

Spring Football Practice Scheduled For March 2

BIBLE PLANS SIX WEEKS' SESSION

Bunny Oaks Will Remain in Lincoln Until Drill Is Over; Resigns Position at Nebraska to Take Post With Montana U.

ALL STUDENTS ELIGIBLE FOR PARTICIPATION

Mentor Urges That Freshmen Aspirants Enroll for Training in Fundamentals; Other Sports Are First Among Upper Classmen.

Spring football practice for Nebraska's Cornhuskers will start Monday, March 2, according to an announcement issued Saturday by Coach Dana X. Bible. Practice will continue for six weeks, until April 11.

Practice will be open to all students not participating in other athletic activities. This is especially true of upperclassmen, while freshmen will take part in football in preference to other sports.

Foremost in connection with the announcement is the fact that Line Coach "Bunny" Oaks, who recently resigned to become head coach at Montana will be in charge of the Husker line material during this spring period. He will leave shortly after to be present during the corresponding period in his new position.

"Contrary to popular belief," said Bible, "spring football practice does not interfere with other activities. We do not require those upperclassmen who are taking part in track or baseball, for instance, to leave these sports and come out for football."

Fresh To Be Out.

"With the freshmen it is different, of course. They are not eligible in any other sport, so we usually ask that all who wish to play football the following fall come out in the spring and learn as much of the fundamentals as they can. They can go out for the other sports later."

The main purpose of the spring practice period, according to Bible, is to give coaches an opportunity to experiment with different plays and players. The time had in the fall is not sufficient for such experiments. It also gives the coaches a chance to get acquainted with the freshmen, putting them thru an intensive drill on fundamentals.

Plan Scrimmage.

Scrimmages will be held once a week on Saturday, with the exception of the first week. These demonstrations will be open to the public, and will be "double headers," four teams being selected for each scrimmage.

"Most of the accomplishments during the six week period will depend entirely upon the weather," Bible pointed out. "Last year was considered one of the best training periods in years because there was not a bad day."

Keep Men Busy.

A special effort is made to keep football men as busy as possible during the idle moments, according to Coach Bible. They are encouraged to go out for the other sports so that they may keep in an good condition as possible during the time they are not in active competition.

"We have asked the boys to get out for some athletic activity, particularly track," said Coach Bible. "Coach Schulte has been kind enough to give them some of his time in order that they might become more adept at starting, which we figure will be helpful to all the men. It is possibly the best they can do after the football season."

Other sports deemed important by Bible for football men include handball, boxing and basketball. "Many are taking part in these now," he said, "and will continue to do so until after spring football practice begins."

NEBRASKA MATMEN LOSE TO OKLAHOMA

Sooners Retain Record Held Since 1929; Win 28 to 6.

J. ADAMS WINS MATCH

Nebraska's matmen were thoroughly trounced last night by the Oklahoma grapplers to the sad tune of 28 to 6. Oklahoma presented a well balanced team, with the Scarlet hard put to garner the points they did. Oklahoma has not lost a match since 1929, and there record was never in danger against the Huskers.

Jerry Adams, Nebraska light heavyweight entrant, showed a game exhibition of scrap and persistence when he overcame his opponent with a time advantage of one minute and twenty-one seconds. This match was the stellar attraction for the meagre crowd and the result was in doubt until the timers had completed their scoring.

Reese Stays Eight Minutes.

Reese of Nebraska, after staying with Gunter of Oklahoma for nearly eight minutes came to a sudden end when Gunter suddenly reversed his tactics and threw him with an arm lock and body hold. Reese ran into hard luck when he attempted to extricate himself from a body hold, and fell on his back and was pinned long enough for referee Ottopalik to slap Gunter on the back.

Hardie Lewis, national inter-collegiate champion in the 145 pound class was ruled ineligible, and was unable to compete. White of Oklahoma and Cox of Nebraska mixed freely for the first five minutes of their bout, but Lewis caught White with a bar arm and half-nelson. The bout was fast while it lasted, and White was leading when he was suddenly thrown.

Nebraska wrestles Kansas Aggies February 21 in Lincoln. The K-Aggies beat the Sooners 16 to 12 in their match last week.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO START

Teams Must Sign for Hours in Armory; Doctor's Permits Required.

Basketball practices begin tomorrow in preparation for the tournament which will probably be scheduled the following week. To date only four teams have signed up for regular practice hours.

It is essential that every team entered be credited with two practices before being eligible to enter the tournament. Five o'clock hours are being rapidly taken and intramural representatives who sign early will have an option on the most desirable periods. Doctor's permits must also be obtained this week by all team participants.

Kappa Phi and Huskerette teams have signed for practice at 5:00 o'clock Tuesday. Kappa Delta and Alpha Xi Delta at the same hour on Wednesday and the KBB's at 5:00 o'clock Thursday evening in the women's gymnasium.

Ruth Kier is working on the formation of a new hiking program which she expects to have ready soon. Definite information on rifle and ping pong will appear later.

PLAYERS WILL GIVE COMEDY FOR SOLONS

rants the two additional public performances Tuesday and Wednesday.

Legislators, who have been discussing the merit of woman jury service in last week's sessions may well doubt its value when they see Miss H. Alice Howell, director of the players, as Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, New Jersey social light who has been drafted for service on the jury to try a young wife for the murder of her husband, swing the eleven other jury members from a verdict of "guilty" to a unanimous "not guilty" by every device from flattery and cajolery to petty bribery.

Packed houses have witnessed the play every night since Monday and Friday night many were turned away at the door.

SIGMA XI POSTPONES MEET.

The regular meeting of Sigma Xi has been postponed until February 16. It was announced Saturday.

FARM HOUSE IS VICTOR IN TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Delta Tau Delta Places Second; Phi Kappa Takes Third.

COACHES CONDUCT MEET

Leon and Linus Carroll Cover Low Hurdles in Good Time.

Farm House fraternity won the annual interfraternity indoor track and field meet which came to an end Friday after four days of competition. Delta Tau Delta placed second with Phi Kappa third.

Three events were run off each day. Points were given to the contestants for the time made and the total points of each fraternity were added together in compiling the final score. Each fraternity was allowed to enter as many men as they wished but only the two best men counted in the scoring.

Low Hurdle Time Fast

One of the outstanding records turned in during the meet was the time of 6.4 seconds for the low hurdles made by Leon and Linus Carroll representing Phi Kappa. These two men are varsity prospects for next year.

Sesco Asher, freshman star for Alpha Tau Omega, won the mile race in the good time of 4:30. He led his field by several yards. He is an outstanding athlete and a good prospect for the varsity next year.

Coaches Conduct Meet

Coach Schulte and Jimmy Lewis were in charge of the meet. Besides the workout and experience which the meet gives the competing men, Coach Schulte hopes to find varsity material among the competing athletes.

Several fraternities made high scores, but due to the fact that they did not enter two men in each event, could not be counted for rank.

The standings:
1st. Farm House.....16,097
2nd. Delta Tau Delta.....14,097
3rd. Phi Kappa.....10,838
4th. Tau Kappa Epsilon....10,428
5th. Alpha Gamma Rho.... 8,857
