EDUCATIONAL FILMS WILL BE PRESENTED AT TEMPLE JUNE 22

Talking Motion Pictures to Depict Studies in Eight
Hour Program.

Philosophy and Vocational
Guidance Discussed; No
Admission Fee.

An entire day's program of educational talking motion pictures will be shown on Monday, June 22, at the Temple theater, according to word received at the office of the director of the summer session from Electrical Research Products, Inc., of New York City, who will provide the showing under the direction of the university.

The program, which is continuous from 8 until 5 o'clock (with exception of noon hour), consists of one and two reel features of both an educational and entertaining nature.

No charge is being made and instructors and students are invited to attend at any of the hours. In case of a conflict with classes, arrangements may be made with the instructor to be excused to witness the films, according to R. D. Moritz, director of the summer session.

"These programs will be of exceptional value to teachers, students, parents, and the public generally," stated Mr. Moritz. "The subject matter is authentic and has been prepared under the direction of leading educators of the country. Here one may see types of classroom technique demonstrated, difficulties of pupils diagnosed and studies made of infant behavior. Educational philosophy and vocational guidance will be discussed by the ablest scholars in these fields."

Leading Educators Appear.

Among the leading educators who appear in these educational talking pictures are Dr. W. H. Kilpatrick, Dr. David Eugene Smith, Dr. Arthur I. Gates, Mrs. Ina Craig Sartorius and Dr. Harry D. Kitson, all of Columbia university; Dr. B. H. Bode, Ohio State; Dr. Guy Thomas Buswell, University of Chicago; Dr. Arnold Gesell, Yale; Dr. Charlotte Buhler, Psychology.

STUDENT INSTALLS MACHINE TO TEST ONE'S ABILITIES

During this week summer school students will have the opportunity to see what vocation they are fitted for by the means of the psychodex. This machine is on display in the Teachers college laboratory, and the test will be given by Miss Fern C. Smith. Miss Smith is using the information collected from these tests as the major research problem for her doctor's degree. A charge of $1.00 is made for the test.

The psychodex is a comparatively new invention, and is said by critics to be a time saver in the work of vocational analysis. It has been used for the last few years by the telephone company. Miss Smith would like to have at least 100 people sign up to take the initial tests. Persons who are interested are requested to sign for the tests either at Long's book store or at the Teachers college laboratory.

Grads Flock Back to College; New Record

With an unofficial total of 670 registered during the first week, an increase of more than 40 percent in enrollment over that of last year may be made in the graduate college. Last summer the final total was only 643 while this year the first week shows an increase over that amount of 227. It is expected that late registrations will bring the total past the 700 mark.

THOMAS LECTURES ON TEACHING OF ENGLISH

Students May Study Special
English Problems Under Harvard Professor.

Pointing out the relationship of language to thinking, Prof. Charles Swain Thomas of Harvard university gave the first of a series of special lectures on the teaching of English in the high school yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Andrews hall on the subject, "Material on Language and Thinking." The lectures, which will continue until June 26, are being given under the catalogue number of Education 121 (English).

Prof. Thomas.

During the past year, Professor Thomas, in addition to offering his regular courses in the graduate school of education at Harvard university, has directed the work of the Commission on English appointed by the College Entrance Examination board. This commission has made a thorough study of the art of examining in English and has prepared a voluminous report which probably will be published during the current year.

He has also served on the editorial staff of the Atlantic Monthly Press for four years and for nearly twenty years has been editor of the English Leaflet, the

STUDENTS REGISTER FOR SPECIAL WORK

Early Reports Indicate an Increase in Four Week
Courses.

Early reports in the registration for courses in vitalized agriculture, rural school work and parent teachers association studies which was held yesterday indicate a slight increase over that of last year.

The course in parent teachers association work is being conducted by E. L. Novotny of Beatrice, nationally known authority on parent teacher activities. Rural school administration and supervision is taught by G. W. Rosenlof, director of secondary education and teacher training, state department of education. It is arranged principally for county superintendents.

The course in vitalized agriculture, which is conducted by Bert Cooper, director of extension, Northwest Missouri Teachers college, Maryville, Mo., is adapted to the needs of rural teachers and county superintendents.

DEAN HICKS WRITES BOOK ON POLITICS

John D. Hicks, dean of the college of arts and sciences and professor of American history at the university, is the author of "The Populist Revolt," to be published next fall. The book is a history of the Farmer's alliance and the people's party.

"Farm relief is a hardy perennial in American politics," Dean Hicks says in his book, "The Populist Revolt." In it he synthesizes for the first time the monographic material that has been accumulating for more than a decade and gives an account of the interplay of forces between south and west.

Beginning with a survey of economic conditions in these areas after the Civil war, he traces growth of third party activity from the deflation of the great boom in the late eighties thru the depression and attendant political agitation that lasted until the end of the 1896 campaign when the return of prosperity at the close of the century brought about collapse of the people's party. Dean Hicks is also author of "The Constitutions of Northwest States."

SECOND PARTY WILL BE AT COLISEUM ON NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

Student Executive Group
Begins to Function
Immediately.

Novel Surprises Included
In Arrangements for
This Week's Fete.

The place for Friday's party has been changed to the university coliseum due to the book exhibit which is being held in Grant Memorial hall. The coliseum ventilating system insures a comfortable temperature for the evening of dancing.

Another all-student party, the second of the summer session, is scheduled for next Friday evening. The announcement was released Saturday afternoon by members of the newly elected Student Executive committee who decided that attendance at the first affair merited immediate arrangements for more entertainment.

In order to give adequate publicity to the affair, posters will be placed in the Library, University and Andrews halls, Teachers college, Social Sciences, Mechanic Arts and the Temple. These posters will be kept up to date as to when the next parties and other affairs are to be held. In the future arrangements will be made far enough ahead of time so that the Summer Nebraskan will be able to publish the date and plans a week in advance.

New Entertainment Features.

New features of entertainment are to be introduced at each party, giving students something novel to look forward to at each event, members of the committee have announced. Anything in the way of suggestions will be appreciated as they wish to arrange the summer's social affairs in accordance with wishes of summer session students as a whole. Professor Lantz may be notified concerning any such suggestions or recommendations and he in turn will submit them to the Student Executive committee.

As plans stand at present there will be a party or a picnic for summer school students each week. Later in the summer, if satisfactory arrangements can be made, contests in various summer sports will be run off.

The main purpose of the sum-

Art Collection Is On Display to All In Morrill Museum

"A distinguished collection of paintings and prints by American artists is on display in galleries A and B of Morrill hall until July 10," says Prof. Paul Grumann. "It is seldom that such an excellent exhibition is open during the summer months and I advise all summer session students to see it while they have the opportunity."

Some of the prominent artists represented are: Charles Hawthorne, Jonas Lie, Daniel Garber, James Chapin, Gifford Beal, George Luks, and Emil Carlsen.

The pictures, which are circulated by the American Federation of Arts, are from the National Academy of Design in New York, and from the Phillips Memorial galleries of Washington.

Poultry Field Day Is Well Attended

With an egg show and egg market contest as features, nearly 200 Nebraska poultry producers attended the annual poultry field day at the agricultural college, last Wednesday. The program concluded late in the afternoon with a tour of the poultry plant on the campus.

Official Bulletin

Open Textbook Exhibit: Grant Memorial hall; until June 27.
Friday, June 19, Second party, Grant Memorial hall.

ROUND-TABLE GROUPS MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Visiting Professors Lead
Informal Discussions; No
Charge Made.

Daily round table discussions on special problems in the teaching of English and Latin begin today under the supervision of Charles Swain Thomas and Dr. W. L. Carr, visiting professors who are delivering a series of special lectures on the two subjects from Monday, June 15, to Friday, June 26. Students are invited to attend these discussions which are being held in Teachers college 212 each afternoon. There is no fee for attendance at these group meetings.

Those interested in the field of high school English may have an opportunity to present special problems at the round table discussion held each afternoon at 2 o'clock in Teachers college 212 under the leadership of Charles Swain Thomas of Harvard university. Dr. W. L. Carr will lead the group discussion for those interested in high school Latin in the same room at 3 o'clock each afternoon.

Many Audit Lectures.

Many students are taking advantage of the opportunity of auditing the series of lectures which are being given by Mr. Thomas and Dr. Carr. Those who are registered for summer work may audit each course by the payment of one dollar fee. Others wishing to attend the lectures must pay the

EXTENSION GIVES TEACHING AIDS IN RECENT BULLETINS

Comprehensive articles on teaching problems with suggested solutions have been published in a series of bulletins which have been printed during the last three months by the University Extension Division of which Mr. A. A. Reed is director. These include an April issue of the Educational Research Record, and Educational Monologues One and Two, published in May and June respectively in co-operation with Teachers college which has furnished the material.

The April Educational Research Record includes the following articles:

"Teachers College, The University of Nebraska," by Dean W. E. Sealock; "A Six-Year Study of Current Expense Costs in Nebraska Schools Having From Eleven to Thirty Teachers," by Supt. S. S. Hetrick, of Elm Creek public schools; "Plans For Securing An Enriched Curriculum for the Small High Schools of Nebraska By More Complete Alternation of Subjects," by Supt. Millard D. Bell of Ord City Schools; "High School Latin As Viewed By Its Students," by Miss Blanche Knight, Norfolk high school; "An Inquiry Concerning The Nature of The Binet Ingenuity Test," by Miss Grace E. M. McMahon.

Educational Monologue Number One deals with "School Administration and the Training of Superintendents for Small City School Systems." It was compiled by Prof. F. E. Henzlik of the department of school administration in University of Nebraska's Teachers college.

The June publication, "Educational Monologue Number Two" concerns the "Practical Procedures For Enriching The Curricula of Small Schools." It is the work of Prof. Knute O. Broady, of the Teachers college department of school administration; Earl T. Platt, principal of Havelock public schools, and Millard D. Bell, superintendent of Ord public schools.

STUDENT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NAMED AT INITIAL PARTY

Over 300 Attend Opening
Summer Session Social
Event in Armory.

Colson, Jones, Dunn; Misses
Upton, Zutter, Huston
Selected.

Entering promptly into the week end spirit of the summer session recreational program, over three hundred students turned out for the first all-university party held last Friday evening in Grant Memorial hall. As a high point of the evening's entertainment selection of six members to the Student Executive committee, which will have charge of recreation for the balance of summer school, was announced.

The student supervisors who will arrange fun programs for the next eight weeks under the guidance of Prof. E. W. Lantz, faculty member who was in charge a year ago, include W. R. Colson, Alliance; Verne Jones, Phoenix, Ariz.; George Dunn, Omaha; Misses Sara Upton, Union; Gladys Zutter, Lincoln, and Margaret Huston, Osceola.

Representative Students Chosen.

Mr. Colson is principal of the high school at Alliance and assisted in recreational work here last summer. Verne Jones is in charge of recreation at the city schools in Phoenix, Ariz., and is doing graduate work, while George Dunn, senior in the school of journalism next winter, will have charge of publicity for the committee. He has been active in campus publications and is associate editor of "Footlights," national magazine of the Wesley Players club.

Miss Gladys Zutter has attended the University of Nebraska two regular years and one summer session. She is active in Y. W. C. A. work and the Methodist Student council. Next year she will act as assistant to Miss Garrison in elementary education work.

Miss Margaret Huston, another committee member, taught at the Aurora schools last year. She was present at the summer session a year ago and plans to attend school next fall.

Miss Sara Upton, of Union, the third woman member of the committee, is a graduate student.

"Tiny Tim" Entertains.

Students who attended Friday's party were general in their appreciation of the affair and those who have been interviewed plan to attend again this week. "Tiny Tim" radio entertainer at station WJAG sang two solos and led the group in singing of university songs. Arrangements are to be made by the Student Executive committee to have entertainment of varying types at each party.

Among other things a number of circle dances, mixers, ladies' choice and other get acquainted dances were given during the evening.

Assistants to the general committee at the party last Friday evening included Harry J. Becker, jr., and Ruth Jackson, both of Lincoln, who had charge of the door.

Prof. E. W. Lantz declared that he was highly pleased with the student attendance at the party, especially since it was announced at such a late date.

Illness Forces Knight To Cancel Lectures

Due to illness, Prof. Frederick B. Knight of the University of Iowa has been forced to cancel the lectures on special educational psychology which were to have been given here yesterday and today. Word that the professor, who is an outstanding leader in the field of psychology of learning and personnel work, would be unable to make the trip to Lincoln was received by Dr. D. A. Worcester, professor of educational psychology.
