

HUSKER BASEBALL TEAM DROPS TWO TO SOONER NINE

Brownemen Lose Nightcap By One Tally in Five Extra Innings.

OPENER TAKEN 3 TO 0

Scarlet at Bottom of Loop With Quartet Losses in Succession.

Twenty-three innings of grueling baseball against Oklahoma left the Cornhuskers still winless at 6:15 on Landis field yesterday evening. The Sooners carried away both contests but had a tough struggle capturing number two of the double header. This last tussle went to 14 innings.

The Huskers, with Wondra hurling to Snygg, dropped the first encounter 3 to 0 and were forced to be content with a 2 to 1 loss in the closing battle.

Hank Armatis adorned the mound all 14 innings of the second game and his deliveries to "Boo" Williams kept the Southerners beating air or whiffing bunts most of the time. Mills beat out a roller in the fourteenth and scored on a slashed double from the bat of May to win for the Oklahomans.

Second is Mound Battle. It was a great pitching battle. Paul Young's offerings bewildered the Huskers completely and they tapped him for only four hits. Watson, Sooner catcher, did duty for the whole 23 cantos.

Armatis struck out nine men, allowed only one base on balls and was credited with 11 assists in outs made at first base.

Brown's men had several chances to salt the last contest away but inability to meet the horsehide at crucial moments returned a verdict of "no gain."

In the opening bout the Sooners analyzed Wondra's pitches during the first three innings for a score a period. From then on it was one, two, three with both nines playing tight ball and no one crossing the home platter. Two unearned runs on errors by Snygg and Costen caused the early upset.

Brown Uses Pinch Hitters. Coach Browne resorted to pinch hitting tactics in the late minutes of both jousts but could not get his men to connecting.

This leaves Nebraska with four losses in as many starts in the conference while Oklahoma has that number of games chalked up in her win column.

THE SCARLET and Cream

There are two flesh and blood bearers of the Scarlet and Cream at Nebraska. There may be more, but there are at least two.

One is Don Carr, junior from Lincoln and a sports writer for the Nebraskan and the other is Paul Aten, freshman track and basketball man from Holdrege.

Both of these chaps boast thatched tops the color of rich cream. Each has a yen for golf and the out of doors and the sunshine has tinted their face nothing else but scarlet.

Thus the Scarlet and the Cream, alive.

ONCE THERE was a gridironist who thought a "paradox" were two medical men.

IF OKLAHOMA is the best baseball school in the Big Six this year, then the Cornhuskers aren't so bad. Two to one in fourteen innings indicates good baseball no matter who wins.

Hank Armatis should have worn himself out yesterday scooping the weak bunts of the southerners and assisting with outs at first. When this Mutt Davison goes into action either at third or short there is a flash of that old fire that won the pennant for the Huskers two years ago. And this "Boo" Williams can hit and he can catch which makes him a first rate ball player.

It looks as if the rain had been gossiped about enough to scare it away.

IN YESTERDAY'S game most of both teams carried on thru the twenty-three innings. Twenty-three are a lot of innings of ball to play in one day. It took from 1:30 until 6:15. The Sooner catcher served as a back stop for both Oklahoma pitchers. He probably had to take his left hand home in a suit case.

THE ULLATORS are on our trail.

In this case the Ullators are howling wolves.

Yesterday Shucks informed the world with emphatic exclamations that Jim Smith hurled the "javelin" 141 feet and that 141 feet was a "Hades" of a ways to propel the "spear." Now to straighten out the "situation."

The column tendered the copy reader read: "Jim Smith, freshman trackster, twirled the javelin 141 feet. Now 141 feet is a 'Hades' of a ways to hurl the platter."

Said copy reader decided to allow Smith to hurl the javelin instead of the discus 141 feet and "threw the spear" instead of the platter a "Hades of a ways." Between Shucks and said-said copy reader we come in for plenty of first class punning. It's funny how a man can think of a round flat thing and write "javelin."

That, Mr. John Bentley, is our story. It would be nice under the circumstances to be topped by such a safe and sane caption as "I May be Wrong." As it is we can only shrug our shoulders, say, "SHUCKS," and leave for South America.

Anyhow Jim Smith is a freshman and he did throw the discus 141 feet and the varsity record is 141 feet.

IOWA MEN TRAIN TO ERADICATE BARBERRY

Black Stem Rust Effects Great Loss of Wheat Every Year.

AMES, Ia.—Thirty-five men are attending a training school at Iowa State college to fit them to do barberry eradication work in five Iowa counties this summer, according to D. R. Shepherd, agent in charge of the work in Iowa for the United States department of agriculture.

At the close of the series of meetings the men who will compose the squads which will do the survey and eradication work this summer will be chosen following a competitive examination.

Survey for the rust spreading barberry bushes has already started in Woodbury county and will also be done in Carroll, Webster, Greene and Plymouth counties. Black stem rust lives for a short time in the spring on the common barberry bush. Removal of these bushes checks the prevalence of stem rust.

Since the work was started in Iowa approximately 1,075,000 bushes have been removed according to the Mr. Shepherd, and in thirteen grain producing states more than eighteen million bushes have been destroyed. During the period of 1916 to 1920 the average annual loss of wheat alone from black stem rust was fifty-seven million bushels. The average annual loss during 1926 to 1930, after twelve years of eradication work, was only 9,699,000 bushels. In addition to the elimination of many common barberry bushes, the sowing of rust resistant and early maturing varieties have aided in cutting down losses from black stem rust.
