

COACHES JUGGLE VARSITY LINEUP IN GRID WORKOUT

Competition Is Keen Among Cornhuskers as They Prep for Frosh.

PRACTICE WITH NUBBINS

Changes in the varsity lineup were still taking place in Thursday afternoon's practice. Changes have been made so frequently of late that no one is sure of his position. If competition makes a team, Nebraska should be conference champions this year.

The lineup likely to start against the freshmen Saturday is composed of the sophomore backfield combination, Sauer, Bauer, Masterson and Boswell, Joy and Durkee ends, Rhea and O'Brien tackles, Koster and Justice guards, and Ely center.

Two varsity teams spent most of the afternoon in perfecting of defense formations against two nubbin teams. Charging and blocking were stressed.

Kreizinger Hurt.

Kreizinger was out with a shoulder in bad shape from Wednesday's tussle with the nubbins, but he played fullback on the second string. Miller, Staab and Roby completed the backfield and Nesmith and Mine were at ends, Hulbert and Schmitt tackles, Debus, Adam and Bishop changed off at guards, and McPherson held down the pivot position.

The freshman eleven to start Saturday includes Jerkins and Peet ends; Pfum and Hladky, tackles; Johnson and Schletter, guards; Meyer, center; Scholl, quarterback; Hofkuf, fullback, and Eldridge, Parsons or Fahrbruch at halfbacks.

CLUB TO ENCOURAGE FRESHMEN DEBATERS

Delta Sigma Rho Plans to Stimulate Interest in Forensics.

Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society, will encourage freshman debate this year in its program for increasing the society's activity upon the Nebraska campus.

As a national society and as sponsor of the debate squad for Nebraska, it proposes to stimulate a greater interest in forensic activities among the student body. Three years ago the society initiated freshman debating under the direction of Dr. White, debate coach.

The success of this movement has led the members to renew their efforts to discover and develop embryo orators for next year's debate squad. The society feels that there is an increasing interest in debate as evidenced by the greater attendance of the students at debates held on the campus the last few years. Such a plan, it feels, will stimulate this interest.

Plans for the development of other activities of the society are to be discussed at the first meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 in University hall.

VOLLEY BALL, TENNIS ADDED TO SPORT LIST

Churches Form League for Ball Program; Plan Racquet Tourney.

APPOINT TEAM LEADERS

Start of the Church league volleyball and the all university tennis tournament are the latest additions to the intramural program of the university. The church league is expected to get under way within a week while the tennis meet will start shortly after.

An extensive program will be conducted thru the Church league. This fall volleyball will be the sport undertaken, followed in the winter by basketball and baseball in the spring. Ten teams have already entered. The church league hopes to get men interested in athletics that are not playing at the present time. Men affiliated with the church teams cannot play on fraternity teams.

Managers have been appointed for the different churches. Jack Miller, First Presbyterian; D. Erickson, St. Paul Methodist; R. Rembolt, Evangelical churches; C. L. Zink, Grace M. E.; Wilber Connel, Elm Park M. E.; Charles Rowand, First Baptist; O. C. Reedy, Westminster Presbyterian; Ralph Copenhafer, Warren M. E.; and Glenn Ayres, Second Presbyterian, will conduct the teams. Churches yet to be heard from are the Catholic, Christian, Congregational and Lutheran.

In three weeks, an all university basketball free throw tournament will begin. Anyone is eligible to participate in this meet.

AMES PLANS ANNUAL HOMECOMING EVENTS

Missouri Game High Point On Iowa State Fete Program.

AMES, Ia., Oct. 14.—Iowa State college's campus is buzzing with preparations for the annual Homecoming celebration opening just a week and a half away, on Oct. 24. Coach George Veenker's huskies are concocting new plays to be used in baiting the Missouri university Tigers, fraternities and sororities are laying in supplies of bunting and banners for the annual decoration, competition and special preparation is being made for housing the week end flock of visitors—alumni, sports followers and relatives who will flood to Ames for the spectacle. Festivities will be inaugurated Friday evening, Oct. 23, with the annual "pep fest" and barbecue under the direction of Gilbert Hadley, Geneseo, Ill. This event, to be held in the college armory, is expected to attract approximately 4,000 students and faculty members.

Great hall in the Memorial union will be the scene of dances both Friday and Saturday nights. Pennies and dimes donated by students will be utilized preceding the game to treat the old Victory Bell west of Central building, to a coat of much needed paint.

Merle Rees, business manager for the Athletic council, has announced a rapid sale of reserved seats. Repair work on the west bleachers of the stadium has been rushed to completion in expectation of a capacity crowd.

OKLAHOMA SOONERS LOSE BACKFIELD MAN

Swofford Turns Ankle in Scrimmage; Lost for Texas Battle.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 16.—The University of Oklahoma Sooners lost a first string back in Tuesday afternoon's scrimmage practice when Halfback Joe Swofford, of Weatherford, Tex., turned his ankle in the soft mud of the practice field, it was learned Tuesday night from Adrian Lindsey, the Sooners head coach. Swofford will not play against Texas at Dallas Saturday.

The Sooners went through a grueling scrimmage against freshmen using Texas formations, the toil starting in mid-afternoon and lasting until twilight put an end to it. Halfbacks Marvin "Suede" Ellstrom and Bill Pansze, who were hurt in the Nebraska game, worked in the scrimmage as did Charles Teel, veteran guard, whose leg was injured against the Cornhuskers.

Down at Austin Coach Clyde Littlefield put his Sooners through another hard afternoon's toil, much of which was spent on improving the blocking for the Steer passers and kickers. Coach Littlefield was not satisfied with the poor protection given his punters and passers in the Rice game and is endeavoring to polish it for the Oklahoma contest.

The lone Texas practice casualty so far this week is Arthur Neibaur, reserve tackle from Bellville, who sustained a fractured wrist in scrimmage. Ernest Koy, 190 pound fullback, and Jimmy Burr, the doughy Steer half, who were hurt in the Rice fray, participated in the ordeal well enough. So did Captain Maurice "Dutch" Baumgarten, veteran guard, who will play against Oklahoma Saturday.

"Although we'll have all our cripples ready to go Saturday, the team hasn't looked so good this week," asserted Coach Littlefield. "Oklahoma is strong this season, probably stronger than last. Oklahoma beat Rice, 19 to 6, and any team that can do that stands ready to give us plenty. I look for a hard game Saturday."
