

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Student Newspaper of the University of Nebraska

VOL. XXX—NO. 98.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, SUNDAY, MARCH 1, 1931.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

DOROTHY SILVIS IS NAMED PROM GIRL FOR 1931

Prom-Goers Select Theta President for Honor Friday Night.

400 COUPLES LOOK ON Coliseum Is Decorated in Modernistic Motif, Black, Silver.

Dorothy Silvis, journalism senior of Wagner, S. D., and member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was presented as Prom girl at the Junior-Senior Prom, closing event of Nebraska's formal season, at the coliseum Friday night. More than 400 couples looked on as she appeared on the dance floor in a midge automobile driven by Bob Kinkaid, chairman of the Prom committee, preceded by another tiny car piloted by Bill McGaffin, decorations chairman. Both cars circled the room several times, finally stopping at the north end of the floor where Miss Silvis was assisted to the platform for presentation.

Decorations were characterized by a modernistic motif carried out in black and silver. The north end of the room was curtained off and panels were hung from the ceiling to enhance the acoustic properties of the huge room and convert it into a ballroom.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Decorate Facades. Facades of the balconies and arches and pillars around the floor were covered with plaques of black with silver figures. At the center of the north end, against the curtain, was a small platform for the presentation of the Prom girl. The curtain was decorated with slender pyramids of silver and a background was formed by a huge silver and plain fan.

Engineers Society Head

Courtesy of Lincoln Journal. ROY V. WRIGHT. Who is national president of American Society of Mechanical Engineers will visit here Tuesday.

PERFORM LAST RITES FOR CADET COLONEL

Clancy Sounds Taps, Rifle Squad Fires Volleys in Recognition.

FLAG DRAPES CASKET

As the soft notes of taps echoed and reverberated through the rolling hills of the Battle Creek, Iowa cemetery, the body of Winston Behn, former regimental cadet colonel, was lowered to its final resting place Friday afternoon in the family burial plot. Prior to the sounding of taps, blown by Clyde Clancy, fraternity brother of Behn's and a member of Pershing Rifles, a parting salute of three volleys was fired by a squad chosen from members of Pershing Rifles.

The military rites at the graveside were preceded by a brief service at the First Presbyterian church of Battle Creek in which Behn was a member. Floral tributes were beautiful and impressive, the casket being banked with roses with the floral representation of the Sigma Nu pin, a tribute from Behn's fraternity brothers, forming the center piece.

Stanley Kiger, Bud Bramman, Burton Bridges, Robert Dobson, Carl Hahn, Everett Mead, Otis Detrick and Raymond Frerichs, all advanced students in military science classes and members of Sigma Nu fraternity, with which Behn had been affiliated since entering the university in 1927, acted as pallbearers. The flag with which the casket had been draped was presented to his parents at the close of the military rites in the cemetery. Twenty members of the university R. O. T. C. unit attended the services in Battle Creek, leaving Lincoln Thursday afternoon under command of Capt. R. G. Lehman of the regular army.

The Ag campus nominations are: president, Christine Carlson, '32, Lincoln; and Sally Seeley, '32, Harvard; secretary, Muriel Moffitt, '34, Lincoln; and Birdie Erskine, '34, Havelock. The candidate not elected president will be vice president of the Ag group. The city Y. W. C. A. treasurer will serve both branches.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

Students registered in the college of agriculture will vote for both the city and the Ag campus slates and the president of the college of agriculture Y. W. C. A. will be a member of the cabinet of the city group.

'FASHION' CAST IS CHOSEN BY MISS H. ALICE HOWELL

Janie Lehnhoff Will Play Feminine Lead; Lerner To Be Villain.

WILL OPEN ON MARCH 9 Presentation Depicts Life In New York in 1845 Among '400.'

By William T. McCleery. With a cast of popular university actors and actresses assigned to the colorful parts in "Fashion," University Players next production, Director Alice Howell reports that the revival comedy is nearly ready for its anniversary presentation on March 9. Janie Lehnhoff, Omaha senior, has been chosen to play the applicant for membership in the 1845 New York society, Miss Lehnhoff, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, has played prominent parts in several Players shows and gained theatrical notoriety for herself in "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Dark, romantic, mysterious, the part of the ultra-fashionable nobleman who lurks villainously in hidden corners, is played by Zolney Lerner. Augusta French will portray the humorous role of Mrs. Tiffany, applicant for membership in New York's exclusive "400."

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Centers About New York. "Fashion" centers around the vigorous attempts of Mrs. Tiffany to plaster herself with tea party gowns in the social maelstrom of New York City. Her husband, played by William Thompson of "Journey's End" fame, is worried to distraction by his socially ambitious wife's drive for recognition. Robert Reade, who scored a dramatic hit as the irate foreman in "Ladies of the Jury," is cast in the part of Adama Trueman, who loses sleep and patience in his worries over the morality of the Tiffany's.

Prom Girl

Courtesy of the Star. DOROTHY SILVIS. Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

Who was declared 1931 Prom girl by a vote of University of Nebraska students attending the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

GRANT 89 TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS FOR SECOND SEMESTER

University Announces Names Of Recipients Among Colleges.

USE ENROLLMENT BASIS Financial Need, 80 Percent Average Are Needed for Eligibility.

Eighty-nine University of Nebraska students have been granted tuition scholarships for the current semester. Sixteen of the students live in Lincoln, three in Omaha, and seventeen out of the state. One resides in Honolulu, T. H., another in Manila, P. I.

These scholarships, which allow the recipients to attend university without payment of tuition, are placed among the several colleges on an enrollment basis. They are granted for one semester only and usually are not continued beyond one year. Juniors and seniors are given first consideration.

Requirements Stated. Holders of tuition scholarships, according to rules of the scholarship committee, must have made twenty-four hours credit at the university during the two previous semesters, have a weighted average of 80 percent, and be carrying at least twelve hours when the award is made. They must further show actual financial need.

The college of arts and sciences with twenty-two, leads in the number receiving scholarships. Nineteen teachers college students, thirteen from the college of business administration, and twelve from the college of engineering have been given free tuition. Other quotas allowed the college of agriculture to award ten scholarships, the school of fine arts eight, the school of journalism three and the college of pharmacy two.

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Holders of the scholarships for (Continued on Page 2.)

Portrays Governess

Courtesy of Lincoln Journal. JANE LEHNHOFF. Who will play Gertrude, the governess, one of the leading parts in "Fashion," which is the next play to be presented by the University Players.

ROY V. WRIGHT WILL VISIT HERE TUESDAY

Engineer Faculty to Honor National President at Luncheon.

TO SPEAK INFORMALLY

Roy V. Wright, national president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will visit the University of Nebraska chapter of the organization Tuesday after spending Monday as a guest of Omaha engineers affiliated with the society.

College of engineering faculty members will honor Mr. Wright at a luncheon at the chamber of commerce at 12:15 o'clock Tuesday. He is expected to speak informally at that time.

The student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will act as host to student groups of other engineering departments at 4:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when Mr. Wright will talk on some general engineering subject in the Mechanical Engineering auditorium.

Several members of the engineering faculty will go to Omaha Monday evening to hear Mr. Wright speak at a banquet planned for him by Omaha engineers.

Mr. Wright is managing editor of the Railway Age and has contributed to many engineering and railroad publications. He was president of the United Engineering Society in 1928 and 1929. He contributed a chapter on transportation in the symposium, "Toward Civilization," edited by Dr. Charles A. Beard and published last spring. He has also served as honorary editor of the magazine, Mechanical Engineering.

FIVE CONTRACT TO TEACH Teachers College Students Secure Positions in State Schools.

Five students in the teachers college signed contracts last week to teach next year in Nebraska schools, according to announcement made by the bureau of educational service.

Miss Catherine Britton and Miss Cecelia Holling will teach at Paliased. Miss Britton will have junior high school classes and Miss Holling will instruct in the third and fourth grades.

Miss Zelma Harris has been employed as a regular primary teacher in Lincoln. Robert Cottrell will go to Hubbell as superintendent. Mildred Snyder will teach intermediate grades at McCook.

Miss Harriett Mosholder, who attended teachers college last year and who is now teaching in McCook, has resigned to accept a position in the commercial arts department of the Council Bluffs school system.

WIMBERLY STORY IS PUBLISHED IN FORUM

"White Man's Town," a short story by Prof. Lowry Wimberly of the English department, appears in the March issue of the Forum magazine.

Dates of Prom Girl Nominees Are Victims of Chicago Tactics When Kidnappers 'Take Them for Ride'

The less fortunate Roberts were taken out to a lonesome spot under the walls of the penitentiary where the meeting of all the plotters was scheduled to take place, but the general gang atmosphere of the kidnappers frightened the guards who decided that they were organizing a prison break and ordered them away.

UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE TO BE ENDED TODAY

Fifty Representatives From Four States Bring Meet to Close.

K. BORDERS WILL TALK 'Depression Will Be Cured By Public Ownership,' Says Haggood.

The week end unemployment conference meeting held here under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and attended by fifty representatives from colleges and universities in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri will close this morning with an open forum led by Karl Borders, secretary of the Chicago office of the League for Industrial Democracy, at 9 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. The conference opened Friday and sessions were held yesterday morning and afternoon.

Mr. Borders, who is connected with the Chicago Commons, spoke at the opening meeting of the conference in Ellen Smith hall Friday evening on the extent and effects of unemployment. He described the effects of unemployment as he sees them among the destitute classes of Chicago in the pauper sections and "flop" houses. A social hour from 9 until 10:30 o'clock followed Mr. Borders talk. Evelyn Adler, arts and science senior was in charge of Friday night's session.

Haggood Speaks. Powers Haggood, of the Columbia Conserve Company, spoke on "Unemployment, Causes and Remedies" at the general session of the conference Saturday morning. The local aspect of the unemployment situation was discussed by John H. Agee, president of the Lincoln chamber of commerce. Woodrow Magee, arts and science freshman of Havelock, presided at the morning meeting.

"There is a direct connection between arrests for petty crimes and the business cycle," Mr. Haggood declared. "When business is on the upper trend, there are fewer arrests than when unemployment and depression are on the increase."

According to Mr. Haggood, the cause of industrial depression is the lack of purchasing power to buy the necessities which are produced. He declared that overproduction has not caused this critical situation but that, while production is no greater than the public need, purchasing power has been so cut down as to make the appearance of over production.

Cites Conserve Company. Mr. Haggood described the operation of the Columbia Conserve Company and the relation of employers to employees. The workers are paid according to their needs, rather than according to their efficiency. In order to secure trained workers without paying for their efficiency, the workers already employed are trained.

CONVOICATIONS ANNOUNCED Fine Arts Band and Other Programs Planned for March.

Three special University of Nebraska convocations within the next two weeks are announced for the school of fine arts. In the Temple theater at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning Fine Arts band, under the direction of W. T. Quick will play a concert featuring William Tell overture by Rossini and selections from Victor Herbert operettas.

Tuesday, March 10, at the same hour Homer Compton, tenor, will give a recital. He will be accompanied by Edith Buringim Ross. The following Thursday at 11 o'clock Prof. Paul H. Grummann, director of the school of fine arts, will tell the stories of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," which are to be presented in the university coliseum March 17 by the Chicago Civic Opera company.

FRANKFORTER TALKS TO STATE OFFICERS

Lieutenant Colonel C. J. Frankforter attended the annual convention of the state reserve officers in Omaha Friday and spoke before the meeting on "Use of Reserve Officers as Instructors at Citizens' Military Training Camps." In the afternoon he reported on his training of the 35th infantry of the 89th division during the camp period last summer.

SON OF MORRILL IS HERE A WEEK INSPECTING WORK

Arthur Morrill, son of the late C. H. Morrill who gave Morrill Hall to the University of Nebraska, was in Lincoln last week inspecting the new background painted by Miss Elizabeth Dolan in the Morrill museum galleries for the two short legged rhinoceros specimens in the Morrill collection.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Sunday. Industrial conference in Ellen Smith hall. Tuesday, March 3. Sigma Eta Chi, Ellen Smith hall, 7 o'clock. Interfraternity council, room 9 Morrill hall, 7:30 o'clock.