

MANY HUSKER ENTRIES FOR NATIONAL A. A. U. MEET TO BE HELD HERE

Roland Locke, Hugh Rhea, Clint Hurd Among Those On List.

Nebraska Stars Have Begun Training Schedules at Stadium.

A track and field classic surpassed only by the World Olympics will be featured at the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium Friday and Saturday, July 3 and 4, when athletic stars of the United States assemble for the national A. A. U. track and field championships.

The meet, which will include contests for senior and junior honors, will attract nearly every star athlete of the country. The entry lists of the various teams and organizations show Olympic champions, American and world record holders as well as a majority of the new crop of athletes which won honors in university circles this spring.

Past. Present Stars Here.

Summer students will be interested to learn that a number of University of Nebraska stars, past and present, plan to compete in the junior and senior meets. Many of these athletes are now training at Memorial stadium while others are working at home in the effort to get in shape for the meet.

Hugh Rhea, Big Six conference shot-putter, will head the Cornhusker delegation, the Arlington husky competing only in the senior events since he won the junior shot put title in the national meet at Pittsburgh last summer. Clint Hurd, former Husker football and track athlete, is another Nebraskan in senior competition. Hurd won the junior medal with the fifty-six pound weight in 1927 and will bid for senior honors this year.

Members of the 1931 varsity squad expected to enroll in the junior competition include Don Gray, Cobe Tomson, Jerry Lee, Orlin Dean, Willis Lamson, Linus and Leon Carroll; Elmer Paytiner, Slayton Pierce, Howard Jackson and Bob Ostergaard.

Freshmen To Enter.

Members of the 1931 freshman squad expected to cut somewhat of a figure in the events include James Smith, Trenton youngster who got the discus out 154 feet last week; SESCO Asher, Jim Storey, L. Ayres and R. Glazer, distance runners.

Husker stars of former years are also getting in trim for the competition. Norman Fuhlrott expected to enter the 440-yard dash, Bill Fleming is preparing for the 440 yard hurdles; and Carroll Griffin has entered the six mile run. Roger Bevard has been working with the javelin and Roland Locke, world record holder for the 220 yard distance, is seeing what he can do about getting in trim for the furlong sprint.

Several events, unusual to midwestern meets and probably new to many fans who will be at Memorial stadium next month, are included on the A. A. U. program for the cinder carnival.

Novel Steeplechase Planned.

The steeplechase race, always an interesting event, will be included on the Friday afternoon and Saturday night programs. This is run over the two mile distance and includes five jumps to the quarter mile. The course, which will be laid out within the stadium and in full sight of the crowd. It includes a water jump at the south end of the field. The jump is 12 feet and contains water two feet in depth. A hurdle three feet high is at the front of the pit and contestants must clear the hurdle and jumper over or splash through the twelve feet of water eight times during the race.

The heel and toe boys have a three-mile walk on the card for Friday afternoon and Saturday evening. A novelty weight event is the fifty-six-pound weight contest in which competitors toss the ball over the bar for height.

Two events on the championship card which stand out as certain to produce remarkable records are the 100-yard dash and mile run.

Century Stars Coming

The century sprint field will include Frank Wykoff, the Southern California boy who is touted as the "fastest human." Eddie Tolan, N. C. A. 9. champion and world record holder; Cy Leland and Frank Bracey, former southern aces now running with Pacific coast athletics clubs; Karl Wildermuth, indoor champion and world record holder; C. Toppino, southern conference champion.

"The mile of a century" will include Ray Conger, former national champion and Olympic runner; Leo Lermond, member of the 1928 United States Olympic team who ran a mile in 4:13 recently; Ray Putnam, N. C. A. A. champion; Ralph Hill, intercollegiate champion with a mark of 4:12.4; Glenn Dawson, Big Six conference champion; Carl Coan, sensational eastern collegiate runner; Bill O'Connor, I. C. 4-A champion.

Harold Osborne To Jump

Other famous stars to compete include Harold Osborne, who holds the world high jump record at 6 feet 8 1/4 inches; Vic Williams and Ben Eastman, crack collegiate quarter milers; Eric Krenz, world record holder in the discus; Herman Brix, national record holder in the shot; Paul Jessup, who is asking recognition for a world discus mark; Anton Burg, national champion high jumper on the indoor boards; George Spitz, sensational eastern high jumper; Dale Letts, N. C. A. 9. half mile record holder; Ed Gordon, N. C. A. A. and Olympic broad jumper; Dick Barber, I. C. 4-A champion broad jumper; Harry Hinkel, American record holder in the three mile plechase champion; Bob Maxwell, Olympic hurdler; Lee Sentman, walk; Joe McClusky, national flashy Illinois university hurdler; R. Revans, crack Britisher in the hop, step and jump; Levi Casey, who scored for American in the Olympics in the hop, step and

Coach Schulte Gives Views On Track Meet

Coach "Indian" Schulte, who has coached and developed University of Nebraska track teams for a number of years, expresses the following views concerning the National A. A. U. meet which will be held on the Memorial stadium cinders, July 3 and 4.

"The reason most people don't appreciate a track meet to the fullest extent," declared Schulte, "is that there is too much to see. They can go to a football game and see a perfectly focused spectacle, but at a track meet you have to try and watch something on the order of a five ring circus. Nevertheless it is full of thrills and is something which no one should miss."

jump; O. Wright, national champion hammer thrower; Jimmy Demars, national champion and record holder in the javelin; Kenneth Churchill, N. C. A. A. and I. C. 4-A champion javelin thrower. (Demars and Churchill each better 220 feet with the javelin.)

The pole vault is expected to produce a new record with a half dozen or more entries who have done or are capable of doing better than fourteen feet.

The entry for this event includes Lee Barnes, world record holder; Fred Sturdy, national champion; Bill Graber, Southern California youth who did 14 feet 1-2 inch at the I. C. 4-A meet; Tom Warnke and Hugh McDermott, joint holders of the N. C. A. A. title; Fred Droegmueller, Olympic vaulter.
