STUDENT CONTROL

A PROGRESSIVE step is being taken this evening when the election of student members to a committee on student recreation will be announced at the first party of the summer season which is to be held at Grant Memorial hall tonight. It will be the first time that student control of extra-curricular activities during the summer will be recognized and promoted by the university.

Last summer under the able direction of Professor Lantz a movement was made by the faculty to interest summer students in organized social activities. The parties and picnics planned by this group met the hearty approval of the student body.

Having voiced a desire for such entertainments, the student body is now being given control of these social events by the formation of a committee to be composed of such students as will be selected at the party this evening. Although Professor Lantz will act as a faculty advisor, these students will have authority over the planning and conducting of all student recreation during the summer.

The university has made every effort to present a summer social program to meet the approval of the students. Grant Memorial hall is the most suitable building on the city campus for evening parties. Good music is being provided and a nominal fee of ten cents is the only charge for admission.

As the party is to be a real mixer and "Get Acquainted" affair, any "date" problems have been eliminated. Ten cents will place you inside the door. Need we go into further details?

WHAT'S YOUR TROUBLE?

Each season the university makes some change in the registration or class routine, selection of courses, or other activity to meet suggestions made by faculty members and students during the preceding year.

Registration has been completed, classes have started, and some of the students have even discovered the library. The first week of summer school is over.

Our "Student Opinion" column is open to any suggestions or questions which you may have to offer. All articles must be signed, although names will not be published if so desired.
