VOCAL ORGANIZATION TRYOUT THIS EVENING

(Continued from page one.) is definitely organized and a time suitable to all members can be agreed upon. Rehearsals in past years were held twice a week, but they must be more frequent this year because of the plan of broadcasting. Hollingsworth explained. Broadcasting over KFAB will start as soon as the staff of the station feels that the group is well organized. Tryouts will be held over the radio through the cooperation of the University studio so that suitable solo voices for broadcast work can be found.

Judges for the tryouts will be Howard Kirkpatrick of the university school of music, Detrick Dirks, manager of radio station KFAB, and Harold Hollingsworth, who has been appointed director of the glee club by Mr. Kirkpatrick. "No particular study or ability to read music is needed," Hollingsworth said. "Many students have naturally good voices, and we want them to try out. We would especially like any groups of two, three, four, or even more who have done some singing, together to come to the tryouts. A special appeal will be made to all men's organizations on the campus to get their members to tryout. We want this group to be representative of the university as a whole."

Anyone who would like to be the accompanist for the glee club should appear at one of the tryouts, Hollingsworth stated. Anyone who has had some experience with such organizations and who has done some arranging and transposing of music is invited to come.

FEMALE PHILOSOPHER MEDITATES ON RHYTHMICAL QUALITIES OF YAWNING IN AFTER-NOON CLASSES.

"It is hard to believe that there are people who will look lightly at literature, it is impossible to believe that there are students in this university who do not read a book a month. I cannot, will not believe it of a group of... "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten rows—all going good. I can sit back now and relax. It gives me a glow of satisfaction, achievement, to see all these people yawning. I'm sure no one else has seen the miracle during this hour, no one else has kept a minute by minute survey. I'll bet they wouldn't even know they were part of the show. Open, shut, open, shut, automatic, rhythmical, fascinating. Open, shut, open shut. I'm afraid it is getting me too. I don't want— I am glad the bell just rang—I am saved. I am not like the others, I am not part of the miracle, I am still, rarest of rarities, one who sits on a chair in the back of a class room and does not yawn. scrimmage against the nubbins Wednesday. Three teams of Huskers succeeded in running up five touchdowns. The longest run of the afternoon was made by Manley in returning a kickoff sixty-five yards. The scoring punch was held for any length of time.

Improvement in blocking was the most noticeable feature last night. The Huskers have been sadly lacking in this department of the game, but if they continue as they have started this week, there will be no more need of worry on the part of the coaches. One of the members of the varsity was overheard to say last night that the freshmen were tough opponents. "You hurt their pride when you take them out of the play," he said, "and they come back all the harder." This bids well for a good struggle in the stadium Saturday when the varsity and freshmen mix.

K. U. WOMEN OUTRANK MEN SCHOLASTICALLY

Registrar Reports Sorority, Fraternity Students Grades Higher.

HONORARIES SHOW WELL LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 14.—Women rank higher than men, and the fraternity groups, both men and women, rank higher than the non-fraternity groups in scholarship at the University of Kansas, according to the undergraduate scholarship report for 1930-31, just compiled by Registrar George O. Foster.

The report is for all students except those in the graduate school, and ratings are based on 3 points for an A grade, 2 for a B, 1 for a C, zero for a D, and minus one for a failure. Honorary fraternities and sororities with selected memberships, naturally rank high, with an average of 1.99. The all woman average was 1.44, compared with 1.07, the all men's average, and the university average of 1.19. Sorority women, as a group, averaged 1.57, while non sorority women are rated 1.38. FORUM HEARS TERRY ON SOVIET PROPOSAL

(Continued from page one.) live entirely by themselves, according to Terry. In conclusion, Mr. Terry declared that in criticizing the communistic plan in Russia, one must however, appreciate the principle that it is a courageous effort on the part of the Russians to improve the condition of their country. Mr. Terry, who is editor of the "League of Nations Chronicle" of New York City, left Lincoln Wednesday, following two days on the campus, during which time he addressed more than ten student and faculty groups concerning various political problems of world significance.

The World Forum discussion Wednesday was the third of a series about the Russian situation. Next week, Oct. 21, Miss Margaret Fedde will lead the discussion with a talk on "Education and Life in Russia Today," as she saw it while touring the country for six weeks last summer. Tickets will be on sale in Ellen Smith hall, at the Y. M. C. A. offices in the Temple, and in social science hall for 25 cents, Tuesday.

THE ONLOOKER BY MURLIN SPENCER

Every year it seems the duty of the sports columnist to fight for new flags for the stadium. Last year Guy Craig carried out a successful campaign for new flags, but the new ones have become battered and torn. It would look much better if the lone survivor now hanging from the southwest pole was taken down than to allow it to stay there all by itself. During a football game, flags add to the attractiveness of the stadium and give it a gala appearance. In most schools, flags of each school in the conference are flown along with the American flag and the emblem of the opponents for the day's game. Of course, it would necessitate the addition of a few more poles, but this would be no great item on the expense account. Although the season is partially over, it is not too late to put in the new poles and run up the flags. It would add greatly to the barren appearance of the stadium.

The main occupation of the student body this week seems to be watching a colored gentleman laying bricks in the new mall north of Social Science. Every hour there are a large number of students watching the work. The best idea of the year, for the past thirty years in fact, has been turned in to The Nebraskan in the form of an editorial. It suggests that women break down and walk on dates instead of demanding a car every time they go out. And the queer thing is that it is a woman that suggested it. What a relief and help it would be if the women students of this university would take a little exercise instead of spending all of their time tearing holes in the pocketbooks of their male escorts. But its a cinch we'll be out of school long before women ever get to that stage. Is there a depression on? Not if you ask the women.
