Overconfidence Says Staff Reporter.

PITT COACH CONTINUES

LINE SHOWS UP WELL By SAUL WEISBERG.

(Staff Writer, Pitt Weekly)

With the first two games safely tucked away under his victory bell. Jock Sutherland is driving the Pitt eleven hard in preparation for this Saturday's game with West Virginia.

Although the debut of "Greasy" Fie Neale as coach of the Mountain-Fi eers has not been marked thus far with any great success, their rec-ord for this season consisting of a close victory over Duquesne and the field, a sharp defeat by Fordham, Suthis taking nothing for again saw most of the action yeserland. granted and has his players work- terday, with first year mer getting season. The Fitl coach's great- a great deal of action in the line. est fear is that of overconfidence Networks. in the Panthers and is striving to prevent the players from taking the next game for granted.

The Panthers suffered no ill cftects from the Iowa struggle, no player getting anything worse than a few bruises. Reider was forced out of the game because of an injury, but it was only minor and he will be in the West Virginia Neurarka battle.

Open Field Running Stars.

Reider, halfback, and Jimmy Clark, 170 pound fullback, were the outstanding stars of the Iowa game in an offensive way, both frequently thrilling the small crowd with brilliant hits of open field "Fats" Heller, Reider's FURTHING. companion halfback, and massive Johnny Luch, substitute fulloack, helped take the fight out of the 10W3018.

However, the line deserves the most commendation. Big, experienced, and smooth working, the orward wall continually opened heles in the Iowa line through which a truck could have been driven. On the defense, it smothored the Iowans' attack, frequently throwing the runners for losses, As was expected Captain Hirshberg and MacMurdo, big tackle, and Daugherty, shrewd center, stood out.
