed statements of expenditures by departments and colleges, enrollment statistics, complete operating statements and a certified auditor's statement.

Complete detailed accounts of all expenditures for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1929, and June 30, 1930, in separate reports, for salaries and wages, labor, expense and maintenance, were also given the state lawmakers, Gunderson said.

55 Percent From Taxes.
According to the records, the total income of the university for 1929-30 amounted to $4,566,650, of which 55 percent was received from taxation. Disbursements amounted to $4,026,088.93, leaving slightly more than $400,000 as yet unspent. Of the total expenses, 11 percent went to instruction, 6 percent to agricultural experiment stations and extension, 8.5 percent to commercial activities and 8.5 percent to capital additions.

Appropriations from taxation were made for the following purposes: University fund, $1,781,250; agricultural extension, $90,000; conservation and survey, $37,169.54; medical college and hospital. (Continued on Page 2.)

LeRossignol Writes For Canadian Papers

Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the college of business administration is the author of two articles appearing in current issues of Canadian magazines. "To the Highest Bidder" was published in the December number of the Canadian National Railway magazine and "The Translation of the Habitant" ran in the Jan. 3 issue of the Toronto Star Weekly.

Foster Sees No Reason Why Girls Should Not Take Law; Might Be Wasted Time for Those Who Wed

"The law college is a perfectly sane institution, so I know no reason why girls shouldn't take law," H. H. Foster, dean of the law college said when asked if he favored girls entering the law course. "Naturally, it might be considered a waste of time in that many of the best trained women lawyers never use their law education, but get married."

As an example of girls who have graduated from the law college and been successful in that type of work, Dean Foster told of Zannie Hill, a negro girl who graduated two years ago who is probably the only negro woman to come from a law school in the association of American law schools. Miss Hill is now in Hot Springs, Ark., where she is junior counsel for the Woodman of Union Insurance company, the largest negro fraternal insurance company in existence.

Successful in New York.
Another successful woman graduate from the law college is Emmeline E. Ferris, '27, who is special deputy attorney general of the state of New York and whose duties consist of looking after the property of persons confined in asylums.

Lillian Margolin, '26, is the only woman to have graduated from the law college with a cum laude degree, an honor which is given to the highest percent of the class.

The majority of women lawyers find it difficult to engage in general law practice, because most people prefer men lawyers. However, according to the dean, women lawyers are very successful in cases pertaining to domestic difficulties. If a woman has some secretarial training in addition to her lawyer's certificate, she can be placed more easily. She can usually secure a position in a law office, in government service in Washington, D. C., in some welfare organization, or in title examination or abstract title office.

Boys Don't Object.
Dean Foster said that the boys in the law college do not object to girls entering this particular field of study. If the girls are good mixers, everything proceeds the same as it does when only boys are present, Margaret Gerrits Hall was considered by her classmates "one of the best men" in the college, he declared.

Lack Experience of Men.
"If you're going to ask," said Dean Foster expectantly, "if the girls are as good students as the boys, all I'll say is some are—some aren't. One disadvantage that the majority of girls encounter is that they do not have the business experience of men."

The two girls now registered in the law college are Marie Herney, a senior, and Audrey Gregory, a freshman who was elected Nebraska sweetheart. Miss Herney wishes to practice general law or do some work in international law. Miss Gregory has not definitely decided (Continued on Page 2.)