NEBRASKA SPIRIT GOES UP AS TEAM LEAVES THURSDAY

Gigantic Crowd Turns Out To See Huskers Off For Evanston.

GILBERT PREDICTS WIN

Biblemen Promise Battle For Northwestern Saturday.

The Chicago and Northwestern railway station was the scene of the first rally of the year as Cornhusker spirit poured out for the Nebraska grid warriors who left for Evanston at 7 o'clock last night.

Indicative of unlimited enthusiasms and unadulterated co-operation among Nebraska students, nearly the whole student body turned out to send Coach Bible and another great Nebraska team on against the purple horde of the Big Ten champions at Northwestern Saturday.

The rally, with Art Mitchell of the Innocents society, in charge, began with the formation of the R. O. T. C. band under "Billy" Quick in front of the Temple at 6:30. The band, led by Emory Peterson, new drum major, marched east up R street to the corner of sorority row at 16th, north to S St., back on S St., to 14th, down again to R St., and to the station at 9th and S. There they found colossal crowds, shouting, screaming and yelling their enthusiasm for the team.

Nelson Leads Cheer.
Howard Nelson, head cheer leader, planted on a platform directly in front of the coupling between the two cars occupied by the Cornhusker team and their coaching staff, introduced the players and coaches, who spoke to the students from the platform, and led the organized cheering.

Bible was called for and stepping onto the platform declared: "No matter how swift the stream, if the opposing force is great enough, headway can be gained against it." Interpreting his opening statement and declaring in substance the words identical to those of every other person who spoke to the crowd, the Husker meator cried that it wasn't eleven men that would down Northwestern Saturday, but the whole student body and the spirit shown last night. "It is the fight and the spirit and the enthusiasm as displayed here tonight that will be truly responsible for victory," he avowed.

Following Coach Bible's talk, Nelson called all senior football men to the platform. In turn each took his cheer and told what he would do to "bring home the bacon" Saturday. Reb Russell, former Nebraska football star who is now the main spring of the Northwestern team, was the direct target of most of the threats against the purple.

Gilbert Captain Saturday.
Jim Gilbert, the big Omaha tackle who will be game captain against the Hanleyman Saturday, expressed confidence that the Huskers coming home from Evanston would be worthy of a reception equal to the send-off given them.

AG CLUB INITIATES LARGE FROSH GROUP

Horse Barn Is Scene Of Annual Ceremony On Wednesday Eve.

Nearly seventy freshmen in the college of agriculture were initiated to the Ag club Wednesday night at the annual ceremony held in the horse barn. It is one of the largest groups ever initiated into the club at one time.

The frosh were sent thru their usual antics of traveling distances on all fours and doing other "warming up" stunts to the delight of the upper classmen. It was estimated that there were about eighty upper classmen at the initiation, making a crowd of some 150 students.

At the conclusion of the initiation, the frosh proceeded to tub Delphian Nash, president of the Ag club. Their efforts to find Fred Steier failed.

Those in charge of the initiation included Fred Steier, Harlan Bollman, Glenn Le Dought, Reuben Hecht, Jesse Bilyeu, Glenn Murray and Kenneth Reed. Ray Hurd was chairman of the "eats committee."

LAWRENCE TO MAKE TALK

Editor of Star Will Address Annual Kansas Round Table Today.

J. E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star and instructor in journalism in the university, will deliver an address to editors, publishers and students at the annual round table of the Kansas journalism school today. The round table is sponsored and conducted by the journalism school of the University of Kansas.

After Mr. Lawrence's address, "New Responsibilities of the Press," the floor will be opened to round table sessions. These discussions will be in session both today and tomorrow. During these two days the editors will be entertained at dinner and at the Kansas-Haskell Indian football game tonight.

CORNGOBS PROPOSE SENDING MESSAGES TO ENCOURAGE TEAM

Plan Calls for Each Greek Organization to Send Separate Missive.

Missives of encouragement from every fraternity and many sororities on the Nebraska campus will be awaiting the Cornhusker varsity squad as they roll from their berths in the North Shore hotel, Evanston, tomorrow morning, if the plan proposed by the Corn Cobs is carried out.

The suggestion which members of Pi Epsilon Pi have advanced is that every fraternity and sorority send an original telegram to the stalwart Nebraska men who will battle to uphold the university's colors against the Northwestern aggregation, according to Marvin Schmid, president of the "Cobs."

"If every Greek organization on the campus complies with this request," Schmid declared, "the result will be that the team will be inspired even more than they were last night during the gigantic send-off rally staged at the Chicago and Northwestern station. It will add to their already high spirits and stimulate them to unheard-of heights."

The Cobs, in addition to advocating and promoting these messages of encouragement, will send a special one of their own origin.

All this is being done to assure the varsity men that every student is behind them and fighting with them when tomorrow they meet their strongest opponents of the year.

RIFLES SELECT MEN TO TAKE FINAL TESTS

75 Meet Approval in First Try-Out by Officers This Week.

Seventy-two men were selected for final tests for membership in Pershing Rifles at a meeting of the honorary basic drill group in Nebraska hall last night. Selections were based on showings in preliminary tryouts held Tuesday and Wednesday at which drill instructors checked aspirants on the manual of arms.

Of these seventy-two men, about fifty will be pledged. The candidates are to take a test on their general knowledge of military science before they are voted upon. This test will be given next Tuesday, Oct. 6, at five o'clock in room 202 of Nebraska Hall.

After the meeting Captain McGeachin, commander of Pershing Rifles, and Captain Scott of the military department, drilled the members of the company preparatory to selecting the non-commissioned officers for the year.

The following men are to report next Tuesday night for the test: Nathan Allen, A. E. Allberg, A. E. Anderson, Robert Bourke, Elmer Brackett, Maurice Brown, William Burkett, Arthur Byington, Louis Campbell, Henry Chait, John Clapp, Jack Clark, G. J. Criss, Ralph Cunningham, Wm. A. CLUBS A NEW FEATURE

Winifred Shallcross Is High Saleslady at South Dakota Game.

Sport and concession awards were presented at the first W. A. A. mass meeting Thursday evening in the Armory. Plans for reorganization were announced. Mildred Gish, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Alpha Xi Delta was awarded first place in all sports for the highest number of Intramural points during the past year. They also won first place in paddle tennis and basketball, for which they were awarded plaques.

The first awards in speedball and Nebraska ball went to Phi Mu. Gamma Phi Beta won the plaque for deck tennis, and Sigma Eta Chi for bowling. Kappa Kappa Gamma was the winner of paddle tennis, and the Huskerettes were announced as first place winners in baseball.

Shallcross High in Sales.
Winifred Shallcross was the highest saleslady for the South Dakota game in the W. A. A. concession and was awarded a two pound box of candy. Cola Schneider won second place, Jean Alden, third; Mildred Gishner, fourth, and Mary Elizabeth Long, fifth.

Miss Gish expressed the idea of playing games for play's sake, and trying for recreational values. The purposes and the aims of the W. A. A. were explained, with the (Continued on Page 2.)

GOLF IS POPULAR AS WOMEN BEGIN SPORTS

Natural Dancing, Hockey, Archery, Gym, Draw Many Recruits.

With golf leading in popularity of the sports, Nebraska women students began their physical education program for the year yesterday.

Never before have so many girls aspired to "know the little white pill about," according to officials. Five sections are filled with golfers and officials report that others who wished to talk golf were persuaded to take tennis.

There are more sections than ever before of corrective gymnasium work. Natural dancing claims seven sections of girls, archery, fundamental gymnastics and hockey three, two and five sections, respectively.

Miss Mabel Lee, recently elected as first woman head of the American physical education association, again is in charge of women's physical education. Two new members of the instructional staff are Miss Charlotte Bergstrom, Washington, who took her M. A. work at Columbia and Miss Edith Vail, Mobile, who was graduated from North Carolina college for Women.

Ag Club Frosh Give Nash Bath In Horse Tank

BY BILL RALSTON.
Watch out cheerleaders! A dark horse cheerleader exhibited surprising ability at the Ag club initiation held Wednesday night. He is Delphian Nash, president of Ag club.

After the hilarious ceremonies of the initiation were over and refreshments, consisting of hot dogs, doughnuts, and cider were served, the freshmen decided that they would like a yell from their president. In order to achieve their desires, it was necessary to escort Delphian to the horse tank, where he was obliged to take an evening plunge.

"Splash," and in he went. Standing in the middle of the tank, with quivering limbs, Delphian shouted, "Let's give three cheers for the freshmen." His voice was shaky but the action was unquestionably there.

PUPPETS WILL PLAY IN TEMPLE SATURDAY

Lincoln Marionette Troup Booked for Afternoon, Evening Shows.

The Lincoln Marionettes will be presented tomorrow afternoon and evening in a two-hour vaudeville performance by the university Y. W. C. A. The entertainment will take place in the Temple theater at 2:30 p. m. in the afternoon and at 7:30 p. m. in the evening.

Built, owned, and operated by Wilford Dewesse and Wentworth Fling, the Lincoln Marionettes have progressed from the amateur stage which marked their beginning three years ago to the professional and highly skilled plane upon which they now perform.

The stage to be used in the Saturday performance is the second largest Marionette stage in the world. The marionettes are about two feet high, the height that most puppeteers have found to be most satisfactory. All of the marionettes are trick marionettes. Paderewski with movable eyebrows, the juggler marionette, and the monkey who "skins the cat" are features of the show.

Every detail of the marionette show is the "latest" in the marionette world as well as a little bit ahead of most marionette shows in some ways. While in Europe, Wentworth Fling mastered the wood carving art to the extent that the marionettes have jointed movable lips. This adds greatly to the realistic atmosphere of the performance.

When Galli Curci, his high note—and some of them are plenty high—her mouth opens wide in accordance with the most exacting music teacher's approved manner.

Tickets are on sale in Ellen Smith hall and at Latsch Bros. Afternoon tickets are 25c, evening, 50c. Tickets in the reserved section may be procured for 35c afternoon, and 50c evening.

CHEER LEADERS GO TO CLASS TO GET RHYTHM

Each Tuesday and Thursday Finds Candidates Going Through Exercises.

Classes for the prospective cheer leaders are being held regularly at five o'clock on Tuesday and Thursdays. In these classes Mr. Vogeler is teaching the boys to smooth out their movements and keep them from being awkward and jerky. A few simple gymnastics are being tried, such as cartwheels and handstands. An effort is being made to have a more distinct change of pace when the rhythm of the yell changes.

In other schools the system of having a chief leader sit on the bench and direct the movements of the leaders out in front has been used successfully. This plan is under consideration here. This plan allows the men out in front to look straight ahead and follow the movements of the man on the bench, thereby making their movements as smooth as possible.

PALLADIUM MEETS TONIGHT AT 8:30

POLITICAL TRIBES SIT IN FALL RACE BATTLE COUNCILS

CANDIDATES FILE TODAY

Slates and Platforms Will Be Announced in Sunday Daily Nebraskan.

BY THE OBSERVER.
Campus political tribes held war councils last night when they picked their slates of candidates and determined courses of action for the fall election war next Tuesday. They will put their braves into the field today when nominees are filed at the student activities office and the opening war-whoops will sound Sunday with announcement of slates and platforms.

Yellow Jackets gathered with their chieftain, Otis Detrick, at the Sigma Chi tepee, while the Blue Shirts, Norman Galleher, Blue Shirt leader, called his tribe into conclave at the Beta Theta Pi wigwam. Gordon Williams, the new general of the Barb forces, donned the war bonnet with tribal councilmen in the basement of University hall.

Beginning Monday evening students may expect faction fires to be burning with zest. Tribal songs will echo across the campus as the political redskins serenade sororities with a supposed victory chant.

Formal skirmishes will open Tuesday morning when the respective factions open their attack on that much-battered political covered wagon, the polling place. There will be the Indian maidens who chirp so cheerily at each fall election—the sorority girls who (Continued on Page 2.)

CONNIE'S A'S TAKE FIRST SERIES GAME

40,000 Baseball Fans See Athletics Smother Cards 6 to 2.

LEFTY GROVE PITCHES

The hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals sank to a new low level Thursday in their first World Series game when the Philadelphia Athletics took them to the tune of 6 to 2. The world famed Lefty Grove started and pitched the entire game for the Athletics. He was opposed by Paul Derringer, a new right handed rookie pitching for the Cards. Derringer was later replaced by Johnson who in turn took the mound to Blades.

Approximately 40,000 fans witnessed this first battle of the 1931 series at Sportsman's park in St. Louis.

The Philadelphians have walked off with the pennant for two consecutive years and if a repetition occurs this year they will be the first team in series history to accomplish this.

The first rally of the game was chalked up in the last half of the first inning when Bottomley knocked in Roetger on a short hit over second base for the Cards. Frisch scored on a hit of Martin's for the second and last Cardinal tally.

There was no more scoring until the first half of the third inning when Williams scored on a two base hit by Haas. Then while the bases were full Derringer walked Simmons, forcing in Bishop, Haas and Cochrane also scored on a line single by Fox making the third and fourth runs for the Athletics. Score: Athletics 4, Cardinals 2.

In the first half of the seventh inning Simmons made a home run scoring Cochrane for the fifth and sixth Athletic tally. Score: Athletics 6, Cardinals 2.

CORRECTION

The Nebraskan Tuesday published a story stating that Prof. G. W. Gray of the history department spent last year in research in England, is "one of England's greatest enthusiasts," had spent his last three vacations there and approves the British "silver move." The last three statements are incorrect, and the recent English financial move whereby the gold standard was abandoned has nothing to do with "silver."

The Nebraskan regrets publication of this story which was turned in to the editors as legitimate news, supposedly based on an interview with Professor Gray, by one of its reporters.

"HELLO" ECHOES DIE AS GREETING REVIVAL CLOSES

Tradition Successfully Reinstated As the Students Shout "Cheerio."

With a "hi, boy!" here, and a "cheerio!" there, the echoes of "hello day" have died away in the distance, but another name has been added to Nebraska's fast-growing list of traditions, and countless timid freshmen hearts have responded to the big-brother spirit of the upperclassmen.

For a day the gulf between the yearlings and their seniors has been bridged, and the frosh have been made to feel that this campus belongs to them as well as to those who have been here longer.

The revival of the custom, which was whole heartedly supported by the Innocents and Mortar Boards under the sponsorship of the A. W. S. board, marked a successful attempt to cement the relationship between freshmen and others of the campus. But it is not intended that the project should end with "hello day," and with the continued co-operation of every upperclassman, the freshmen should not suffer the pangs of homesickness for long.

Years ago the tradition was originated, and was most successful as long as it was carried out, according to Dean Amanda Heppner, but it died with its initiation. Miss Heppner stated that the former custom was hailed by both freshmen and upperclassmen as an excellent plan which made for unity and spirit. There was no apparent barrier between these two groups (Continued on Page 2.)

ALL ACTIVITIES TEA DRAWS FOUR HUNDRED

Organizations Sponsor Fete To Outline Programs And New Plans.

MUSICALE IS PRESENTED

Nearly four hundred women took advantage of the opportunity offered them by the major women's organizations to become acquainted with various activities on the campus, in attending the all activities tea at Ellen Smith hall Thursday afternoon.

Organizations represented included A. W. S. board, Big Sister board, Tassels, women's athletic association, league of women voters, and Y. W. C. A.

Exhibits and posters, aided the members of groups in presenting the character of their organizations. A table of foreign dolls and recent books arranged by the Y. W. C. A. illustrated the phase of international relations in the program of this association.

Representatives of Tassels received guests at the door, and served in the dining room. Refreshments were planned by Carolyn White, social chairman, and Marjorie Peterson, president of the Y. W. C. A. Ardeth Pierce and Evelyn West, president of Big Sister board, arranged the program of musical numbers.

Dorothy Ramsey, president of the league of women voters, oversaw the room arrangement. Mildred Gish, president, and Margaret Day, social chairman of W. A. A., planned the decorations and appointments.

This year marks the second anniversary of the tradition instituted and sponsored by the A. W. S. board. Representing the A. W. S. board in the planning committee were Berenice Hoffman, president, and Dorothy Weaver, social chairman, who had charge of all arrangements.

Former Cornhusker Star Scores Marker In Pro Grid Battle

Glen Presnell former star of Cornhusker football teams, now playing for the Portsmouth, Ohio, professional team, scored a touchdown in the Portsmouth-New York Giants game played at Portsmouth last week. 10,000 fans, the largest crowd ever assembled at a professional football game, witnessed the affair.

Presnell scored his touchdown in the fourth quarter, and a few moments later, Dutch Clark, a teammate, scored the winning marker. The final score was 14-6 for Portsmouth. "Red" Cagle, former army star, played for the New Yorkers.

HUSKERS POLISH PASS ATTACK IN FINAL PRACTICE

Bible Picks Squad of 31 To Make Northwestern Trek Thursday.

KNOCK OFF ROUGH EDGE

Husker Gridgers in Pink of Condition for Tussle With Wildcats.

Spending most of the practice period developing the passing threat, the Biblemen were yesterday busy polishing off the last rough edges in preparation for the game with the Northwestern Wildcats tomorrow.

Thirty-one gridgers are making the trip to Evanston, and from this aggregation Coach Bible should have a strong combination ready for the opening kickoff, with a formidable list of reserves waiting on the bench.

From all indications it looks as though two sophomores, Bruce Kilbourne and Harold Schmitt, will be ready to start at the ends; Hugh Rhea and Jim Gilbert at the tackles; George Koster and Chick Justice at the guard posts, and Lawrence Ely or Forrest McPherson at center.

The starting backfield will probably find that trio of sophomores, namely, Bauer, Sauer and Masterson, working with Kreizinger. This combination should be able to click in the work-a-like fashion of Coach Bible who has O'Brien, Durke, Bishop, DeBus, Joy, Hulbert, Mathis, Paul, Manley, Boswell, Penney, Brown and Miller ready when the occasion demands.

Huskers in Pink.
The Cornhusker athletes are all in the best of physical condition. Strenuous workouts along with heavy training rules have enabled Nebraska to boast of a team in good shape. There were but a few minor injuries suffered in the Dakota game. Northwestern has been confronted with several setbacks, but despite this fact, Coach Hanley will have a team ready that will be hard to beat.

With a passing attack that may prove disastrous to Northwestern, the Cornhuskers are confident that they can come through victoriously. Nebraska looked exceptionally good in this department against South Dakota, when they made good eight chances out of thirteen for a gain of 165 yards. However, the opposition in that game cannot be compared to that of Northwestern. The Wildcats are expecting a strong aerial attack, Coach Hanley having spent most of the week drilling his gridgers on pass defense.

"Reb" Russell will be one of the Wildcats that will be playing his best. Having played for Nebraska in 1928, it would be a happy thrill for him if he could take his teammates through a victorious afternoon, but whether or not he will is a problem that can not be solved.

The personnel of the Cornhuskers making the trip:
Jerry Bauer, Lew Brown, Henry Bauer, Hubert Boswell, Clair Bishop, Clair Campbell, Warren DeBus, Bert Durke, Lawrence Ely, Jim Gilbert, Harold Hulbert, Corwin Hulbert, Charles Koster, Frank Morrison, Donald Schewe, Frank Peterson, Edwin Fisher, Robert Garnire, Henry Gumbals, Giles Gire, Karl Gerlach, Robert Glover, Robert Harmon, Floyd Hedlund, Robert Hird, Edward Hirst, Edgar Huddleston, Donald Hulbert.
