TASSELS BEGIN SEASON TICKET SALE TOMORROW

Pepsters Launch Campaign On University Players Admissions.

VISIT GREEK HOUSES

Student Rates Are $2; Six Dramatic Productions Are Scheduled.

Campus fraternity houses will be invaded by groups of tomorrow evening members of the girls' pep organization open their selling campaign on University Players season tickets. Juliene Deetken, Omaha, president of Tassels, has selected four teams to manage ticket activities which will extend thru Tuesday and Wednesday.

Point for Mizou.
With proceeds which they hope to net from the drive the Tassels will go to Missouri for the annual Husker-Tiger grid battle. Funds raised from a similar drive a year ago were used to send the girl cheerleaders to the football game at Lawrence Kas.

Not only will the Tassels conduct their ticket drive in fraternity houses but they will extend their activities to the campus and downtown as well. On this campus booths will be maintained in Social Sciences, the library, and the Temple lobby, while at the agricultural college a sales stand will be open in Ag hall.

Down town the Tassels will have ticket booths open in Rudge & Guelz's Miller & Paine's and Gold's stores in an effort to reach the adult population of Lincoln.

Six dramatic productions have been arranged for the week beginning Oct. 19, and authorities in the dramatic department are now considering the selection of a cast and manuscript. During the remainder of the year the plays will be given at intervals of about a month apart.

Plays Run a Week.
Each of the University Players' productions will begin on Monday evening and extend thru Saturday with no matinees. The first play is scheduled for the week beginning Oct. 19, and authorities in the dramatic department are now considering the selection of a cast and manuscript. During the remainder of the year the plays will be given at intervals of about a month apart.

Tassels met Friday to consider distribution of the fraternity houses among the selling teams. During the session they discussed the respective courtesies shown their salesmen by the various fraternities of a year ago. Team captains, their co-workers, and their respective sororities follow:

Team one: Jane Youngson, Kappa Alpha Theta, captain; Jane Axell, Alpha Chi Omega, Jean Irwin, Alpha Chi Omega; Harriett Nesladek, Alpha Omicron Pi; Lucille Hendricks, Alpha Omicron Pi; Ruth Byerly, Alpha Phi; Elizabeth Barber, Alpha Phi; Ruth Schill, Alpha Xi Delta; Gertrude Clark, Alpha Xi Delta; Bernice Palmquist, Chi Omega; Margaret Buel, Chi Omega; Thelma Uter, Gamma Phi Beta; Mae Lanquist, Gamma Phi Beta; Alice Pedley, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Ardieth Pierce.

Team two: Alma Freehling.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD MEETS CHOOSE EDITOR

Selection Second Managing Editor for Nebraskan Scheduled Monday.

Applications for managing editor of the Daily Nebraskan will be considered at the meeting of the University Publications board tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of the School of Journalism, Gayle C. Walker, director of the School of Journalism, and chairman of the board, announced yesterday.

In addition to the business of the appointment of a new managing editor, the publications board will discuss routine matters concerning the university publications. Five applications for the managing editor's position have been filed.

The meeting will be the first for Prof. R. P. Crawford, who was nominated by the University senate last spring. Professor Crawford takes the place of Prof. H. E. Bradford. It will also be the first meeting for the student members of the publication board who were elected last spring. They are: William Eddy, John Zellinger, and Byron Goulding.

Pershing Rifle Trials Scheduled for Tuesday.
Trials for membership in Pershing Rifles will be held Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 5 o'clock in Nebraska hall.

All those wishing to try out should be present on one of these two nights.

ACTIVITIES TEA SET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

Second Annual Affair Will Be Held Ellen Smith Hall, 3 to 5.

The annual Activities tea, started last year under the auspices of the A. W. S. Council, will be in Ellen Smith hall on Thursday, Oct. 1, from 3 until 5. Organizations which will be represented at the affair are: W. A. A., Big Sister organization, League of Women Voters, Y. W. C. A., and A. W. S. Council.

Different organizations have charge of various phases of the party. Decoration is under the management of the W. A. A. with Margaret Day, social chairman, in charge. Caroline White, social chairman of the Y. W. C. A., will be in charge of the refreshments for the tea. The Big Sister board, whose president is Evelyn West, is planning the program, and the League of Women Voters is arranging the rooms for the displays.

Dorothy Weaver, A. W. S. member, is general chairman for the tea, and Margaret Upton will be in the court of Ellen Smith to take the names of freshmen and record the activity which most interested them.

The members of Tassels will form a receiving line at the door and direct the girls to the different rooms. In addition, they will be in charge of a miscellaneous room, a new idea this year, where public and honorary societies will be explained to the girls.

Want Women's Party.
Faction men harbor a tender antipathy, politically speaking, toward sororities because they do not organize themselves into two distinct political groups. As a matter of fact the women could hardly do this, even if they wanted to, for each time they suggest it the Associated Women Students governing board cracks the whip over them and women political parties are quick to trot back to their sorority stables.

The time was when factions were in a more favorable position to bargain with the sorority vote.

WORLD FORUM OPENS WITH RUSSIAN TALK

Melvin Martin, Russian Student, Discusses Five-Year Plan.

Setting the background for the coming series of World Forum meetings on the five year plan in Russia, Melvin Martin, native Russian now a Nebraska student, will be the speaker at the first Forum meeting of the year next Wednesday noon, according to announcements made by the Forum committee Saturday.

"The Forum extends to all the invitation to attend the meetings," Margaret Day, chairman, states. "Following this first series of meetings on Russia, meetings on India's situation, events in China and other big subjects will be taken up."

A twenty-five cent lunch will be served at the meetings each Wednesday noon of the school year. This lunch will start at 12 o'clock and close at 12:25, the speaker of the day then holding the floor until 12:50. Those who must leave for classes will be given the opportunity to do so, then a round table discussion will commence.

Tickets will go on sale Monday at the Y. W. offices in Ellen Smith hall and the Y. M. offices in the Temple. A desk will be located in Social Sciences hall from 8 to 5 each Tuesday of the year beginning this week.

Oldfather Speaks Sunday.
Church and War Address Is Scheduled for Baptist Student Class.

Acting Dean C. H. Oldfather of the College of Arts and Sciences will speak Sunday at noon at the university student class of the First Baptist church, 14th and K Sts. His subject will be "The Church and War." Clinton Woodward will lead a short devotional service preceding the address.

At 6:30 Sunday evening the First and Second Baptist young people's groups will meet at the First church to hear Rev. F. D. Bawlen, a missionary from south India, speak on his experiences in the missionary field. New students are especially invited to attend these services.

Graduate Spends Summer in Lincoln With Parents.
Mrs. Richard Smith, who was formerly Miss Frances Peckmiller, and a graduate of Nebraska university, spent the summer months with her parents in this city. Her home is in Boston.

POLITICAL WAGON TURNS DOWN LANE TOWARD ELECTION

Blue Shirts Name Galleher President; Brownell, Hall Elected.

PARTIES BEGIN ACTION

Campaign Begins for Class Election Scheduled on October 6.

Wheels of the campus political wagon have slowly begun to turn with the election of new officers of the Blue Shirt majority faction, last Thursday evening at the Sigma Phi Sigma house, Norman Galleher, Bassett, Delta Tau Delta, was chosen president of the organization while Phil Brownell, Delta Upsilon and Laurence Hall, Lambda Chi Alpha, were named vice president and secretary, respectively.

When the Yellow Jacket minority faction gathers this week and names new leaders the political buckboard will gain momentum as it turns down the lane toward fall election which are slated for Oct. 6. The Yellow Jackets will probably commence their buzzing tomorrow evening for the party must be whipped into shape before Friday when nominations for the four class presidencies must be filed.

Blue Shirts will also meet this week to grease their spokes with likely candidates for the election offices.

By next Monday evening the faction spring buggies will be bouncing over the political trail with the student activities office. Blue Shirts will also meet this week to grease their spokes with likely candidates for the election offices.

Women in Race.
Women, too, will be leading the prize horses out of their political stables as they groom nominees for the coveted honorary colonel position.

As a rule, from five to eight candidates are placed in the field for this office. Since there are no party alignments in women's politics the outcome rests entirely upon the ability of political leaders in the various houses to swap votes with other sorority houses. It is more or less a question of "you vote for our honorary colonel candidate and we'll support your Prom girl nominee," or "our sorority will turn out for your faction if you can assure us of support in the honorary colonel race."

Want Women's Party.
Faction men harbor a tender antipathy, politically speaking, toward sororities because they do not organize themselves into two distinct political groups. All fraternity and sorority members and all juniors and seniors pictures are included in the request of Editor Detrick, who urges everyone who wants a picture to get it taken as early as possible.

Announcements have been made as to the closing date for applications for positions on the Cornhusker is definitely set for Tuesday, Sept. 28th.

DAIRY JUDGERS LEAVE FOR IOWA SECTIONAL MEET

Members of the dairy judging team consisting of Dale Bush, Jay Pierson, Victor Redinger and Arthur Peterson departed for Waterloo, Ia., Friday morning, where a sectional contest will be held Monday. Coach Ray Morgan stated that the team will stop at the Meredith Jersey farm to practice before entering the contest. The team plans to return Wednesday.

Lincoln Boys Have Second Largest Marionette Stage in World; Show Scheduled for October 3 at Temple

By RO PIZER.
An interesting and unique type of entertainment in the form of a Marionette show is being sponsored by the University Y. W. C. A. which will present The Lincoln Marionettes in both an afternoon and evening performance at the Temple theatre on Oct. 3.

The Lincoln Marionettes are the work of Wentworth Fling and Wilford Dewese, both of Lincoln. Building a marionette stage started as a hobby with Wentworth Fling after seeing a performance of Tony Sarg's famous marionettes three years ago.

Three months later, after he had started building a stage of his own, Mr. Fling made the acquaintance of John O'Neil, an American artist traveling with Jean Gros's Marionettes, from whom he gained a great deal of knowledge concerning the manipulation of the puppets.

All of the marionettes to be used in the show on Saturday are trick performers. Mr. Fling is interested primarily in trick marionettes which, of course, much harder to make than ordinary puppets. Features of the show are the movable eyebrows of a Paderewski marionette, a puppet which juggles two balls, and a monkey which "skins the cat."

Fling Invents Juggler Device.
The juggling marionette which is operated by a very unique device, was invented by Mr. Fling two years ago and exchanged as a "professional secret" with the American artist of Jean Gros's show for the secret of the way to mould papier-mache. At Jean Gros's last showing in Lincoln the juggling marionette was exhibited as one of the most difficult of marionette feats. Since there is no way of patenting these devices, the only protection the inventor has is to keep competitors from examining it.

The Lincoln marionette stage is the second largest in the world and

NINE MEN SELECTED LEAD HUSKER CHEERS

New Cheerleaders, Chosen Friday, Make Debut Saturday Game.

Nine men out of the twenty-five applicants were chosen for positions as cheerleaders after the try-out held Friday night. These nine men led the yell in yesterday's game.

The men selected: Joe Alter, Howard Colton, Dean Bower, Jim Zook, Marty Anderson, Paul Johnson, Jack Minor, Ralph Ream, and Carl Anderson.

The entire squad of twenty-five men led the basic military science students in three yells in front of the stadium Friday afternoon. The purpose of this was to give the candidates a little experience in leading cheers before a crowd. Rudy Vogeler, their instructor, said.

Later in the afternoon the squad was given a voice test in the college gymnasium. Bob Kinkade, who is in charge of the tryouts, selected the men.

AG STUDENTS FETED AT ANNUAL RECEPTION

'Oz' Black, Dance, Feature Frosh Entertainment Saturday Night.

New students in the college of agriculture were received by the faculty at the annual student reception held at the Ag building Saturday evening.

The reception line was composed of Dean and Mrs. W. W. Burr, Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hayes, Coach trainer, Rudy Vogeler, Miss Margaret Fegan, Miss Florence McGahey and Miss Bernice Miller. Professor Chauncey Smith acted as chairman of the reception committee.

The entertainment committee, headed by Prof. H. J. Gramlich, proclaimed Rudy Vogeler, well known cartoonist as the feature entertainer. Other forms of entertainment were stunts, games, music and fancy dancing.

A dance, lasting the rest of the evening and being the main attraction, was held in the Ag building. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and wafers were served by the refreshments committee under the direction of Miss Evelyn Metzger.

The reception room was decorated with oak leaves, white and red and white streamers forming a false ceiling decorated the gymnasium. Palms and other plants beautified the stage. A large "U. of N." made with red letters on a white background hung over the stage. Mr. M. P. Brunig was in charge of the decorations.

POOL PROGRESSES SLOWLY

Failure Plumbing Arrive Causes Delay; May Be Ready Nov. 15.

Work on the new university swimming pool has been progressing rather slowly lately due to a delay in the arrival of some plumbing supplies, according to the engineer in charge. Cement has been poured for the walls, and everything is in readiness for the plumbers who are expected to be at work very soon as most of the supplies have now arrived.

Comment was made the bottom will begin as soon as the plumbing has been completed, which will probably be some time this week.

The pool will probably be completed by the middle of November, Rudy Vogeler, swimming mentor, says.

Dean Condra Leaves on Inspection Tour

Dean G. E. Condra left last Thursday to inspect the soil survey work in Holt county. He will probably participate in a drouth relief meeting to be held in Stuart on Friday evening. Dean Condra expects to return Saturday.

SALES DRIVE FOR AWGWAN SET TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Sigma Delta Chi Canvass Of Greek Letter Houses Opens Campaign.

BLOCKS OF 25 COST $20

Single Copy Subscriptions Sell for $1 This Year, Or $1.50 Mailed.

Subscription sales to the Awgwan, Nebraska humor magazine, will begin tomorrow when members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity which sponsors the publication, canvass fraternity and sorority houses for block subscriptions during the dinner hour. William McGaffin, president of Sigma Delta Chi, and Robert Lau, business manager of the magazine, announced yesterday.

Block subscriptions of twenty-five copies each of the nine monthly issues for the year will be sold for $20 with a discount of 10 percent for payment within ten days after the release of the first issue, bringing the price to $18. Lau reported. Block subscriptions will be delivered.

Single copy subscriptions for the year will be $1.00 if mailed. A special combination offer of the Awgwan and College Humor for $3.20 mailed was announced by Lau. The single copy subscription drive will begin with the release of the first issue of the magazine about the middle of October.

Last year an average of more than 2,000 copies of each of the five numbers published following the re-establishment of the magazine by the publications board were sold. McGaffin expressed hopes of exceeding this number in this year's drive.

Sigma Delta Chi to Meet at 5.
Plans for the canvass tomorrow by Sigma Delta Chi were made at a meeting of the organization at the Sigma Nu house Thursday at which time McGaffin announced that Art Wolf, Art Mitchell and himself, all senior journalism students, will compose the Sigma Delta Chi advisory board of the Awgwan this year. McGaffin asks that all members of Sigma Delta Chi meet at the Daily Nebraskan office Monday at 4 o'clock to prepare for the dinner hour canvass of houses.

Editor Marvin Robinson has already announced plans for the first number of the Awgwan which will appear on news stands about the middle of next month. The issue will be a "Celebrity Number" with a number of famous Nebraska alumni contributing material. Herbert Johnson, Saturday Evening Post illustrator; Lem Montross, College Humor writer; Fred Ballard, noted playwright; and Oz Black, Dwight Kirach and Jimmy Pickering, Lincoln artists, are among those whose work will appear in the first number.

The psychological test as organized and composed by the consular officials in Washington, D. C., is proposed to indicate the ability of individuals to deal with various analogies, similarities, and contrasts and to test their powers of reasoning.

The examination, given here for the first time this year, has been used in other universities throughout the country for a number of years. It replaces the "Army Alpha" test given last year under the direction of Miss Hyde.

A similar test known as the "Ohio Freshman Psychological Examination" was given last week to freshmen of the Engineering college. An identical test will be given to the new students enrolled in the Teachers college some time in the near future, according to an announcement from the Dean's office.

Freshmen taking the American Consul examination which was given under the direction of Mr. Jenness, special adviser to freshman students, were assigned

SIGMA CHI RANKS ELEVENTH IN LIST: OMITTED TUESDAY

Sigma Chi was omitted from the scholastic ratings for social Greek organizations as published in The Daily Nebraskan last Tuesday.

According to the scholarship report released recently from the office of the dean of student affairs Sigma Chi ranked eleventh among social fraternities.

When the alphabetizing of names is completed, the lists will be typed and posted in Social Sciences building for correction by the students. The book will be distributed about Nov. 1, the editor believes.

The staff for the directory follows: Editor, James Crabb; business manager, William Comstock; associate editors, Dick Moran and Frank Jenkins; business assistants, Milton Mansfield, John Gerson, and Keith Lightner. The work is being supervised by C. D. Hayes, University Y. M. C. A. secretary.

HUSKERS BLANKET COYOTES 44 TO 6

Sophomore Backs Click With Veteran Line in Season Opener Saturday With South Dakota School; Kreizinger Chalks Up Four Scores.

SOUTH DAKOTA COUNTS ON PASS IN THIRD

Petz and Nesmith Function at End Positions; Nebraska Passing Attack Works Smoothly as Eight of Thirteen Attempts Gain 165 Yards.

By MURLIN SPENCER.
Flashing a powerful running offense together with an accurate passing attack, the Cornhuskers overwhelmed South Dakota 44 to 6 Saturday afternoon in Memorial stadium. Four sophomore backs, Sauer, Bauer, Rossell and Masterson together with Kreizinger, veteran back, were the basis for the power of the Nebraska team.

The question of whether Nebraska's sophomores would come through under competition was definitely settled when the second year backfield working behind a veteran line ran wild, scoring a touchdown within two minutes after taking the field.

Seven touchdowns were made in all by the Huskers. Four scores went to the credit of Kreizinger while Masterson, Paul and Sauer each made one. South Dakota's score came in the third quarter on Ostlund's pass to Adams.

Nebraska's line, made up of Ely center; Justice and Koester guards; Rhea and Gilbert, tackles; with Nesmith and Petz on the ends, stopped every attempt of the Coyotes to gain by that route. Most of South Dakota's gains were made via the air.

The Husker passing attack was clicking on all wheels Saturday afternoon. Out of 13 passes attempted, 4 were completed for a total of 165 yards. The number of passes made good is exceptionally good for the first game of the season.

Nebraska clearly outplayed Coach Backman's varsity, making 25 first downs in comparison to 7 for the visitors. Two attempts of Nebraska to score were halted by penalties.

Kreizinger, a blocking back for the most part during the 1930 season, clearly demonstrated that his position is in carrying the ball. He led the scoring attack with four touchdowns, making one touchdown and a number of good runs together with his ability as a passer.

Rhea and Koester on the left side of the Nebraska line along with Justice and Gilbert, and Ely at center paved the way for the success of the backs. Opening big holes on offense together with holding on defense, these men on the forward wall were the real thorns in the side of the Coyote.

Coyotes Kick Off.
Hanson of the Coyotes kicked off to start the game, and Petz returned the ball to Nebraska's 20-yard line. Paul and Kreizinger alternated carrying the ball and started what seemed to be a march for a touchdown. Paul, outside a yard at center, then again carried it to the 3-yard line. Kreizinger hit the center of the line for a touchdown. Score, Nebraska 6, South Dakota 0.

INQUIRIES INDICATE LARGE NIGHT CLASSES

Extension Director States Much Interest Shown Varied Courses.

Inquiries being received daily at the University Extension Division indicate a large enrollment for night classes which begin October 5, according to Director A. A. Reed.

A larger number and variety of courses are being offered than a year ago, due largely to student request. While courses were offered in eleven departments of university study last year this has been increased to fifteen for the current semester. Forty-five courses are being offered now in comparison to thirty-four a year ago. Among new additions are included courses in Spanish, journalism and architecture.

Work that can be taken, all of which carries regular university credit to be applied toward a degree if desired, includes:

Accounting, algebra, American history, short story writing, architecture, art, business English, business law, school management, business forecasting, clay modeling, descriptive geometry, dramatic interpretation, drawing, economics, education, English composition, French, geography, home nursing, journalism, juvenile art, lip reading, mechanical drawing, modern novel, painting, personal hygiene, philosophy, psychology, pottery, sculpture, sociology, Spanish, statistical methods, standardized testing, test construction, trigonometry, and trust problems.

Bulletins with full lists and descriptions of the courses have been published and may be secured through written or personal requests. Director Reed states.

Fraternity Men Picked for Use in Courtesy Tests

Fraternity men may not know it but they are going to be the subjects of an unusual courtesy test when members of Tassels organization begin their drive on University Players season tickets tomorrow evening.

A year ago when the Tassels conducted a similar drive, members of Tassels noticed that they were treated with much more respect at some fraternity houses than others. In some of the Greek lodges they were merely the subject of banter and kidding, while at others they were received with respect and the purpose of their mission was kept in mind by the men of that house. Naturally they spoke of the different receptions and unofficially rated fraternities as to their social standing.
