

A. G. R. ATHLETES LEADING IN BEST TROPHY TUSSLE

Are 75 Points Ahead of Second Place Farm House Group.

FOUR SPORTS ARE LEFT

Volley Ball, Horseshoes, Golf and Playground Ball Yet to Play.

Intercollegiate Sports Standings. Point totals including bowling: Alpha Gamma Rho 353, Farm House 458, Tau Kappa Epsilon 458, Delta Tau Delta 452, Beta Theta Pi 440, Sigma Phi Epsilon 407, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 407, Phi Kappa Phi 383, Pi Kappa Alpha 375, Kappa Sigma 375.

The Jack Best trophy, given each year in recognition of the fraternity that garners the highest aggregate in intramural sport competition, will probably land next May in the hands of one of the ten social organizations above.

With four scheduled sports yet to be run off: volley ball, horseshoes, golf and playground ball, the Alpha Gamma Rho athletes are way out in front in the scoring column leading all comers by 75 points. Farm House and Tau Kappa Epsilon stand tied for second and third positions with 458 points each while Delta Tau Delta is pushing up close behind with 452 markers.

Score in Every Sport.

The A. G. R. representatives have scored points in every sport offered so far, collecting grand slam firsts in soccer and class A basketball to strengthen their totals. The Farm House lads have also emerged from the social competition in each case with some points but did their best work in foreclosing on the uppermost positions in indoor track.

Sportsmen of Tau Kappa Epsilon have managed to lure seconds in tennis and water polo into their grasp and have had points marked down to their credit in each of the games offered. The Deltas completed class B basketball at the top of the list and held down second position in indoor track to account for their spot among the leaders.

Betas Win Water Polo.

The Beta boys proved themselves the best of the entrants in water polo and have scored in every other bit of play offered with the exception of indoor track.

Following is a list showing how fraternities have placed in scheduled play so far:

Soccer, Alpha Gamma Rho first, Phi Kappa Alpha second, Sigma Phi Epsilon third, and Delta Sigma Phi fourth. Tennis, Kappa Sigma first, and Tau Kappa Epsilon second. Water Polo, Beta Theta Pi first, Tau Kappa Epsilon second, Phi Kappa Alpha third, and Delta Phi fourth.

Basketball free-throw, Kappa Sigma first, Phi Sigma Kappa second and Alpha Sigma Phi third. Indoor track, Farm House first and Delta Tau Delta second.

Class A basketball, Alpha Gamma Rho first, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon second. Class B basketball, Delta Tau Delta first, and Sigma Phi Epsilon second.

Bowling, Alpha Theta Chi first, and Lambda Chi Alpha second. Volley ball, horse shoes, golf and playground ball yet to be played.

FAIR BOARD BEGINS PICKING COMMITTEES

Organization Will Divide All Students Into 80 Committees.

The huge problem of picking the various committees for Farmers Fair has begun. There are some six hundred students enrolled in the college of agriculture and every one of them will find the thirteenth annual fair. This fair board commenced that gruesome task of picking committees and committee chairman last Wednesday evening.

Approximately eighty committees will be picked to prepare for the thirteenth annual fair. This self-supporting activity, which entails an expenditure of $3,000 and which drew some 10,000 people last year, is scheduled for May 2.

Many interesting features of the fair require the students to exercise their ingenuity in preparing for such events as the parade with twenty floats, the pageant, the horse show, livestock parade, concessions, sidestows, and other entertaining presentations.

Coll-Agri-Fun, ag college's annual mid-winter frolic, was held over for the fair. This will be a new attraction for the fair patrons.

WEEK'S RUN OF FASHION OPENS MONDAY EVENING

bination of dramatic expression and dog like whiskers. Whiskered Villain.

Leland Bennett as the villain of the piece came near rolling the audience into the aisles along with the peanuts and debris with his demonic laughter, satanic stalk, and nineteenth century villain moustache. So thoroughly wicked was this crook that the audience missed no opportunities to hiss him, as the yard of program suggested. His drunken scene in the last act is the only naturalistic bit of acting in the performance.

Another noteworthy bit of over-acting was Pauline Gellatly's presentation of the coquettish daughter out for a titled husband. Miss Gellatly, with her rolling eyes and little fluttering steps added a sprightly touch to the play.

All possible atmospheric touches that might suggest 1845 embellished the play. There were tears and guided chairs and desperate sighs and hoop skirts. A special curtain depicting a soul stirring situation which was "The Fruit of Intemperance," added two-thirds of a century to the ancient theater. Even the yards of program, the bags of popcorn and peanuts sold between acts, and the ushers in old fashioned costumes, were in keeping with the time of the play.

CUNNINGHAM SPEAKS.

Prof. Harry Cunningham of the department of architecture spoke to the teachers college high school Wednesday morning on "The Development of Architecture." His talk was illustrated by slides.

Tri-Color Meets

Began to Develop Husker Tracksters

"As a convenient means of gradually developing the athlete, Tri-color competition was established in the University of Nebraska's track program." Such was Coach Schulte's reason for instituting the three team not-quite-varsity grade of track meets into his system of training that produces such tracksters as those that brought home the Big Six indoor championship for the second consecutive year last Saturday.

Certain standards based on the records of the previous year determine the requirements the aspiring trackmen must meet to be allowed to compete. Six Tri-color battles were scheduled for this spring and two of those have already been run off. Dates for the remaining ones have been indicated as March 17, April 1, April 7 and April 29.

Three squads known as the Reds, Greens and Oranges vie for the honor of their color. In the first two Tri-color contests the Greens emerged victorious with scores of 101 points and 107 points. The Reds collected 99 markers in the first three-way battle of spikes, to leave the Orange crew trailing in third place. In the last track party the tables were reversed with the Oranges marking up 101 points to the 75 of the Redmen.

RIFLERS WIN MATCH FROM SOUTH DAKOTA

Score 1,781 to 1,734 for Opponents; Turner Is High Man.

A shoulder-to-shoulder rifle match with the University of South Dakota was held on the Cornhusker range in Andrews hall Saturday morning. This first home match with the opposing team present was a Husker victory with a score of 1,781 to 1,734. Keith Turner, Lincoln, was high man for Nebraska with a score of 363 out of 400.

Nebraska shot against South Dakota in 1930 at Vermillion. South Dakota battled snow on the trip to the Cornhusker territory only to again be defeated. Members of the Nebraska team and their scores were Howard Mixson, Omaha, 359; Tom Huddleston, Lincoln, 357; Joe DeKlotz, Lincoln, 355; Bob Jewett, Lincoln, 347, and Turner. Two other teams composed of Nebraska shooters competed but were ineligible scholastically for the varsity team. One of these teams defeated South Dakota by a two point margin and the other team had a score several points less.

The South Dakota squad was composed of Captain Moke, 349; Hedlund, 362; C. Johnson, 343; Jensen, 333; and Webber, 347. Their alternate member, L. Johnson, did not fire in the team match but over the same course of fire, prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing, fired 372 for highest individual honors.
