CORN COBS PUSH TICKET CAMPAIGN FOR HOMECOMING

Five Booths Established in Campus Buildings to Increase Sales.

TICKETS SELL RAPIDLY Present Indications Point To Great Crowd at Saturday Party.

As a climax to their concerted ticket sales campaign for the All-university Homecoming party, the Corn Cobs have arranged for and will be in charge of booths in five of the university buildings today. The Cobs will thus be able to supply tickets to those students who have not already purchased theirs. Buildings in which ticket booths will be placed include Social Sciences, Teachers college, A. M. building, Law and Andrews hall. The placement of these booths was determined by the members of Pi Epsilon Pi at their last meeting as a result of a lengthy discussion. The Corn Cobs believe that they will now be able to supply tickets to those who are not members of fraternal organizations and who have heretofore been missed by ticket sellers. Any student may secure tickets for the first student-alumni party at the booths at any time tomorrow between the hours of 8 and 4 o'clock. The Brownell committee chairman of the Corn Cob organization has already sold or has sales promised of the entire number of tickets checked out to him, it was declared by Edwin Faulkner, who is responsible to the Innocent society for the ultimate sales.

Tickets Going Fast.

The tickets are going very rapidly in all fraternities according to a check made yesterday of all sales. Nearly every member of the Corn Cob organization has already sold or has sales promised of the entire number of tickets checked out to him, it was declared by Edwin Faulkner, who is responsible to the Innocent society for the ultimate sales.

Art Wolf, general chairman of the party, declared last night that if student anticipation is any sign, the Homecoming party will be a huge success. The majority of students have expressed their intentions of attending this initial party and since many alumni will come in for the Homecoming festival, it is virtually assured that the two orchestras, decorations, and all other elaborate plans for the night will be witnessed by a large number of students, alumni, and faculty.

SIXTY ENGINEERS ATTEND MEETING

Student Branch of A.S.C.E. Hears Number of Speeches.

About sixty students of the engineering college attended the meeting of the A. S. C. E. student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers on the campus held last night in the Mechanical Arts building.

Several talks were presented about the various features of the trip to Saint Paul and Duluth made by several of the engineering students from Nebraska. This trip was made for the purpose of attending the fall meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Engineers Become Men of the World On Convention Trip; Visit Gotham, See Follies, Go for Elevator Ride

By DICK MORAN.

After a nine day trip to the east for the annual convention of the Engineering College Magazine association, the three Nebraska delegates, William Johnston, Wesley Koch and Jack Hutchings, members of the staff of the Blueprint, returned last night. The delegates left Friday noon, Oct. 9.

The Nebraska representatives, driving in Koch's car, reached Peoria, Ill., the first night. The only excitement that day was that one of the party lost his fraternity pin. They continued to drive all day Saturday, and at night they stopped some distance east of Pittsburgh.

Sunday the three crossed the Allegheny mountains. They stopped at several scenic places to take pictures, one place being Clearview, the highest point in those mountains, from which four states may be seen. Continuing thru the industrial and mining sections of Pennsylvania, they reached East Orange, N. J. Sunday night.

See Empire Building. The next morning the group went on into New York City. The first place they visited was the new Empire State building. "The building is modern in every detail," the delegates said, "and the aluminum trimmings all over the building was especially interesting." They visited the observatory on Miss Kady Faulkner Is to Lecture in Morrill Hall Sunday.

Kady Faulkner will give a lecture in Gallery B of Morrill hall Sunday, Oct. 25, 3 p. m. The lecture will be entitled "Etchings." This is the first of a series of open lectures which are to be given on Oct. 25, Nov. 22, and Dec. 6, in the above mentioned gallery of Morrill hall at 3 p. m.

MANY INSTRUCTORS WILL APPEAR BEFORE TEACHERS CONCLAVES

District Meets to Hear Addresses by Members of Faculty.

Many instructors from the University of Nebraska are scheduled on the programs for the annual conventions of the six districts of the Nebraska State Teachers' association which will meet Oct. 28 to 31. The convention cities are Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Hastings, Holdrege, and Sidney.

When the deans of women meet in Lincoln, they will hear an address by Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women at the University of Nebraska.

At the second session of the Home Economic Section, the teachers will hear Dr. Minna Denton, assistant professor of foods and nutrition, on the subject, "Teeth and Nutrition." Miss Gladys Winegar, state chairman of Home Economics Student clubs, will speak on "Student Clubs in Our State."

Dr. D. A. Worcester of Teachers college, will give an address at the meeting of the Vocational Guidance section. H. has selected as his topic, "Some Psychological Aspects of Vocational Guidance."

PLAYWRIGHT RELATED TO LINCOLN RESIDENT

Balderston Is Author of Show Presented by Husker Players.

John L. Balderston, contemporary playwright and author of the current University Players production, "Berkeley Square," is a cousin of a Lincoln resident, Madame Laure de Vilmar, 1947 A Street.

"Berkeley Square" is one of the latest of Mr. Balderston's plays and he is very much interested in its production by the University Players, according to Madame de Vilmar who has written her cousin of the fact that the play is being presented here. The character of Peter Standish, which is portrayed by Herbert Yenne in the current production is the part originally taken by Leslie Howard, the well-known English actor, and is the role in which the author is particularly interested in having well played.

Mr. Balderston was London correspondent for the New York World before that paper was taken over by the New York Telegram. Since that time, although offered positions by many other papers, he has been concentrating his energies on the writing of plays and the production of some of his most recent ones, including "Berkeley Square." Mr. Balderston made the play adaptation of "Dracula" which was shown recently in Lincoln in moving pictures, adapted from his play.

These volumes have been purchased for political economy: "England's crisis," Andre Siegfried, 1931; "Schemes for the federation of the British empire," S. C. Y. Cheng, 1931; "Industrial relations," by National Industrial

CHEMIST SOCIETY WILL SHOW FILMS AT SESSION TODAY

The Chemical Engineering society will hold an open meeting Thursday Oct. 22 in the main lecture room of Chemistry hall. Films will be shown on the subjects of asbestos, and sulphur.

Ask Signatures W. A. A. Salesmen

Any women who wish to sell in the W. A. A. concession at the Homecoming game Saturday and who have not previously been selling, should sign the list posted in the lobby of the women's gymnasium today.

Only fifty additional salesmen will be accommodated and salesmen will be selected in the order in which their names appear on the list posted.

PROMINENT GRAD IS SCHEDULED TO SPEAK AT RALLY

Ellsworth DuTeau Returns To Campus Friday for Pep Meeting.

WAS VARSITY ATHLETE Former Husker Student Was Also a P. B. K.; Coach Day Will Talk.

Ellsworth DuTeau, Nebraska graduate of 1927 and now one of the editors of the St. Joseph, Mo., News-Press, will return for homecoming as chief speaker at Friday night's pep "revival meeting" at the stadium, it was announced today.

DuTeau, who is widely recognized as a speaker, was on the football squad for four years. He was a member of the Innocents society, senior honorary organization, was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and a Phi Beta Kappa.

DuTeau's talk, the major one on the program, will be, "The Spirit of Homecoming." He will stress the importance of the day to the graduate and undergraduate alike, telling of the thrill that comes to the returning Nebraskan who sees his team triumph over worthy opponents.

"The Innocents society feels it is particularly fortunate in securing Mr. DuTeau as the rally speaker," Art Mitchell, rally chairman, said. "He is remembered as one of the most outstanding leaders of the student body in recent years."

Another speaker on the program, likewise a famous Cornhusker, will be W. L. (Bill) Day, gridiron captain in 1920 and now (Continued on Page 3.)

NEBRASKA LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

Circulation Manager Graham Announces Increase of 37 Volumes.

According to an announcement released yesterday by Consuelo S. Gresham, circulation librarian, the University of Nebraska library has, in the last few days, received thirty-seven new books to add to its ever increasing number.

The department of biography has acquired the greatest number of volumes with seven new books. They are as follows: "The Bronte Family with special reference to Patrick Bronte," by F. A. Leyland, 1886; "Hartley Coleridge, Poet's Son and Poet," by Herbert Hartman, 1931; "Gray and His Friends; Letters and Relics," D. C. Tovey, 1890; "The Autobiography of a Philosopher," G. H. Palmer, 1930; "A Life of Joseph Priestley," Anne Holt, 1909; "Gerard Manley Hopkins," G. F. Lahey.

Four histories added. To the history stacks the following volumes have been added: "The End of the Russian Empire," M. T. Florinsky, 1931; "Troy and Its Remains," Henry Schliemann, 1875; "The Early Opposition to Sir Robert Walpole," C. B. Realey, 1720, 1727, 1931; "Joseph Fouche, Stufen eines politischen menschen," Bledin Zweig, 1929.

Three books furnish the new reading material in science: "From the Physical to the Social Sciences," Jacques Rueff, 1929; "Evolution" (Reading with a purpose), T. A. Thomson, 1931; "Sedimentary Petrography," H. B. Milner, 1929.

"The Soul, Its Nature, Relations, and Expressions in Human Embodiments," Mrs. C. L. V. Richmond, 1888; "Friedrich Nietzsche," G. B. Foster, 1931; "The Thirteen Principal Upanishads Translated from the Sanskrit," R. E. Hume, 1921; and "The Historical Backgrounds of Early Methodist Enthusiasm" (Columbia Studies in history, economics, and public law, No. 359), by Emphrey Lee, 1931, are the books now to be had in the department of philosophy.

Political Economy. These volumes have been purchased for political economy: "England's crisis," Andre Siegfried, 1931; "Schemes for the federation of the British empire," S. C. Y. Cheng, 1931; "Industrial relations," by National Industrial

Anyone who has failed to receive a copy of the program may get one upon request from the secretary, Clifford M. Hicks.

CAMPUS SUPPORT GOES TO AWGWAN SALES CAMPAIGN

Over 300 Copies Sold From Stands as First Issue Makes Appearance.

GRADS WRITE STORIES Successful Alumni Literary Figures Are Features Of Magazine.

Over 300 copies were sold in the single sales campaign as well as the several hundred that were sent out in group subscriptions upon the appearance of the October issue of the Awgwan. Material for the number was contributed by alumni who have distinguished themselves in the field of humor. Fraternity and sorority blocks constituted a large share of the sales made.

The cover design for the celebrity number was drawn by James Pickering '31. The frontispiece entitled "Oil" was photographed by Dwight Kirsch and represented a study in line and mass. "Oil" according to the Awgwan, has caught the spirit of modernism.

"The Worm that Yearned" by Fred Ballard, a Nebraska graduate who has achieved recognition in New York City as a playwright of considerable merit and the author of "Ladies of the Jury" which was staged by the University Players last year, is a humorous sketch that isn't an autobiography and isn't about worms.

RUSSIAN EDUCATION DISCUSSED IN FORUM

Miss Margaret Fedde Tells Experiences in Soviet Republic.

"In America, when we think of education, we think of school," said Miss Margaret Fedde, head of the home economics department at the World Forum meeting Wednesday noon, where she was the speaker. However, she pointed out, "The Russian education plan includes schools, museums, theaters, parks, factories, the press, prisons, and sanitariums."

Miss Fedde outlined three aims of her program: first, to train the coming generation in such a way that they will be communists; second, to instill the spirit of communism in adults and to eliminate illiteracy, and third, to give the workers the technical education that they need to run their new factories.

The speaker pointed out that the communists believed the social education of children under thirteen years of age belongs to the state. However, she saw no instances where children were taken from their parents. Children were cared for in factory "crib schools" and primary schools while their parents were at work.

Miss Fedde explained that at the age of fifteen the child in Russia has finished his compulsory education which included some technical training. Some students, picked largely from the "proletarian" class, however, get further technical training, and some enter the universities.

On Oct. 21 the World Forum will have Dr. George A. Coe, a nationally prominent educator as a speaker. His talk on disarmament and several meetings following will deal with the same subject.

The World Forum is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and by the Y. W. C. A. which is now having its membership drive. Any student is welcome to come to the Forum meetings, held each Wednesday noon at the Grand hotel. Tickets to the luncheons are on sale each Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and at a desk in the hall of the Social Science building for twenty-five cents. The tickets are thirty-five cents at the door.

POINT SYSTEM IS SUBJECT OF A. W. S. BOARD DISCUSSION

The advisability of revising the point system for women or continuing with the present one now in use was the main topic under discussion at the weekly meeting of the Associated Women Students board in Ellen Smith hall Wednesday noon.

A report to the effect that the date slips had been sent to the various houses was made. The results of the stamp sale were given by Evelyn Simpson and showed a slight decrease over last year's sale.

Will Hold Saber Drill for Ball

All juniors in military science who would be interested in participating in the saber drill for the military ball are requested to attend a meeting in Nebraska hall tomorrow at five.

HONORARY PICKS PLEDGES

Alpha Lambda Delta Chooses Active and Honorary Members.

The Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary fraternity for freshmen, pledged the following girls Tuesday evening, Oct. 16: Rachel Baker, Ellen Enteman, Helen Irwin, Laura McAllister, and Mrs. Alice Pierson. The four honorary members were Evelyn West, Mildred Gish, both members of Mortar Board, Miss Winona Perry and Miss Amanda Heppner.

A business meeting was conducted later in the evening. Alice Geddes was made delegate to attend the national convention to be held at Du Pau university, Green Castle, Ind., Oct. 30 and 31.

WIDE APPROVAL OF BALLOON TRADITION VOICED OVER CAMPUS

Deans, Coach, Students All Declare Plan Merits Support.

Campus wide approval of the new 'balloon tradition' planned for homecoming by the Tassel society was voiced in a consensus of opinion taken Wednesday afternoon. As the plan stands each rooster is to have a balloon at the game and these are to be released simultaneously after the first Nebraska touchdown.

"Since it is true that Nebraska should have a new tradition the plan suggested by the Tassels should be a most colorful and long remembered one," declared Edwin Faulkner, president of the student council and member of Innocents society.

Coach D. X. Bible in speaking of the ideas said: "I think it is splendid. It is new idea and should create a great deal of interest. It is mighty fine of you to show such enthusiasm and we hope we will have a touchdown for you so you'll have no trouble in releasing your balloons."

W. C. Harmer, assistant dean of men, stated: "I think it will be a good stunt. It seems to have been quite successful at other schools and if the students are willing to help you make it a tradition it (Continued on Page 2.)

OCTOBER NUMBER OF BLUE PRINT APPEARS

Magazine Sale Successful Says Editor; Koch, Congdon Write.

The October issue of the Blue Print, engineer's publication, appeared on the campus yesterday. The sale was very good, according to Jerry Briggs, editor.

The new issue contains some very interesting articles. One which attracted special attention is entitled "High Spots of Camp Life." This was written by W. H. Congdon, a junior in the civil engineering college. Congdon's article tells of the activities of about forty engineering students at Camp Nebraska, which is located near Ashland, last summer.

The article written by Wesley Koch, which tells about Lincoln's system of wired radio entertainment, also met with the approval of the readers of the publication. "This is a description of the equipment and operation of a unique system of radio entertainment which gives the citizens of Lincoln a choice of three radio programs. Article by Professor Sjogren.

The October Blue Print also contains a reproduction of a paper which was prepared and delivered at the Southwestern Power conference at Kansas City in September by Prof. C. A. Sjogren. This paper, in dealing with the branch societies (Continued on Page 2.)

Ida Hozenozzle Tries Law College Steps and Is Puzzled by Haunting Melodies and Long-Eared Lawyers

IDA HOZENOZZLE.

I've sat on U hall steps, and I've sat on Library hall steps—but I don't remember ever having sat on Law college steps. It's a grand day, a blue and gold day, a no-study day—I think I shall wander over to Law college.

Goodness—I really feel quite subordinated. Four long-eared individuals with shiny brief cases just passed me by with never so much as a flicker of an eye lash. Wonder how they get that way. . . . True—my ears aren't quite as long and carish looking as theirs, and I've never carried a brief case—but they might need my support some day. Probably they'll be sorry. Most likely they won't be. . . .

My—but I feel important. I just sat in on a heated law discussion. It was a streak of luck to be sure—they thought I was scrubbing the steps—if they thought at all. They held back nothing, revealed all, it was the real thing. "Ossie, straight dope, do you think general annihilation of lawyers will play a prominent part in the coming election?" . . . I listened eagerly for the reply—waited and listened. It came—like a streak of lightning flashed across my consciousness, like a crash of thunder echoed and vibrated across my ear drums. . . . "Toby, straight dope, sometimes I think yes—sometimes no—and again just maybe" . . .

LAWS PROTEST ACTIONS TAKEN BY KOSMET KLUB

Group Represented by Jensen Appears at Wednesday Council Meeting.

ASSERTS RULING UNFAIR

New Election Is Sought But Matter Is Referred to Committee.

Members of Law college, through their representative John P. Jensen, presented to the Student council at its meeting last night a protest of the recent action of the Kosmet Klub in passing an eligibility rule for Nebraska's Sweetheart, who is presented by that organization at the annual Thanksgiving show.

Jensen, speaking for the law college, said: "Our grievance is brought to the Student council because we feel that something should be done about this situation. The ruling which makes any girl having less than twenty-seven or more than eighty-nine credit hours in the university ineligible for Nebraska Sweetheart is unfair and discriminatory."

Asked to Set Date. "We ask the Student council to set aside Oct. 20 for an election of Nebraska's Sweetheart, and that the council declare the recent ruling of Kosmet Klub inoperative and of no effect. If it will not do this, we demand that the president of the Student council call a mass meeting of the students as provided for in the constitution of the Student council," Jensen continued.

"Every man in the university is supposed to vote for the sweetheart, and this is a matter of general interest. The girl is supposed to be typically representative of the choice of the men students," Jensen went on, "and when such a ruling is passed, she cannot be. This rule eliminates four different groups of women students: freshmen in the university, freshmen in law college, dental students taking the six year course, and fourth year medical students."

Huber Presents Petitions. After Jensen had spoken for Law college, Walter Huber, a member of the council, presented the group a petition signed by students in many colleges of the university. This petition in substance asked for a new election or a mass meeting of the students to discuss the question.

'N' STAMP SALE CLOSING FRIDAY

All Money and Stamps Must Be Checked In Then, Says Simpson.

The "N" stamp sale which has been in progress for the past two weeks will be completed Friday, at 5 o'clock, according to an announcement made yesterday. At this time all sorority salesmen must have their money turned into Ellen Smith hall for the town sales as well as the sales within their house, said Evelyn Simpson, sales manager.

Fraternities must also have their money and extra stamps turned into The Daily Nebraskan office by Friday at five. All fraternities who have not received stamps are asked to get some this afternoon at The Daily Nebraskan office between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

The "N" stamp sale is under the auspices of the A. W. S. board, who use the money to carry on their work. Evelyn Simpson is in charge of the sales campaign.
